2016 TOURNAMENT IN REVIEW

Notre Dame opened the final round of the 2016 Fighting Irish Gridiron Golf Classic in second place and eight strokes behind UTEP. After battling back-and-forth over a tense back nine, the Miners came out on top by a single stroke.

The Irish carded a 268 on the final round and a 54-hole total of 836 (both school records since 1966), but the Miners won the title by tallying 835 (-5). Notre Dame and UTEP were the lone under-par schools in the 15-member field. Ball State claimed third place with an 849 (+9).

Notre Dame's Blake Barens claimed medalist honors with his school-record 201 (66-67-68, -9). Barens was the only golfer in the 87-member field to shoot three consecutive under-par rounds and it helped him win the title by just a single stroke over UTEP's Frederik Dreier who carded a 202 (70-65-67, -8).

WELCOME TO NOTRE DAME

On behalf of the University of Notre Dame and the staff of the Warren Golf Course, welcome to the 2017 Fighting Irish Classic. For those who have competed in past Classics, it's great to have you back. For those of you who are making their first visit to the University welcome to our course. Being able to host college golf teams from across the country is a unique privilege and one we look forward to every year.

The Warren Golf Course continues to gain recognition as one of the top collegiate facilities in the country and in 2016 was selected as the host site of the 2019 U.S. Senior Open. We have made and continue to make a number of modifications to our course not only for the Championship but to enhance the player experience day to day. We hope you enjoy the course.

If there is anything we can do to make your stay more enjoyable, please do not hesitate to let us know.

Thank you again for joining us for this year's event and good luck!

Sincerely,

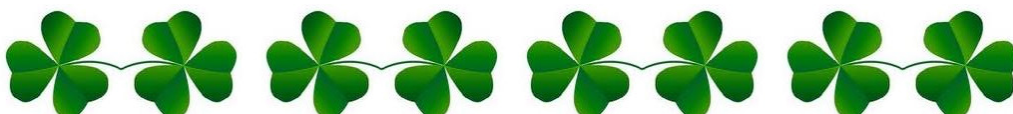

John Foster, General Manager/Head Golf Professional, The Warren Golf Course at Notre Dame

Cody Risedorph, PGA Associate Golf Professional

Greg Helmkamp, PGA Assistant Golf Professional

Danielle Baiunco, Assistant Golf Professional

Matt Cielen, GCSAA, Course Superintendent

THE WARREN GOLF COURSE

May 1, 2000, marked the beginning of a new era in the history of Notre Dame golf as the University unveiled the championship-caliber William K. and Natalie O. Warren Golf Course at Notre Dame.

Since its opening, the course has been hailed as one of the best new courses in America by Golf Digest and has been featured in Links Magazine and Golf Digest as a must-play venue. In addition, Golfweek has tabbed the Warren Golf Course as one of the nation's top 15 on-campus collegiate layouts.

Through the generous donation of Notre Dame alumnus and Tulsa, Okla., resident Bill Warren ('56), the University features an impressive 18-hole golf course, designed by the Austin, Texas-based architectural firm of Coore and Crenshaw, headed by Bill Coore and PGA Tour veteran (and victorious 1999 U.S. Ryder Cup captain) Ben Crenshaw.

The design of the Warren Golf Course is reminiscent of the classic, “walkable” Irish and American courses built in the late 19th and early 20th century, with short distances between the greens and tees. Winding its way through 250 wooded acres on the northeast edge of the Notre Dame campus, the course incorporates traditional elements of the great golf courses of the early 20th century and — unlike many modern layouts — is built on subtleties rather than special effects.

Distinguishing features include: rectangular tee boxes that provide a classic start to each hole; undulating greens of varying shapes constructed in a push-up style that slopes from back to front; false fronts to greens that allow the golfer to run the ball or fly it to the flag; and strategically-placed bunkers that visually enhance each hole while challenging players to proceed with caution.

The course runs 7,020 yards from the championship tees, 6,743 yards from the back, 6,346 yards from the middle, and 5,302 from the front tees. It includes more than 88 reshaped and enhanced bunkers, scattered among the 18 holes, and water comes into play on six holes. The course has bent grass fairways and fescue grass rough, playing surfaces found at some of today's top facilities.

Two lakes add to the challenge of the course, with one stationed between the third and fourth holes, while another provides a hazard from the tee on No. 17. Water also comes into play with the existing Juday Creek winding through holes 16 and 18, and additional creeks have been added on holes 10 and 18.

