Academic All-Americans – Todd Mobley became the first Irish track and field/cross country student-athlete to earn first-team Academic All-America honors in two consecutive seasons with his second straight selection in 2004-05. Mobley, also the third Notre Dame track standout to earn any Academic All-America honors in consecutive years, landed on the ESPN The Magazine/CoSIDA Academic All-America First Team after earning two cross country All-America honors in 2002 and 2003 and posting a 3.84 GPA while working toward his MBA degree in the Mendoza College of Business. Mobley graduated from Notre Dame in May of 2003 with a degree in mathematics from the College of Science, logging a 3.67 undergraduate GPA.

All-America Streak – Irish runners have a proven record in national championship meets as evidenced by their current line of All-American honorees.

The Irish men's track and field team is on a streak of 15 years with at least one competitor earning All-America honors (the Irish have amassed 155 All-America honors since 1921). The women's track and field team has enjoyed an All-American performance each season since 1997 (eight-year streak) and 32 overall since 1994.

All-American (Two Sports) – Former Irish great Raghieb "Rocket" Ismail is part of an exclusive group of four student-athletes who have combined All-America honors in football and another sport during in their Notre Dame careers. Ismail was a two-time consensus first-team All-American in football (1989, 1990) and also earned All-America honors on the track as a sprinter in 1991.

The other members of this elite club are: Edward "Moose" Krause (football 1932; basketball 1932-34), Dick Arrington (football 1965; wrestling 1966) and Bob Golic (football 1977-78; wrestling 1978-79).

Aragon – Former Irish track and cross country standout Dr. Chuck Aragon was presented with the Spirit of Notre Dame Award during the Notre Dame-Michigan game in the fall of 1992. The award, sponsored by Maxwell House and General Foods, recognized Notre Dame athletes, past and present, who distinguished themselves in competition, demonstrated the "Spirit of Notre Dame" and exhibited the ideals of the University. Aragon captained both the Notre Dame cross country and track teams during his career (1977-81) and was the first Irish sub-four-minute miler. An All-American and bronze medalist in the 1,500 meters at the Pan Am Games, he placed fourth in the 1984 Olympic Trials. Aragon, who completed his residency in anesthesiology, donated many hours to the Logan Center while at Notre Dame.

Back to the Bend – Although the Irish won their only cross country national championship in 1957, the bus ride home from East Lansing, Mich., was anything but a celebration. In 26-degree weather, the Irish upset heavily-favored Michigan State, but when coach Alex Wilson added up the team's score of 121 points, he felt the score was extremely high to contend for the title. As a result, he and his team packed up and took the bus back to South Bend. About halfway home the stunning news came over the bus radio, Notre Dame had defeated Michigan State by six points.

Coaching Tree – Although one of Notre Dame's oldest varsity programs (dating back to 1890), the Irish track and field team didn't bring on its first coach until 1916, when Knute Rockne took the job. He held that position until 1927, starting a trend of stability among Irish track coaches.

Current Notre Dame track and field coach Joe Piane is perhaps the best example of this, as he enters his 31st year at the helm of the Irish. Piane is the longest-tenured coach among active mentors at Notre Dame, with women's basketball skipper Muffet McGraw next in line with her 19th season on tap in 2005-06.

Deeter – JoAnna Deeter ended her career as one of the best women's cross country and track and field runners in Irish history. A native of Glen Ellyn, Ill., Deeter earned All-America status twice for cross country in 1996 and 1998 and three times in track and field, all in 1999. Included in her accomplishments are two school records - the indoor and outdoor 3,000 and 10,000.

Fifth – One-fifth of a mile is the length of the Meyo Track, the largest collegiate indoor surface in the country and the home track for the Irish indoor teams. First opened in 1988, the track was named for Ray and Marie Meyo of Brecksville, Ohio, and is made of the Mondo track surface featuring six 42-inch lanes.

The Meyo Track has established itself as one of the fastest surfaces in the nation and welcomes a number of high-class athletes in a "last chance" meet (the Alex Wilson Invitational) who are attempting to qualify for the NCAA Indoor Championship. The Meyo Invitational, which features the "Meyo Mile" (a special race that features many of the top milers in the nation) and the Alex Wilson Invitational are fixtures on the Notre Dame indoor track and field schedule each season.

Football Players – The Notre Dame football and track and field programs are two of the oldest varsity sports on the Irish campus. There have been a number of football stars who have crossed over to the track, or the field, and left an impression on the track and field program. Just a glance at the Notre Dame track and field record book shows the effect that football players have had on it. Raghieb "Rocket" Ismail, who finished second in the Heisman Trophy balloting in 1990, holds the school record for the indoor 55 meters and finished as an All-American in 1991.

Former Irish defensive back Allen Rossum (now a standout return specialist with the NFL's Atlanta Falcons) currently holds the school record in the indoor 60 meters (6.68), former running back Randy Kinder set the indoor 200-meter record in 21.11 and former receiver Ryan Postel owns the indoor 400-meter record (47.01).

Some football players who also earned monograms on the track include 1987 Heisman Trophy winner Tim Brown, Jack Elder, Edward "Moose" Krause, Elmer Layden, Dean Lytle, Ryan Mihalko (the school-record holder in the javelin), Creighton Miller and Knute Rockne.

Current Irish assistant track and field coach John Millar and his sprint corps could get a boost this season from Terrail Lambert (who earned a letter in track and field during the 2005 season after earning all-BIG EAST Conference honors in the indoor 60 meters).

Ghana – The impact of Notre Dame track can be felt around the world as evidenced by William P. Mahoney, an Irish alumnus who served as the U.S. ambassador to Ghana under the Kennedy Administration. A sprinter for coach John Nicholson, Mahoney took over the coaching duties when Nicholson died in 1940. Mahoney guided the team to an unofficial victory in the Drake Relays before he entered the Navy in 1942.

Golden Anniversary – The 2005 season will mark the 50th running of the Notre Dame Invitational cross country meet, one of the nation's oldest and largest intercollegiate racers. The invitational was started by former Irish head coach Alex Wilson in 1956 as a four-mile race, extended to five miles in 1968, and a women's competition added in 1987. Notre Dame has won the men's event 15 times (most recently in 2003) and the women's race on six occasions (also last doing so in 2003).

The golden anniversary running of the Notre Dame Invitational will take place Sept. 30, 2005 at the Notre Dame Golf Course on the Notre Dame campus.

Heisman – Achieving success on both the track and the football field was the trademark of former Irish runners Tim Brown and Raghieb "Rocket" Ismail. Brown won the 1987 Heisman Trophy in addition to running with the track team during the offseason. Brown owned the school record in the 55 meters until 1990 when '90 Heisman runner-up Ismail ran 6.07 in the event, and eventually went on to earn track All-America honors by finishing second in the 1991 NCAA indoor 55 meters.

Hurd – Dr. Bill Hurd was honored in 2002 at the annual Notre Dame Monogram Club dinner with the Moose Krause Distinguished Service Award, the highest honor presented by the Monogram Club. A world-class sprinter and 1969 Notre Dame graduate with a degree in electrical engineering, Hurd now is a noted eye surgeon – with an ophthalmology practice in Memphis that specializes in cataract, glaucoma and diabetic treatment and keratorefractive surgery.

Hurd annually spends 2-3 weeks providing voluntary eye surgery to the poor in Africa, Mexico and Brazil. On the most recent trip to Madagascar, he and two other doctors saw 1,100 patients in 10 days and he performed 35 eye surgeries – with Hurd and his colleagues increasingly in demand as their reputation grows.

Hurd's days of distinction as a collegian included being named Notre Dame's "athlete of the year" for 1967-68 and establishing the Track coach from 1927-1940, John P. Nicholson became an innovator in coaching technique purely by accident.

Two-time NCAA shot put champion ('23 and '24) Tom Lieb introduced the spinning throw delivery in the discus, which is still in use today.

John P. Nicholson was one of track and field's greatest innovators in the late 20's and early 30's. Here he is pictured with Irish distance great Greg Rice, plotting out the All-American's next race.

American indoor record in the 300-yard dash (29.8). He set eight Notre Dame records and totaled five All-America finishes at the 1968 and '69 NCAA meets (only two Notre Dame student-athletes ever have totaled more All-America honors).

He also was a finalist (top eight) at the Olympic Trials in the 100 and 200 meters, finishing fifth in the 100 to just miss a spot on the Olympic squad (his competitors included the likes of Jim Hines, John Carlos, Tommy Smith and Mel Gray).

Hurd – who added graduate degrees from Massachusetts Institute of Technology (master's in management science) and Meharry Medical School in Nashville – was a Rhodes Scholarship regional finalist and received Notre Dame's Harvey Foster Award in 1992 (recognizing alumni for distinguished civic activity) and the NCAA's prestigious Silver Anniversary Award in 1994 (recognizing career success and community service). He holds two U.S./foreign patents for optical devices, including a slit-lamp, mountable intraocular biometer.

Also an accomplished jazz musician, Hurd recently completed work on his fourth CD, in which he plays the saxophone and flute.

Hurd and his wife Rhynette, an attorney, have sent both of their sons to Notre Dame. One of his sons, Ryan, was a four-year monogram winner on the Irish track and field team from 2001-04.

Jinx – Although Irish great Greg Rice is widely regarded as one of the best distance runners of all time, his coach only saw him race once during his Notre Dame career. Coach John Nicholson felt he superstitiously jinxed Rice during races and therefore stayed in South Bend while Rice traveled to meets. The only race Nicholson saw was perhaps one of Rice's finest as he outdueled Taisto Maki and Don Lash to win a three-mile race in 13:52.2. Unfortunately, the race would also be Nicholson's last as the coach died two days later from complications of a heart attack that he suffered just hours before the competition.

Krause Stadium – The outdoor home of the Irish track team, the 5,000-seat Krause Stadium is located behind the Joyce Center. The Monogram Track features eight 48-inch lanes on the curves and nine lanes on the front stretch. Consisting of Mondo track material, the Monogram Track features the same surface used in the 1992 Barcelona Olympic Games.

Lieb – Tom Lieb, an Irish shot put thrower in the early 20's, is credited with introducing the spin-style delivery to the sport, a style which is still used today. Lieb won the NCAA championship in the event during the 1923 and 1924 seasons.

Loftus Center – Notre Dame first utilized the Loftus Center in October of 1987 and is enjoying its 19th full season of use in 2005-06. The indoor facility, which is connected to the recently-completed Guglielmino Athletic Complex, features the Haggar Fitness Center, a 25,000-square foot weightlifting area, and Meyo Field. It also houses a 154-seat auditorium and nine conference rooms. The building, dedicated in April 1988 after construction began in March 1987, is available for a variety of other uses – including practice by Irish field sport teams.

The Loftus Center took on a revitalized look in the summer of 2003, as a new Prestige Turf surface and Mondo track were installed.

Meyo Invitational – Four minutes, one mile. For years it was the unbreakable barrier, and it remains among the most celebrated feats in all of sport. Folks that know the sport of track and field will tell you that 3:40 in the 1,500 or 7:55 in the 3,000 are just as impressive, but to the casual fan there is something about the simplicity of it; four laps, four minutes, one mile.

On Feb. 3-4, 2006, the 19th annual Meyo Invitational will return to the Loftus Sports Center on Notre Dame's campus with the marquee event at the meet being the Meyo Mile. In the past three seasons, 13 runners have broken through the magical four-minute mark in three of the most exiting races at Notre Dame in recent memory.

In 2003, Notre Dame senior Luke Watson won the race in school record time (3:57.83), moving into the lead a mere 30 meters from the finish line. After the dust had settled, the top five in the race were each in under four minutes, each within a half second of the others, and each owned one of the five fastest times in the world that year.

The 2005 race turned out to be just as thrilling, with four runners breaking the four-minute barrier, including a pair of Notre Dame athletes (Watson, running unattached, and sophomore Kurt Benninger). All four sub-four minute runners earned automatic qualification to the NCAA Indoor Championships and Benninger's time of 3:58.75 put him less than a second off Watson's school record mark of two years earlier.

The Invitational, as well as the Meyo Mile, are the brainchild of Irish head track and field coach Joe Piane. When the Loftus Center was built, Notre Dame installed a track that was oversized and topped with a Mondo surface, which produced a rare and very fast combination.

Piane recounted the invention of the Invitational, "We put the meet together because it was a huge track and it was attractive to just give it a try. The name comes from Ray Meyo, who donated everything, and we decided to highlight the mile because even the average person knows that a sub-four-minute mile is very good, so we put together a 'four minute challenge' knowing that if the race did go under four minutes, everyone was going to say, 'Wow! This is really something.'"

The Meyo Mile, however will not be the only great event on the weekend. The Meyo Invitational is always packed with outstanding performances from start to finish. In 2005, the meet saw a staggering 110 automatic or provisional qualifications for the NCAA Championships, and through the years, numerous track and school records have been shattered.

National Champions – Fifteen Irish athletes have won 16 national track titles during the program's history, in addition to the two individual and one team championships in cross country. The most recent track champion was Ryan Shay, who ran away with the 10,000 meters at the 2001 NCAA Championships in Eugene, Ore.

Before Shay's triumphant victory, Notre Dame's last track and field champion was Tom McMannon who won the 55-meter high hurdles in 1972. Greg Rice (1938) and Oliver Hunter (1942) were individual cross country champions, while coach Alex Wilson's 1957 squad won the team national championship.

Pioneer – Harry M. Jewett was the first recognized Notre Dame track and field athlete, making his debut in 1890 at a relay invitational in Ann Arbor, Mich. The school was next represented in 1898, and the Irish have competed in every year since then with the exception of 1906.

Notre Dame's Greg Rice (second from left) is considered by many to be the greatest distance runner in U.S. history. The 1940 Sullivan Award winner, Rice went undefeated in 65 major indoor and outdoor races over a three-year span, setting 10 world records in six different events. He also was an All-American in the two-mile race, winning the NCAA title in 1937 and 1939 and finishing second in 1938.

Prices – There is no charge to watch the Notre Dame track and field and cross country teams in action. The cross country teams will be on campus two times this season (see schedule on back cover of this media guide), while the indoor track and field teams will host the Meyo Invitational and Alex Wilson Invitational, as well as the Spring Opener during the outdoor season.

Rockne – The name that has become synonymous with Notre Dame football was also involved in the Irish track scene. After a difficult freshman year as a reserve on the varsity football team, Knute Rockne turned his attention to track where he earned a monogram and, as legend has it, once broke the world record in the indoor pole vault with his best effort of 12-4, but held it for such a brief period that he never received official recognition for it. Rockne became the University's first track coach in 1916 and the first cross country mentor in 1920. During his tenure, Rockne guided five Olympians and two Olympic medalists. The coach resigned his track responsibilities in 1928 to devote his energy to football until his death in 1931.

Roof Top Running – Injured by a wild discus throw, John P. Nicholson (Irish track coach from 1927-40) sat on the roof of a car and shouted instructions to his runners through a megaphone during training. The method proved so effective that Nicholson made the car a regular part of his training regimen.

Scholarships – Beginning with the 2004-05 season, all 26 varsity programs at the University of Notre Dame received the full NCAA complement of scholarships.

"Fully scholarshiping all our programs will help us realize our goals over the next five or six years of pushing Notre Dame's athletic program toward a top finish in the annual NACDA Directors' Cup standings," Director of Athletics Kevin White says.

"This eventually will put all of our programs in position to compete for national championships."

Notre Dame finished 16th in the 2004-05 NACDA Directors' Cup standings.

Starting Blocks – John P. Nicholson bestowed upon the track world perhaps his greatest innovation, the starting block. His starting block caught on in the late 1920s and was well-received by the track community.

"You have a device which will materially make short distance, hurdle and relay racing more popular with both the public and athletes," wrote former Illinois coach Harry Gill in a 1929 letter. "It appears to be a real help to track athletics."

John Griffith, former chairman of the NCAA track and field rules committee and commissioner of the Big Ten Conference, was equally impressed in a letter written the same year.

"I have studied the pictures of your new starting device with a great deal of interest, and am of the opinion that you have made a distinct contribution to track athletics."

Varsity – While the men's track and field and cross country teams are two of the oldest teams at Notre Dame, dating back to the 19th century, the women's program is only in its infancy. The women's cross country team is in its 19th year and owns five conference titles in that time, including the 2002 BIG EAST Championship. The women's cross country team also finished third at the NCAA Championship in 2002 and fourth in 2004.

The women's track and field squad enters its 15th season of varsity competition this year and has won four league championships in that time and advanced at least one runner to the NCAA Championships for the 11th consecutive year in 2004-05. The women's team also broke through for its first BIG EAST Championship team title at the 2002 indoor meet.

J. Gregory Rice

*All-American
1937-39
Sullivan Award Winner*

Gregory Rice, billed as the greatest distance runner the United States has ever produced, was presented with the 1940 Sullivan Trophy as the nation's top amateur athlete after he set a world three-mile record at the national championships. Named "the Little Man with a Big Finish," Rice smashed the world three-mile record with a time of 13:51. He earned All-America honors in the mile in 1937, and also received those honors in the two-mile as he won the event in 1937 and '39 and placed second in 1938.

Rice was undefeated in 65 major indoor and outdoor races in just over three years with 10 world records in six different events. Rice became the first-ever cross country national champion in 1938 when he ran the four-mile course in 20:12.9 to lead the Irish to a second-place team finish.

Born in 1916, Rice died in May of 1991.

Nicholas Sparks

*Monogram Winner
1987-88*

Best-selling author Nicholas Sparks graduated in 1988 and was a two-time monogram winner in track and field. At Notre Dame, Sparks was a member of the 4x800-meter relay team, which still holds the outdoor school record.

After pursuing a variety of jobs after graduation, he wrote his first novel entitled "The Notebook," which was released in 1996. That novel became one of only five novels published in the past 30 years that spent more than a year on the New York Times hardcover best seller list, and was eventually made into a movie in 2004 starring Ryan Gosling and Rachel McAdams.

His second novel, "Message in a Bottle," was published in 1998 and remained a bestseller for 43 weeks. The film version, starring Kevin Costner, Paul Newman and Robin Wright Penn, opened at number one at the box office and grossed more than $100 million.

