Dave Cashen '97

Academic All-America defenseman
Columbia University Medical School

"Nowhere in the country could I have found such a good education and a school surrounded by students who love their school, what it stands for and most of all their classmates. I was able to combine this with four years of competitive lacrosse on a team nationally-ranked, well-coached and most of all, created by 35 teammates devoted to each other on and off the field. It is a great feeling to have 35 friends always to support, encourage and entertain you, especially two years later."

Kevin O'Connor '89

Captain of the 1989 team

U.S. Attorney for the state of Connecticut

"As a candidate for United State Congress, I was amazed at the amount of attention given by the media and voters to my having served as captain of the lacrosse team at the University of Notre Dame. Indeed, of all the activities in which I have been involved, my experience as a lacrosse player at Notre Dame was the most valuable in the campaign. The traits that make Notre Dame athletics special in the eyes of the public – sportsmanship, integrity and success – are of equal value in the political arena."

Irish Reflections...

Mike Iorio '95

Three-time All-America defenseman

Employed at American National Bank in Chicago, Ill.

"Notre Dame lacrosse provided me with four years of fun and excitement, and it continues to be a part of my life. As a freshman in 1992, I was a part of the team that had the program's first top-10 win. By my senior year, we had accomplished what no other NCAA Division I men's lacrosse team had ever done – the No. 12 seed knocked off the No. 5 seed in the first round of the NCAA Tournament. In the four years that came between these two historic Notre Dame lacrosse events, I received a great education, developed the teamwork and time management skills that I utilize every day in the banking world and built friendships that will last me a lifetime."

Jimmy Keenan '98

Three-time honorable mention
All-America midfielder

Employed as an accountant at UBS in New York City and was a member of the New York Saints of the National Lacrosse League

"The decision to attend Notre Dame and play lacrosse there has turned out to be the most gratifying decision of my life thus far. This unique University fulfilled all I could have wished for as a high school senior. As a school, it offers everything from academics to athletics to nightlife and a campus atmosphere that can only be summed up with the cliché 'Notre Dame Family.' The experience, memories and friends that I have accumulated over my four years there have really defined who I am today. Playing lacrosse at Notre Dame, with its tradition and history, was certainly the proudest and most memorable experience for me. The team and the University will always remain a part of my life for it is truly a family."

Moose Krause Stadium has been the home of Notre Dame lacrosse since its construction in 1988. The venue has seen a multitude of big games and top players.

The facility, named after former director of athletics Edward W. "Moose" Krause, is located just east of the Joyce Center on the Cartier Field complex and has a seating capacity of 5,000 and also is used by the Irish track and field squads.

Krause Stadium features 2,500 permanent bleachers on both sides of the 70 x 120-yard grass field. The stands are raised so that the first row of seats measures six feet above field level for better viewing, and there is ample room for wheelchair seating. The field itself is surrounded by a nine-lane Mondo track, the fastest surface of its kind in the world.

The Irish have had considerable success at home, posting a 83-26 (.761) record since Krause Stadium was built. That includes five undefeated campaigns and 19 victories over ranked opponents. Each of the first six ranked opponents to travel to Krause Stadium were defeated by the Irish. The biggest win at Krause Stadium was a 10-9 victory over #4 Hofstra on April 4, 1997.

Krause Stadium saw its first intercollegiate lacrosse action on March 26, 1988, when Notre Dame posted a 14-4 victory over Wooster.

Krause Stadium/Loftus Center Notes

- When Krause Stadium and the Loftus Sports Center were completed in 1988, it improved the University of Notre Dame's lacrosse facilities from average to among the best in the nation.
- The Loftus Sports Center is one of just six indoor facilities in the country that plays host to Division I men's lacrosse games.
- On March 26, 1988, Notre Dame opened play in Krause Stadium, posting a 14-4 victory over Wooster.
- On April 27, 1988, the Loftus Sports Center saw lacrosse game action for the first time as Notre Dame beat regional rival Michigan State 10-7.
- In the 17 seasons of Irish men's lacrosse in Krause Stadium and the Loftus Sports Center, Notre Dame has compiled a 83-26 (.761) record in home games.
- The Irish have posted five undefeated home campaigns in the current facilities (1994, '95, '97, 2001 and 2006) and have lost just once at home in seven other seasons.
- Notre Dame is 19-14 against ranked opponents in Krause Stadium and the Loftus Sports Center.
- Each of the first six ranked opponents to play the Irish in Krause Stadium or the Loftus Sports Center went home with losses. It was not until 1996, the ninth year of play in the facilities that a ranked team beat Notre Dame on its home field.

- On April 4, 1997, Notre Dame edged #4 Hofstra 10-9 as part of a streak of three consecutive wins over ranked foes.

- Among the top programs to have played in Krause Stadium or the Loftus Sports Center are North Carolina, Cornell, Maryland, Loyola, Georgetown, Pennsylvania, Army, Hofstra, Harvard, Massachusetts, Rutgers, Hobart, UMBC, and Penn State.

- Krause Stadium and the Loftus Sports Center have played host to 29 games in which both teams were nationally ranked. The Irish are 16-13 in those contests.

- Notre Dame is one of just six Division I schools that plays host to games in an indoor facility, joining Dartmouth, Hobart, Penn State, Syracuse, and Towson.

- The 2005 season featured the two largest home crowds in program history: 1,089 for the Butler game and 1,305 for the Air Force game.

Named after legendary, late Notre Dame athletic director Edward "Moose" Krause, Krause Stadium is complete with lighting and 5,000 permanent seats for outdoor matches.

Loftus Sports Center

The Loftus Sports Center combines with Krause Stadium to give the University of Notre Dame some of the top lacrosse facilities in the country. Constructed in 1988, it is one of just six indoor facilities in the country that plays host to Division I men's lacrosse games.

The Loftus Center provides Notre Dame with one of the top multi-purpose indoor facilities in the nation. Complete with the 120-yard synthetic turf Meyo Field, six-lane 352-yard Mondo indoor track and a 9,000-square-foot weight room, it is used by several Irish athletic programs.

The building is named after John R. Loftus of St. Charles, Ill., a 1949 graduate of the University.

The Isban Auditorium within the Guglielmino Athletics Complex provides an ideal setting for team meetings. The auditorium can seat up to 150 people in large chairback seats.

The Haggar Fitness Center, which is shared by both the Loftus Center and the Guglielmino Athletics Complex, features 25,000 square feet of strength and conditioning space with state-of-the-art weight equipment, a 50-yard Mondo track for speed training, a 45-yard by 18-yard Prestige Turf athletic surface for team workouts and an updated sound and lighting system that features six plasma television screens.

The Loftus Sports Center, one of the six indoor facilities in the country that plays host to Division I men's lacrosse games, is the site of Irish lacrosse games when inclement weather precludes them from being contested in Moose Krause Stadium.

Loftus is chief executive of JRL, a real estate, investment and construction firm. Loftus is also a member of the Notre Dame Monogram Club, having played on the varsity basketball team in 1944, 1948 and 1949.

The Meyo Field in the Loftus Center offers Irish lacrosse a 55-by-110 yard synthetic turf playing surface. It was revamped in the summer of 2003 with the addition of Prestige field turf. The field and surrounding track are named for Ray and Marie Meyo of Brecksville, Ohio. Meyo, who graduated from Notre Dame in 1964, is president and chief executive officer of Telxon Corp. in Akron, Ohio, the world's largest manufacturer of portable tele-transaction computers.

The Meyo Field is permanently marked for lacrosse competition and is used as a backup site for games in the event of inclement weather. The Irish have played several contests in the Loftus Center.

In addition to the Meyo Track and Field in the Loftus Center, the Irish lacrosse squad also benefits from the Haggar Fitness Center located in the facility. Equipped with more than 40,000 pounds of free weights, it is four times the size of the weight room in the Joyce Center. It is considered by national strength coaches to be one of the largest, and finest, college training facilities in the nation.

The Irish have had considerable success at home, posting a 83-26 (.761) record since the Loftus Sports Center was built. That includes five undefeated campaigns and 19 victories over ranked opponents.

Loftus Sports Center saw its first intercollegiate lacrosse action on April 27, 1988, when Notre Dame posted a 10-7 victory over Michigan State.

A Championship with Meaning

By Todd Rassas

I had a tough start to my experience with the World Team. My office was in 7 World Trade Center and was destroyed due to the attack on Sept. 11. I was sitting at my desk at the time the first plane impacted the World Trade Center. After hearing the explosion we evacuated the building.

At this time a few agents and I ran towards the bottom of the World Trade Center to set up a triage center. While waiting for the injured to come out, we had to move under a walkway to avoid being hit by people and debris falling from the top floors. I remember bandaging a lady's hand, then hearing the second plane accelerate right before it exploded above us. I just hugged the pylon that held up the walkway in hope that the plane wouldn't crash down on us.

At this point I ran a block north to help with all of the emergency personnel trying to get closer. About 15 minutes later I ran from the first tower that fell.