The 7,000-square foot clubhouse — designed by Moake-Park Group, Inc., of Fort Wayne, Ind., in a French country style — was completed in June of 1999. The building matches the period of the course architecture (early 20th century), with a classic “clinker” style brick exterior. The design is completed by copper cupolas, dormers and trim, a slate rook and an enclosed porch. Brick fireplaces are located on both sides of the building, which welcomes the University community to venture over for lunch, meetings or shopping.

Since its opening in 1999, the Warren Golf Course has hosted dozens of high profile USGA, NCAA and Western Golf Association tournaments, including the 2010 Women's Amateur Public Links Championship, the 2009 & 2010 Men's U.S. Open Qualifier and six U.S. Men's Amateur Championship Qualifiers ('01, '02, '04, '08, '11, '12).

Up next for the Warren - hosting the 2019 U.S. Senior Open.

TOURNAMENT HISTORY

A tradition began in 2006 when the University of Notre Dame played host to the inaugural Fighting Irish Gridiron Golf Classic at the Warren Golf Course on campus. Lamar won the first-ever Fighting Irish Gridiron Golf Classic title by carding a three-round total of 860 (+20), finishing 29 strokes clear of tournament runner-up Notre Dame (889, +49). The Cardinals' Justin Harding earned medalist honors at 213 (+3), one shot better than Notre Dame's Cole Isban and Vanderbilt's Luke List (both at 214, +4).

In 2007, Michigan State took the tournament championship at seven-over par 847, easing past Arkansas and defending champion Lamar by 14 strokes. MSU's Ryan Brehm was the '07 tournament medalist at 205 (-5), five shots in front of Notre Dame's Doug Fortner and Virginia's Greg Carlin (both shot even-par 210).

In 2008, Arkansas and Michigan State were tied for the lead heading into the final round. In the end, Arkansas prevailed with an 863 (+23), while UC Davis finished in second with an 867 (+27). Michigan State's Randy Hutchison earned medalist honors with a 210 (E). Andrew Landry of Arkansas finished in second with a 211 (+1) and he was followed by his teammate Jamie Marshall in third, who turned in a 212 (+2).

For the first time of the events existence, the Irish took the podium at their event in 2009, posting a score of 870 (+30). In addition, Josh Sandman made it a sweep for the Irish with his mark of 212 (+2) individually.

In 2010, Iowa (853, +13) took home tournament honors, while a pair of San Francisco golfers (Ji Hwan Park and Taylor Travis) shared medalist honors at 208 (-2).

The 2011 classic saw St. Mary's (CA) and the University of Houston finish as co-champions at +30. Paul McConnell of UT-Arlington won individually at Even, while Houston's James Ross was second at +1.

Michigan State became the first repeat winner in tournament history in 2012, firing a three-round score of 869 (+17). UNC Wilmington's Thomas Bass was the overall medalist at 211 (-2).

Houston won its second FIGGC crown in 2013, tying the tournament record with a final team score of five-under-par 847 at the Warren Golf Course. Houston's Kyle Pilgrim (71-71-66=208, -5) was the event medalist.

Michigan State became a three-time event champion in 2014 as the Spartans topped the field over a challenging weekend of play. Only medalist McCormick Clouser of Ball State (-4) and Notre Dame's Cory Scupider (-2) finished the event under par.

For just the second time, the 2015 leaderboard saw a tie at the top, fittingly between universities dedicated to the same person, as Notre Dame and St. Mary's (CA) each finished with an 850. The Gaels' Jonathan De Los Reyes claimed medalist honors with a 207 (-6).

2016 marked a historic year for the tournament - Notre Dame's Blake Barens set a new 54-hole record of 201 (-9) on his way to individual medalist honors. In addition, the Irish's 268 final round, marked a new program & tournament best. Yet, Texas El Paso claimed the title with an all-new tournament low -5 (835).

The Fighting Irish Gridiron Golf Classic is made possible thanks to the ongoing sponsorship and support from the University of Notre Dame Department of Athletics.

For more information on sponsorship opportunities for this one-of-a-kind tournament, or to learn more about ways to volunteer for future collegiate events at the Warren Golf Course, contact Notre Dame head coach John Handrigan in the Irish men's golf office at (352) 672-7235 or jhandrig@nd.edu.

IN DEDICATION

Wayne and John Handrigan

Notre Dame Athletics is proud to present the 12th annual Fighting Irish Golf Classic in memory of Coach Handrigan's late father, Wayne Handrigan, who passed away on August 7 at the age of 67. A devoted husband and beloved father of four, Wayne and the Handrigan family are in the hearts and prayers of the Notre Dame family.