His third novel, "A Walk to Remember," was published in October 1999 and turned into a movie in 2002 starring Mandy Moore.

In 2004, he was honored by Notre Dame with the first-ever Rev. Robert F. Griffin, C.S.C., Award, for establishing an initiative in the University's Creative Writing Program that includes fellowships, internships and an annual Sparks Prize to support a student writer-in-residence.

Nicholas Sparks has been married for 15 years and has five children. He lives in New Bern, N.C., and still runs nine miles a day.

Alex Wilson

*All-American 1930-32
Irish Track Coach 1950-72*

A middle-distance track star at Notre Dame, Alex Wilson is a perfect example of an outstanding athlete and legendary coach.

While at Notre Dame, Wilson was undefeated in the quarter- and half-mile events and set a national indoor record of 49.3 for the 440 in 1932. He set records in both the 440 and 880 races. Wilson also won the Amateur Athletic Union 600 and twice captured the Milrose 600.

In 1928 and 1932, he competed in the Olympics for his native Canada and won a silver in the 800-meter race and a bronze in the 400-meter run in 1932.

In 1950, after 18 years as a successful track and swimming coach at Loyola (Ill.) he returned to coach at Notre Dame. During his 23 years with the Irish, his teams finished in the national top 10 11 times. Wilson guided three track national champions, 28 track and eight cross country All-Americans and led the Irish to the cross country national championship in 1957. His teams appeared in the meet a total of 18 times.

He was voted into the Canadian Track Hall of Fame in 1954 and in 1967 he was elected to the Helms Athletic Foundation Hall of Fame for his contributions as a track coach in the United States.

Wilson was also honored as national coach of the year by the NCAA Cross Country Coaches Association in 1972, and an indoor track and field meet is held in his honor each year at Notre Dame.

Wilson died on Dec. 10, 1994, at the age of 87.

Rick Wohlhuter

*All-American 1969-70
U.S. Olympian
Sullivan Award Winner*

Rick Wohlhuter, a two-time Olympian and 1971 Notre Dame graduate, was selected to the Track and Field Hall of Fame in 1991. Winner of an Olympic bronze medal in the 800 meters in 1976, he holds the distinction of being the last man to qualify for the Games in both the 800- and 1,500-meter events. Wohlhuter won the IC4A 880-yard title in 1971 and qualified for the Olympics in 1972.

In addition to his appearance in the Games, Wohlhuter broke the U.S. 800-meter record twice and twice set world records for the 880-yard race. He also set the world record for the 1,000 meters in 1974 and won the event the next three indoor seasons. Wohlhuter also won national outdoor titles in 1973 and '74. In 1974 he earned the Sullivan Award as the nation's top amateur athlete.

A 1970 NCAA champion in the 600-yard event, the two-time All-American was also a member of Notre Dame's two-mile relay team which placed second in the nation in 1969.

Wohlhuter joined John Beatty, the first man to break the four-minute mile indoors, high jumper Charles Dumas, a 1956 gold medalist and first jumper to clear seven feet, and Doris Brown-Heritage, winner of 14 U.S. distance titles and five world cross country championships, as the 1991 Track and Field Hall of Fame inductees.

Legends

Ryan
Shay

*Nine-time All-American
2001 NCAA Champion
2003 USA Marathon
Champion*

A 2001 graduate, Ryan Shay became the USA Marathon Champion in 2003, continuing the championship ways of his collegiate years. Shay is the most decorated athlete in the history of Notre Dame track and field. A 2001 NCAA champion in the 10,000 meters, Shay was a nine-time All-American including two honors for cross country, two for indoor track and six for outdoor track. His 10 honors are the most in school history.

In 2002, a fifth year of eligibility, Shay was named an Academic All-American, and had a second-place finish in the 10,000 meters at the NCAA Championships.

Shay was a nine-time BIG EAST champion in his years at Notre Dame, with one of those victories coming in cross country. He also had seven top-10 finishes at the NCAA Championships in various distance events including the 3,000, 5,000 and 10,000 meters.

In 2000, he competed for the right to represent the USA track and field team at the Olympic Games, finishing 10th in the Olympic Trials.

Upon graduation, he held school records in the indoor 5,000 meters, the outdoor 5,000 meters and the 10,000 meters.

Shay's 2001 national championship was the first outdoor championship by a Notre Dame athlete since 1954.

Liz Grow

*Four-time All-American
Five-time BIG EAST
Champion*

Liz Grow, a 2002 graduate, asserted herself as one of the best sprinter's in Notre Dame history during her career. Grow was a four-time All-American, earning the honor twice in the indoor 400-meter dash, and twice with the 4x400-meter relay team, once indoors and once outdoors.

Grow was a five-time BIG EAST champion, and helped lead the 2002 women's track and field team to a BIG EAST championship.

Grow's top individual finish in the NCAA Championships was fourth place in 2002 at the indoor championships in the 400-meter dash, and her best finish in the 4x400 relay was fifth the same year at the outdoor meet. She owns the highest-ever finish for a Notre Dame women's sprinter at the NCAA Championship.

Perhaps the most telling statistics about the success she enjoyed at Notre Dame are her school records. At the time she graduated, Grow was a part of six different school records, and had set a seventh in her junior year, which was subsequently broken the next season.

Grow's school record résumé includes the University's fastest times in the indoor and outdoor 400 meters, the indoor 500 meters, and the outdoor 4x100 and 4x400-meter relays.

Luke
Watson

*Eight-time All-American
Six-time BIG EAST
Champion
Sub-Four Minute Mile*

Enjoying one of the best careers in the history of Notre Dame track and field, Luke Watson competed in one of the most exciting moments in the history of the track and field program.

In January of 2003, Watson broke one of the great barriers in sports, the four-minute mile, in front of one of the largest crowds to ever see a track meet at Notre Dame. Watson's mile of 3:57.83 was the fastest collegiate indoor mile in the country in '03 and was only the second sub-four-minute mile in school history.

In the '03 season, Watson's last with the Irish, he was honored as an All-American for the eighth time, including two for cross country, four for indoor track and two for outdoor track. He was also named an Academic All-American in both the '02 and '03 seasons.

Upon graduating, Watson had five top-10 finishes in the NCAA Track and Field Championships, and two top-10 finishes at the NCAA Championships for cross country. Additionally, Watson held six school records – the indoor and outdoor mile, the 3,000-meter steeplechase, the indoor 3,000 meters, outdoor 5,000 meters and the distance medley relay.

Watson was also a force to be reckoned with in the BIG EAST. During his career he was a six-time BIG EAST champion. He also led the 2003 Irish to BIG EAST Championships in both the indoor and outdoor seasons, the first time a Notre Dame team accomplished that feat.

Tameisha
King

*Four-time All-American
Four-time BIG EAST
Champion*

Tameisha King graduated from Notre Dame in 2003, and left the University as its top female long jumper.

King owns both the indoor and outdoor school records for the long jump, in addition to running in the school record 4x100-meter relay.

She was a four-time All-American, with three of those honors coming during the outdoor season, and one during the indoor season. Each of her All-American honors came in the long jump.

King has five top-10 finishes in the NCAA Championships as well as four BIG EAST Championships to her credit.

King also has a very impressive resume outside of the collegiate spectrum. In 2001, as a sophomore, she placed second in the long jump at National Junior Track and Field Championships, and went on to finish in the top 10 at the World Junior Championships in Santiago, Chile.

More recently, she won the 2004 USA Track and Field Indoor long jump title after finishing fourth in '03. King ended up sixth at the U.S. Olympic Trials and was the top finisher from the United States at the 2003 Pan American Games.

Irish Men's Track & Field Team Looks to Load Up for Another BIG EAST Title Run

Notre Dame has won four conference titles in the past three years, including 2005 indoor crown

There are many constants in the world that folks can come to rely on. You can depend on the mail always being delivered six days a week, no matter the weather. You can also count on having to pay your taxes each year. And lately, you can be sure that the Notre Dame men's track and field team is going to be in the hunt for the BIG EAST Conference title every single season.

In fact, since becoming members of the BIG EAST in 1995-96, the Irish have finished among the top three in both the indoor and outdoor conference championships every year but one (a sixth-place finish in the 2001 outdoor meet). That's a sparkling 19 top-three finishes out of 20 opportunities, and it's highlighted by five BIG EAST titles, including the most recent trophy that was acquired at last year's BIG EAST Indoor Championships.

"We have strong people in every event," 31st-year head coach Joe Piane said. "We have a broad-based track team and that's pretty rare. If you look at a lot of teams, they're going to find a niche and that's the niche they work with. To win the BIG EAST meet, you need to cover all the bases.

"The two most important meets on our schedule are the BIG EAST meet and the NCAAAs," Piane added. "Our goals are to be competitive, if not win the BIG EAST every year, which is going to become difficult with the new schools, especially Louisville. The other is to score at the NCAAAs and to get as many All-Americans as we can."

Perhaps the biggest reason for Notre Dame's continued success in men's track and field has been its ability to adapt to change. As with all college teams, the Irish regularly go through turnover on their roster, whether through graduation, injury or other circumstances. However, Notre Dame has had a vital weapon at its disposal — experience in the coaching ranks. The Irish staff, led by Piane, has a combined total of more than 100 years of coaching expertise, including 82 seasons at Notre Dame.

That leadership also permeates through to the upperclassmen on the Notre Dame roster. While the sprints and throws will undergo a change in leadership after the graduation of several key seniors, the Irish distance group looks to build on a successful 2004 season. The group returns nearly all of its top contributors while adding several top talents.

At the forefront of this contingent, and looking to make noise on the national level, will be junior Kurt Benninger. A year ago, Benninger became only the third Notre Dame athlete to run a sub-four minute mile on the way to earning his first two indoor All-America honors (mile, distance medley relay). Also a two-time BIG EAST indoor champion, he broke the outdoor school record in the 5,000 meters with a blazing 13:33. Without question, Benninger has the talent and the desire to return to the NCAA Championships and improve on last year's performances.

The distance group will be fortified by fifth-year senior Sean O'Donnell, and seniors Tim Moore and Kaleb Van Ort. All three runners are capable of excelling at distances from 3,000 meters all the way up to 10,000 meters. In particular, Van Ort is coming off a season in which he qualified for the NCAA Outdoor Championships in the 10,000 meters and finished 13th. Junior Todd Ptacek and sophomore Jake Watson are the top two BIG EAST returnees in the 3,000-meter steeplechase and will be poised to improve their career bests and break the nine-minute barrier. Junior Tom Chamney is returning to the program after spending a year training back home in his native Ireland, and he should be one of the conference's top 800-meter specialists, along with sophomore Adam Currie.

"I've never had a distance group this deep," Piane said. "We have about 14-18 kids who all can compete and do well on the conference and regional levels. Many of these guys have used last year's success on the track and are looking to build on that this time around. And with a solid cross country season to lead them onto the track, they can be a really strong cornerstone of our team this year."

In the throws, the Irish will be hurt by the loss to graduation of their longtime leader, Chip Roberts, who won the BIG EAST hammer throw title last year. However, a formidable crew exists to pick up the slack, led by a pair of all-BIG EAST honorees — junior Garek Koxlien and sophomore Kyle Annen. Koxlien showed great improvement from his freshman campaign, scoring BIG EAST points in both the indoor and outdoor meets, while earning all-conference laurels in the discus. Annen earned his all-league plaque as a third-place finisher behind best in years," sprints and hurdles coach John Millar said. "There are a number of individuals who will be counted on to contribute in this area, and any combination of them quite possibly will form a 4x400 relay that can advance to the regionals."

In the hurdles, junior Geoff Bennett and sophomores Jose Genao and Austin Wechter all scored points for the Irish at last year's BIG EAST meet and will be counted on for bigger things this season. Freshman Patrick Needham, a regional champion in the 110-meter hurdles during his final prep season at Loyola (Ill.) Academy, also may be called upon to contribute this year.

"The graduation of Selim Nurudeen will certainly leave a difficult void for us to fill," Millar added. "However, we have a solid group returning with Jose and Geoff, and Patrick will provide us with some additional depth. In the 400-meter hurdles, Austin Wechter made considerable improvement last season and we're looking for that to continue this year.

The Irish jumping group should be one of the team's most improved areas this season. Junior Christopher Jacques provides a solid foundation in the high jump, while also standing as the defending conference champion in the indoor long jump. The high jump corps also gets a significant upgrade with the arrival of freshman Blair Majcina, a nationally-ranked Illinois prep standout with a personal best of 7-1.

"We need a breakout year in both the long jump and high jump from Chris," jumps coach Scott Winsor said. "He's worked extremely Roberts in the hammer throw and, along with Koxlien, Annen qualified for the NCAA Mideast Regional. Sophomore Mike Schubert will give the Irish a strong presence in both the indoor and outdoor shot puts.

"The 2005 season was a solid year for the men," throws coach B.J. Linnenbrink said. "We had numerous all-BIG EAST honors, a conference champion and multiple regional qualifiers. We will try to build on that standard for the coming season, returning all but one guy from last year. I look for Garek Koxlien to have an outstanding year and make a push to be the BIG EAST champion in the discus and take a giant step towards the NCAAAs."

The sprint corps is another group that faces a significant loss heading into the 2005-06 season. Selim Nurudeen graduated after a stellar career that saw him acquire two All-America honors and 15 all-BIG EAST designations. Easing the post-Nurudeen transition will be the return of senior Ryan Postel. Sidelined by illness last track season, Postel enters the 2005-06 campaign as the school record holder in the indoor 400 meters and a contender to qualify for the national meet. Other top returning sprinters include junior Jordan Powell, and sophomores Michael Webber, Zachary Labrecque and Bob Kueny. Freshman Alvin Adjei could also be heard from, along with sophomores Terrail Lambert (an all-BIG EAST honoree in the 60-meter dash at last year's conference indoor meet) and Justin Hoskins, and freshman D.J. Hord.

"Having Ryan Postel back provides the foundation for a 400-meter group that has the potential to be one of the hard over the summer and is in the best physical condition of his life. Chris himself would tell you his eyes are set on repeating as the BIG EAST long jump champion, along with earning major points in the high jump.

"Blair has set very high goals for himself as a freshman," Winsor continued. "He has a very competitive nature, he's looked very good this fall and is very fit. He will be a big key at the conference meet, and with some improvements, he will be an NCAA-caliber high jumper."

In the pole vault, juniors Justin Oppel and Dave Viken will be joined by freshmen Tray Morgan and Trey Mohr. The added depth to the vault group should help push the athletes to the 16-foot mark.

"Justin has great pole vault potential and the mindset to go with it," Winsor said. "He's been battling injuries his first two years, but if he can get and stay healthy, he has the ability to be a BIG EAST champion. Dave is another vital part to our effort and is someone who has been very consistent throughout his first two years. He's looking for that breakout vault and he's been very close to it for quite some time. Dave has had a great fall of training and we look for good things from him.

"Tray Morgan is just a great young man, who working extremely hard this fall," Winsor added. "If he stays healthy and keeps his attitude right where it's at, he'll be a big help to our team. As for Trey Mohr, he's looking to break into the pole vault scene this year and has already had a great fall, coming in fit. He will have to put on a little size and strength before he'll see any major results. With hard work and commitment, he should improve enough to make it to the BIG EAST."

Cupboard Well-Stocked for Irish Women's Track & Field Team

Notre Dame is strong in all areas and poised to claim first BIG EAST title since 2002

The NFL's New England Patriots have won three of the past four Super Bowls without a great number of high-priced superstars or show-stopping talents. Rather, each member of the team merely shows up and does his job to the best of his ability, contributing to a total team effort that is truly championship-worthy. The 2005-06 Notre Dame women's track team will look to copy this recipe for success and return to the top of the awards podium at the BIG EAST Championships for the first time in four years.

Among the returning athletes with the most potential for individual success are junior sprinters Maryann Erigha and Okechi Ogbuokiri. Erigha set a school record in the 100 meters and qualified for the NCAA Outdoor Championships in two events. She will focus on the short sprints and hope to add to her 100-meter BIG EAST title from a year ago. At the same time, Ogbuokiri should be one of the nation's top 400-meter runners after a season in which she won the BIG EAST indoor 400-meter title and qualified for the NCAA outdoor meet. Contributing to the team's depth in the sprints will be sophomores Brienne Davis and Crysta Swayzer, both of whom will see time on the primary sprint relays, giving the Irish a solid nucleus upon which to return to the form that saw Notre Dame send six relay teams to the NCAA Championships in 2002 and 2003 (four in the 4x100, two in the 4x400).

"I'm excited about the potential of this year's group," sprints and hurdles coach John Millar said. "I saw big improvement last year in the sophomores from their freshman year and am anticipating similar results from this year's class."

"Maryann had an outstanding sophomore year, but she was hindered at the end of the year by injury," Millar continued. "I'm hoping she will be able to build on this because she has the potential to be an NCAA finalist both indoor and outdoors. Okechi also had a breakthrough year and we expect big things from her this year. After qualifying for the NCAA outdoor meet, she has the final as her goal this season."

Sophomore Dominique Manning was one of the country's top hurdlers coming out of high school, and she will look to build back up to that form after logging a pair of first-place finishes during her initial indoor season. Manning also garnered all-BIG EAST honors as a member of Notre Dame's 4x100-meter relay team that finished second at the league's outdoor meet. Fellow sophomore Antonia Bethel did not compete last year, but was a two-sport letterwinner in high school and set the Turlock (Calif.) High School record in the 300-meter hurdles. Freshman Alyissa Hasan is a multi-sport star out of Williamsville, N.Y., who has performed particularly well in the hurdles and long jump and could see immediate action in both events.

"I'm looking to see if Dominique Manning will be able to return to her high school performances where she was one of the top-ranked hurdlers in the country," Millar added. "Antonia will also give us some good depth in this event and we're looking forward to seeing what Alyissa brings to the table this year."