A number of agents regrouped and returned to look for survivors. We got about a block and a half away from the remaining tower when I saw the top floor drop. I turned and started running for my life. All I could think of was my dad saying "when you have the ball, never look back because it makes you run slower." I thought I was going to get crushed. If the tower would have fallen a little more towards the Hudson River I would not be here today. I feel very fortunate to have survived this attack. The victims of Sept. 11 are in my thoughts and prayers every day.

I spent the next four weeks at Ground Zero while almost everyone else on my U.S. team was taking part in fall practice. The fall tournament was probably the worst time for me to be playing lacrosse. I don't even recall all of the teams that we played.

Though I was not ready to play then, I knew there would be no better time to wear red, white, and blue. I think every athlete has a dream at one time or another to wear his or her country's jersey. I remember when all this started Darren Lowe said, "Don't ever underestimate someone playing for his or her country." Every time I put my jersey on, I thought of someone from Sept. 11, or someone who told me, "You can't," or my family who traveled around the world to watch me play a game that I love.

This team was motivated by the so-called lacrosse scholars that predicted us to lose. I took criticism more personally than most of the others on the team. Growing up in Illinois, I have always had to battle the critics. I have six motivational letters at my house. The first is a rejection letter from the University of Notre Dame. After giving up a year of competitive lacrosse and spending a year at Holy Cross College in Indiana, I now have an acceptance letter from Notre Dame. The third letter is a rejection letter from the United States Secret Service based on lack of experience. Two years later I was employed by the USSS. Finally I have a letter from U.S. Lacrosse explaining how I didn't make the cut for a tryout for the 1998 U.S. Team. Now there is a letter saying I made the team and a gold medal that sits with that rejection letter.

This experience was so enjoyable because the team was told that we were the underdogs from the start. Someone e-mailed me and said that we were being displayed as the "Bad News Bears." We had to bond together.

There was not one guy on our team trying to be a superstar, well at least on the field – some could argue Ryan Mollett and Ryan Boyle were superstars in the social arena. At times on defense, Mollett, John Glatzel, and I were begging someone to shoot the ball. The offense was so unselfish in its play, its motto seemed to be, "I don't want to shoot. You shoot."

We played our first game against the Iroquois Nationals and won 22-6. Then we read an Australian newspaper with some not-so-favorable quotes from the Australian coach, along the lines that it was the Australians' year and the U.S. team is over-rated and under-talented. In warm-ups, instead of running around their half of the field, the Australians took a lap all the way around to our bench. Putting it lightly, I don't think many of our guys, especially Nicky Polanco, appreciated it. From then on it seemed as though the game was over before it started, and we won 22-7. Not too bad for being over-rated and under-talented.

Then we had to get geared up for Canada. This game was the worst display of lacrosse that I have ever seen. Canada had nearly 30 minutes of penalties. Canada was taking cheap shots and late hits to take some of our players out of the game. At one point we had a 6-on-2. We won 14-9, but everyone was disappointed with the victory due to the way that the game was played.

Next we beat England and then the Iroquois in the semi-finals to set up another game with Canada for the championship.

We had a team meeting and went over the match-ups. I was going to cover Paul Gait. I think one way or another every lacrosse player models their game after one of the Gait brothers. I had a

Todd Rassas was a three-time All-America defenseman at Notre Dame who played an integral role in helping the U.S. men's lacrosse team win the 2002 International Lacrosse Federation (ILF) Championship in Perth, Australia, serving as team captain. poster of them next to my bed when I was in high school. For me, a kid from Northfield, Ill., covering Paul Gait in his last game for the world championship, even playing with the flu, I was still excited for the match-up.

We started the game with a three-goal lead. Then Canada made some plays to come back. It was back and forth until Canada pulled ahead by two to end the half. It was the first time this Team USA was trailing, and we were getting a little hesitant.

After regrouping we pulled ahead in the third quarter. Doug Shanahan played out of his mind in the fourth quarter. Canada realized they were short on time and called a stick check on Mike Powell. Mike's stick was illegal, and then Jimmy Butler (our team stick doctor) countered their move with a stick check on Canada's John Tavares. It was found illegal and since he scored the last goal it was taken off the board. From there we were able to run out the clock and ended up winning 18-15.

At the beginning of this quest for the gold medal we were picked to finish second or third. "Team USA can't win," said the writers. I kept all the articles. I, along with this team, took the challenge. I am happy to say we are the World Champions! Memories of Nicky Polanco in leopard-skin sandals and a red, white and blue head band, as well as the punishment Trevor Tierney had after he couldn't get past the ladies tee on the golf course will be hard memories to forget. I miss sitting on the bus and playing what-if scenarios about the Secret Service with Matt Streibel, Scott Doyle and Ryan Boyle. It was a classy group of guys that I will never forget. I can't indicate how much pride I had I wearing a USA jersey after my 9-11 experience. I hope my World Team experience motivates all those who at one time have been told that they "can't."

Irish look for good things in '07 with a veteran and versatile squad

As with any team entering a new season, questions surround the 2007 Notre Dame men's lacrosse squad.

The most obvious question is how will the Irish replace what they lost with the graduation of a solid nine-man senior class. The answers can be found in a team that returns veteran players at every position and the experience of making it to the NCAA tournament last season.

The Fighting Irish are coming off a campaign in which they returned to NCAA tournament play for the first time since 2001. Despite losing key players, the Irish still boast a solid veteran unit that has amassed plenty of game experience. Every position has valuable components back from a team that went 10-5, including a 3-2 mark in the Great Western Lacrosse League (GWLL) in 2006. In all, the Irish return six starters and 16 monogram winners from last year's squad.

A key returnee for the Irish is fifth-year senior attackman Brian Hubschmann, the team's top goalscorer one season ago. He registered 31 goals and 19 assists for a team high-tying 50 points, en route to being a first team all-Great Western Lacrosse League selection.

Hubschmann was one of five first-team all-conference picks in 2006 for Notre Dame. Three of those student-athletes graduated, yet Joey Kemp returns for his junior season and looks to be one of the top goaltenders in the nation once again. Kemp was a USILA Honorable Mention All-American last season as he ranked eighth nationally in save percentage (.596) and 12th in goals-against average (7.54).

Head coach Kevin Corrigan feels the Irish are more than capable of filling in the gaps left behind by the departing seniors.

"We did lose some seniors but what we lost in those individuals I feel we can make up collectively," says Corrigan. "I'm not sure we have a guy that can come in and do what Pat Walsh (a three-time All-American attackman) did for us for four years, but I don't know if we have to. I think we just need to replace the production that Walsh gave us. No individual has to replace what he gave us."

Corrigan hopes to get contributions from the freshman class at every position, but does not feel it is a necessity because of the overall team depth.

"It's great to have what you think is a great freshman class and what we know to be a very good freshman class, but I don't think there's one guy in it that we have to have right now and that's a great situation," says Corrigan. "At the same time, I think there's some very talented kids in that class and I think they are going to be pushing for playing time. It wouldn't surprise me to see some of them in really big roles for us. We don't have to put them in there, they get to earn their way in there and that's always a good situation."

With old faces departing and new faces entering, the goals still remain the same for the Irish.

As a freshman in 2006, attackman Ryan Hoff ranked fourth on the team with 22 points coming on 21 goals and one assist. He will be a major force in the Fighting Irish attack this season.

"Our goals aren't any different than they ever are," comments Corrigan. "I think we can be a top-10 team. That's the way we've approached every season for the past decade. We think we have that ability and a schedule that will allow us to do that. Now it's just a matter of putting everything in place and showing up and getting it done on gameday."

The freshmen will not be the only new faces on the Irish this season. Corrigan has brought in two new assistant coaches, Gerry Byrne and Brian Fisher, to replace Kevin Anderson and Dave Cornell. Anderson stepped away from coaching, while Cornell took the head coaching job at Connecticut College.

Byrne will not be a new face to everyone at Notre Dame since he served as an assistant under Corrigan from 1989-91. Most recently he held the head coaching position at Saint Anselm College in Manchester, N.H.

"Gerry brings great playing experience and great enthusiasm for the game," says Corrigan. "He loves Notre Dame and he's coached with us before. He loves the place. On the field, he was a great player. He made himself a great player. He was not a physically gifted guy, but he turned himself into a great player. He's learning to translate his experience as a player and coach into coaching guys to play at their highest levels."

Fisher comes to Notre Dame from Rutgers, where he had a stellar four-year career from 1998-2001 followed by a five-year coaching stint with the Scarlet Knights.

"Brian is a great addition," comments Corrigan. "He's a hard worker and he gets along great with the guys. He brings a lot of ideas about the ways we can do things because he's had good coaching experience with an outstanding Rutgers coaching staff. I've really enjoyed him being here. He also brings in a couple nuances of being a faceoff guy and things where he can help not only our faceoff guys but our wing play and help some of those things get better."

