Georgetown jumped out to a 50-27 lead at halftime aided by a terrific shooting performance as the team connected on 78.3 percent of its field goals (18-of-23), the second-best shooting percentage in a half under Thompson (the team hit 80.0 percent during the second half of a 75-60 win over Clemson on Dec. 23, 2004).

The starters played no more than 22 minutes and all 14 players appeared for at least two minutes, while 12 different players scored. Senior guard Austin Freeman and sophomore forward Hollis Thompson scored 14 points apiece to lead the team, while junior center Henry Sims added 12 points and five assists and senior guard Chris Wright scored 11 points.

Leading 14-10 nearing the mid-point of the first half, the Hoyas used an 11-0 run over 2:25 and took a 25-10 lead on free throws from Freeman with 10:27 to play. Freshman guard Markel Starks (Accokeek, Md./Georgetown Prep) started the run with a three-pointer, followed by a free throw from Thompson and then a three-point play and the free throws from Freeman.

Four free throws from Loyola made it 29-14, but a 9-1 spurt over 1:52 pushed the lead 23 points, 38-15, on a three-pointer from Thompson.

Georgetown's defense, meanwhile, held Loyola without a field goal for 8:52. The Greyounds had narrowed the first half lead to 14-10 on a layup from J'hared Hall with 12:52 to play, but did not hit a field goal until Hall connected on a three-pointer with 3:17 to play in the half.

National Coach of the Week by the Hoops Report on Dec. 6 ... He earned the honor after guiding the Hoyas to a 111-102 overtime win at No. 9 Missouri on Tuesday and to a 68-51 win over Utah State on Saturday ... Here's what The Hoops Report said in awarding Thompson the National Coach of the Week honor: "What an impressive week it was for Georgetown. The Hoyas trailed by four in the final minute, but they didn't give up. Chris Wright drained a 3-pointer to send the game into overtime, and the Hoyas easily won the extra five-minute period. The Hoyas could've had a letdown game at home against a quality Utah State team on Saturday, but instead they kept up the hot play and remained undefeated with a convincing 68-51 victory. The Hoyas are quickly moving their way up the rankings."

"Don't let the sum total of your existence be 8-10 pounds of air."

The deflated basketball, the trademark for Georgetown Basketball since 1972, is a message for each new recruit. "The deflated ball gets players to understand that one day basketball will be over, be it four years from now when you graduate, or 20 years from now when your NBA career is over," says coach John Thompson III. "One day the air's going to go out of that ball, so you have to prepare yourself for life after basketball."

The symbol is as relevant today as it was when coach Thompson's illustrious father ran the program. The Georgetown tradition of graduation — 107 of 109 members of the men's basketball program that have stayed four years have received their degree — continues under John Thompson III. Education ensures success, and a future without education has the value of an empty basketball.

WHAT IS A HOYA?

Many years ago, when all Georgetown students were required to study Greek and Latin, the University's teams were nicknamed "The Stonewalls." It is suggested that a student, using Greek and Latin terms, started the cheer "Hoya Saxa!", which translates into "What Rocks!" The name proved popular and the term "Hoyas" was eventually adopted for all Georgetown teams.

HEAD COACH JOHN THOMPSON III

In six seasons as the head coach of the program he has been around since his youth, John Thompson III has made his mark not only on the Georgetown men's basketball program, but in the elite circles of college basketball. Thompson, who has been a collegiate head coach for 10 seasons, has compiled several coaching milestones:

- He has led the Hoyas to three appearances in the BIG EAST Tournament Championship game in six years at the helm of the program.
- Including the team's appearance in 2010, Georgetown has been selected to the NCAA Tournament in four of the last six seasons.
- In three of the team's four NCAA Tournament appearances, the Blue & Gray have been seeded among the top three teams, earning two No. 2 seeds and a No. 3 seed in 2010.
- In 2006-07, Thompson led the program to a 30-7 record as the Hoyas won the BIG EAST Tournament Championship, the NCAA East Regional and advanced to the Final Four for the first time since 1985.
- In 2007-08, the Hoyas won back-to-back BIG EAST Regular Season titles (2006-07, 2007-08), posting a two-year record of 28-6 against conference opponents
- Since his arrival on the Hilltop, the Hoyas have reached the postseason in all six seasons.
- He has twice been named the Black Coaches Association (BCA) Male Coach of the Year and was named the 2007 National Association of Basketball Coaches (NABC) Coach of the Year.

