Notre Dame's 2005 Football Signees

Fifteen high school seniors have signed national letters of intent with plans to enroll at the University of Notre Dame in August 2005 and play for the Irish football squad. The 15 players come from 12 states – Connecticut, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, New Jersey, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Texas. As listed by position, the Irish add to their roster three defensive backs, three linebackers, two offensive linemen, two defensive linemen, two wide receivers, one tight end, one fullback and one quarterback – though several of the players played multiple positions in high school and could move to other positions once they arrive on campus.

Among the 15 players are:

- One player rated among the top 150 nationally by collegefootballnews.com – wide receiver D.J. Hord (104th).
- Two players named Gatorade player of the year in his home state – wide receiver D.J. Hord (Missouri) and fullback Asaph Schwapp (Connecticut).
- One player who played in the U.S. Army All-America game in San Antonio last month – wide receiver D.J. Hord.
- Eight players who attended the Notre Dame football camp in the summer of 2004 – defensive back David Bruton, offensive lineman Paul Duncan, wide receiver David Grimes, tight end Joey Hiben, fullback Asaph Schwapp, quarterback Evan Sharpley, linebacker Scott Smith and linebacker Kevin Washington.