Byrne and Fisher will add to the foundation that the Notre Dame lacrosse program has established over the past two decades. The Irish made it to 10 NCAA tournaments in a 12-year span from 1990-2001. Last season marked the return of the Irish to NCAA play and the team expects a return visit this season to get a new streak underway.

"I like our team," states Corrigan. "I think we have a lot of different guys that can contribute at both ends of the field. I think we are strong in a couple areas where it's great to be strong, in goal and facing off. I think the biggest strength of this team is that there isn't a big weakness."

ATTACK

Notre Dame features depth and versatility at the attack position. Hubschmann will lead the charge as he brings experience and 52 career goals and 33 assists to the Irish lineup. The fifth-year senior notched a team high-tying 50 points last season as he returned from missing all of his junior campaign with an injury.

"In the attack, we probably have more depth there than anywhere," says Corrigan. "It's great to have Brian Hubschmann coming back for his fifth year. He's experienced. He's played midfield, he's played attack, he's had to overcome the adversity of getting injured and missing a season. He's really got all of the things now to be a great player. I think he has All-American potential and All-American ability, so hopefully he's going to have a big year for us."

A trio of sophomore attackman look to expand on what they accomplished as rookies in 2006. Peter Christman, Ryan Hoff and Duncan Swezey all were major contributors during their freshman campaigns and Corrigan sees bigger and even better things for the entire sophomore class this season.

"I think the sophomores took a big step forward," remarks Corrigan. "They've worked very hard and they're a close knit group. It's a smaller class and there are no guys that leap off the page to you as superstars, but there are some very good players. They are just guys that are very solid and good lacrosse players. I think across the board that class is really going to contribute a lot this year."

Hoff was the team's fourth-leading scorer last season with 22 points on 21 goals and one assist as he did most of his work in the crease. He netted a hat trick in a 14-10 setback at No. 1 Virginia, the eventual national champion, in the first round of the NCAA tournament. He will look to carry that momentum into this season as he will be relied on even more without the fortune of sneaking up on anyone.

Christman notched 10 points on five goals and five assists. He is not the biggest player on the field, but he has a knack to score that makes him very dangerous.

"Peter Christman gives us some quickness and some different match-up problems," says Corrigan. "He's not a big, strong guy, but he's quick and can go both ways. We can use him in a lot of different situations."

Swezey entered Notre Dame as an attackman, yet played a lot of midfield as a freshman. He will shift back to attack this season and will look to fill some of the void left by departed seniors Pat Walsh and Matt Karweck.

Freshman Will Yeatman will be a big addition to the Irish attack, both literally and figuratively. The 6-6, 260-pound athlete provides a much different element to the Notre Dame scoring unit. Despite playing tight end for the Fighting Irish football squad in the fall, Yeatman has not lost any skills on the lacrosse field and appears ready to make an immediate impact.

"Will Yeatman is an absolute physical force out on the field," comments Corrigan. "Beyond that, he's got a great feel for the game and he's got skills. He's not a big football player that somebody gave a stick to. He's been playing lacrosse his whole life. The thing I wasn't even aware of was his feel for the game."

Junior Alex Wharton is coming off a campaign plagued by injuries and he will look to be a contributor this season. He played in seven contests last season, including starts in the first two games, and expects to be a factor for the Irish in '07. Other guys to keep an eye on in the Fighting Irish attack will be junior Sloan Smith along with freshmen Matt Ciambella and Neal Hicks. Senior Patrick O'Toole also brings veteran leadership to the unit.

"I feel we have guys in every class that are going to contribute," says Corrigan. "I think that depth will give us versatility in that there are a lot of different kind of players. Peter Christman and Will Yeatman don't look a lot alike and they don't play a lot alike, but I think they both can contribute a lot. Ryan Hoff is a crease guy, but we have other guys who can play the crease, but play it a whole lot differently than Ryan can play. That versatility is really going to help us be hard to match-up with and that's something we're always looking to do."

We really think we can get contributions from all four classes at that position."

MIDFIELD

Just like with the attack, experience should be the Irish's biggest asset in the midfield. Three key seniors in Ryan Cunn, Bill Liva and Lucius Polk return to the lineup. They have played in a combined 87 games during their college careers.

"We have some seniors who've all played a lot," states Corrigan. "Bill Liva, Lucius Polk and Ryan Cunn have played a lot for us in the past three years. Right now, all three of them are healthy and playing well and I think they are ready to have their best seasons. That's a great place to start, with three experienced and talented seniors. That makes a big difference."

Liva will serve as one of the team's co-captains this season along with Hubschmann and Kemp. Liva was fifth on the squad last season with 18 points on 10 goals and eight assists. He is arguably the most complete midfielder on the team. His versatile skills combined with his experience should lead to a stellar senior campaign.

According to Corrigan, Polk has the hardest shot on the team and he has harnessed some of that into becoming a more accurate and poised shooter. His ability to place the ball better should benefit the Irish tremendously. He notched seven points on four goals and three assists, while playing all 15 games as a junior.

Cunn appears back to form after suffering a knee injury two years ago. He notched three goals in nine games as a sophomore and tallied one goal in 13 games last season.

Another senior that will add a veteran presence to the Irish is John Greaney. He has been hampered by injuries in the fall and preseason, yet he will look to make an impact as the season goes along. Greaney brings good offensive skills to the table with his quickness and ability to dodge.

The junior class also boasts key components to the Irish midfield unit. Taylor Claggett has emerged as one of the top faceoff guys in the country throughout his first two seasons in a Notre Dame uniform. He won 126 of 205 faceoffs last season. His .615 winning percentage would have ranked him sixth nationally, however he missed four games due to injury so he could not qualify among NCAA statistical leaders in that category.

"Taylor Claggett is going to be one of the best faceoff guys in the country," claims Corrigan. "He has been one of the best for the past two years, kind of quietly. I don't think a lot of people realized, except for the people we played against, how good he really is. I think he's terrific."

Fellow junior Michael Podgajny also will be a major player for the Irish this season, just as he has been the previous two campaigns. Podgajny registered 15 points on seven goals and eight assists in 2006, while missing four games. He brings a lot of toughness to the team and that should translate to good things on the field.

Midfielder Taylor Claggett has emerged as one of the top face-off men in the country. He carries a .613 (257-419) career face-off winning percentage into his junior campaign.

Anson Fraser is another junior that looks to compete for time this year. He has a variety of skill and athletic ability and he will look to refine some of that in order to make an impact.

There are spots to be won in the midfield in the sophomore and freshman classes. Sophomore Davey Leach saw spot duty as a freshman and he will look to have an increased role this season.

Joining him in the class are Kevin Cullinane and Dan Gibson, both of whom played sparingly last season.

The freshman class features five midfielders. Corrigan feels Grant Krebs is one of the rookies that could make an immediate impact.

"Grant Krebs is probably the most complete middle in the freshman class," says Corrigan. "He plays good defense and understands the game. He can also shoot the ball and dodge. He just has a good feel for the game and he does a lot of things well."

Joining Krebs in the rookie class of midfielders are Adam Felicetti, Kelly McKenna, Trever Sipperly and Brett Vecchio.

"In the sophomore class we have some guys who played some, but not a lot," comments Corrigan. "Now they are different kind of guys when they come back as sophomores. We have a big freshman class at the midfield position. We hope to get some

DEFENSE

The Fighting Irish also boast depth on the defensive end of the field. Just like in the midfield, Notre Dame has seniors on defense that have a lot of game experience and will use that to their benefit this season. The loss of All-American D.J. Driscoll will be felt, however the returning unit is capable of making up for his departure.

Joey Rallo and Brannon Halvorsen played in all 15 teams last season and there is no question they will be looked upon to anchor Notre Dame's defense this year. Rallo made 12 starts in 2006 and his physical presence is something Corrigan likes very much.

"Joey Rallo is our most physical player and we need him to be," says Corrigan. "He changes the character of our team a little bit on the field. He's played now for four years so he'll bring a lot of experience as well."

Halvorsen and fellow senior John Duffy will give the Irish veteran leadership at the longstick midfield position. Duffy has not seen much game action during his three years at Notre Dame, yet that should change this season.

"John Duffy may be the biggest surprise of the senior class," states Corrigan. "He really played hard and played well during the fall. We look for him to contribute from the longstick middle position. That's a spot where he hasn't played much, but he brings a lot of hunger and tenacity up there."

The Irish defensive depth does not end with the seniors. Juniors Sean Dougherty and Ross Zimmerman have been major contributors over the course of their first two seasons. Both of them played in every contest last season and helped Notre Dame to the nation's 11th-best scoring defense by allowing just 7.67 goals per game.

Regis McDermott is the only sophomore defender on the Irish roster. He too was a big part of the stout Irish defense in 2006. As a rookie, he stepped right in and played in all 15 games, collecting 24 ground balls. He will move to his more natural position of close defense this season and that should benefit him and the Notre Dame defensive unit.

"Regis McDermott probably played a lot out of position last year, but he played a lot," says Corrigan. "I think that game experience will help him as he moves down to the close defense where he's a lot more comfortable."