Recognized as an outstanding talent evaluator who has been nationally-recognized for his in-game coaching, tremendous vision and character, outstanding recruiting and his ability to connect with players, John Thompson III was introduced as Georgetown University 17th Head Coach on April 20, 2004.

Thompson arrived on the Hilltop in 2004 with a tremendous pedigree. The second Head Coach at Georgetown named John Thompson, he is the child of one Hall of Fame coach and the student of another, having played for the legendary Pete Carril as an undergraduate at Princeton.

Off the court, Thompson has been an active member of Georgetown University and a presence in the Washington, D.C. community. He speaks at a variety of alumni events throughout the year and has annually joined the members of the Georgetown University Wall Street Alliance in New York City each October. Through his work with his self-named foundation, the JTIII Foundation (which was founded in 2007), Thompson and his wife, Monica, have worked to aid community-based charities that serve at-risk children and families.

Thompson also has international experience, serving as an assistant coach on the USA Basketball Men's Under-18 National team that competed in the 2008 FIBA Americas U18 Championship in Argentina.

THE GEORGETOWN OFFENSE

"The 'system' is more about how you see the game than about plays. It's about adjusting and adapting to your own skills and strengths, and the strengths and skills of your opponent. If you look at the Sacramento Kings, Washington Wizards, Northwestern, Richmond or Princeton, they obviously aren't the same teams playing the exact same style of ball. But the principles they play by are the same — movement, reads, sharing, patience and precision. You take the skills and personality of your team and tweak the system accordingly.

- Served as team captain in 1988

In his first six years at Georgetown, Thompson has guided the Hoyas to a 150-63 overall record (.704 win percentage) and to a 63-39 record in conference play.

Overall in 10 years as a head coach, including four at his alma mater, Princeton, Thompson has compiled a 218-105 (.675) overall record, with a 108-50 record in conference play (BIG EAST and Ivy League combined), won five league championships and guided his teams to nine postseason appearances

Since arriving on the Hilltop, the Hoyas have advanced to one Final Four (2006-07), won a BIG EAST Tournament title (2006-07), won back-to-back BIG EAST Regular Season titles (2006-07, 2007-08), reached the NCAA Tournament four times (2005-06 – 2007-08, 2009-10), including three-straight appearances from 2005-06 – 2006-07, been invited to the National Invitation Tournament twice (2004-05, 2008-09) and played in the BIG EAST Tournament Championship game three times.

During that time, Georgetown has been ranked among the top-25 teams in the country for 38-straight weeks and is among the winningest programs in the BIG EAST. In addition, in the last four years, more Georgetown players (5) have been selected in the NBA Draft than any other school in the BIG EAST Conference. He has coached a BIG EAST Player of the Year, three All-Americans, five First-Team All-BIG EAST selections and 15 players who have earned All-BIG EAST accolades.

Thompson is also a two-time winner of the Black Coaches Association (BCA) Male Coach of the Year Award and was named the 2007 National Association of Basketball Coaches (NABC) Coach of the Year.