Notre Dame's jump group will feature some old and new faces. Senior Stacey Cowan and fifth-year senior Emily Loomis will be the high jump standouts among the leapers, with Cowan being a 2004 All-American and the recipient of six all-BIG EAST honors and Loomis also a former BIG EAST champion (2003, outdoor). Senior Laura Huarte, the 2004 BIG EAST outdoor pole vault champion is expected to contribute as well, while junior Cassie Gullickson is an experienced jumper with ability in the triple, long, and high jumps.

The Notre Dame jumpers also will get a significant boost from several incoming freshmen, in particular Mary Saxer, Lauren Biscardi and Kate Mattoon. Saxer holds the U.S. high school and junior record, as well as the under-17 world record in the pole vault after a 14-3 indoor effort last year (the first women's high school pole vaulter ever to clear 14 feet). She is also an excellent long jumper, with a personal best of more than 18 feet. Biscardi is a talented high jumper who won two national titles in 2004, is a four-time All-American (twice each in the indoor and outdoor seasons), and has cleared 5-10 - in her prep career. Mattoon was an All-American in the pole vault as a high school senior last year and has been ranked nationally for the past three years, with a personal best of 12-9.

"We have a great group of jumpers, with a strong mix of veterans and rookies," jumps coach Scott Winsor said. "The talent level from top to bottom is probably deeper than it's ever been for the jumps crew. Staying healthy is the key factor, along with leadership and guidance from our upperclassmen. This group's potential is tremendous, and their goals are nothing less than making the NCAAAs, along with winning the BIG EAST title."

"Emily and Stacey are our two veteran leaders, both of whom have made it to the NCAAAs and Stacey is an All-American," Winsor continued. "Both of them have a great spirit and desire to succeed, which makes them excellent leaders by example. Laura is also a very talented athlete, who just goes about her business and gets the job done. Cassie could be a major factor in both the triple jump and high jump at conference and we're looking for a breakout year from her to reach her potential."

"Mary's potential is unlimited," Winsor concluded. "She will be a major factor in both events at the BIG EAST, and barring injury, she will be a factor in the NCAA pole vault. Lauren should also be a major contributor at the conference meet, and she has great potential for the future. Kate has vaulted very well and has room for a tremendous amount of improvement. Like the others, she could be a great asset to this team's success."

The Irish throwers are capable of thriving on the shoulders of Meghan Horn alone. The senior has marks among the top all-time Notre Dame performances in several events, and has three all-BIG EAST honors to her credit. If she continues to show her usual improvement, Horn could be in for a big year in 2006. Helping out Horn will be freshman Anna Weber, a highly-regarded standout from Indianapolis who will see considerable action as a rookie.

"Meghan Horn is coming off her best year ever, and we want to continue to build on that success and try to get Meghan to the NCAAAs," throws coach B.J. Linnenbrink said. "We also added one freshman this year, Anna Weber, who was highly recruited coming out of high school. I look for her to make an immediate impact in the BIG EAST."

The Notre Dame women's distance group looks to be a force to be reckoned with, led by seniors Molly Huddle and Stephanie Madaia. Huddle saw her 2004-05 track season spoiled by injury after a second-place finish in the indoor 5,000 meters, and should be ready to garner more NCAA honors in 2006. Madaia had a junior season to remember, qualifying for both the indoor and outdoor NCAA meets and taking All-America honors in the outdoor 5,000 meters. With sophomore Sunni Olding also in the mix, the Irish should be very deep in the 3,000 and 5,000-meter distances.

Notre Dame's distance crew also features a strong 3,000-meter steeplechase runner in Katie DeRusso. The junior has continually improved since taking up the steeple in her rookie campaign, advancing to the NCAA Midwest Regional in that event last year, and she should place well in both the conference and regional competitions this season. Junior Brienne Schmidt and sophomore Jacqueline Carter are the returning middle distance specialists for Notre Dame this season. Schmidt was a member of last year's Irish distance medley relay squad that finished second at the BIG EAST indoor meet and earned all-conference honors. Carter almost picked up her own all-BIG EAST citation last season, winding up fifth in the 1,000-meter run at the league's indoor championship.

Freshmen Ramsey Kavan and Morgan Schulz will help the Irish in the distances. Kavan, a two-time Gatorade Track Athlete of the Year in South Dakota, sports a 4:48 mile personal best and Schulz starred at Colorado's Smoky Hill High School, one of the most prolific girls long distance programs in the nation over the past several years. Meanwhile, rookie Megan Flynn, a local product from Mishawaka Marian High School who was the Indiana state champion at 800 meters last year, will have an opportunity to make an early statement in the middle distances.

"Beyond our All-Americans in Molly, Stephanie and Sunni, we have a lot of kids who are capable of being big-time conference level athletes," women's distance coach Tim Connelly said. "We have to see if they can step up. Katie DeRusso scored points at the conference meet and did a nice job getting to the regional and running a PR there. Jackie Carter and Brienne Schmidt did well in the indoor conference meet, and now they have to take that next step and get to the regional level."

"Both Ramsey and Morgan give us some fresh blood in the distances and they'll get started early by competing with our cross country team," Connelly continued. "We've also got Megan Flynn coming in, who is someone who will definitely be able to help us on the track in the 800 and 1,000. I think we've got most of our bases covered from the 800 meters on up."

"I'm excited about the potential of this year's group. I saw big improvement last year in the sophomores from their freshman year and am anticipating similar results from this year's class."

Irish Men's Cross Country Team Has Table Set For Possible Championship Feast

Notre Dame returns its top five runners with a focus on an NCAA Championship trophy

During the past 17 seasons, the Notre Dame men's cross country team established itself as a consistently strong performer at the NCAA Championships, making 14 trips to the national meet and registering 10 top-10 finishes in that time. After a one-year hiatus in 2003, the Irish returned to the NCAA Championships last season, entering the event ranked fifth in the nation. However, an 11th-place showing left veteran head coach Joe Piane and his charges dissatisfied and hungry to return Notre Dame to its perch among the country's elite programs in 2005.

"We had a great season up until the NCAAs," Piane said. "We went from being totally unranked to being ranked fifth in the country. Then, we just ran poorly at the NCAAs. We've been trying to debate why that happened, but I guess we need to use that as a motivator for this year. We ended up 11th and the fourth- and fifth-place teams were both teams we had beaten twice. It was a disappointing finish to say the least.

"We need to understand that no one is going to roll over for us," Piane continued. "We just didn't run with the right vigor and commitment and that's not going to happen this year. If you talk to those kids, they'll tell you the same thing. They're all really fired up. They've learned that they have to do every little thing that it takes, and if the weather is inclement they have to turn that into a positive. If the weather is great, then we're going to run great. They've also learned that they don't need to take a back seat to anybody."

While still feeling the sting from last year, Piane has reason to be excited about the prospects for the Irish this season, with a very experienced group of returning runners in the fold, highlighted by six of the team's seven NCAA Championship participants from a year ago. Among these harriers are the team's co-captains — senior Tim Moore and fifth-year senior Sean O'Donnell.

Moore served as a co-captain on last year's squad and has been the only Irish runner to compete at each of the last three NCAA Championships. The individual champion at the 2004 National Catholic Championship, Moore finished 43rd in last year's NCAA meet after taking ninth at the Great Lakes Regional. Already boasting three all-BIG EAST honors, Moore will be looking to add a fourth to his resume this season, along with his first All-America citation.

Seniors Tim Moore (434), Sean O'Donnell (436) and Kaleb Van Ort (438) each earned all-conference honors last season, helping Notre Dame win the BIG EAST Championship.

Meanwhile, Notre Dame retains another experienced leader in O'Donnell, who was a co-captain and all-BIG EAST selection for the Irish last year. He brings consistency and stability to the Irish top seven, as evidenced by his ninth-place finish at the '04 BIG EAST meet and 19th-place showing at last year's Great Lakes Regional. An accomplished student as well, O'Donnell was named to the 2005 ESPN The Magazine Academic All-America Third Team, posting a 3.854 grade-point average as he earned his bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering back in May.

While Moore and O'Donnell lend veteran savvy to the Irish roster, Notre Dame's most exciting harrier could be junior Kurt Benninger. A two-time All-American during the 2004-05 indoor track season, Benninger prefaced those honors by evolving into a top threat on the cross country course, logging four top-10 finishes in the five meets he ran, while also being the first Irish runner across the line at the NCAA Championship. On the track, he went on to become just the third Notre Dame runner ever to run a sub-four minute mile while garnering All-America citations in the mile and distance medley relay. Early in the outdoor track season, Benninger also broke the school record in the 5,000 meters by five seconds before seeing his year truncated by an injury.

Another possible frontrunner for Notre Dame this season is senior Kaleb Van Ort. A two-time all-BIG EAST choice, Van Ort also finished eighth at the Great Lakes Regional a year ago. After qualifying for the 2005 NCAA Outdoor Track Championships in the 10,000 meters, Van Ort figures to be the fourth Irish runner gunning for cross country All-America honors this fall.

Rounding out the probable top five for Notre Dame is senior Vinny Ambrico. Prior to last season, Ambrico had been known primarily as a strong middle distance runner for the track team. However, in 2004, he improved enough to be Notre Dame's main fifth runner, a development that would be critical in clinching a one-point Irish victory at the BIG EAST meet. Heading into this fall, Ambrico is out to continue his improvement and tighten up the spread between the top five Irish runners.

"It's kind of an eclectic group," Piane observed. "You have Tim Moore, who was a Foot Locker national champion in high school and was at a pretty high level when he came in. Kaleb Van Ort was a pretty good runner out of Indiana who has made himself into a national class runner. You take Kurt Benninger, who was very good as a miler and half-miler in high school, but has evolved into a terrific distance guy. He's one of the best 5,000-meter runners in Canada now. Then you take Sean O'Donnell, who is a coach's dream, who was a 4:27 high school miler. He has turned himself from an average high school runner into a guy that has become awfully good. It's not a group that came from the same background — they weren't all high school studs. Some of those kids have really evolved into greatness."

Other prospective contributors for Notre Dame in 2005 will be seniors A.J. Andrassy and Austin Weaver, junior Todd Ptacek, and sophomores Dan Curran, Brett Adams, and Jake Watson. Andrassy competed with the Irish at the 2004 NCAA Championship and brings valuable big-meet experience to fill out the team, while Weaver is a two-time monogram winner.

Ptacek was prepared to join the varsity squad last season before a hamstring injury sidelined him for the remainder of the campaign. He bounced back with an excellent track season featuring a 4:05 mile and 9:05 steeplechase, and he appears ready to assert himself in the Irish rotation. Curran earned a monogram during his rookie season at Notre Dame and should compete among the top 10 Irish runners this season.

Though Piane may not need to rely heavily on his incoming freshmen to ensure a strong team, there are several incoming athletes that will add quality depth to the Irish roster. Robbie Barany earned All-America honors with an eighth-place finish at the 2004 Foot Locker Cross Country Championship, capping off a stellar high school career in Yakima, Wash., at Eisenhower High School, one of the country's elite prep cross country programs. Another freshman, Patrick Smyth, also figures to be in the mix after an outstanding career at Judge Memorial High School in Salt Lake City, Utah.

"I've never had a team this deep," said Piane, who is in his 31st season at Notre Dame. "We're probably 14-18 kids deep. We will take a big hit this year, but that just means that the Robbie Baranys and the Patrick Smyths will have a golden opportunity. They could really step in this season, but as deep as we are, they'll struggle to be in the top seven. I look at guys like Jake Watson and Todd Ptacek as being in front of those kids right now."

While big things are expected for Notre Dame this season, it already will be a milestone campaign for another reason. On Sept. 30, the Irish will play host to the 50th annual Notre Dame Invitational, which has evolved into one of the nation's oldest intercollegiate cross country races. The Notre Dame Invitational, which was created in 1956 by legendary Irish coach (and Canadian Track Hall of Famer) Alex Wilson, is widely considered one of the most competitive regular season meets in the country.

"The Notre Dame Invitational has grown into a very good national meet," Piane commented. "It's a good opportunity to run against teams outside your region, so we attract teams from all over the country. Last year, people said they thought it was the best non-pre-national or regional meet in the country. I don't know if it was, but hopefully, it will be very similar to that this year. It's a source of pride and when we have a home meet, I don't feel like a cross country coach, I feel like a host."

Notre Dame also will serve as the host site for the 26th National Catholic Championship on Sept. 16, continuing to build an impressive tradition for the meet Piane founded in 1980. Besides their two home events, the Irish will open their season at the Valparaiso Invitational on Sept. 9 and are slated to compete in the Pre-National meet Oct. 15 in Terre Haute, Ind., on the same Lavern Gibson Course that will play host to the NCAA Championships at season's end. Notre Dame will aim to defend its BIG EAST title Oct. 28 at Van Cortland Park in Bronx, N.Y., before turning its focus to the Great Lakes Regional in Bloomington, Ind., on Nov. 12. Head Coach: Joe Piane (Loras '69 - 32nd season at Notre Dame; 31st season as head coach)

Bronx on Nov. 19 will serve as a tune-up for the NCAA meet two days later.

"Our first goal is getting to the NCAA meet and I'll be disappointed if we don't do that," Piane said. "I expect us to be in the top 10 and frankly, we have a chance to be on the podium as one of the top four teams. As each goal is attained, it gets a little more difficult. I also think we have a legitimate shot at contending for the BIG EAST title. We won it last year and we return six or seven so we should have a good shot."

"Our guys hold themselves accountable," Piane continued. "I think if we had run exceptionally well at NCAAAs last year, then that might have been a problem, but they know that on any given day, a team can screw up. The NCAA meet is not to see who runs the best, but instead it's a meet to see who screws up the least. There are two examples from last season — one would be us and the other would be Wisconsin. Wisconsin went into that meet last year highly touted, and everyone basically conceded them the win. Then, Colorado came out and kept moving up and did a great job. Right now, when you look on the Internet, people are making predictions and we're not a factor. I love it."

Numerous ingredients are needed to create a successful team, and it would appear those pieces — talent, experience, depth and an insatiable work ethic — and have been put in place for Notre Dame in 2005. As such, the Irish are poised to add the latest entry in a historical ledger of excellence and bring the program its second national championship.

Irish Women's Cross Country Team Looking to Aim Higher in 2005

Notre Dame welcomes back three All-Americans for a run at the NCAA title

Fresh off its second top-four NCAA finish in three years, Notre Dame welcomes back three All-Americans who have a national title in their sights.

The past three years have been special for the Notre Dame women's cross country program. Three top-10 finishes, including two trips to the awards podium as a top-four squad, would make a good decade for just about any team. However, the Irish are not your average cross country program and the 2005 squad will not be content with a drop-off at the national meet.

While longtime head coach Tim Connelly loses two of the most decorated athletes in school history in three-time cross country All-American Lauren King and 2004 cross country All-America pick Kerry Meagher, the cupboard is hardly bare in terms of returning talent.

"When you run well at the end of the year, that gives you confidence in what you've been doing, so now you go back this year and trust that we are going to be ready when it counts," Connelly said. "Nobody's expectations are higher than my team, and that's the important thing. They're confident, and when you believe in what you doing, that more than anything is probably the key to our success. It's not that we're doing anything different than anybody else in terms of training. We have some really talented kids, but we also have kids that everybody else has who believe in each other and what they're doing. That's how you have success.

"The goal every year is to get to the national meet and be in a position to run as well as you can on that day," Connelly continued. "That's what we did last year — we went there and found a way to run really well. I think our kids' expectations are that we want to improve on what we did last year and I think that's a realistic possibility. But the goal every year is to walk away from that situation knowing that we did everything we could do to run well today. The focus last year was just to be as good as we could be, and we knew that we could beat a lot of people, even if we weren't all 100 percent."

Leading the way for the Irish will be senior Molly Huddle. A seven-time All-American (including twice in cross country), Huddle battled through an injury-plagued 2004 season, still managing to contribute to the team's fourth-place NCAA finish. A three-time all-BIG EAST selection, Huddle also placed seventh in the 5,000 meters at the 2004 U.S. Olympic Trials and twice won the NCAA Mideast Regional title in that same event (2003, 2004). Once she has completely recovered from her injuries, Huddle will be poised to make her final season at Notre Dame a memorable one and return to her post as one of the top runners in the nation.

"The key with Molly is to not do too much too soon," Connelly noted. "If we do that, she is talented enough to run with the best, and obviously, the goal and the hope is that she'll be at the level she was at a year ago when she was seventh at the Olympic Trials. I don't see any reason why she can't get back to that."

Another outstanding top returnee is senior Stephanie Madia. Between cross country and track, Madia had a breakthrough year in 2004-05 with two All-America honors and a number of top performances. In addition to being the first Irish runner to cross the finish line at the national meet (23rd place), Madia also earned all-BIG EAST honors at the league meet. She capped her year by qualifying for both the NCAA indoor and outdoor track meets, garnering All-America honors with a fifth-place finish in the outdoor 5,000 meters.

The Notre Dame women's cross country team has its eyes set on an even bigger prize after last year's fourth-place finish at the NCAA Championship.

"Part of the reason why Stephanie was so successful last year was that she knew she had to step up," Connelly said. "Molly wasn't going to be able to get it done and Stephanie looked at the situation and said 'I'm going to get it done.' She's been a great leader ever since she's been here. Last year, she finally had all the pieces together where she could do it on the track, too. What I expect of her isn't any more than she expects of herself. She expects to improve."

The third All-America cornerstone for Notre Dame this season is sophomore Sunni Olding. In just her first year with the Irish, Olding secured a spot among the team's top five runners, winding up third on the team and 32nd overall at the NCAA Championship. Also a sixth-place finisher at the Great Lakes Regional, Olding forms one-third of an extremely fast lead-off trio for the Irish.

A host of athletes will compete to round out Notre Dame's top seven, beginning with seniors Jean Marinangeli, Elizabeth Webster, and Loryn King. Marinangeli and Webster have been mainstays among the team's top 10 runners during the past two seasons, with Marinangeli having participated in the past two national meets. King's career has been stunted at times by injury since her outstanding freshman campaign, but she has the talent to emerge as a solid contributor for this year's squad.