Corrigan also can envision some freshmen getting into the mix on defense. One of the freshmen he has high hopes for is Mike Creighton.

"We hope to get some help out of that freshman class, Mike Creighton in particular," says Corrigan. "I think Mike has a chance to be a great defenseman. He's athletic, very coachable and is very fundamentally sound. We think we'll get some help from him right away. We also have guys who will play more down the road."

Adding depth to the Fighting Irish defense will be juniors Dave Caperna and Dan Scolaro along with freshmen Sam Barnes, Sean Callinan and Chip Lanser.

GOAL

Not many questions surround the Irish in goal. Junior Joey Kemp returns following a stellar 2006 campaign in which he was a USILA Honorable Mention All-American. He ranked in the top-12 nationally in both save percentage and goals-against average last season. As a freshman in 2005, he led the country with a .652 save percentage.

"Joey Kemp is off the charts, I just think he's terrific," comments Corrigan. "He has a great demeanor for a goalie, never up and never down. When the other guys look back there, they have great confidence in Joey."

Kemp's credentials are impressive throughout his first two seasons at Notre Dame. He carries a 15-7 record, a 7.84 goals-against average and a .620 save percentage. He has earned all-GWLL accolades during his first two seasons, including Rookie of the Year honors in 2005.

There is no doubt Kemp will be the guy in goal for the Irish, yet Corrigan is very comfortable with sophomore Scott Rodgers backing him up. Rodgers saw action in three games during his rookie campaign in 2006.

"Joey is outstanding and Scott Rodgers is doing great job behind him," remarks Corrigan. "Scott is pushing him and giving us great confidence, should anything happen to Joe, that we are going to be in good shape there. I think Joey Kemp is going to really distinguish himself as one of the top goalies in the country for the next two years."

Providing additional depth at the position will be sophomore Bill Delaney and freshman Brendan Moore.

SCHEDULE

The Irish will have no time to relax right out of the gate as a tough 14-game schedule awaits them. Loyola comes to town for the season-opener on February 17th and then the Irish will hit the road for five straight contests. Penn State is first on the trek followed by match-ups with Cornell (March 3), North Carolina (March 10), Drexel (March 13) and Dartmouth (March 17).

"When you look at our schedule, we start out with a 'murderers row'," claims Corrigan. "I think Penn State has their best team in years, I think Loyola has their best team in years, I think Cornell has an outstanding team, I think North Carolina has their best team in years. So all of a sudden you look up and you're really jumping right into the fire. But I think we are going to be prepared for that. We've got a good team and we don't feel threatened by any of that, we just know we are going to play some very good teams early in the year. Again, I look at that as an opportunity. If you win those games then you are going to put yourself in the elite of the country. That's where we want to be."

Notre Dame will return home for a date with GWLL newcomer Bellarmine on March 20 before traveling to Brown for a game on March 31. A showdown with Villanova kicks off a four-game homestand for the Irish on April 3. Two straight league

Joey Rallo brings experience along with a physical presence to the Fighting Irish lineup. The senior has played in 36 career games, including 20 starts.

games with Air Force (April 13) and Denver (April 15) will be a crucial stretch for Notre Dame. The Irish's only two GWLL losses last season came at the hands of the Falcons and Pioneers. A non-conference clash against Lehigh will close out the home slate for the Fighting Irish on April 21.

The regular season concludes with conference games at Ohio State on April 28 and Quinnipiac on May 5.

"The league continues to get better," states Corrigan. "Five years ago we were dominating the league and now we are not. Now the challenge for us is to get back to the top of the league. That is certainly something that our guys are not taking lightly because I think our league is better than ever. There are more good teams, we've got a great group of coaches in our league and I just feel it's going to be a terrific season in our league."

Last season, Notre Dame became the first GWLL team to earn an at-large berth into the NCAA tournament. That precedent speaks volumes for where the conference stands in the collegiate lacrosse world.

"I think it just points to the strength of our league overall," says Corrigan. "That could have easily happened a couple other years that I can think of. That's recognition outside of the league that our league is really outstanding top to bottom."

Notre Dame hopes to return to the 2007 NCAA Championship when the tournament gets underway on May 12 and 13. The quarterfinals are slated for May 19 and 20 in Princeton, N.J. and Annapolis, Md. The tournament concludes with the semifinals and finals on May 26 and 28 in Baltimore, Md.

NOTRE DAME COACHING STAFF

Over the past 14 seasons, head coach Kevin Corrigan has seen all but one of his teams finish ranked in the national top 20, while at least one player has earned All-America honors each year.

Kevin Corrigan

Head Coach
19th Season
Virginia '88

Since his arrival on campus in 1988, Kevin Corrigan has built Notre Dame into one of the premier men's lacrosse programs in the nation. Few coaches in the nation boast a résumé dotted with such team and individual success over an extended period of time.

Inheriting a program that had never earned a berth in the NCAA Championship, Corrigan has made the Irish a staple in the postseason. His tenure was highlighted by quarterfinal appearances in 1995 and 2000 and the school's first-ever final four trip in '01. Notre Dame has garnered 11 invitations to the NCAA tournament since 1990, including the Irish's most recent appearance in 2006.

Corrigan's Irish squads have won 12 conference titles and finished in the top 20 of the national rankings on 14 occasions, including in 13 of the last 14 campaigns. Notre Dame has been adept at winning big games under Corrigan, registering 39 victories over nationally-ranked opponents, including nine vs. top-10 foes. The Irish have an overall record of 156-88 (.639) during Corrigan's tenure.

Irish student-athletes who have played under Corrigan have been highly decorated. At least one Notre Dame player has garnered All-America accolades in each of the last 14 years, with 15 individuals earning a total of 27 All-America honors. Four Irish players have been named the Great Western Lacrosse League (GWLL) Player of the Year, while Notre Dame student-athletes have gained all-conference mention on 95 occasions, an average of more than five per season. D.J. Driscoll (Class of 2006) was named the GWLL Defensive Player of the Year in 2005 and was one of five Fighting Irish players to earn all-GWLL first-team accolades in 2006.

Corrigan has continued the tradition of academic success for the Irish men's lacrosse program. Since first competing on the varsity level in 1981, every Irish lacrosse senior has graduated. Three players since 1997 have gained Academic All-America honors. In 2006, Driscoll and Pat Walsh were named USILA Scholar All-Americans.

Many of the best players in Notre Dame history have played under Corrigan, as his graduates include each of the top five scorers in the program's history, five of the top six goal scorers and each of the top five players on the career assist list.

Playing beyond the college level has been a reality for a number of Corrigan's players. Eight have gone on to play professionally in either Major League Lacrosse or the National Lacrosse League, while a trio of Irish players has earned spots on United States national teams and come away with gold medals.

The pinnacle of Corrigan's coaching career thus far came in 2001, when the Irish put together the top season in the program's history. Notre Dame posted the best record in school history, 14-2, rose to an all-time high national ranking of #2 before finishing at a program-best #4 and advancing to the NCAA semifinals for the first time in Notre Dame history.

League championship in '01, Notre Dame beat the likes of perennial lacrosse powers Virginia (11-8) and Loyola (10-7) on the road, as the Irish started the season 5-0. The only blemish on their regular-season mark was an 11-10 overtime loss at Hofstra. After concluding the regular season with a 12-1 mark, Notre Dame was awarded the fifth seed in the 12-team championship field, marking the first NCAA seeding in Irish history. A 12-7 first-round victory over Bucknell and a first-ever win against fourth-seeded Johns Hopkins (13-9) paved the way for a storied NCAA tournament run. Notre Dame's fairytale '01 campaign ended with a 12-5 loss to Syracuse in the semifinals.

A program-record five players earned USILA All-America honors in '01, with attackman Tom Glatzel becoming the school's first-ever first-team selection, as well as one of five finalists for the Tewaaraton Trophy, given to the nation's top player. Goalie Kirk Howell copped second-team All-America accolades while midfielder Steve Bishko was a third-team selection. In addition, attackman David Ulrich, the GWLL Player of the Year, and defenseman Mike Adams were named to the honorable-mention list.

Adams also became the program's third CoSIDA Academic All-American, when he garnered first-team honors in the '01 men's spring at-large program.

The accomplishments of the '01 team were even more impressive considering they came when the Irish program lacked any grant-in-aid scholarships. Shortly thereafter, it was announced by athletics director Kevin White that all Notre Dame programs would begin a process of offering the maximum number of grants-in-aid allowed by the NCAA, making future trips to the final four by the Irish lacrosse team a greater possibility.

After leading the Irish to a 7-6 record in his first season, 1989, Corrigan's 1990 squad made history, gaining the school's first-ever USILA national ranking (17th in the final poll) and earning Notre Dame's first invitation to the NCAA Championship. In 1992, Notre Dame tied the then-school record for wins, going 10-5, and made its second appearance in the NAAs, winning the Great Lakes Conference championship and the West Region bid for the second time in three seasons.