Last year, the Hoyas finished the season with a 23-11 overall record, made a thrilling run to the Championship Game of the BIG EAST Tournament and were selected as a No.3 seed in the NCAA Tournament. Georgetown was the only school in the country to beat last year's NCAA Finalists (Duke and Butler) and was the only school to play three teams that reached the Final Four (Duke, Butler, West Virginia). The team was challenged by a scheduled that ranked No. 1 in the country by strength of schedule for much of the season and responded to that with signature wins, including non-conference wins over Temple during ESPN's "24 Hours of College Basketball," Butler at the Jimmy V Classic, Washington during the John Wooden Classic and Duke, in front of a sold-out crowd wearing gray and an audience that included the President and Vice-President of the United States. The Hoyas, who finished the season No. 2 in strength of schedule and No. 13 in the RPI Ratings, also had impressive conference wins, including a come-from-behind win at home against Connecticut when Austin Freeman scored 28 of his 33 points in the second half and a stirring rout of Villanova in front of a crowd of nearly 10,000 on the day the District of Columbia was hit with more than two feet of snow. Sophomore center Greg Monroe, who declared for the NBA Draft at the conclusion of the season, was named First Team All-BIG EAST, earned Third Team Associated Press All-American honors and was named the Pete Newell Big Man of the Year by the NABC.

In 2008-09, Georgetown made its fifth-straight postseason appearance under Thompson, advancing to the NIT where the team lost to eventual runner-up Baylor in the first round. The Hoyas finished the season with a 16-15 overall record and were 7-11 in the conference, finishing in 12th place in the BIG EAST Conference, which was arguably the toughest in the country that season. Georgetown finished the season ranked No 12 in the country in strength of schedule, posted four wins over top-25 teams, beat two teams that advanced to the Final Four (UConn and Villanova) and two that advanced to the Sweet 16 of the NCAA Tournament (Memphis, Syracuse). Freshman center Greg Monroe was named the BIG EAST Rookie of the Year, becoming the sixth Georgetown player in history to earn the award.

The Hoyas made their third-straight NCAA Tournament appearance during the 2007-08 season, tabbed as the No. 2 seed before losing in the second round. His team earned a 28-6 (.823%) mark, going 15-3 in BIG EAST play to garner their second consecutive regular season championship, a feat previously unmatched in Hoya history. His team appeared in the national polls all 20 weeks of the season, never dropping lower than 12th and senior Patrick Ewing Jr. earned the inaugural BIG EAST Sixth Man Award.

During Thompson's third season as Georgetown's head coach, in 2006-07, JTIII saw his Hoyas win the BIG EAST Regular Season Championship, the BIG EAST Tournament Championship as well as the NCAA East Regional Championship while compiling a 30-7 record. The Hoyas appeared in the national polls 18 times, defeated seven nationally-ranked opponents and compiled a conference record of 13-3. Thompson saw junior Jeff Green named BIG EAST Player of the Year, MVP of the BIG EAST Tournament and MVP of the NCAA East Regional. Green was the fifth player selected in the 2007 NBA Draff

In his second season at the helm, Thompson's Hoyas made their presence felt with a thrilling run to the Sweet 16. This was his fifth trip to the postseason in six years as a head coach. A first-round victory over Northern Iowa and a second-round defeat of Ohio State advanced Georgetown to its first Regional Semifinal since 2001. The Hoyas, who fell just three points shy of a victory over the eventual national champion Florida Gators, ended the year with a 23-10 overall record, earning Thompson the Black Coaches Association's Fritz Pollard Male Coach of the Year Award.

In his inaugural season as the Hoya's head coach, Thompson's approach took a giant leap when he became one of only three coaches in BIG EAST history to defeat a nationally ranked team in the conference opener. The Hoyas ended up winning 19 games and advanced to the NIT Quarterfinals.

Coached by the legendary Carril as a student at Princeton and then working under him as an assistant coach at his alma mater for five years, Thompson brought a Princeton touch to Georgetown's rich basketball history, creating a new system he describes as the Georgetown Offense:

"The `system' is more about how you see the game than about plays. It's about adjusting and adapting to your own skills and strengths, and the skills and strengths of your opponent. If you look at the Sacramento Kings, Washington Wizards, Northwestern, Richmond or Princeton, they obviously aren't the exact same style of ball. Prior to coaching at Georgetown, Thompson guided Princeton to three Ivy League Championships, two NCAA tournaments and an NIT appearance over his four years as head coach. He amassed a 68-42 record as Princeton's head coach after serving as an assistant coach at Princeton from 1995- 2000. As assistant coach, he helped lead the team to a Top 10 national ranking and five consecutive post-season appearances.