While juniors Katie DeRusso and Amy Kohlmeier each have the ability to carve out regular spots in the Notre Dame lineup, two incoming freshmen may provide Connelly with the biggest potential addition to the team's top seven. Ramsey Kavan and Morgan Schulz join the Irish after highly successful prep campaigns in South Dakota and Colorado, respectively. Kavan, a two-time Gatorade South Dakota Track Athlete of the Year, owns sixth- and third-place finishes in the past two Foot Locker Cross Country Championships, while Schulz took 11th at the prestigious national prep race in 2003. Both athletes will hope to duplicate the success that Olding had in her rookie season at Notre Dame.

"Sunni is one of those kids that has the potential to be a great one," Connelly said. "I also think we have freshmen coming in who have that potential as well. Those kids coming in here expect to run at that level right away, and that's one of the things that I'm looking for. I think we have a nice blend. We have some older kids that are ready to make that next step like Katie DeRusso and Amy Kohlmeier. Katie wasn't quite ready physically or emotionally, and Amy has had all kinds of bad luck. She was getting on a roll during the indoor track season and then developed a staph infection in her foot.

"There are people here besides those incoming freshmen that can run at a pretty high level," Connelly added. "Jean Marinangeli has been our sixth or seventh runner for the past couple of years and has the ability to make that step, so we're not just strictly relying on freshmen. We've got enough good people here that can step in and help us get it done. I just point them in a direction and they motivate each other."

The past three years have seen Notre Dame blaze trails on the women's cross country circuit that have never been seen in the program's history. Now, the challenge will be to sustain and build upon the foundation that has been laid with those three consecutive NCAA top-10 finishes. With the amount of talent, both young and old, on the Irish roster in 2005, it's apparent that the future is exceptionally bright for Notre Dame and it may not be long before championship gold finds its way back to the Golden Dome.

You bet you lose!

Don't bet on it.

In 1889, track and field became the second varsity sport in school history. One hundred and 16 years later student-athletes continue to represent the Fighting Irish across the nation on the track, in the field and on the cross country course.

Out of the 115 years of competition, Joe Piane has been leading the program for the past 30. The longest active tenured coach at Notre Dame, Piane begins his 31st season at Notre Dame in the fall of 2005.

Since 1974, Piane's cross country and track and field teams have posted the following numbers:

- Men's cross country runners have earned All-American status 20 times.
- A Notre Dame cross country runner has appeared at the NCAA Championship meet for the past 15 years, while the team has made the trip 14 out of the past 18 years.
- The Notre Dame men's cross country team has finished in the top 15 at the national meet in 13 of the past 18 seasons.
- The Irish men's track and field team has earned 56 All-America citations since 1974, while the women's team has received 34 such accolades since 1994. Combined, Piane has helped guide 90 All-Americans during his tenure at Notre Dame.

A distance-coaching specialist, Piane is recognized across the nation as one of the best in the business. He has been named NCAA Division I National Cross Country Coach of the Year on two different occasions (1987 and 2001) while garnering five district/regional coach of the year honors.

As the Irish program continues to assert itself nationally (the men's track and field team won the 2005 BIG EAST indoor meet before taking second at the outdoor meet, while hurdler Selim Nurudeen and distance runner Kurt Benninger both picked up two All-America plaques, and the women's team yielded All-America performances from Stephanie Madia and Kerry Meagher), Piane has led from the front for more than three decades.

Benninger's emergence highlighted a stellar 2005 men's track and field season for Piane's Irish. The sophomore claimed All-America laurels with a third-place finish in the mile at the NCAA Indoor Championships and added another All-America citation with his contributions to Notre Dame's sixth-place distance medley relay team, the first Irish DMR unit to garner the award since 2000, but the fifth All-America relay group in Piane's illustrious tenure.

Meanwhile, Nurudeen closed out an impressive career with All-America honors during both track seasons, placing sixth in the indoor 60-meter hurdles and seventh in the outdoor 110-meter hurdles at the NCAA Championships. Nurudeen also set a BIG EAST indoor meet record in the 60-meter hurdles (7.72) and won the league hurdles crown in both the indoor and outdoor meets, winning the outdoor title for the fourth consecutive year.

Nurudeen also won the BIG EAST indoor 200-meter championship in 2005 and was named the meet's Outstanding Track Performer, helping the Irish win their second league indoor crown in three years. Like the team, Piane and his assistants picked up their second BIG EAST Men's Indoor Track Championship Staff of the Year award in three seasons as well.

The 2004 men's track and field season was highlighted by several different BIG EAST champions and NCAA Championship qualifiers. Among the successful distance athletes coached by Piane in '04 were Nurudeen, Benninger and senior Kevin Somok.

The 2003 track and field season was highlighted by several special performances from Luke Watson. Both Piane and Watson set their sights on breaking the four-minute mile barrier at the Moyo Invitational in 2002, hoping that Watson would become just the second runner to crack the mark. Piane helped assemble an outstanding field for the race and it ended up as arguably the highlight of the collegiate indoor season. Watson did his part, scorching past the field in the final straight away to win in 3:58.83, easily a school-record time and briefly the fastest mile run in the world during the indoor season. Watson eventually moved on to garner All-America honors in the indoor mile, indoor 3,000 meters and outdoor 5,000 meters – as well as taking home BIG EAST Championships in the mile, 3,000-meter steeplechase and outdoor 5,000 meters.

In 2001, Piane helped distance specialist Ryan Shay compile one of the greatest track and field seasons in Notre Dame history. The Central Lake, Mich., native won the BIG EAST indoor 5,000 meters, the conference outdoor 5,000 and 10,000 meters and finished off the season in legendary style by becoming Notre Dame's first individual NCAA champion since 1972 by taking first place in the 10,000 meters at the NCAA Outdoor Championships in Eugene, Ore. Shay has since moved on to become one of the best marathon runners in the country.

The Notre Dame men's cross country team has enjoyed three of its most successful seasons in the program's history over the past six years. In 2000, Piane helped the Irish recover from the loss of Shay due to injury and finish ninth at the NCAA Championship meet.

see in 2005).

Piane ushered the Irish into the BIG EAST in 1995-96 with third-place finishes in men's cross country and both the men's and women's indoor and outdoor track and field. In 1997 and again in 1999, Notre Dame moved up to second in both the men's and women's indoor and outdoor track championships, with the Irish men's coaching staff earning staff-of-the-year honors at the 1999 BIG EAST outdoor championships. The Irish got over the hump by winning their first BIG EAST men's track title at the 2000 BIG EAST Outdoor Championships. Piane and his assistants earned the men's staff-of-the-year award for the second straight season.

To date, Piane has coached his men's track teams to 58 individual BIG EAST Championships and three relay wins in the past decade and the women have finished first as individuals 22 times and captured four relay team titles (all in the past five seasons). In addition, six athletes — Selim Nurudeen (indoor, 2005), Godwin Mbagwu (outdoor, 2004), Liz Grow (outdoor, 2002), Luke Watson (outdoor, 2002), Marshaun West (outdoor, 1999) and Jason Rexing (outdoor, 1996 and indoor, 1998) — have received the conference's outstanding track or field performer at various championship meets.

In 1985, Piane was named a member of the United States National Track staff. As such, he was one of 40 collegiate coaches given the opportunity to coach a United States squad in international competition. During the summer of 1987 he did just that, guiding a team of American all-stars in meets held in England and Ireland. Upon the conclusion of the 1991 Notre Dame track season, Piane once again faced international competition as he was appointed coach of the U.S. Pan American juniors team for the games in Kingston, Jamaica.

Piane became Midwest regional chairman for United States Olympic Development in the area of track and field in 1984. Piane's other Olympic preparation experience came in 1985 when he coached the North team in the National Sports Festival. He also coached the U.S. team against England in Birmingham, England.

Piane has produced a winning record in all but one season with the Irish cross country team and is also the creator of Notre Dame's National Catholic Championship, an annual meet held on campus since 1980. The Irish running program continues to be a rapidly-growing entity thanks to Piane's achievements. Continually searching for greater challenges, he also founded the Mayo Invitational and the Alex Wilson Invitational, both traditional indoor Notre Dame track events. The Alex Wilson Invitational has developed into one of the top indoor "last chance" meets in the nation, hosting the nation's best indoor performers just prior to the NCAA Championship.

A 1969 graduate of Loras College, Piane ran both track and cross country for four years at the Dubuque, Iowa, institution. He captained Loras' undefeated cross country squad as a senior, while excelling in middle distance events during the track season. He was inducted into the Loras College Athletics Hall of Fame in the fall of 2002.

Piane began his impressive coaching career in 1970. Working for the Peace Corps, he coached track and field and cross country at both the regional and national levels in Morocco, North Africa. Piane guided a top-ranked junior cross country team, sending three runners to Cambridge, England, for the World International Cross Country Championship in 1972. Several of those runners went on to compete in the Munich Olympics and one advanced to the 1976 Summer Games in Montreal.

After returning to the United States in July 1972, Piane assisted the track and cross country programs at Western Illinois. During that time he earned a master's degree in physical education.

Born Aug. 6, 1946, in Westchester, Ill., Piane joined the Notre Dame staff in 1974 as an assistant track coach and physical education instructor with plans to stay on for just one year. He was named head track and cross country coach the following season.

Piane and his wife, Mimi, reside in South Bend, with their son, Nick.

With Shay back on the team in 2001, Notre Dame achieved its highest-ever national ranking (fourth), won the BIG EAST Championship (Piane and his staff earned the league's Coaching Staff of the Year award) and ended up sixth at the national meet to give the Irish their highest team finish since 1993.

Last year, Notre Dame threatened to eclipse its best-ever ranking, as Piane deftly guided his charges from an unranked start all the way to a BIG EAST title and a No. 5 national ranking before placing 11th at the NCAA Championships. For his efforts, Piane and his aides garnered a second BIG EAST Men's Cross Country Coaching Staff of the Year plaque.

In 1986, Piane was chosen as the District IV track coach of the year. The MCC track coach-of-the-year award was given to Piane in the first six years that it was awarded, while the entire track and field coaching staff was named the BIG EAST women's indoor staff of the year in 2002 after guiding the women's team to its first-ever BIG EAST Championship. The 2003 season witnessed the Irish men's team sweep the indoor and outdoor titles, with the Notre Dame coaching staff honored as the BIG EAST staff of the year for both meets (a precursor of the success the Irish would

As the Notre Dame women's cross country team continues to establish itself as one of the best in the nation, Tim Connelly enters his 18th season at Notre Dame.

Connelly serves as the head coach of the Notre Dame women's cross country team and tutors the middle distance and distance runners during the indoor and outdoor track seasons. He also is closely involved with all aspects of the Notre Dame track and field/cross country program and is known as one of the best recruiters in the Midwest.

Under Connelly's guidance, the Irish had an exceptional 2004-05 season in both cross country and track. The women's cross country squad peaked at just the right moment, racing to a fourth-place finish at the NCAA Championships, marking its second trip to the awards podium in the past three seasons. Notre Dame also had three women's cross country All-Americans for the first time ever, as junior Stephanie Madia (23rd), freshman Sunni Olding (32nd) and senior Kerry Meagher (34th) all garnered their first All-America citations.

On the track last season, Connelly saw two of his pupils run to All-America status at the NCAA Outdoor Championships, as Madia (fifth in the 5,000 meters) and Meagher (10th in 1,500 meters) both completed unique cross country/track All-America doubles.

Connelly and his athletes also performed very well in both cross country and track during the 2003-04 campaign. The women's cross country team won its second-straight BIG EAST title, placed first in the NCAA Great Lakes Region and capped off its season with a 10th-place finish at the NCAA Championships. Junior Lauren King and sophomore Molly Huddle earned All-America honors for the Irish, with 28th and 41st-place finishes, respectively.

On the track Connelly's distance athletes combined to garner five All-America awards and five new school records, with Huddle responsible for many of those marks.

In 2004, Huddle had one of the most prolific seasons in Irish track and field history. She was an All-American in the indoor 3,000 and 5,000-meter runs as well as the outdoor 5,000-meters. In all three of these events she also recorded a Notre Dame school record. After the collegiate season ended Connelly accompanied Huddle as she competed in the United States Olympic Trials, eventually finishing seventh in the 5,000 meters as the top non-professional/collegian in the race.

Connelly also helped Meagher have a breakout track season in 2004. She recorded two All-America honors, earning the awards in the indoor mile and the outdoor 1,500-meter run. She also helped set two indoor school records; one in the 4x800 meter relay with Lauren King, Megan Johnson, and Katie DeRusso, and one in the distance medley relay with Lauren King, Kristen Dodd, and Huddle.

Connelly enjoyed one of his finest seasons with the Irish in 2002-03, as he witnessed his cross country team finish third at the NCAA Championship. The third-place finish marks the highest-ever at the NCAA meet for the women's cross country team. On the track, Connelly guided Huddle (who finished sixth overall at the NCAA cross country meet) to All-America honors in the indoor 3,000 meters and outdoor 5,000 meters. Huddle capped her season by running away with the U.S. Junior 3,000-Meter Championship at the national meet in Palo Alto, Calif.

Taking over the women's cross country program in its infancy, Connelly assumed the reins of the Irish program in 1988 and has led the team to four consecutive NCAA Championship appearances and five in the past six years. The Irish also broke through for their first two BIG EAST cross country titles in 2002 and 2003, led by '02 individual champion Lauren King and the two-time conference Coaching Staff of the Year. Additionally, King and '02 second-place BIG EAST finisher Huddle, Notre Dame also went on to capture its first NCAA Great Lakes Regional cross country title that season.

The Notre Dame women's cross country emergence began in 1999, when the Irish placed first in the initial three meets of the season and established themselves as a team to reckon with in the national picture. A fourth-place finish at the District IV Championships earned the team an at-large berth to the 1999 NCAA championship meet, the second invitation in the program's history.

The Irish raised the bar again in 2001. Combining veterans Jennifer Handley (Class of '02) and Megan Johnson with talented rookie Lauren King, the Irish climbed to 15th in the nation. Notre Dame eventually finished fourth in the BIG EAST Conference (behind three highly-ranked teams) and earned an automatic bid to the NCAA Championship with a second-place team finish at the NCAA Great Lakes Regional.

In 1993, Connelly and the Irish women's cross country team qualified for their first-ever NCAA championships and finished 15th.

During the track season, Connelly has helped the women's middle distance and distance runners reach NCAA Championship competition 22 times since 1996. At the BIG EAST level, Connelly has coached six individual champions, as well as the distance medley relay team which set a meet record at the 2003 indoor championship.

A 1983 Notre Dame graduate, Connelly ran both cross country and track for the Irish. Following his graduation, Connelly served as a graduate assistant coach under Joe Piane while working toward his master's degree in business.

In 1986, Connelly moved on to Syracuse as an assistant cross country and track coach. During his time in northern New York, he coached the men's and women's middle distance and distance runners and managed recruiting duties for both programs.

A native of Pittsburgh, Pa., Connelly and his wife, the former Donna Southerly, are the parents of a daughter, Alexandra, and son, Brendon.

John Millar

Assistant
Track & Field Coach
Sprints/Hurdles

One of the top sprint and hurdle coaches in the world, John Millar enters his 15th season at Notre Dame and has developed the Irish women's sprint group into a force in the BIG EAST Conference. Millar's 15-year stay at Notre Dame, which has included serving as the speed coach for all Notre Dame athletic teams for several years, is the third-longest tenure of any current Irish assistant coach in any sport.

A dedicated coach, recruiter and organizer, Millar has developed the Irish sprint/hurdle group into one of the best in the Midwest. He also plays a key role in Notre Dame's organization of four home indoor meets, which are widely regarded as the top events during each annual indoor season.

Millar recently completed a successful relationship with hurdler Selim Nurudeen, who was a two-time All-American, seven-time BIG EAST Champion and 15-time all-BIG EAST selection during his career at Notre Dame from 2001-05. Nurudeen also was named the 2005 BIG EAST Indoor Championship Outstanding Track Performer after helping the Irish win the team title.

In his first year with the Irish, Millar began the process of enhancing the Notre Dame sprint corps which culminated in three school records in the 55 and 200 meters along with the 4x100 relay. He guided Raghib Ismail to a second-place finish in the 1991 NCAA indoor championships and the fastest collegiate 55-meter time in the world. Millar also coached two-time All-American Allen Rossum to seventh-place finishes in the 55-meter dash at the 1995 and 1997 NCAA indoor track championships and hurdler Errol Williams was an All-American in both indoor (55-meter hurdles) and outdoor track (110-meter hurdles) in 1998.

Millar has also developed a strong group in the women's sprint lane. Currently, he has worked closely with Maryann Erigha and Okechi Ogbuokiri, both of whom won their first individual BIG EAST titles in 2005 (Erigha in the outdoor 100 meters, and Ogbuokiri in the indoor 400 meters). Both sprinters went on to qualify for the NCAA Championships for the first time in their respective careers.

Prior to his current proteges, Millar helped cultivate '02 graduate Liz Grow into Notre Dame's first women's All-American sprinter, as Grow was a fixture at the NCAA indoor and outdoor meets during her four years on the team.

Millar's sprint group made a huge splash on the national scene in 2002. The women's 4x400 relay unit consisting of Ayesha Boyd, Kristen Dodd, Grow and Kymia Love qualified for the NCAA Indoor Championships, becoming the first Irish women's sprint relay to achieve that distinction. In the outdoor season, the same group took a step further, earning

All-America honors by finishing fifth in the nation at the NCAA Championships in Baton Rouge, La. Millar's 4x100, 4x400 (outdoor) and 4x400

(indoor) all set school records in the past four seasons and the 4x100 group won BIG EAST Championships in 2003 and 2004.

The development of the sprint group allowed Notre Dame to capture its first-ever BIG EAST team title in 2002 at the league indoor meet. Millar and his fellow Irish coaches were named the BIG EAST Indoor Coaching Staff of the Year.

Even after losing Grow to graduation in 2002, Millar helped the women's 4x400 team return to both the NCAA indoor and outdoor meets in 2003. The squad of Tiffany Gunn, Kristen Dodd, Ayesha Boyd and Kymia Love just missed out on a repeat All-America effort at the outdoor meet, finishing ninth. Boyd, Dodd and Love joined Tameisha King in the 4x100 relay at the outdoor meet as well.