In 1993, the Irish made their third trip to the NCAA tournament, re-established the season victory record with 11 and rose as high as 12th in the national polls, completing the season at 15th. Defenseman Mike Iorio became the first player in Irish history to be an All-American, copping third-team honors. Corrigan wound up the season with an invitation to coach the North team in the North-South All-Star Game. His North squad took home a 28-16 victory.

In 1994, Corrigan guided the Irish to one of their best seasons in the program's history. In winning its third straight conference title – and the first for the newly-formed Great Western Lacrosse League – Notre Dame posted a 10-2 overall mark, which included a 12-9 win over #17 Penn State and a thrilling 12-11 overtime victory over Michigan State clinching an NCAA bid for Corrigan's squad that finished 14th in the final poll. He also was selected GWLL Coach of the Year for the second time in three seasons.

His 1994 team also boasted two All-America honorees in GWLL Player of the Year Iorio and attackman Randy Colley, marking the first time in the program's history that multiple Irish players were named in the same year.

Corrigan, a four-time GWLL Coach of the Year, helped Notre Dame reach new heights in '95, notching its first-ever NCAA tournament win in a come-from-behind 12-10 victory at #5 Duke, which marked the first time a team from the West had won an NCAA game. The Irish finished the 1995 campaign with a 9-5 record and final ranking of 15th, as the Irish won their fourth straight league championship. Notre Dame's season culminated with an appearance in the NCAA tournament quarterfinals, where the Irish lost to eventual national runner-up #4 Maryland 14-11.

Iorio and Colley, the '95 GWLL Player of the Year, both earned All-America honors again. Iorio was a second-team honoree, as he became Notre Dame's first three-time All-American, while Colley earned honorable-mention accolades for the second consecutive year and finished his career as the school's all-time leading scorer. His 273 points (173 G, 100 A) were 87 better than the previous Irish record.

For the first time in school history, three Notre Dame players earned All-America honors in the same season in '96, as Rassas was a third-team selection and midfielder Jimmy Keenan and goalkeeper Alex Cade were tabbed honorable mention. Notre Dame also cracked the national top 10 for the first time ever, climbing to seventh in the USILA poll in mid-April.

Notre Dame's highest final USILA ranking at the time came in 1997, as the Irish ended ninth. That campaign saw Notre Dame earn its first-ever victory over a top-five opponent, as the Irish defeated #4 Hofstra 10-9 at Moose Krause Stadium en route to a 9-3 overall record.

In 1998, defenseman Rassas was named the GWLL Player of the Year and became the school's second three-time All-American when he earned third-team honors. Keenan was an honorable-mention selection that same season for the third consecutive year.

A year later, attackman Chris Dusseau finished his career as Notre Dame's second all-time leading goal scorer (113), while being named honorable mention All-America.

Corrigan reached another pinnacle in 2000, as his Irish upset fifth-ranked Loyola 15-13 in the first round of the NCAA tournament. The win marked the first for Corrigan in 10 tries against the Greyhounds and the first-ever victory for a Notre Dame team in 11 games against Loyola. The victory also avenged a 12-2 loss to Loyola at home during the regular season. Notre Dame dropped its NCAA tournament quarterfinal game to fourth-ranked Johns Hopkins 15-11, but finished the season 10-4 and undefeated in the GWLL.

In 2003, the Irish went 9-5 and won a share of a fifth consecutive GWLL title, but just missed an at-large bid to the NCAA tournament. With the core of that squad returning for the '04 season, Notre Dame opened the campaign with a 17-7 win over #17 Penn State, which allowed them to debut at eighth in the USILA rankings and then move up to #5, becoming just the second Notre Dame team to reach the top five. A pair of disappointing last-second 9-8 losses – against #17 Ohio State and at #3 Maryland – caused the Irish to barely miss the NAAs again. Walsh became the first player in school history to earn All-America honors as a freshman, being named an honorable mention selection in '03 before gaining third-team accolades in '04. He also was one of the 15 nominees for the Tewaaron Trophy in his sophomore campaign.

In 2005, Walsh was again a Tewaaron Trophy nominee and copped All-America honors for the third straight season, as he was an honorable-mention selection along with his teammate Driscoll. The duo continued the legacy of Irish All-Americans, making it the 13th straight season that Notre Dame has had at least one player receive All-America honors. Driscoll also was named the GWLL Defensive Player of the Year and was joined on the all-GWLL first team by Walsh. Freshman goaltender Joey Kemp led the nation with a 0.652 save-percentage and garnered all-GWLL second team honors along with junior attackman Matt Karweck.

The Irish finished the 2005 season with a 7-4 overall mark and a 3-2 record in the GWLL, which placed them third in the conference. Notre Dame had a win over No. 21 Penn State (14-6) in the season-opener and would also claim key wins over No. 10 North Carolina (9-7) and No. 13 Hofstra (9-8) throughout the course of the season. The victory over North Carolina occurred at the The First 4 Invitational in the Home Depot Center in Carson, Calif. Notre Dame would reach as high as No. 9 in the US/LA poll, making it the third straight season that the Irish had reached the top-10.

In 2006, the Fighting Irish returned to the NCAA tournament for the first time since their trek to the semifinals in 2001. Notre Dame posted a 10-5 mark overall, including a 3-2 record in the GWLL to finish second in the conference. The Irish fell to #1, and eventual national champion, Virginia 14-10 in the first round of the postseason. The four-point margin was the closest outcome for the Cavaliers during their four-game run to the title and the second-closest margin over the course of their undefeated campaign.

For the 14th consecutive season, the Irish had at least one player earn All-America distinction as Driscoll was named to the STX/USILA second team and Kemp copped honorable mention honors. The duo also was among the five Irish players named to the all-GWLL first team. That marked the fourth time that Notre Dame had placed at least five student-athletes on the all-GWLL first team. The Fighting Irish put a school-record seven on the list during the 2001 season. Notre Dame had six on the team in 1997 and five in 1995.

Corrigan was acknowledged for his contributions to the Irish lacrosse program when Notre Dame's Monogram Club awarded him an honorary monogram in 2000.

An assistant at Virginia for two years, Corrigan became just the second head coach in Notre Dame's history on Aug. 23, 1988.

A graduate of the University of Virginia, Corrigan assisted the Cavaliers during both the 1987 and '88 seasons under head coach Jim "Ace" Adams.

During a three-year playing career at Virginia, Corrigan scored five goals and registered six assists. He played in 20 games as a midfielder. In his sophomore season in 1979, the Cavaliers reached the NCAA final before losing to Johns Hopkins in overtime.

This is Corrigan's second stint as a head coach. He directed Randolph-Macon College (Va.), a Division III program, for two seasons, compiling a 10-15 record in 1985 and 1986. He previously served as an assistant at Randolph-Macon during the 1984 campaign. In 17 years as a head coach, Corrigan holds a record of 149-94 (.613).

Corrigan also served as an assistant at Notre Dame during the 1983 season and at Western Albemarle (Va.) High School in 1982. He is the son of former Notre Dame athletic director Gene Corrigan, who retired in '97 as the commissioner of the Atlantic Coast Conference. The elder Corrigan played collegiate lacrosse at Duke and guided the Virginia and Washington & Lee lacrosse programs. He was inducted into the Lacrosse Hall of Fame in February of 1994.

Kevin's brother Tim was a three-time monogram winner as a midfielder at Notre Dame from 1984-86. Two of Kevin's other brothers, David and Brian, also served as assistants under former Irish head lacrosse coach Rich O'Leary. Another brother, Eugene "Boo", Notre Dame's associate athletics director for corporate relations and marketing.

When not coaching, Corrigan still remains active by participating in various lacrosse clinics and camps and is a member of the South Bend Regional Sports Commission. He and his wife, Lis, reside in South Bend with their three children - Will, Sidney and Natale.

Assistant Coach

Gerry Byrne

Assistant Coach

First Season

Massachusetts-Amherst '86

Gerry Byrne begins his second stint as an assistant coach for the Notre Dame men's lacrosse team in 2007. Byrne returns to the Fighting Irish program, where he served as an assistant from 1989-91. Most recently, he was the head coach at Saint Anselm College in Manchester, N.H. from 2003-06.

Byrne graduated Cum Laude from UMass Amherst in 1986 with a degree in economics. He was a two-year starter and a three-year letterman in addition to being an All-New England defenseman for the Minutemen in 1986. He was a starter in two NCAA Tournament games, including the 1986 quarterfinals versus Johns Hopkins.

Byrne then earned his MBA from Notre Dame, where he also worked as defensive coordinator for the Fighting Irish. He helped Notre Dame earn its first NCAA Tournament berth during the 1990 campaign as the Irish posted a 9-7 record, including a perfect 3-0 mark in the MLA's Great Lakes Conference, which gave them the league title.

"The opportunity to work with Kevin Corrigan again was an extremely attractive opportunity," says Byrne. "The heritage and the sense of community that Notre Dame possesses, along with the academics and the drive for excellence on the field, makes for a powerful combination. Notre Dame is a symbol of athletic excellence and I know we have the student-athletes, coaches and facilities to get back to the Final Four."

