POSITION PREVIEW: OUTSIDE HITTERS

LSU has no shortage of options as Marina Skender, Angela Bensend and Madie Jones can succeed at either the outside or right side hitting positions.

The trio is joined by Brittney Johnson, Ally Judkins, Tania Schatow and Michele Williams, who are additional candidates that could see time on the outside when not in their traditional positions.

A dangerous server, powerful hitter and consistent passer, Skender's versatility combined with her experience, makes her one of the most complete players in the SEC. She enters 2009 after racking up 1,097 kills, 954 digs, 247 blocks and 165 aces over her first three seasons.

Bensend had a strong finish to the 2008 season, connecting on 108 of her 151 kills against SEC opponents. Her steady passing also will be important as she looks to return to her form that brought her 2007 All-SEC Freshmen Team accolades.

Madie Jones is physical opposing player who played both outside and right side hitter in high school. She was chosen as one of PrepVolleyball.com's Class of 2009 Top 50 recruits and tallied a second-place finish at the 2008 USA Volleyball Junior Championship with her club team taking home All-America honors.

POSITION PREVIEW: MIDDLE BLOCKERS

LSU returns three of its strongest weapons in middle blockers Brittnee Cooper, Lauren DeGirolamo and Michele Williams. Cooper and DeGirolamo earned AVCA All-America Honorable mention status in 2007 and 2008, respectively.

Cooper has spent the offseason in each of the last two seasons training with the U.S. National A2 Team. She won medals on both occasions and returns as one of the most-respected players in the SEC. The Houston native popped 302 kills on a .336 hitting percentage and paced the league averaging 1.21 blocks per set in 2008.

DeGirolamo's 2008 season was cut short due to injury, but she will rely on her proven ability to hit and block consistently to bounce back this season. She slapped 430 kills on a .332 hitting percentage to go along with 1.51 blocks per set in 2007.

Williams, a unanimous pick to the SEC All-Freshman Team in 2008, knocked 162 of her 191 kills in SEC action registering a .302 hitting percentage and will be looked upon to reach even greater heights in her sophomore campaign.

Additionally, Tania Schatow is a physical blocker that continues to build her game and will battle for playing time in the middle. She notched 48 blocks over 23 matches last season.

Ally Judkins, a 2008 TSWA All-State First-Team pick in Texas, enters LSU as one of PrepVolleyball.com's Class of 2009 Top 50 recruits. She brings a strong swing and notable blocking ability that will be an asset at the net for the Tigers.

POSITION PREVIEW: SETTERS

LSU's setting tandem of Sam Dabbs and Brittney Johnson returns for 2009 after passing out a combined 11.18 assists per game last season. Both players contribute valuable understanding of the game and possess familiarity with the LSU hitters after working extremely hard during the offseason.

Dabbs, the 2008 Louisiana Newcomer of the Year, contributed six double-doubles which included LSU's first triple-double since the 2003 season. She registered 40 or more assists on 10 occasions and ranked inside the SEC's Top 5 in assists per set.

Johnson split time at setter and offered versatility to the Tiger lineup taking swings from the right side. The Baton Rouge native was the only player to post over a kill, an assist and a dig per set last season. She also showcased her athleticism as a consistent blocker.

POSITION PREVIEW: DEFENSIVE SPECIALIST

With the departure of the reigning two-time SEC Defensive Player of the Year and AVCA All-American defensive specialist Elena Martinez, LSU will undeniably have a hole to fill in one of the most crucial positions on the court.

Lauren Wacławczyk along with freshmen Sam Delahoussaye and Meghan Mannari are set to anchor the LSU back row. Wacławczyk saw action in 27 matches accounting for 1.46 digs per set last season, while Delahoussaye and Mannari arrive on the Bayou after extremely decorated prep careers.