The native of Toronto, Canada, took a break from his coaching duties at Notre Dame in early March of 1999 to serve as the head coach of the USA women's track squad, which earned eight medals at the 1999 World Indoor Championships in Maebashi, Japan.

Millar is a seasoned veteran of coaching athletes both on the national and international levels. During a six-year stint at Texas, he coached 96 NCAA All-Americans, including 10 national champions, and helped guide the Lady Longhorns to four national titles. He has followed up by guiding Notre Dame athletes to 16 different All-America finishes since 1990.

Prior to his position at Texas, Millar was an assistant at Tennessee for two years where he worked with 1984 Olympic gold-medal hurdler Benita Fitzgerald-Brown. In addition, he served as an assistant coach on the Canadian Olympic track staff and assisted in training world-class hurdler Mark McCoy. He also served as USA Track and Field's national women's hurdle coordinator, coach of the North team at the 1992 U.S. Olympic Festival and assistant coach of the USA Junior National Team at the 1993 Pan-Am Junior Championships.

Millar was head coach at York University in Toronto from 1981 to 1983 where he served as chief director for both the men's and women's programs in track and field. He led the school to a Canadian national championship in 1981.

He also traveled to the 2000 Olympic Games in Sydney, Australia, as a member of the Canadian track and field coaching staff.

Millar, a graduate of Western Ontario and master's degree recipient from Arizona State, and his wife, the former Lynn Haan, have a 19-year-old son, James, who is a sophomore cross country and middle distance runner at Notre Dame.

A veteran with two decades of coaching experience under his belt, Scott Winsor begins his 18th year as an assistant coach with the Notre Dame track and field program, working directly with the Irish jumps group. Widely recognized as one of the top jumps coaches in the country, Winsor focuses his efforts on grooming Notre Dame's participants in the high jump, long jump, triple jump and pole vault, as well as the multi-event specialists.

Winsor's record of success is an impressive one. During his tenure, he has helped guide Irish competitors to 13 All-America certificates, 21 BIG EAST championships and 93 all-conference honors. In addition, Winsor's pupils have qualified for the NCAA Championships 19 times, finishing among the top 10 in the country on 10 occasions.

What's more, the Notre Dame record book is covered with marks set by Irish athletes working under Winsor's watchful eye. In fact, 24 school records have been set by athletes he has coached, including 16 of the 18 current record holders in the jumps and multi-events at Notre Dame, as well as the current BIG EAST standard bearer in the women's indoor pole vault, 2003 graduate Jaime Volkmer.

Some of Winsor's more notable proteges on the men's side have been two-time long jump All-American Marshaun West, as well as 1999 indoor pole vault All-American Mike Brown, 1993 NCAA indoor high jump qualifier Todd Herman, and Godwin Mbagwu, the Outstanding Field Performer at the 2004 BIG EAST Outdoor Championship, which was won by Notre Dame.

As for the women, Winsor helped 2003 graduate Tameisha King to long jump All-America honors four times, including top-eight finishes in both the indoor and outdoor events in '03. King is now considered one of the top long jumpers in the United States and is in prime position for a berth on the 2008 U.S. Olympic Team.

Winsor's guidance also helped Volkmer evolve as the pioneer in women's pole vault at Notre Dame, winning seven all-BIG EAST citations and becoming the first Irish female vaulter to clear the 13-foot barrier.

Thanks to Winsor, Notre Dame broke new ground in 1997 as Jennifer Engelhardt became the first member of the Irish women's track and field team to qualify for the NCAA Championships in a field event. Engelhardt placed ninth in the indoor high jump en route to the first of her three All-America honors (also in 1999 and 2000), making her the first Notre Dame woman to accomplish that feat. In addition, Engelhardt was the first Irish female high jumper to clear six feet and she went on to compete at the 2000 U.S. Olympic Trials, where she finished tied for seventh.

Another high jumper, Stacey Cowan, is among Winsor's current trainees. Cowan has qualified for the NCAA Championships each of the past three years, earning All-America honors in 2004 with a 10th-place finish in the indoor high jump. Additionally, Cowan holds the school records in the indoor high jump (1.82m) and heptathlon (4,576 points) and she has earned six all-BIG EAST plaques.

Winsor's achievements have not gone unnoticed. He and the Notre Dame staff have earned six BIG EAST Coaching Staff of the Year awards, while helping lead the Irish to six conference championships.

In addition to his coaching responsibilities, Winsor designed the new Outdoor Throwing Facility at the University. He also is actively involved with all aspects of recruiting for the Irish track and field program, and he plays an integral role in the event management for all home track and cross country meets at Notre Dame.

Scott Winsor

Track & Field Coach

Jumps

Prior to his arrival in South Bend in 1988, Winsor spent two years (1983-84) as the varsity track coach at Fulton High School in Middleton, Mich., as well as one season (1987) as an assistant at his alma mater, Loras College in Dubuque, Iowa.

A 1987 graduate of Loras with a bachelor's degree in physical education (K-12), Winsor was a stand-out performer on the track squad, specializing in the jumping events. He was the team's captain for his final two seasons, helping Loras win the 1987 Iowa Intercollegiate Athletic Conference title. For the past 20 years, he also has held the school record in the outdoor high jump with a 7-0 leap.

Winsor went on to earn his master's of science in administration degree from Notre Dame in 1995.

B.J. Linnenbrink

Assistant
Track & Field Coach
Throws

One of the top young track and field throws coaches in the country, B.J. Linnenbrink is in his fourth season at Notre Dame. Since joining the Irish program just after the beginning of the 2002-03 season, Linnenbrink has coached 10 all-BIG EAST Conference selections, including 2005 BIG EAST hammer throw champion, Chip Roberts, and he has been a part of three BIG EAST Coaching Staffs of the Year (men's indoor and outdoor - 2003; men's indoor - 2005).

A former NCAA and USATF championship qualifier in the weight throw at Florida State, Linnenbrink also has seen eight of his pupils advance to the NCAA Mideast Regional during the past three years, including five during the 2005 season alone. In addition, under Linnenbrink's tutelage, Kate Duman extended the school javelin record in 2004, a year after Derek Goguen qualified for the USATF Junior Championships in the same event.

Linnenbrink and the Irish throwers will look to take the next step in 2005-06 and qualify for the NCAA Championships, with returning all-conference selections Meghan Horn and Kyle Annen, and '05 Mideast Regional qualifier Garet Koxlien leading the way.

A 2002 graduate of Florida State, Linnenbrink finished his career as the number two all-time hammer thrower in Seminole history. He earned all-Atlantic Coast Conference honors in '02 as well.

Before his two-year stint at FSU, Linnenbrink dominated at the junior college level, earning two NJCAA All-American awards at Johnson County Community College in Overland, Park, Kan. In his two years at Johnson, Linnenbrink collected seven all-Jayhawk East conference awards.

Linnenbrink graduated from Florida State with a bachelor of science in physical education. He and his wife, the former Monica Hardy, were married July 31, 2004.

The Notre Dame coaching staff runs two of the top meets in the country each season, the Mayo Invitational and the Alex Wilson Invitational.

 University of Notre Dame

Dame du Lac?

Notre Dame at its founding was a name in search of, or perhaps in anticipation of, a university. The wonder is not so much what the University become more than a century and a half later, but that it survived at all in those early years of beginning almost literally from nothing.

In his book, The University of Notre Dame: A Portrait of Its History and Campus, historian Thomas Schlereth of the American studies department has described the odds the University was up against: "Only nine other Catholic colleges existed when Notre Dame was founded, but that number had grown to 51 by 1861. Presently only seven of these antebellum institutions still exist. One historian estimates a mortality rate of approximately 80 percent among Notre Dame's contemporary secular institutions. Yet Notre Dame survived ..."

The University's survival of those early years is a tribute not only to the faith of Father Sorin, but also to his pragmatism and wit. In the beginning, his institution's only admissions requirement was the ability to pay — some payment, at least, and not necessarily in currency or coin; livestock or the services of a tradesman or some other "in-kind" payment also were cheerfully accepted. Nor were admissions limited by religious preference. Father Sorin's mission and inspiration were thoroughly and indisputably Catholic, but from the beginning he made it clear that would-be students of any religious persuasion were welcome; indeed, that Notre Dame's student body eventually would become overwhelmingly Catholic was more a reflection of American culture than of parochialism on the University's part.

Sorin was equally flexible when it came to his University's academic offerings. While a classical collegiate curriculum was established early on, so too were elementary and preparatory programs as well as a manual-labor school, and for several decades the collegiate program never attracted more than a dozen students in any year. As Notre Dame's chronicler, Father Arthur Hope, C.S.C., has written, "If (Sorin) was to begin at all, the head of this new college had to be mightily concerned about frostbite and empty stomachs. The more elusive problems of intellectual development would have to wait."

If Notre Dame in its infancy was the child of Sorin's vision and will, its subsequent growth and development were the products of large and powerful social and historical forces. Just as the University was being established, the first waves of European immigrants, overwhelmingly Catholic, were reaching America's shores, and Notre Dame's location — though seemingly remote — in fact put it within easy reach of cities like Chicago, Detroit and St. Louis, all of which soon would have large immigrant Catholic populations. The immigrant experience and the growth of the University of Notre Dame would be inextricably linked.

A number of forces were at work in this relationship. The "American Dream" was coming into being, and with it the hope and expectation that, through hard work and education, children would enjoy greater opportunities than their parents. At the same time, anti-immigrant and anti-Catholic sentiments were open and pervasive in American society, creating barriers to immigrant Catholic students. Equally strong sentiments among many Catholics regarded public schools at any level as dangerous places where young people might lose their faith. For all these reasons, education — primary, secondary and higher education — became a centerpiece of American Catholicism.

Though it may not have seemed so at the time, this great historical movement of peoples and the creation of the American melting pot dramatically enhanced the odds of Notre Dame's survival. What still had to be decided, however, was precisely the type of institution Notre Dame would become. How could this small Midwestern school without endowment and without ranks of well-to-do alumni hope to compete with firmly-established private universities and public-supported state institutions? As in Sorin's day, the fact that the University pursued this lofty and ambitious vision of its future was testimony to the faith of its leaders — leaders such as Father John Zahm, C.S.C.

As Schlereth describes it: "Zahm ... envisioned Notre Dame as potentially 'the intellectual center of the American West'; an institution with large undergraduate, graduate, and professional schools equipped with laboratories, libraries, and research facilities. Notre Dame should strive to become the University that its charter claimed it was."

Zahm was not without evidence to support his faith in Notre Dame's potential. On this campus in 1899, Jerome Green, a young Notre Dame scientist, became the first American to transmit a wireless message. At about the same time, Albert Zahm, Father John's younger brother, was designing the first successful helicopter and first wind tunnel and was launching the first man-carrying glider from the roof of a building on campus. The University also had established the nation's first architecture, law and engineering schools under Catholic auspices.

The debate over Notre Dame's future was effectively ended in the two decades following the First World War. In 1919, the University installed its first president to have earned a Ph.D., Father James Burns, C.S.C., and the changes he initiated were as dramatic as they were far-reaching. The elementary, preparatory and manual-labor programs were scrapped; the University's first board of lay advisors was established with the goal of creating a $1-million endowment, with a national campaign conducted to achieve that goal; and the first annual giving program for alumni was launched. With this impetus established, between 1919 and 1933 the University would erect 15 new buildings and triple the numbers of both its students and its faculty.

Also during this period, a new and utterly unanticipated element was added to the ethos of Notre Dame, and the University forever after

Irish Athletic Programs Excel Under NCAA's New APR Standard

All 22 athletics programs at Notre Dame exceeded the new academic performance standard introduced in February of 2004 by the NCAA, and 13 Irish teams scored a perfect 1,000.

The Academic Process Rate (APR) uses a series of formulas related to student-athlete retention and eligibility to measure the academic performance of all participants who receive a grant-in-aid on every team at every NCAA Division I college and university. It replaced the annual graduation rates report that previously was issued by the NCAA. Beginning in 2005-06, programs that fail to earn an APR score of 925 or better will be barred from replacing a scholarship athlete who leaves the institution while academically ineligible. Programs with chronically poor academic records based upon a rolling four-year rate ultimately will be barred from postseason competition, in addition to losing their scholarships.

Notre Dame registered an overall APR of 979, and among Division I-A schools it had the third-highest percentage of teams with perfect scores. The national average for Division I-A institutions was 944.

would be a national institution. That new element was, of course, the game of football. But for Notre Dame and for its legions of ethnic American loyalists — most, but not all, Catholic — the cliché was true: Football was more than a game. Through its academic program, Notre Dame already was part of the striving of ethnic Americans to earn a place in the American mainstream. Now, even for those who had never and would never attend Notre Dame, the University became a symbol, so much so that its attraction persists literally to this day.

The national recognition football brought to Notre Dame was a mixed blessing at those times when it tended to overshadow the University's growing academic distinction, but overall it has been an almost incalculable boon to public awareness of, interest in, and support of Notre Dame. It may be amusing to speculate how the University's history might have been different without the phenomenon of football, but the University is happy to accept this legacy as is.

If the post-World War I era saw Notre Dame's first flowering as a true University, the six decades since the Second World War have seen the vision of John Zahm reach full fruition. Father John Cavanaugh, C.S.C., began the process after the war by toughening Notre Dame's entrance requirements, increasing faculty hiring, and establishing the Notre Dame Foundation to expand the University's development capabilities. Then, during the 35-year tenure of Father Theodore Hesburgh, C.S.C., Notre Dame's enrollment, faculty and degrees awarded all doubled; library volumes increased five-fold; endowment catapulted from less than $10 million to more than $400 million; campus physical facilities grew from 48 to 88 buildings; faculty compensation increased ten-fold; and research funding grew more than twenty-fold. In addition, two defining moments occurred during this period: the transference of University governance in 1967 from the Congregation of Holy Cross to a predominantly lay board of trustees and the admission of women to undergraduate studies in 1972.

During the 18-year presidency of Father Edward Malloy (which ended in 2005), the University continued to grow in stature. Endowed faculty positions now number more than 190, the student body is among the most selective in the nation — with a third of entering freshmen ranking among the top five students in their high school graduating classes — and the graduation rate annually is among the four or five highest in the nation. The University's endowment, now more than $3 billion, is the 18th-largest in American higher education and campus additions have included: new research laboratories; a graduate-student housing complex; residence halls for undergraduate women (who now comprise more than 45 percent of the student body); DeBartolo Hall, one of the most technologically-advanced teaching facilities in higher education; a 153,000-square-foot complex for the Mendoza College of Business; and the new DeBartolo Center for the Performing Arts.

The question for Notre Dame today is, having become a distinguished American university, to what should it now aspire?

Some goals are self-evident. The University must strive at all times to bring new vigor to its teaching and to enhance both the breadth and the depth of the education it offers students. At the same time, it must strengthen significantly its graduate programs and faculty research to make ever-greater contributions in the quest for new knowledge.

But the institutional mission of Notre Dame reaches beyond these goals.

The higher aspiration of the University of Notre Dame is to seek out and assume leadership roles through which students and alumni, faculty, interdisciplinary institutes, and professional programs can bring their accomplishments to bear on the most basic and pressing needs of humanity — for peace and social justice, for human rights and dignity, for ethical conduct in business, science and the professions, for a renewal of values in interpersonal and societal relationships, and for a more-enlightened stewardship of the environment, to name but a few of the challenges.

This aspiration is incumbent upon Notre Dame as a Catholic university. Today, as throughout its history, Notre Dame's position in American culture mirrors that of the Catholic Church. The world is very different from the one encountered by Father Sorin on his arrival in this country. The tangible barriers faced then by Catholic students and scholars have largely been removed, and today one may find such students and scholars at Harvard and Stanford and Duke, as well as at Notre Dame. American Catholics are firmly implanted in the American mainstream.

At the same time, the secularization of contemporary American society is an undisputed fact, and with that transformation has come a weakening of common values, an antipathy to belief, and a resistance to the very notion of underlying truths. One expression of this viewpoint is the contention that a Catholic university is a contradiction in terms, that reason and belief are somehow mutually exclusive. The Catholic intellectual tradition and the Western university tradition itself stand in opposition to this contention, as does Notre Dame.

It is a telling act that throughout Notre Dame's history, and increasingly in recent years, many eminent scholars of various faith traditions have made the University their home simply because they have preferred to work in a community of learning where belief is not merely tolerated, but in fact is celebrated.

Father Sorin's dream was predicated on his conviction that a university would be a powerful force for good in this land that he embraced as his own. For the University of Notre Dame, Sorin's conviction remains the inspiration, the mission and the driving force.

Kevin White, one of the most progressive and talented administrators in the intercollegiate athletics ranks, quickly has attached his signature as director of athletics at the University of Notre Dame.

White previously had been athletic director at Arizona State University, Tulane University, the University of Maine, and Loras College. He brought a combined 18 years (1982-83 to 1999-2000) of experience in those positions with him to his assignment at Notre Dame.

Appointed March 13, 2000, White agreed to an original five-year contract as well as a five-year extension, then in December '02 saw his commitment extended an additional two years to 2012.

White's first five years at Notre Dame saw unprecedented across-the-board achievement on Irish fields of play:

- Notre Dame finished 11th, 13th, 13th, 19th and 16th, respectively, in the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) Directors' Cup all-sports ratings in those five years, its best-ever five-year run in that competition.
- On nine occasions Irish teams have earned number-one national rankings.
- The Irish claimed the '01 national championship in women's basketball, the '03 and '05 NCAA titles in fencing and the '04 crown in women's soccer.
- A record 37 Notre Dame athletes earned All-America honors in 2001-02.
- In 2003-04, an unprecedented 22 teams qualified for NCAA competition, including two (hockey and women's golf) that accomplished that for the first time and a third (men's golf) that made the field for the first time in 38 years.
- Notre Dame won the BIG EAST Conference Commissioner's Trophy for overall athletic success in league play for both men and women in 2001, '02 and '03 – after which the award was no longer presented. In 2004-05, 13 Irish squads won either the BIG EAST regular-season crown or tournament (or both).