Following his graduation from UMass, Byrne was a four-time All-United States Club Lacrosse Association member with the Brine Lacrosse Club. He was also invited to tryout with the U.S.

National Team on three occasions (1989, 1997, 2001), which placed him among the top-30 defensemen in the nation. Other playing accolades for Byrne include being named an All-Lake Placid Classic performer on 11 occasions and an All-Vail Shootout competitor nine times.

One of his signature years as a player came in 1997. That season he was named a Vail Shootout All-Star in the Elite Division along with copping Vail Shootout MVP honors in the Masters Division. Byrne also was named the Lake Placid Tournament Defensive MVP in the Elite Division and was chosen as the Masters Division MVP. Finally, he was invited to the National Team Selection Camp and was the USCLA/Empire League Player of the Year for the Syracuse Lacrosse Club.

Byrne was inducted into the U.S. Lacrosse Hall of Fame - New England Chapter - in 1999 and was the 2001 New Hampshire High School Coach of the Year while at Souhegan High School. He was drafted by the New York Saints of the National Lacrosse League (NLL) in 1991 and played for them in 1992. Byrne also was drafted by the Rochester Knighthawks of the NLL as a defensive forward and went on to win a World Championship with them in 1997.

He continued his professional career following a three-year retirement when he was drafted by the Boston Cannons of Major League Lacrosse (MLL) in 2000. Byrne played for the Cannons from 2000-02, while having the distinction of being the oldest active player in the league at that time. He played in the inaugural MLL Final Four in 2001 and made another appearance there the following season.

In addition to his duties at Saint Anselm, Byrne stayed active in the sporting world in several other ways. He served as managing director at Kiltegan Marketing Group, which is an integrated sports marketing services company with clients such as Reebok and Major League Lacrosse. Byrne also has spent time as the director of marketing for Cybex International and Brine, a major manufacturer of lacrosse equipment. He also owns the Premier Players Lacrosse Camps and is the founder of the Texas Top-99.

"Gerry has a real wide variety of experiences, all of which help him in coaching," says Corrigan. "Obviously he has coached, but he just hasn't taken the traditional path. His strength is his intelligence and his creativity. He has a great passion for the game and is a great teacher. I am thrilled to have him back here and he brings a lot to the program with his knowledge and having played at a high level."

Byrne is a native of Levittown, N.Y., where he was an All-Long Island Catholic League lacrosse player at Chaminade High School before his graduation in 1982. He and his wife, Dr. Tracy Byrne, a practicing OB/GYN and a 1990 graduate of Notre Dame, are the parents of three children, Rory, Pierre and Brandon.

Head Coach Kevin Corrigan on Gerry Byrne . . .

"Gerry brings great playing experience and great enthusiasm for the game to our program. He loves Notre Dame and has coached here before. He can articulate what this place is about and what the experience is about. He really gets it in terms of what Notre Dame is and what it means to the players. On the field, he made himself into a great player. He is learning how to translate his experience as a player into coaching guys to play at their highest level. I'm thrilled to have Gerry as part of our staff."

Brian Fisher

Assistant Coach
First Season
Rutgers '01

Brian Fisher is entering his first season as an assistant coach for the Notre Dame men's lacrosse team in 2007. Fisher joins the Fighting Irish from Rutgers University, where he had been coaching for the past five seasons.

Fisher was a standout midfielder and faceoff man for the Scarlet Knights for four seasons (1998-2001), is in his fifth season as an assistant coach with the Scarlet Knights. As a coach at Rutgers, he worked extensively with the Scarlet Knight midfielders and was the assistant director of MVP Lacrosse Camps.

"I'm really looking forward to working with Kevin Corrigan because he's had a good track record at Notre Dame," said Fisher when he was hired on in August of 2006. "I'm also thrilled to be coming to such a prestigious university and being able to work with the student-athletes. I think I relate well with the student-athletes because, only being 27 myself and not too far removed from Division I lacrosse, I can relate pretty well with what they are going through. Being a positive person by nature also helps me get along with the guys that I coach."

Fisher was one of the top face-off men in the nation throughout his Rutgers career. He won 268-of-533 (.502) face-offs in his career. In 2001, as the team's face-off specialist, he took 76 percent of the teams face-offs, winning 120-of-232 (.517) of them. He also led the Scarlet Knights with 69 ground balls.

Fisher was awarded the Rutgers Lacrosse Knight Cup in 2001. The Cup goes to the player "who has played the game of lacrosse to the best of his ability, who has, by example, inspired or led his teammates both on and off the field and, who, above all, has consistently demonstrated the qualities of unselfishness and loyalty to his team and Rutgers University." That same season he was named the Rutgers Lacrosse Time Scholar-Athlete.

The Morton, Pa. native also was awarded the 2000 Frederick Fitch Trophy while at Rutgers. The honor is presented to the varsity letterwinner who, through personal effort to develop his lacrosse ability, has shown the greatest improvement during the season.

"Brian has worked and played at Rutgers and has seen a lot during his time there," says Corrigan. "He is a young guy that will bring a great energy to our program. Brian is an extremely hard worker. I am a good friend with Jim Stagnitta, the Rutgers coach, so I know I'm getting a good guy in Brian. He will be well pre-

Head Coach Kevin Corrigan on Brian Fisher . . .

"Brian is a great addition to our program. He is such a hard worker and he gets along great with the guys. He brings a lot of ideas about the ways that we can do things because he's had a good coaching experience with an outstanding Rutgers coaching staff. I've really enjoyed having him here."

Irish Return to NCAA Tournament in 2006

Notre Dame posted 10-5 record and finished in the top-20 once again

The 2006 season for the Notre Dame men's lacrosse team culminated in the program's 11th trip to the NCAA Tournament. After close calls the previous few seasons, the Fighting Irish returned to the postseason for the first time since making it to the national semifinals in 2001.

In the NCAA Tournament, the Irish faced a daunting task as they drew No. 1 and undefeated Virginia in the first round in Charlottesville, Va. Notre Dame would prove to be a tough match-up for the Cavaliers as the eventual national champion escaped with a 14-10 win over the Irish.

For the 14th straight season, the Fighting Irish had players earn All-America honors as senior defenseman D.J. Driscoll was named to the USILA second team and sophomore goaltender Joey Kemp copped honorable mention honors. Driscoll and Kemp were also selected to the all-Great Western Lacrosse League first team along with three of their teammates, Pat Walsh, Brian Hubschmann and senior midfielder Matt Karweck. That marked the fourth time that Notre Dame has placed at least five student-athletes on the all-GWLL first team.

Leading the charge during the '06 campaign were senior attackmen Walsh and Hubschmann, who both tallied 50 points.

Notre Dame concluded the campaign ranked 15th in the final Inside Lacrosse poll and 17th in the USILA rankings. The Irish also had the nation's 12th-best RPI.

The Irish carried a No. 12 ranking into the season-opener against No. 14 Penn State inside the Loftus Sports Center. Two goals apiece from freshmen Peter Christman and Ryan Hoff helped to lead the Irish to an 8-4 victory over the Nittany Lions.

In 2006, Brian Hubschmann posted a team-high 31 goals to go along with 19 assists for a total of 50 points. He shared the team lead in points along with Pat Walsh.

A showdown with eighth-ranked Cornell awaited the Irish next. The game was held at Benedictine University in Lisle, Ill. and it marked the first time that a Division I men's lacrosse game had ever been held in the Chicagoland area. The Big Red prevailed with a 9-6 victory in front of 3,523 fans at The Sports Complex at Benedictine University. Hubschmann and Walsh both notched two goals apiece in the Irish loss.

The third game of the season brought North Carolina to South Bend and unseasonably warm temperatures moved the game outdoors to Moose Krause Stadium. The 12th-ranked Irish jumped out to an 8-3 lead before holding on for a 9-7 victory. Walsh's six-point game was the key as he scored a goal and assisted on five others. Hubschmann would add two goals and two assists for the second straight contest, while his classmates Karweck and Matt Ryan netted two scores as well.

The first true road game of the season had Notre Dame going to Villanova, where the 11th-ranked Irish captured a 10-7 victory over the Wildcats. Hubschmann continued his stellar play by tallying four goals and one assist and Walsh collected two goals and one assist. The Irish held a slim 8-7 lead in the fourth quarter before Duncan Swezey and Lucius Polk connected on goals in the final five minutes to secure the win.

Next up was a trip to Louisville, Ky. to meet Bellarmine for the first time ever. After the Knights knotted the game 1-1, the Irish rattled off four straight goals to take a 5-1 lead en route to an 8-2 victory. Two-goal efforts from Hubschmann, Karweck and Polk helped to spearhead the win.

The Fighting Irish wrapped up their three-game road trip with a journey to fifth-ranked Hofstra. Despite surrendering the first three goals of the contest, the Irish responded with three unanswered scores of their own to tie the game. Notre Dame trailed only 4-3 at halftime before falling 13-5 and move to 4-2 on the season.