Princeton not only made the postseason eight of nine years during Thompson's tenure, but he helped recruit and coach three All Americans, three Ivy League Players of the Year, two Ivy League Rookies of the Year and 12 First-Team All-Ivy League players.

Thompson also played basketball as an undergraduate for the Tigers while majoring in politics. As a forward, he ranks third on Princeton's all time assist leader list with 358. Playing for legendary coach Pete Carril, Thompson produced with amazing proficiency with 103 assists and just 34 turnovers as a senior. He was co-captain of the 1988 team and shared the B.F. Bunn trophy that year as one of the Tigers' Most Valuable Players.

Thompson, 43, grew up in Washington, D.C., where he graduated from Gonzaga College High School. As a high school senior he was named first team All-Metro by the Washington Post.

Thompson's wife, Monica, is also a Princeton grad (Class of '89). They have three children: Morgan, age 12; John Wallace, age 9; and Matthew, age 7.

JOHN THOMPSON III FOUNDATION

The John Thompson III Foundation was established in 2007. The mission of the John Thompson III Foundation is to foster community-based charities that serve at-risk children and families. The primary focus is educationand healthcare. The Foundation partners primarily, but not exclusively, with non-profits in the Washington, D.C. metropolitan region which specialize in programs targeted to underserved children and families.

The John Thompson III Foundation intends to aid those organizations working within Washington, D.C. to address the community's more dire conditions, including:

- The 2005 estimated poverty rate was 19.8 percent of all residents, or 98,069 persons, living below the federal poverty level
- 36 percent of all children and 42 percent of all African-American children were living below the federal poverty level in 2005.
- While the District ranks second highest in per capita personal income among the states, it also ranks third highest in overall poverty rates and highest in poverty rates for children.
- More than 40% of youth in the District do NOT complete high school
- Nearly 49% of the youth that are enrolled in the majority of the District's high schools are truant.
- In 2005-06, only 27 percent of all DCPS and public charter school students tested at a proficient or advanced level in math.
- Cancer is the second leading cause of death among District residents (22% of all deaths are due to cancer alone). Cancer is 27 percent more prevalent among blacks (512.8 cases per 100,000 population) than whites (404.5 cases per 100,000 population). In the District of Columbia, the percentage of women who receive prenatal care varies from 70 percent among blacks to 90 percent among whites.
- District of Columbia has higher rates of heart disease, stroke and all cancers on average than the rest of the United States.
- The Infant Mortality Rate for the District of Columbia has decreased from 11.9 per 1,000 live births in 2000 to 10.6 per 1,000 live births in 2001. The rate has declined by 42 percent over a 10-year period since 1992. But is still almost double the national average.
- The January 2006 homeless count included 3,485 homeless adults and children in families.

The Fourth Annual JTIII Foundation Community Festival was held on Saturday, Sept. 25 at the Turkey Thicket Recreation Center, located at 1100 Michigan Ave., NE in Washington, D.C. In its second year at Turkey Thicket, the event promoted physical activity, education and health care.

It was a free, fun-filled day for children and adults, with food, games and entertainment. The festival consisted of arts and crafts, interactive games, sport stations, book readings, health screenings for adults and a basketball clinic hosted by Coach Thompson and the Hoyas. The basketball clinic was open to all children under the age of 14.

This year's participating organizations included: Everybody Wins! DC, Dr. Thomas Wong Optometrist, Prevention Works!, Uniting for Life, Boys & Girls Club of Greater Washington, D.C. Fire EMS and others.