His five years on the job at Notre Dame have featured a handful of other noteworthy accomplishments:

- He helped the Irish athletic program toward its goal of becoming a top-five program in the NACDA Directors' Cup all-sports competition by championing the University's plan to add 64 grants-in-aid in order to give all 26 varsity sports the full NCAA complement of scholarships.
- He emphasized the need to remain competitive on the facilities front by commissioning a facilities master plan that now provides a long-term plan for upgrading Notre Dame's athletic physical plant.
- On the academic front, in 2001-02, 25 teams achieved GPAs of 3.0 or higher, including eight Academic All-Americans. In 2002-03, three Irish student-athletes earned recognition as both All-Americans on the field and Academic All-Americans in the classroom. In 2003-04, Irish teams produced six more Academic All-Americans, including soccer star Vanessa Pruzinsky, who also earned an NCAA Post-Graduate Scholarship after graduating with a perfect 4.0 average in chemical engineering. Six more Academic All-Americans were added to the list in 2004-05.

- The American Football Coaches Association awarded its Academic Achievement Award for 2001 to Notre Dame based on its 100 percent graduation rate. The University received a 2002 USA Today/NCAA Academic Achievement Award for graduating 90 percent of its student-athletes who enrolled in 1995 – and it also received the 2003 award for highest overall student-athlete graduation rate (92 percent of those who enrolled in 1996). When the NCAA first issued its Academic Performance Rate numbers in 2005, Irish teams excelled, with 13 earning perfect scores of 1,000.
- The NCAA Division I-A Athletic Directors' Association gave one of its four 2000 awards of excellence to Notre Dame's CHAMPS/Life Skills Program.
- He renewed Notre Dame's NBC Sports contract for televising of home football games for five more years (through 2010) and its Westwood One contract for football radio broadcasts for five more years (through 2007).
- He oversaw the University's NCAA recertification process in 2004, as Notre Dame went through that self-study and peer review process for the first time since 1997.

The University's athletic program was recertified without conditions.

With a Ph.D. in education, White currently is a concurrent associate professor in the management department of the Mendoza College of Business, teaching as part of Notre Dame's MBA program during spring semesters (he teaches a sports business course).

White has served on numerous NCAA committees, including the NCAA Council, formerly the association's highest governing body, as well as currently serving as president of the Division I-A Athletic Directors' Association and second vice president of NACDA.

During his coaching career, White served as head track and field coach at Southeast Missouri State (1981-82) and assistant cross country and track and field coach at Central Michigan (1976-80). He began his coaching career at Gulf High School in New Port Richey, Fla., coaching cross country and track and assisting in football and wrestling. White also spent a year (1980-81) as district administrator for athletics and special projects for the Mt. Morris Consolidated School District in Mt. Morris, Mich.

Born Sept. 25, 1950, in Amityville, N.Y., White earned his Ph.D. from Southern Illinois University in 1983 with an emphasis on higher-education administration. In 1985, he completed postdoctoral work at Harvard University's Institute for Educational Management. He earned his master's degree in athletics administration from Central Michigan University in 1976 and his bachelor's degree in business administration in 1972 from St. Joseph's College in Rensselaer, Ind., where he also competed as a sprinter in track and field.

White and his wife Jane (she also has degrees from St. Joseph's and Central Michigan) have five children – Maureen, Michael, Danny (a Notre Dame graduate), Brian (a senior at Notre Dame) and Mariah.

The University's Academic Services for Student-Athletes Office is designed to help Notre Dame fulfill its commitment to each student-athlete in his or her pursuit of a college degree and academic excellence. In order to achieve these goals, Academic Services has four major aims: to maintain the academic integrity of the University, to comply with all University and NCAA rules and regulations, to maintain the academic good standing of every student-athlete, and to assist every student-athlete to graduate in four years. The four objectives of Academic Services all work together and are aimed at teaching student-athletes to be responsible for themselves academically.

To do so, Academic Services provides student-athletes many services which begin as soon as freshmen arrive on campus and continue through graduation. The office provides consistent counseling and appropriate interventions regarding academic matters and refers student-athletes to campus offices to meet regularly with their professors and to use support services provided by the various colleges and departments.

As soon as student-athletes begin classes, Academic Services monitors their progress through surveys of their professors. These surveys ask professors to comment on the students' work level, attendance and any need for tutorial help. If either a professor or a student-athlete feels there is a need for additional help, Academic Services provides tutors to student-athletes.

In addition to this interaction with the faculty, the members of the Academic Services Office meet with student-athletes to develop a personal relationship. These sessions help student-athletes to develop both semester-long and career-long academic goals. Discussions at this meeting may include such topics as summer-school attendance, class scheduling and career possibilities.

In 2001, the Academic-Services department received a new home through a generous donation by football alumnus Jim Morse ('57) and his wife, Leah Rae, when the Coleman-Morse Center was completed. A $14-million building, the James and Leah Rae Morse Center for Academic Services houses Notre Dame's First Year of Studies Program and Academic Services for Student-Athletes. It also contains the University Writing Center, a satellite office for the Center for Social Concerns, classrooms, staff offices, a tutoring center, a computer cluster, workrooms and a lounge.

Working with the athletic department's Student Welfare and Development office, Academic Services helps coordinate numerous workshops and speakers to assist student-athletes with post-graduation planning and transition into professional careers. Offered in conjunction with the University Counseling Center, workshops cover

Mary Ann Spence, shown here with volleyball player Lauren Brewster, and the rest of the Academic Services for Student-Athletes staff are assigned to specific sports, overseeing members of those programs in their academic pursuits.

Rev. John I. Jenkins, C.S.C., took office as the 17th president of the University of Notre Dame on July 1, 2005. He was elected by the University's Board of Trustees to a five-year term April 30, 2004.

Rev. John I. Jenkins, C.S.C.
University President

An associate professor of philosophy and member of Notre Dame's faculty since 1990, Father Jenkins had served from July 2000 until becoming president as a vice president and associate provost at the University.

Prior to his service in the provost's office, Father Jenkins had been religious superior of the Holy Cross priests and brothers at Notre Dame for three years. As religious superior, he was a Fellow and Trustee of the University, but he relinquished those posts to assume his duties in the provost's office.

Father Jenkins specializes in the areas of ancient philosophy, medieval philosophy and the philosophy of religion. He is the author of Knowledge and Faith in Thomas Aquinas, published by Cambridge University Press in 1997.

Father Jenkins earned degrees in philosophy from Oxford University in 1987 and 1989. He earned his master of divinity degree and licentiate in sacred theology from the Jesuit School of Theology in Berkeley, Calif., in 1988. Prior to entering the Congregation of Holy Cross, he earned bachelor's and master's degrees in philosophy from Notre Dame in 1976 and 1978, respectively.

Father Jenkins was ordained a priest in Notre Dame's Basilica of the Sacred Heart in 1983. He served as director of the Old College program for Notre Dame undergraduate candidates for the Congregation of Holy Cross from 1991 to 1993.

A native of Omaha, Neb., Father Jenkins was born Dec. 17, 1953.

Thomas G. Burish
Provost

Thomas G. Burish, formerly president at Washington and Lee, University in Lexington, Va., and a 1972 Notre Dame alumnus, was elected provost on July 21, 2005. As provost and second-ranking officer of the University, he exercises responsibility for all academic matters. He is the fourth person to hold the office since it was established in 1970.

Burish succeeded Nathan O. Hatch, who became president of Wake Forest University. In addition, Burish also was appointed a professor of psychology.

Burish had been president of one of the nation's top liberal-arts colleges since July 2002. Prior to joining Washington and Lee and prior to being named president was the longest-serving provost in the history of Vanderbilt University. He served as provost at the nationally-renowned research university from 1993 to 2002.

Known as a ground-breaking researcher, award-winning teacher and gifted leader, Burish exemplifies the excellence and humanity to which Notre Dame is dedicated. Through his work, he has helped "tens of thousands of cancer patients better cope with the emotional and physical pain of this disease," according to John R. Seffrin, chief executive officer of the American Cancer Society. Burish currently serves as chair of the American Cancer Society's national board of directors.

A native of Peshtigo, Wis., Burish was graduated from Notre Dame, summa cum laude, with a bachelor's degree in psychology in 1972. He earned his master's degree in psychology from the University of Kansas in 1975 and a doctorate in clinical psychology from Kansas a year later.

While at Kansas, Burish received the David Shulman Memorial Award of Excellence in Clinical Psychology. He moved in 1976 to Vanderbilt, becoming a full professor in 1986. He won Vanderbilt's prestigious Madison Sarratt Prize for Excellence in Undergraduate Teaching in 1980 and served as chair of the department of psychology from 1984 to 1986. Burish became Vanderbilt's provost in 1993. He is the co-author or co-editor of four books, and has contributed to more than 16 other books and written more than 60 journal articles.

John Affleck-Graves

was elected the first lay executive vice president of Notre Dame in April 2004. A vice president and associate provost the previous three years, he also holds the Notre Dame Chair in Finance in the Mendoza College of Business.

Dr. Affleck-Graves, the fifth person to serve as executive vice president, administers the University's annual operating budget of more than $700 million and an endowment of more than $3 billion. He oversees human-resource activities for a work force of more than 4,000 employees – the largest in St. Joseph County – and directs the University's construction program.

A native of South Africa and a naturalized U.S. citizen, Dr. Affleck-Graves specializes in the study of initial public offerings, valuation and asset pricing models, and shareholder value-added methodology. He is the author of more than 50 refereed publications and the recipient of numerous teaching awards.

Dr. Affleck-Graves joined the Notre Dame faculty in 1986 after teaching and conducting research for the previous 11 years at his alma mater, the University of Cape Town, where he earned bachelor's, master's and doctoral degrees.

Patrick F. McCartan
Chair of the Notre Dame Board of Trustees

Patrick F. McCartan

was elected the fifth chair of Notre Dame's Board of Trustees in May 2000. He has been a Notre Dame trustee since 1989 and also is a Fellow of the University.

Mr. McCartan served from 1993 through 2002 as managing partner of Jones, Day, Reavis & Pogue, an international law firm headquartered in Cleveland. Cited by The National Law Journal as one of the country's most respected and influential corporate trial lawyers, he currently is Jones Day's senior partner, concentrating on appellate litigation and corporate governance.

A 1956 graduate of Notre Dame, Mr. McCartan earned his law degree from the University in 1959. Before joining Jones Day, he served as law clerk to Supreme Court justice Charles Evans Whittaker.

Fernand N. Dutile

affectionately known as "Tex," was appointed chair of the University's Faculty Board on Athletics in 2000. Dutile also is Notre Dame's Athletic Faculty Representative to the NCAA.

A 1965 graduate of the Notre Dame Law School and a member of the faculty since 1971, Dutile previously served on the Faculty Board from 1991-98. He has served 25 years on the University's Academic Council, including 10 years on its executive committee, and also was a member of the Provost's Advisory Committee and the search committees for the University's two most-recent provosts. He served as acting dean of the Law School from 1991-93 and was an associate dean from 1988-91 and from 1993-99.

The Department of Athletics Student Development Program is committed to the total development of Notre Dame student-athletes. The program fosters the cultivation of skills that encourage student-athletes to reach their full potential.

Not designed to replace existing on-campus student services, the program acknowledges the unique needs and demands of student-athletes. The Notre Dame Student Development program was one of four recognized in 2000 (the others were at Arizona State, Iowa and Michigan State were the others) and given a Program of Excellence Award by the NCAA Division I-A Athletic Directors' Association. The program also has been twice named to the NSCA Outreach and Community Service Honor Roll.

The Student Development Program implements events and activities that are designed to facilitate learning within five key areas: academic excellence, athletic success, career preparation, community involvement and personal development.

The program has three components: elective services (community service, leadership, social events), complementary services (encourages administrators and coaches to request coordination of workshops, events and activities) and essential services (student-athletes participate in a series of required skill-building and developmental work-shops and activities).

The many services offered by the Student Development Program include the following:

- Academic support by working in coordination with the Office of Academic Services for Student-Athletes.
- Athletic success support with discussion topics on performance enhancement, leadership, nutrition, agents and amateurism and sports conduct.
- Preparing for post-graduation by working closely with the Notre Dame Career Center.
- Bringing Notre Dame and the community together through specific relationships with local area hospitals, community centers and outreach agencies to provide ongoing and reliable volunteer opportunities.

• An orientation program for freshman student-athletes to familiarize and identify the challenges and opportunities that are unique to them as both students and athletes.

Student Development is also responsible for managing the scholarship textbook process, designing and producing the annual Student-Athlete Handbook/Planner, facilitating 'An Evening at Shamrock Hills' team dinners, serving as the primary advisors to the Student-Athlete Advisory Council, coordinating the Student-Athlete Leadership Institute and the athletic department's annual year-end celebration, the O.S.C.A.R.S. - Outstanding Students Celebrating Achievements & Recognition Showcase.

The Department of Athletics Student Development Program, which has been in existence since 1996, continues to grow and evolve in an effort to meet the needs of student-athletes, so as to ensure that when they graduate from the University, they are prepared for another transition. It is the mission of the student-development staff that all Notre Dame student-athletes are fully prepared to successfully meet the challenges of life.

The 2004-05 academic year was another that saw participation by Notre Dame student-athletes in student-development programs increase on virtually every front. In all, five participation records were broken, spanning across nearly all the programming components: participation in community service (above 90%), teams completing service projects (21 of 24), overall attendance for the Student-Athlete and Parent Orientation, juniors registered with Go Irish (123), and students performing live during the O.S.C.A.R.S. Notre Dame also was named to the NCAS Outreach and Community Service Honor Roll for the second time in three years, while Derek Curry was the third Irish football player in the last five years named to the AFCA Good Works Team.

Thank you for your tremendous support of our entire athletics program. Our 800+ student-athletes, coaches and administrative staff are very appreciative of your spirit and affinity for Notre Dame, in particular its intercollegiate athletics.

With that, your adherence to all applicable NCAA rules and regulations is essential as we strive to maintain and enhance our national athletic prominence while protecting the University's tradition of integrity and values.

Our Compliance Office staff stands prepared to assist you with your questions and concerns regarding NCAA regulations. Please contact us immediately should you have concern regarding any situation. Your attention to these matters will ensure that the eligibility of both prospective student-athletes ("recruits") and enrolled student-athletes is protected and maintained. Again, many thanks for your cooperation in this matter and your ongoing support.

Who is a Representative of Notre Dame's Athletics Interests?

(The following lists of examples are not all-inclusive. As always, ask before you act!)

You are if:

- you are an enrolled student or graduate of the University.
- you have ever participated in or are a member of any organization promoting Notre Dame's athletics program (The former Quarterback Club, The 3-Pt. Club, The Fast-Break Club, etc.).
- you have ever made financial contributions to the University of Notre Dame athletics department.
- you have ever helped to arrange employment of or provided any benefits to prospective or enrolled student-athletes.
- you have ever been a season ticket holder in any sport.
- you have ever promoted the athletics programs at the University of Notre Dame.

According to NCAA rules, once an individual has been identified as an institutional "representative of athletics interests" the individual retains that title for life. The University of Notre Dame is ultimately responsible for the behavior of all its athletics representatives in relation to NCAA rules and regulations. Violations of NCAA regulations by an athletics representative could result in the loss of eligibility for involved student-athletes (e.g. no participation in competitions) and/or severe sanctions against the University (e.g. loss of scholarships, television and post-season bans).

Current Student-Athlete

A student-athlete is any Notre Dame student who is a member of a varsity athletics team.

NCAA regulations apply to all student-athletes, not just those student-athletes who were recruited or who receive an athletics scholarship. *Note: NCAA regulations concerning enrolled student-athletes remain in effect throughout the entire year (including summer break). If a student-athlete has completed his/her final season of eligibility, all NCAA regulations must be adhered to until he/she graduates or leaves school.

Dos and Don'ts for representatives in regards to a current student-athlete:

(The following lists of examples are not all-inclusive. As always, ask before you act!)

Dos

You may:

- contact a current student-athlete regarding employment opportunities. However, no contact may be made without approval from the Compliance Office.
- provide a student-athlete, not his/her family and friends, an occasional (once a semester) meal at your home.

Don'ts

You may not:

- provide a currently-enrolled student-athlete, his/her parents or friends any benefit or special arrangement without prior approval from the Compliance Office.
- pay for or arrange for payment of room, board or any type of transportation for a student-athlete or his/her family or friends.
- entertain student-athletes or their family and friends. (Exception: NCAA rules do permit institutional staff members and athletics representatives to provide student-athletes [not including their family and friends] with an occasional meal [defined as once a semester] provided the meal is at the staff member's or athletic representative's home and not at a restaurant.)
- use the name, picture or appearance of an enrolled student-athlete to advertise, recommend or promote sales or use of a commercial product or service of any kind. Any use of a student-athlete's name, picture or appearance must receive authorization from the Compliance Office.
- provide any payment of expense or loan of an automobile for a student-athlete to return home or to travel to any other location.
- provide awards or gifts to a student-athlete for any reason. All awards provided to student-athletes must first be approved by the Compliance Office and meet all NCAA regulations.
- provide an honorarium to a student-athlete for a speaking engagement. All speaking engagements must be approved in advance by the Compliance Office.
- allow a student-athlete or his/her relatives or friends to use your telephone to make free calls.
- provide free or reduced-cost lodging in your home to a student-athlete or a student-athlete's family or friends.

Prospective Student-Athlete

A prospective student-athlete is any student who has started classes for the ninth grade. Any student younger who receives any benefits from an institution or athletics representative would become a prospective student-athlete. In addition, student-athletes enrolled in preparatory school or two-year colleges are considered prospective student-athletes. * Note: An individual is considered a prospect (whether or not they have signed a National Letter of Intent) until the first day of initial collegiate enrollment or the first day they report for practice, whichever is earliest. Therefore, all NCAA regulations concerning contact with a prospective student-athlete are applicable until that time.