A return home brought in two Ivy League schools. Notre Dame defeated Brown 11-5 as Hoff registered the first hat trick of his collegiate career. Karweck also chipped in two goals for No. 11 Notre Dame, while Walsh and Swezey both dished out two assists.

Dartmouth came to Moose Krause Stadium and Notre Dame escaped with an 8-7 decision. The Big Green held a 4-2 lead after the first period before Hubschmann connected on two second-quarter goals to knot the game 4-4 at halftime. Michael Podgajny scored his third goal of the season early in the fourth period to put Notre Dame up 8-6 before Dartmouth struck back just over a minute later. The Fighting Irish defense would hold strong the rest of the way to preserve the victory.

The eighth-ranked Irish opened GWLL play with a trip to Butler on April 8. For the second straight contest, Notre Dame fell behind early yet would rally for a crucial 9-8 win. A 2-0 deficit following the first 15 minutes of play would not rattle the Irish as they evened up the game at three at the half with two goals from Walsh and one from Ryan. The second half would be a back-and-forth affair that saw the Bulldogs score twice in less than two minutes to make it an 8-8 contest with under six minutes left on the clock. Karweck would come through in a big way as he deposited the game-winner with 4:16 remaining to push Notre Dame to 7-2 on the season and 1-0 in conference play.

Senior midfielder Matt Karweck was one of five Fighting Irish players named to the all-Great Western Lacrosse League first team. Joining him with that honor were fellow seniors D.J. Driscoll, Brian Hubschmann and Pat Walsh along with sophomore Joey Kemp.

On the horizon was a crucial two-game trek to Colorado over Easter Weekend. A GWLL showdown between No. 9 Notre Dame and No. 18 Denver would play a key role in determining the league champion. It was a tale of two quarters in the first half as the Pioneers collected all three first period goals, while the Irish came back with three of their own, including two from Hoff, in the second quarter to make it a 3-3 game at the half.

Drew Peters gave Notre Dame a 4-3 advantage early in the second half before Denver would run off four straight tallies and come away with an 8-5 win. The Pioneers would end up running the table in the GWLL and take the league title with a perfect 5-0 mark.

Two days after the game against Denver, the Irish had to look to rebound against the Air Force Academy. The game appeared headed in the right direction as Hubschmann tallied two early goals followed by one from Karweck in the second quarter to put Notre Dame up 3-0. However, the Falcons registered four unanswered to take a 4-3 lead with 14:01 left in the third quarter.

Both teams would trade the next six goals before Air Force grabbed an 8-6 advantage and eventually a 9-8 victory. Hubschmann picked up a hat trick, while Karweck produced two goals and two assists and Walsh also had another solid performance with one goal and four assists.

The two-game skid would come to an end as No. 19 Notre Dame stepped away from conference play and defeated Lehigh 10-7 at Georgetown Prep School in Bethesda, Md. The Fighting Irish overcame a 4-2 second-quarter deficit with four straight tallies. With the score tied 7-7 with just over four minutes remaining in the game, Walsh connected on back-to-back goals before Hubschmann put the icing on the game.

It was a special day for Kemp as he returned to his high school field and posted 10 saves. Leading the offense for the Irish was Walsh's four-goal effort along with a two-goal and two-assist performance by Hubschmann.

The Fighting Irish now had some momentum as they returned home to wrap up the regular season with conference clashes against Ohio State and GWLL newcomer Quinnipiac.

Notre Dame controlled the game early against the Buckeyes and took a 5-1 lead with 5:32 left in the first half. Ohio State cut the deficit in half with two late goals before the stanza was over. Notre Dame put a halt to the Buckeye run with three unanswered tallies, including Hubschmann's third score of the day, in the opening stages of the second half. Walsh netted two second-half goals to complete his hat trick and help the Irish to the 10-8 victory.

With a chance at an NCAA bid still on the line, Notre Dame faced a must-win game against Quinnipiac. The 18th-ranked Irish left no doubt as they defeated the Bobcats 19-7 to conclude the regular season with a 14-10 mark, including a 3-2 record in the GWLL, which was good for second place.

Leading the charge against Quinnipiac was Hubschmann with four goals and two assists, while Podgajny, Hoff and Karweck all registered hat tricks in the win. Walsh also did not disappoint in the last home game of his distinguished Notre Dame career as he collected two goals and four assists. That marked his second six-point game of the season and the 10th time that he has notched at least six points in a game during his Notre Dame career.

After an up-and-down season, Notre Dame still boasted solid NCAA Tournament credentials and the Irish were rewarded with a berth in the postseason. The Irish earned a spot into the field of 16 by claiming the program's first-ever at-large berth. The previous 10 trips were a result of winning the Great Western Lacrosse League (GWLL) or being the top team in the West Region. At-large bids for non-east coast teams have been extremely rare in the 36-year history of the NCAA Division I Men's Lacrosse Championship. Only once has a team west of Chapel Hill, N.C. (University of North Carolina) garnered an at-large berth, prior to this year's selection of the Irish. That was in 1971, when undefeated Air Force earned an invitation.

Notre Dame's bid is also significant as it marked the first time that the GWLL has ever placed two teams into the NCAA Tournament. Denver was the league's automatic qualifier by winning the conference and the Irish became the first-ever at-large berth from the league, which began in 1994.

In the first round of the NCAA Tournament, Virginia jumped out to an early 3-0 lead before the Irish mounted a rally to tie the game 4-4 with 4:18 left in the first half. However, three Virginia goals in the final 2:40 of the stanza would give the hosts a three-goal advantage at halftime.

Virginia tallied two more scores to open up the second half and was on its way to the 14-10 victory. The four-point victory would be the closest margin for the Cavaliers during their four-game postseason run to the NCAA title. It was also their second-closest contest of the entire 2006 campaign.

The Irish concluded the season with the nation's 11th-best scoring defense as they allowed just 7.67 goals per game. Notre Dame also produced the third-best man-down defense figures in the country by allowing only seven goals in 33 chances (0.788). A major reason behind the stellar defensive play was Kemp, who ranked eighth nationally with a 0.596 save percentage in addition to being 12th with a 7.54 goals-against average. Driscoll also anchored the Notre Dame defense and averaged 4.47 groundballs per game, which placed him 26th nationally.

Offensively, Hubschmann and Walsh tied for 20th in the nation by averaging 3.33 points per game. As a team, Notre Dame averaged 9.07 goals per game, which put the Irish in a tie for 29th nationally. Walsh was 11th in NCAA Division I men's lacrosse by averaging 1.87 assists per game, while Hubschmann was tied for 32nd in that same category (1.27) and tied for 22nd in goals per game (2.07).

Sophomore midfielder Taylor Clagett finished the campaign with a .615 (126-205) face-off percentage, which would have ranked him sixth in the country had he not missed four games due to injury. As a result of the games missed, he could not qualify to be an NCAA statistical leader. As a team, the Fighting Irish ranked ninth in face-off percentage with a .566 mark.

During its trip to Denver in 2006, the Notre Dame men's lacrosse team met with a group of area children with cancer and other life-threatening illnesses. The children attended the Irish's practice the night before the showdown with the Pioneers. The Notre Dame players had the opportunity to interact and show the kids some lacrosse techniques. It was a memorable experience for everyone involved.

A Tradition of Excellence in Academics, Spirituality, Athletics

“Early on when I was invited to serve the University of Notre Dame, we talked about the goal of having every one of our varsity athletics teams achieve a top five national ranking – and every day we come closer to making that goal a reality.”

- Dr. Kevin M. White,
Director of Athletics

Since Knute was at the helm, the Department of Athletics has played an undeniable role in Notre Dame's visibility, its unique place in the hearts of those around the world, and – ultimately – its climb to the top ranks of academic institutions.

It is the challenge to continue to play that role, fulfill those lofty goals, reflect its Catholic heritage, educate future world leaders and, particularly, find the means to fund those undertakings that faces Our Lady's University today.

Simply put, we want it all. We want Irish athletics to continue to be a source of revenue for the academy, but we also want to be the home of the model intercollegiate athletics program. We want to be the unsurpassed leader in academic performance and fiscal responsibility. And we want to do it the right way, the Notre Dame way, which demands the highest level of integrity on and off the field.

With the help of the Notre Dame family – alumni, parents and friends – all things are possible.

Notes: For the fifth year in a row, the NCAA Division I Men's Lacrosse Championship will feature 16 teams after the field was expanded from 12 participants in '03. Six conferences – America East Conference, the Eastern College Athletic Conference, the Great Western Lacrosse League, the Ivy League, the Metro Atlantic Athletic Conference, and the Patriot League – will send their champions to the tournament via automatic bids. The other nine spots will be filled with at-large berths, with any of the 57 Division I men's lacrosse programs being eligible, provided they have a .500 or better record having played at least 10 games against other Division I teams.