Dos and Don'ts for representatives in regards to a prospective student-athlete:

(The following lists of examples are not all-inclusive. As always, ask before you act!)

Dos

You may:

- forward information about prospective student-athletes to the appropriate coaching staff.
- have telephone contact with a prospect regarding permissible pre-enrollment activities such as summer employment, provided the prospect has graduated from high school and signed a National Letter of Intent. Also, you must contact the Compliance Office to make them aware that you are making these employment arrangements.
- have a telephone conversation with a prospect only if the prospect initiates the call. Such a call may not be prearranged by an institutional staff member, and you are not permitted to have a recruiting conversation, but may exhibit normal civility. You must refer any questions about our athletics programs to an athletics-department staff member/coach.
- view a prospect's athletic contest at your own initiative provided you do not contact the prospect or his/her parents. In addition, you may not contact a prospect's coach, principal, or counselor in an attempt to evaluate the prospect.
- continue established family relationships with friends and neighbors. Contacts with sons and daughters of these families are permitted so long as they are not made for recruiting purposes or encouraged by Notre Dame coaches.

Don'ts

You may not:

- write, e-mail or telephone a prospective student-athlete or his/her parents in an effort to recruit them to Notre Dame.
- become involved in making arrangements to provide money, financial aid or a benefit of any kind to a prospect or the prospect's family and friends.
- make contact with a prospective student-athlete or his/her parents when the prospect is on-campus for an official or unofficial recruiting visit.
- contact a prospect to congratulate him/her on signing a National Letter of Intent to attend the University.
- transport, pay or arrange for payment of transportation costs for a prospect or his/her relatives or friends to visit campus (or elsewhere).
- pay or arrange for payment of summer-camp registration fees for a prospect.
- provide ANYTHING to a prospect, the prospect's family or friends without prior approval from the Compliance Office.

The support of our alumni and friends is welcomed and appreciated. We ask, however, that you also help to keep Notre Dame's tradition of athletics integrity intact by following the NCAA regulations. Your assistance will help ensure that the eligibility of both prospective and currently-enrolled student-athletes is protected and preserved. Your efforts to know and follow the NCAA legislation are greatly appreciated because violations could affect the eligibility of involved prospects or student-athletes and/or result in NCAA penalties being imposed on the University.

To that end, it should be our goal, as the best alumni and fans in the country, to preserve and protect each and every student-athlete's eligibility. All NCAA legislation cannot be covered in a limited space such as this page. Therefore, any additional questions should be forwarded to the Compliance Office in the department of athletics. Please remember to ask before you act!

The Notre Dame Alumni Association was established in 1868, some 26 years after the University's founding. Father Neal Gillespie, C.S.C., was elected the first president of the Notre Dame Alumni Association, then comprised of just a few hundred graduates — while the current membership reaches nearly 110,000.

Leadership — Several Alumni Association staff are former Notre Dame student-athletes, led by executive director Chuck Lennon (a catcher with the Irish baseball team in the early 1960s) and another former Irish baseball player, Scott Siler ('82), who serves as the Association's director of information technology.

Membership — Any person who holds a graduate or undergraduate degree from Notre Dame and any person who has matriculated at the University and is approved for membership by the Alumni Board of Directors shall be a regular member of the Alumni Association.

Alumni Clubs — An alumni club is one of the most viable channels through which the University is perceived by local communities. The Alumni Association helps coordinate activities of 214 domestic alumni clubs and 56 international chapters.

Reunion Weekend — Traditionally held the first weekend in June, Alumni Reunion is the largest campus program sponsored by the Alumni Association. Each five-year class is invited to participate. The program offers exciting and rewarding events for some 3,500 alumni and their spouses.

Notre Dame Magazine — This publication, distributed four times a year, is sent to all alumni as well as parents of current students. News contributed by class officers is featured in the section entitled, "The Classes."

The Alumni Newsletter — This publication is distributed three times a year and highlights people, programs and events that are related to the Alumni Association, including local alumni activities.

Visitors' Center — The Eck Visitors' Center, located on the south end of campus on Notre Dame Avenue

(next to the Hammes Bookstore), offers a meeting and resting place for visitors, in addition to providing a summary of the University's history. Display cases line the walls of the center, featuring University information and artifacts. A lighted aerial map gives a visual overview of campus and interactive kiosks allow visitors to take a virtual tour of the campus. A number of sculptures are on display, including the work of the late world-renowned artist and Notre Dame professor Ivan Mestrovic. An auditorium offers a DVD movie that chronicles Notre Dame's tradition and excellence in academics and athletics and its commitment to spirituality.

Notre Dame Monogram Club: "Bridging the Gap Between Legend and Legacy"

The Notre Dame Monogram Club is comprised of some 3,500 individuals who have earned the University's varsity athletic insignia for their athletic or team-support endeavors or who have been honorary-monogram recipients. The club supports the primary goal of the University: the spiritual, intellectual and physical development of its students and alumni. By providing its members the opportunity to foster and maintain relationships across different sports, generations and geographical locations, the Monogram Club aspires to contribute — through the common bond of sport — to the social and professional enrichment of its members while providing a means for ongoing association with the University. As an integral part of the Notre Dame family, the Monogram Club endeavors to uphold and enrich the great tradition of Notre Dame athletics.

One of the organization's primary functions continues to be providing aid to children of Monogram Club members to attend Notre Dame, through the Brennan-Boland-Riehle Scholarship Fund. The fund is named in honor of Joe Boland, Rev. Thomas Brennan, C.S.C., and Rev. James Riehle, C.S.C. Monogram Club members donate to the fund, and the University handles the principal funds, with interest providing scholarship money. The fund has grown to approximately $3 million, making it one of Notre Dame's largest endowments.

Since the fund's inception in 1979, there have been 131 recipients whose combined scholarship allocations are nearly $2 million — including 45 sons and daughters of Monogram Club members who attended Notre Dame in 2004-05.

In 1976, at a meeting called by 1949 Heisman Trophy winner Leon Hart, the Monogram Club developed its bylaws, recommending that the purpose of the club was to foster all the principles of the University in its academic, athletic, religious and social endeavors along with promoting camaraderie between former athletes and alumni.

During the Monogram Club presidency of Harvey Foster in 1981, he recommended that an endowment fund be started for the express purpose of aiding the University in continuing non-revenue sports. During the next 15 months, nearly $8 million was pledged and paid into the endowment fund. Endowment contributions still are accepted but more recently the Monogram Club's efforts have been directed to increasing the Brennan-Boland-Riehle Fund.

In 1984, during the presidency of Jim Lynch, the club received permission to construct a Sports Heritage Hall in the concourse of the Joyce Center. The first phase was to provide a ring of gold which names each monogram winner, alphabetically by decade, with those plans reaching fruition in 1987 when some 4,300 names were placed in gold letters on the oak panels (nearly 1,700 names later were added in 2001, honoring monogram winners from the 1990s).

The second phase of the Heritage Hall involved building display cases showing various pieces of memorabilia, pictures of individuals and teams, trophies of various awards and other interesting objects detailing the history of Notre Dame athletics. An interactive web-based kiosk recently has been added to the Heritage Hall, with the kiosk's offerings including data on every all-time Notre Dame monogram winner and an elaborate searching mechanism that can sort monogram winners based on a wide variety of biographical categories.

The Monogram Club's ever-growing list of events and projects included the following activities during 2004-05:

- Sponsorship of student-athletes who participated in various domestic and international summer-service projects, as coordinated by Notre Dame's Center for Social Concerns
- Funding aid for the Notre Dame men's golf invitational and foreign trips by the women's soccer team (Brazil) and the men's swimming and diving team (Ireland)
- Continuing financial assistance ($100,000 in '04-'05) to programs benefiting current student-athletes, via the student welfare initiative (in conjunction with the athletic department's student welfare/life skills programs)
- An expanded student-athlete outreach and education program that includes the continued sponsorship of the annual "OSCARS" all-sports banquet (with specific funding for the popular multi-segment, all-sports highlight video), an informative brochure targeted to student-athletes and continued sponsorship of the varsity monogram awards program (letter jackets, blazers, blankets, rings, and watches)
- The continuing program of providing laptop computers to the Academic Services for Student-Athletes, with student-athletes able to check out these computers for use during official team travel; and ongoing funding and presentation of BIG EAST-championship rings and NCAA-participation awards for Notre Dame teams and individuals

Other recent Monogram Club projects have included:

- A joint effort with the network of local Notre Dame alumni clubs, providing 13 team hosting events (such as receptions and cultural events) in '04-'05 for Notre Dame varsity programs as they travel throughout the country
- The return of a series of football-weekend receptions for Monogram Club members and their guests, held in the Joyce Center prior to each home football game (the final home game also typically includes a unique thrill for all former monogram winners in attendance, who form the pregame tunnel as the Irish team takes the field)
- Continuing an expanded sponsorship of the annual Blue-Gold Football Alumni Weekend that includes the alumni flag-football game and an interactive Friday-night dinner (attended by 500-plus) with the program's current players and coaches
- The organization of several popular events, including the third annual Football Fantasy Camp, the second Adult Tennis Camp and the annual Monogram Club golf outing (held during reunion weekend)

Monogram Club members annually greet the Notre Dame football team as it takes the field prior to the final home game.

- Expanded offerings and unique content on the official Monogram Club website at www.ndmonogramclub.com (also linked via und.com)
- An ever-increasing list of member benefits, including the quarterly Inside Irish newsletter (now available via e-mail, in PDF format)
- And the traditional awarding of honorary monograms — presented on an annual basis to a select group of individuals who have demonstrated exceptional service to Notre Dame — in conjunction with the announcement of the Monogram Club's annual Moose Krause Distinguished Service Award

The Monogram Club of today is comprised of some 3,500 dues-paying members and current student-athletes who are awarded the block ND with a jacket or blazer. Yearly dues entitle members to a variety of benefits: annual golf outing and dinner; membership card; the Inside Irish publication, with first-class mailing; members' children eligible for Brennan-Boland-Riehle scholarship at Notre Dame; and ticket applications for home football games. The Club's annual golf outing, mass for deceased members, dinner and meeting typically is held in early June on the Thursday of the Notre Dame Alumni Reunion Weekend.

Assistant athletic director Jim Fraleigh has served as the Monogram Club's executive director since the fall of 2004 while the current president is former volleyball player Julie Pierson Doyle (the first female president in the history of the Monogram Club). The second vice-president is former basketball player Marc Kelly while former Academic All-America football player Joe Restic has joined the officer rotation as second vice-president.

Throughout its long and proud history, the University of Notre Dame has embraced the philosophy that a well-rounded athletics program — including club, intramural and intercollegiate competition — comprises an integral part of Notre Dame's educational mission.

This philosophy reflects the importance of operating an intercollegiate athletics program that fully comports with the University's aspirations as a Catholic institution. Notre Dame therefore dedicates itself to the pursuit of excellence in intercollegiate athletics within the framework of an academic community committed to the University's educational and religious objectives.

Notre Dame also commits itself to the unquestioned integrity of its athletics programs. All individuals involved, directly or indirectly, in the athletics enterprise must maintain and foster the values and goals associated with the University's mission as a Catholic institution of higher education.

As a Catholic university, Notre Dame espouses Christian values and principles. These include the development of the human person — spirit as well as body — in addition to the pursuit of excellence in all endeavors, the nurturing of Christian character, and the call to personal integrity and responsibility. By providing a general description of the structures that support these endeavors, this document articulates the central values and expectations that guide the University of Notre Dame's participation in intercollegiate athletics.

PRESIDENTIAL CONTROL

Notre Dame adheres to the principle of presidential control over intercollegiate athletics. The director of athletics reports to the president, who exercises ultimate responsibility for the conduct of the University's intercollegiate athletics program. The Faculty Board on Athletics serves as the principal advisory group to the president on educational issues related to intercollegiate athletics. The chair of the Faculty Board on Athletics also serves as the NCAA-mandated faculty athletics representative.

Basic Principles

1. The Faculty Board on Athletics nurtures Notre Dame's commitment to academic integrity within the athletics program, strives to ensure that the University's athletics program operates in consonance with Notre Dame's educational mission, and actively promotes the welfare and educational success of the University's student-athletes. The Board also functions as a formal liaison between the faculty and the athletics department.

In carrying out its charge, the Board reviews policies, procedures and practices that affect the educational experience of student-athletes and advises the president of its findings and deliberations. The Board systematically ascertains the views and concerns of student-athletes. The Board reviews data on admissions of student-athletes and on their academic performance, progress towards degrees, and graduation rates. The Board assesses the effectiveness of institutional support for student-athletes. In addition, the Board sets guidelines for the approval of all student petitions for fifth years of eligibility for athletics and votes on each such petition. The Board establishes guidelines for all intercollegiate athletics schedules and qualifications for captaincy of all University teams, and it votes on all proposed schedules and captaincy nominations. The Board also assesses and revises procedures for resolving prospective conflicts between final examinations and post-season championship events.

In its role as a liaison to the broader faculty, the Faculty Board disseminates appropriate, non-confidential information and initiates discussions on educational issues regarding intercollegiate athletics and the related concerns of the faculty and administration.

2. The faculty athletics representative champions academic integrity, promotes the welfare of student-athletes, and helps ensure institutional control of intercollegiate athletics. More specifically, the faculty athletics representative works with the president and the director of athletics to maintain appropriate University oversight of intercollegiate athletics; assists the president and director of athletics in determining institutional positions on proposed NCAA and conference legislation; serves on search committees for senior athletics administrators and head coaches; oversees decisions regarding eligibility of student-athletes; remains visible and available to student-athletes; and actively participates in all investigations and reports of possible NCAA violations.

ACADEMICS

Notre Dame dedicates itself to providing to all of its students an outstanding education. The University commits itself to developing in its students those disciplined habits of mind, body and spirit that characterize educated, skilled and free human beings. Notre Dame calls its students to pursue the wisdom of our culture and religious heritage and to experience the human family's diversity and interdependence. To accomplish these objectives, the University provides to its students, on an equitable basis, ongoing opportunities to cultivate their moral, intellectual and physical well-being.

Basic Principles

1. Any student hoping to succeed at the University needs a significant level of ability and preparation. Therefore, the Office of Undergraduate Admissions will accept into the University only those student-athletes who demonstrate, on the basis of the best available academic and character-based information, the capacity to complete a degree at Notre Dame.

2. Even for individuals manifestly well-suited for Notre Dame, the adjustments to the rigors of academic and athletic life in a highly-competitive university present difficulties. The University recognizes its responsibility to provide appropriate assistance to enable student-athletes to meet the demands of both academic and athletic competition. To this end, the University affords its student-athletes suitable academic counsel and support, primarily under the auspices of the provost's office. Other sources of support, both academic and personal, include the faculty, academic advisors, the residence-hall staff, coaches, athletics administrators and the Student Development Program.

3. The University strives to schedule practices and competitions so as to minimize conflicts with class periods and other academic assignments of student-athletes. In this regard, the rhythm of the academic year and the particular importance of final examinations warrant special attention. All playing schedules remain subject to the approval of the Faculty Board on Athletics.

4. Notre Dame expects its student-athletes to maintain the appropriate sequence and number of courses and the grade-point-average necessary to complete a degree within the usual time (normally four years), including summer classes when appropriate. Any exception to this policy remains subject to the approval of the Faculty Board on Athletics.

STUDENT LIFE

Like other students, student-athletes should have the opportunity to pursue fully the University's academic, cultural and spiritual resources. The University holds student-athletes not only to the same standard of conduct that applies to other students, but also to that higher level of behavior appropriate to their visibility.

Basic Principles

1. Student-athletes must comply with all University rules and guidelines, including those set out in both the student handbook, du Lac, and in the Student-Athlete Handbook. The Office of Residence Life and Housing enforces the University-wide rules according to procedures applicable to all student disciplinary matters.

2. The University strives to integrate student-athletes into the student body so that all students may take full advantage of the educational and other opportunities afforded by campus and hall life. Given the centrality of residential life to the University's mission, student-athletes normally live in residence halls; exceptions to this policy remain subject to the approval of the Faculty Board on Athletics. Moreover, Notre Dame provides no separate residence halls or sections of residence halls for student-athletes.

3. The University lists among its primary concerns the physical and mental health of all members of the Notre Dame community. Because of the dangers inherent in athletic competition, the prevention of injuries and the provision of medical care for student-athletes demand particular concern and deserve constant attention. The appropriate sports-medicine and athletics-training personnel alone determine whether injury or illness precludes a student-athlete from practicing or competing.

4. Because of the harm that illicit drug use causes and the pressure on student-athletes to use performance-enhancing drugs, drug-related education and counseling require particular emphasis. As a preventive measure, all student-athletes remain subject to regular, random, and unannounced drug testing according to the University's established drug-testing protocol. University Health Services decides the timing of drug tests, determines whom to test and administers the tests. The drug-testing protocol prescribes the treatment of test results and the consequences of a positive test.

5. Notre Dame regularly provides chaplains for athletics teams. Chaplains' duties include pastoral care and liturgical services for student-athletes, coaches and staff.

COACHING STAFFS

The University strives to maintain a staff of coaches who represent the best in athletic instruction, who possess the ability to motivate and inspire, and who take responsibility for the full development of the student-athletes within their charge as students, athletes and persons. Coaches, who after all are primarily teachers, share with members of the faculty and other University personnel the obligation to educate, train and otherwise assist in the formation of students entrusted to them. Furthermore, Notre Dame recognizes the important role each coach plays in the University's overall educational mission and makes this aspect an important part of both the coach's position description and periodic evaluation. Because of the public nature of their work, coaches represent Notre Dame in a highly-visible manner. Their words and actions should therefore reflect the University's values and principles.

Basic Principles

1. Notre Dame expects the personal and professional lives of its coaches to reflect highest standards of behavior. Coaches' actions must demonstrate that athletic success may not jeopardize institutional or personal integrity or student-athlete welfare.

2. Notre Dame expects its coaches to appreciate the primacy of academic life at Notre Dame and to emphasize that primacy during the recruitment and education of student-athletes and their participation in intercollegiate athletics.

3. Notre Dame requires its coaches to adhere to the policies and procedures of the University, its conferences and the NCAA. To that end, Notre Dame provides a comprehensive orientation to new coaches and suitable continuing education to other coaches. The University treats seriously all violations of University, conference or NCAA standards and reports such violations according to the applicable conference or NCAA procedures.

Statement of Principles

ADMINISTRATION OF THE DEPARTMENT OF ATHLETICS

The director of athletics and the other administrators in the department of athletics supervise all activities of the athletics program at the University. All aspects of the program must accord with the principles of justice and fairness. In addition, Notre Dame expects the personal and professional lives of its athletics administrators to reflect the highest standards of behavior. Athletics administrators also must adhere to the policies and procedures of the University, its conferences and the NCAA. The University treats all violations of such policies and procedures seriously.

Basic Principles

1. The University maintains full and direct control of the financial operations of the athletics department, including all revenues. The operating budget and the ongoing financial activities of the athletics department remain subject to the same approval process as all other units of the University.

2. Historically, Notre Dame's athletics program has generated funds sufficient to cover its expenses, as well as to provide funds for the University's general operating budget. The generation of revenue must always take into consideration Notre Dame's integrity and priorities.

3. The University commits itself to the principle of racial, ethnic and gender diversity in the composition of its coaching and administrative staffs. Notre Dame will make every reasonable effort to promote this commitment as positions are created or vacated.

4. Consistent with its overall academic mission and program, its financial resources and the athletic interests of its student body, the University will provide a full and stable athletics program for both sexes. Notre Dame embraces the principle of gender equity and will continue to monitor its intercollegiate programs in accord with this principle.

5. In considering conference affiliations, the University will assess the extent to which the other institutions involved share Notre Dame's educational philosophies and goals, as well as its commitment to integrity in intercollegiate athletics.

CONCLUSION

Notre Dame endeavors to maintain a highly-competitive athletics program consistent with its tradition, heritage and overall mission as a Catholic university. It will attempt to excel in intercollegiate athletics, but always in conformity with its primary role as an educator and moral guide. Notre Dame will conduct its intercollegiate athletics program so as to support the University's commitment to education, as well as the letter and spirit of the policies and procedures of the University, its conferences and the NCAA.

Many observers often are surprised to discover that Notre Dame's total enrollment encompasses fewer than 12,000 students per year. That surprise is due in part to the University's national appeal, but it also is due to the many noteworthy Notre Dame alumni who have gone on to distinguish themselves in a wide variety of fields.

Listings on this page are simply a sampling of the many noteworthy individuals who have spent their formative years in academia at Notre Dame. A more detailed list can be found at www.nd.edu (follow the alumni link), and some additional noteworthy alumni are included on the athletic heritage page later in this section.

DIRECTORS' CUP STANDINGS

After peaking at a program-best first, Notre Dame finished 16th in the final standings released in the 2004-05 United States Sports Academy Division I Directors' Cup all-sports competition sponsored by the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (formerly known as Sears Directors' Cup).

Notre Dame was among 12 schools to earn a top-20 finish for the fifth straight year. Irish programs finished 11th in 2000-01, 13th in '01-'02 and '02-'03, and 19th in '03-'04. The other schools with that distinction include five from the Pacific-10 Conference (Stanford, UCLA, California, Arizona State and Arizona) and two each from the Big Ten (Michigan and Ohio State) and Southeastern (Florida and Georgia) conferences, plus Big-12 team Texas and North Carolina of the Atlantic Coast Conference.

FALL

Fall NCAA competition earned the Irish 337 points based on their NCAA title in women's soccer (100 points), their fourth-place finish in women's cross country (80 points), their 11th-place finish in men's cross country (57 points) and their second-round NCAA appearances in both men's soccer and volleyball (50 points each).

Notre Dame finished the fall seasons in first place – marking the first time in the 12-year history of the program that Notre Dame ranked number one. The highest ranking for the Irish prior to 2004-05 had been third in the final fall standings in both 1996-97 and 2002-03.

Current senior Molly Huddle has earned All-America accolades on seven occasions.

Notre Dame placed 16th in the 2004-05 NACDA Directors' Cup competition.

WINTER

Winter competition netted Notre Dame 203 points – based on its NCAA combined men's and women's championship in fencing (50 points), a 24th-place NCAA finish in women's swimming and diving (49.5 points), a 20th-place NCAA finish in men's indoor track and field (53.5 points) and a second-round NCAA appearance in women's basketball (50 points).

SPRING

Spring sports play netted 248 points, thanks to NCAA participation in baseball (tied for 17th, 50 points based on regional runner-up finish), women's golf (52nd, 21 points), men's golf (tied for 37th, 35 points), softball (tied for 17th, 50 points based on regional appearance), women's tennis (tied for 17th, 50 points), men's tennis (tied for 33rd, 25 points) and women's track and field (55th, 17 points).

HISTORICAL PERFORMANCE

In previous years in which the Directors' Cup competition has been held, Notre Dame has finished 11th in 1993-94, 30th in 1994-95, 11th in 1995-96, 14th in 1996-97, tied for 31st in 1997-98, 25th in 1998-99, 21st in 1999-2000, 11th in 2000-01, 13th in 2001-02, tied for 13th in 2002-03 and 19th in 2003-04.

Twenty-four of Notre Dame's 26 varsity sports have scored points for the Irish in the NACDA Cup. Leading the way are the men's and women's fencing programs, which have used 10 consecutive top-three finishes at the NCAAs to contribute 766 points since fencing was added to the NACDA Cup in 1995-96.

NACDA

Directors' Cup

Women's soccer is next, having contributed 751.5 points, highlighted by seven national-semifinal appearances and a pair of titles ('95, '04). It also stands as one of two teams – along with women's volleyball – to have scored points in the NACDA Cup in all 12 years. Ten of Notre Dame's sports have contributed points on 10 or more occasions, while 17 have scored in at least half of the NACDA-Cup competitions.

The Directors' Cup competition honors institutions that maintain athletic programs that seek to achieve success in many sports, both men's and women's. Begun in 1993-94 for Division I by NACDA and USA Today, the program was expanded in 1995-96 to include Divisions II, III, and the NAIA. Each institution is awarded points in a pre-determined number of sports for men and women (10 each in Division I). The overall champion is the institution that records the highest number of points in their division's United States Sports Academy Division I Directors' Cup standings.

From the days of Knute Rockne, when Eugene "Scrap Iron" Young began providing care to student-athletes, the Notre Dame athletic training department has evolved into a fully-staffed sports medicine team with three state-of-the-art facilities.

Head athletic trainer and physical therapist Jim Russ oversees a staff of three associate and seven assistant athletic trainers that is responsible for the more than 750 student-athletes at the University. The entire sports medicine staff is certified by the National Athletic Trainers' Association and boasts more than 150 years of collective experience.

Each staff member is responsible for the health care of at least two of Notre Dame's varsity athletic teams. Duties in that role include evaluating and assessing athletic injuries, administering first aid, making medical referrals, establishing treatment and rehabilitation of athletic injuries and educating student-athletes on nutrition and injury prevention.

The athletic training department is under the direct supervision of several sports medicine physicians. University directors of sports medicine Dr. Willard Yergler and Dr. Jim Moriarity serve as the student-athletes' primary care physicians, while Dr. Becky Moskwinski, Dr. David Bankoff, Dr. Fred Ferlic, Dr. Robert Clemency, Dr.

Michael Yergler and Dr. Chris Balint tend to the orthopedic needs of the Fighting Irish. A host of medical consultants is also available for specific needs ranging from cardiology to dermatology.

The Notre Dame student-athlete has access to three state-of-the-art sports-medicine facilities, in addition to the 24-hour University Health Center. The original athletic-training room is located in the Joyce Center. Notre Dame Football Stadium is home to the 3,300-square-foot athletic training room, and the newest addition to the sports-medicine department is located in the new Guglielmino Athletics Center. The facility opened in August of 2005 and is more than 8,500 square feet of cutting-edge sports-medicine technology. Through these facilities all student-athletes have access to the most-modern sports medicine, including the latest in physical therapy modalities and rehabilitation equipment, which includes two 3,500-gallon therapy pools. A full x-ray unit and an MRI machine make up the majority of the department's diagnostic equipment.

Irish athletics receive the finest in sports medicine care from the team of athletic trainers and physicians.

The sports medicine team of athletic trainers and team physicians is committed to providing the most comprehensive and safest health care possible. Evaluations, treatments and rehabilitation are established for each individual, with the goal of returning the student-athletes to competitive status in the safest and quickest manner possible.

Strength & Conditioning

The Notre Dame strength and conditioning program is designed to provide each student-athlete with the most productive, effective and efficient means of sport-specific physical training. Led by director of strength and conditioning Ruben Mendoza, the Irish strength and conditioning staff has a simple philosophy that combines a "no nonsense" approach with an "old school" attitude.

The staff offers a well-balanced, well-rounded program by incorporating a variety of training methods from conjugate training to Olympic-style movements. Everything the staff does is geared toward developing speed, power and strength.

The staff wants to teach Notre Dame student-athletes work ethic, discipline and pride with a relentless attitude to strive for, and win, championships.

When entering the Hagggar Fitness Complex (shared by the Loftus Sports Center and the Guglielmino Athletics Complex) student-athletes are quickly reminded of the "roll-up-your-sleeves" and "get-to-work" mentality that Mendoza and his staff inspires.

One of the eye-catching features of the Hagggar Fitness Complex, a 25,000 square foot facility shared by the Guglielmino Athletics Complex and the Loftus Center, are two variable weight sleds installed in the summer of 2005.

The Hagggar Fitness Complex features 25,000 square feet of workout space with a three-lane speed development track (40 yards in length), a state-of-the-art sound system with 28 speakers and four sub woofers, six giant plasma screen televisions, a 45 x 18 yard Prestige Turf plyometric agility area and a Gatorade hydration station.

The Notre Dame strength and conditioning staff has seven full-time coaches and four intern coaches - Mendoza, assistant director Tony Rolinski, assistants Lon Record, Mike Joseph, Lisa Shall, Kelly Howe, Kyle Bourber, Brian Herzog, Harold Swanagan, nutritionist Mandy Clark, and speed/skill development coach Shawn Gaunt - providing a large enough group to meet student-athlete needs. The staff has developed an environment where student-athletes want to come to get better, so they can achieve athletic success.

The BIG EAST Conference moves into 2005-06 with an emphasis on the word "Big" as the league becomes the largest Division I-A conference in the nation with 16 outstanding academic and athletic institutions. The goal of the BIG EAST always has been to compete at the highest level and to do so with integrity and sportsmanship.

In 2005-06, the league welcomes five new members: the University of Cincinnati, DePaul University, the University of Louisville, Marquette University and the University of South Florida.

BIG EAST institutions reside in nine of the nation's 33 largest media markets, including New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Washington, Tampa, Pittsburgh, Hartford, Milwaukee and Cincinnati. With the incoming members, the BIG EAST markets will contain almost one fourth of all television households in the U.S.

Since opening its doors in 1979, the league has won 25 national championships in six different sports, and 123 student-athletes have won individual national titles. Last year, Providence's Kim Smith won the NCAA women's cross country championship, and the Notre Dame women's soccer team took the 2004 national title.

The BIG EAST always has been able to boast that some of its best students are also some of its best athletes. More than 300 student-athletes have earned Academic All-America honors.

In 2003-04, three BIG EAST student-athletes were named the national scholar-athletes of the year in their respective sports - Connecticut's Emeka Okafor in men's basketball, Notre Dame's Vanessa Pruzinsky in women's soccer and St. John's Chris Wingert in men's soccer.

BIG EAST student-athletes also have continued their success after leaving the classrooms and playing fields. Former Connecticut women's basketball standout Dr. Leigh Curl was inducted into the Academic All-America Hall of Fame in 1999. Former Georgetown men's basketball star Dikembe Mutombo was named a winner of the President's Service Award, the highest honor in the U.S. for volunteer service.

The BIG EAST continues to thrive in the basketball arena. In 2003-04, Connecticut became the first school in NCAA history to win the men's and women's NCAA titles in the same season. With the Syracuse men and the UConn women grabbing NCAA crowns the previous year, the BIG EAST also became the first conference in NCAA history to win the men's and women's titles in consecutive seasons. In fact, the BIG EAST has won five of the last six women's basketball crowns and three of the last seven men's titles.

Whether it's the student-athletes or the league as a whole, moving proactively has been a consistent strategy for the conference that was formed in 1979. The BIG EAST has continually turned challenges into opportunities to bolster its strength.

In the spring of 2001, the BIG EAST added women's lacrosse to its growing list of sports. The inaugural women's golf championship was held in the spring of 2003, followed by the first women's rowing championship in '05.

The BIG EAST became a reality on May 31, 1979, following a meeting of athletic directors from Providence College and St. John's, Georgetown and Syracuse Universities. Seton Hall, Connecticut and Boston College completed the original seven-school alliance.

While the membership has both increased and changed, the focus of the BIG EAST has not wavered. The conference reflects a tradition of broad-based programs, led by administrators and coaches who place a constant emphasis on academic integrity. The BIG EAST Conference has enjoyed a leadership role nationally. Its student-athletes own significantly-high graduation rates, and their record of scholastic achievement notably shows a balance between intercollegiate athletics and academics.

Any successful organization needs outstanding leadership. Michael Tranchese, the league's first full-time employee, and for 11 years the associate to Dave Gavitt, moved into the commissioner's chair in 1990. In his first year, he administered the formation of The BIG EAST Football Conference.

The league has long been considered a leader in innovative concepts in promotion and publicity, particularly regarding television. Those efforts have resulted in unparalleled visibility for BIG EAST student-athletes. The conference has enjoyed long-standing relationships with CBS, ESPN, Inc. and ABC.

While BIG EAST basketball games are regular sellouts at campus and major public arenas - including the annual BIG EAST Championship in Madison Square Garden - attendance figures also are significant at BIG EAST soccer, women's basketball and baseball games.

More than 500 BIG EAST athletes have earned All-America recognition, the BIG EAST has been well-represented in U.S. and foreign national and Olympic teams.

Several athletes earned gold medals in each of the last five summer Olympiads.

The BIG EAST has its headquarters in Providence, where the conference administers to more than 5,500 athletes in 23 sports.

Kurt Benninger (428), Tim Moore (434) and Sean O'Donnell (partially hidden) helped Notre Dame win the 2004 BIG EAST Cross Country Championship.

BEST OF BOTH WORLDS – The Notre Dame athletic department continues to emerge as one of the highest-rated in the nation ... a 2004 report by the National Collegiate Scouting Association listed Notre Dame third (behind Stanford and Duke) in Division I-A rankings for schools with the top combination of academics and athletics, based on student-athlete graduation rates, the U.S. News and World Report rankings (academic) and the annual Directors' Cup all-sports standings.

A SPORTY CAMPUS – A Sports Illustrated feature on "America's Top Jock Schools" crowned UCLA No. 1, with Notre Dame a close runner-up ... the profile cited the Bengal Bouts campus-wide boxing tournament that benefits the Holy Cross Mission, Bookstore Basketball (the world's largest five-on-five basketball tournament) and intramural football in full pads (with the title game in Notre Dame Stadium) – plus the fact that 75 percent of Notre Dame undergrads lettered in high-school sports.

ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE – The success of Notre Dame athletics extends to the classroom:

* All 22 athletics programs at Notre Dame exceeded the NCAA's new academic performance standard introduced in 2005, with 13 Irish teams scoring a perfect 1,000 ... the Academic Progress Rate (APR) uses a series of formulas related to student-athlete retention and eligibility ... Notre Dame registered an overall APR of 979 and had the third-highest percentage of teams with perfect scores (the national average APR for Division I-A institutions was 944) ... the APRs would be substantially higher if Notre Dame certified eligibility using the NCAA process rather than its own, more stringent, standard that certifies academic records on a semester-by-semester basis ... if Notre Dame certified student-athletes at mid-year using only the six-hour requirement, its overall APR would increase to better than 990.

* In the previous format of the NCAA graduation-rate report (last released in Nov., 2004), Notre Dame ranked second in the survey covering student-athletes who enrolled between '94-'97, based on the raw percentage of those who entered and graduated within six years (those who left or transferred were considered non-graduates) ... ND's 87% graduation rate ranked behind only Duke and was well above the national average (61%) ... among those who entered between '94-'97 and completed four years of eligibility at Notre Dame, 99% earned their degrees.

* Notre Dame student-athletes combined to post a 4.0 semester GPA 24 times in the 2004 spring and fall semesters ... those of note who posted 4.0s in 2004 included baseball All-American Steve Sollmann, women's soccer player Ashley Jones, volleyball players Kim Fletcher and Jessica Kinder and swimmers Kelli Barton and Lisa Garcia.

SPANNING THE GLOBE – Similar to the composition of the Notre Dame student body, the 25 current varsity teams include student-athletes from nearly every state ... Notre Dame's 2004-05 varsity rosters included some 700 student-athletes who hailed from 44 states (all but Hawaii, Maine, Mississippi, Utah, West Virginia and Wyoming), plus six Canadian provinces and 19 other foreign countries: Austria, Cayman Islands, Colombia, Czech Republic, El Salvador, England, Finland, Germany, Guatemala, Hong Kong, Iceland, Ireland, Jamaica, Korea, Luxembourg, Mexico, Poland, Singapore and South Africa.

A TRADITION OF SUCCESS

* Notre Dame has claimed 25 all-time NCAA team titles: 11 in football ('24, '29, '30, '43, '46, '47, '49, '66, '73, '77, '88), seven in fencing (men in '77, '78 and '86, women in '87, combined in '94, '03, '05), two in women's soccer ('95, '04) and men's tennis ('44, '59), and one each in men's golf ('44), men's cross country ('57) and women's basketball ('01) ... the 2004-05 academic year saw Notre Dame win two NCAA titles (women's soccer and combined fencing) for the third time in the athletic department's history (also men's golf and men's tennis in '43-'44 and football and men's fencing in '77-'78).

* Notre Dame's decade-long domination as a member of the BIG EAST Conference has included winning an