Four sites, yet to be determined, will play host to eight first-round contests taking place May 12 and 13. Two of the quarterfinal matchups will be played at Princeton University in Princeton, N.J. on May 19 or 20 with the other two to take place at the U.S. Naval Academy in Annapolis, Md. The national semifinals are set for May 26 at M&T Bank Stadium in Baltimore, Md., while the NCAA final will occur in the same venue on May 28. For more information, see www.lax4baltimore.org.

Notes: Notre Dame competed in the Midwest Lacrosse Association from 1981-93, including in the MLA's Great Lakes Conference from 1985-93. During those years, the GLC record is listed first, followed by MLA record. Notre Dame has been a member of the Great Western Lacrosse League since 1994. The rankings are from the season's final United States Intercollegiate Lacrosse Association listing.

National Semifinal Appearance Caps Historic Season For Notre Dame Lacrosse Team

Notre Dame completed a storybook season with its first-ever appearance in the semifinals of the NCAA Men's Lacrosse Championship in 2001. The Irish finished 14-2, establishing new school marks for victories and winning percentage (.875). While the team's success came as a surprise to some in the lacrosse world, head coach Kevin Corrigan was not among them.

Notre Dame began its preparations for the '01 campaign in the fall of 2000 with a quiet sense of confidence. With eight starters and seven of its top eight scorers returning from a team that reached the NCAA quarterfinals in '00 for the second time in six seasons, Corrigan and his staff couldn't help but contemplate the potential for success.

Notre Dame won its first five games of the season and climbed to an all-time high of #2 in the United States Intercollegiate Lacrosse Association (USILA)/STX Poll in mid-March following first-ever back-to-back road wins at seventh-ranked Virginia (11-8) and fifth-ranked Loyola (10-7). The only blemish on the Irish record during the regular season was an 11-10 overtime loss at Hofstra.

Corrigan's squad finished the regular season with a 12-1 record and played as a top-10 team in all but one game during the season. His second straight 10-win campaign marked the first back-to-back double-digit-victory totals since 1991-93, when Irish teams registered three consecutive 10-win seasons. It also marked the sixth time in the program's 21-year history that an Irish team won 10 or more games.

Notre Dame ended with its best-ever ranking, as the Irish finished fourth in the USILA/STX, Brine/360 Lacrosse.com, and Warrior/Inside Lacrosse.com polls. When the NCAA tournament pairings were announced on May 6, the Irish earned the fifth seed in the 12-team NCAA tournament field as Notre Dame played as a seeded team for the first time in its history.

Notre Dame advanced to the national semifinals following a 12-7 win over Bucknell in the first round and its first-ever win over Johns Hopkins, 13-9 in the quarterfinals. Entering its matchup with the Blue Jays, Notre Dame was 0-2 all-time against one of lacrosse's most storied programs.

Although the season ended with a disappointing 12-5 loss to top-seeded and perennial power Syracuse in the semifinals, it was certainly a year of milestones for the Irish lacrosse program. A record five Notre Dame players earned USILA All-America honors. Attackman Tom Glatzel became the school's first first-team selection after having one of the greatest seasons by an Irish lacrosse player. One of five finalists for the Tewaaraton Trophy, awarded to the nation's top player, Glatzel scored 40 goals and dished off 27 assists. His 67 points were the most in a single season since Randy Colley's school-record 74 during the 1995 campaign. Glatzel finished his Irish career as the school's fourth all-time leading scorer, as he registered 106 goals (fourth best) and 61 assists. After scoring just two goals and dishing off one assist during his freshman season, Glatzel averaged 34.6 goals and 20.0 assists in his final three seasons.

Goalie Kirk Howell, a second-team selection, registered a 7.07 goals-against average and .632 save percentage, as he ranked third and fourth nationally in those categories. Howell had the distinction of being one of just four players to serve as a team captain for two seasons. Howell helped Notre Dame establish a single-season mark for goals allowed as the Irish gave up just 6.94 per game, eclipsing the old mark of 7.23 established during the 1996 season. Midfielder Steve Bishko was a third-team honoree, as he finished with 19 goals and five assists and led the team with 69 ground balls.

Defenseman Mike Adams earned honorable mention honors, as did attackman David Ulrich who led the team in assists all four years and closed out his Irish career as the school's career assist leader. One of just two players to lead Notre Dame in scoring all four years, Ulrich finished with 110 assists, an average of nearly 28 per season. In addition to earning honorable mention All-America honors, Adams became the first first-team CoSIDA Academic All-American in the program's history.

Notre Dame in the NCAA Championship

After inheriting a program that had never made an NCAA appearance in eight years of varsity action, head coach Kevin Corrigan has turned Notre Dame into a staple in the NCAA Division I Men's Lacrosse Championship. The Irish have garnered a total of 10 invitations, making them one of just seven teams to have appeared in 10 or more NCAA tournaments since 1990. Notre Dame holds a 4-10 record in the NAAs, having reached the national semifinals in 2001, as well as the quarterfinals in both 1995 and 2000.

The Irish earned their first-ever berth in the NAAs in 1990, when they traveled to #5 Harvard and dropped a 9-3 decision in the opening round. Notre Dame's first victory came in 1995, when the 15th-ranked Irish upset #5 Duke in Durham, N.C., by a 12-10 score. The Irish nearly pulled off another road upset in the quarterfinals, but eventually lost 14-11 at #4 Maryland. The 2000 tournament saw Notre Dame reach the final eight again, edging #5 Loyola 15-13 in the first round after the Greyhounds had handed the Irish a 12-2 defeat during the regular season. In 2001, Notre Dame made its deepest NCAA run, topping #10 Bucknell (12-7) and then gaining its first-ever win against #3 Johns Hopkins (13-9) to reach the national semifinals, where #2 Syracuse ended the Irish season in a 12-5 affair.

The NCAA Division I Men's Lacrosse Championship began in 1971 (10 years before Notre Dame would field a varsity team) with an eight-team field. The event was expanded to 10 schools in 1986 and added two more the following year. That 12-team format – which rewarded the top four seeds with first-round byes – remained in place until the current 16-team field was adopted in 2003. First-round action takes place at campus sites, with the winners advancing to two pre-determined quarterfinal sites. In 2006, the opening round will be May 13-14, and the quarterfinals – to be played in Stony Brook, N.Y., and Towson, Md. – are slated for May 20-21. The semifinals and final will be contested May 27 and 2 in Philadelphia, Pa.

May 16, 1990/Cambridge, MA

Notre Dame marked its 10th year of varsity lacrosse with its first-ever NCAA tournament appearance. The Irish, after finishing tied for 17th in the United States Intercollegiate Lacrosse Association (USILA) rankings, entered their contest against the fifth-seeded and co-Ivy League champion Harvard Crimson as the 12th seed and owners of the bid reserved for a team from the Midwest.

Behind freshman goalie Chris Parent, who made 11 saves in the contest, Notre Dame, which finished its season with a 9-7 record, played one of its better games, as the Irish defense held Harvard to under 10 goals for only the third time during the '90 campaign. The Irish offense, however, was stymied as coach Kevin Corrigan's squad, which averaged nearly 11 goals throughout the season, was unable to capitalize on numerous scoring opportunities.

Senior co-captain Dave Carey, a native of Sudbury, Mass., led the Irish with two goals in his homecoming. Harvard was paced in the game by Mick Cavuoti's two goals and an assist.

Harvard jumped out to a 6-0 advantage at the end of three quarters, while the Irish tallied all three of their goals in the final 15-minute stanza.

Chris Miller made 14 saves for the hosts in goal, as the Irish also failed to capitalize on five man-up opportunities.

#5 Johns Hopkins 15, Notre Dame 7 May 10, 1992/Baltimore, MD

Making its second NCAA tournament appearance, Notre Dame traveled to Baltimore, Md., to play perennial power Johns Hopkins. The Irish entered the contest winners of nine of their final 10 games of the regular season.

The fifth-seeded Blue Jays got off to a fast start, as Hopkins held a 7-0 half-time advantage. Notre Dame got its offense into gear in the second half, but it wasn't enough as the Blue Jays won the game 15-7.

Johns Hopkins' goalie Scott Giardina, a third-team All-America selection, had 11 saves in the second quarter and finished with 21 for the game. Two-time All-American Adam Wright paced the Blue Jays with four goals in the game.

Randy Colley scored three times to lead the Irish. Ryan Jewell came off the bench to make nine saves in goal.

Notre Dame finished the '92 campaign with a 10-5 record, while Johns Hopkins advanced to the NCAA semifinals before losing to Syracuse.

1993 NCAA Tournament – First Round

#5 Virginia 19, #15 Notre Dame 9 May 15, 1993/Charlottesville, VA

Notre Dame earned its second straight NCAA tournament berth and third in four years, as the Irish traveled to Charlottesville, Va., for a first-round contest against head coach Kevin Corrigan's alma mater, Virginia. The fifth-year Irish mentor, a 1988 graduate, played midfield for the Cavaliers for three years and was an assistant on the Virginia staff for two.

The 15th-ranked Irish entered the contest boasting a school-record 11 wins. Without a senior in the starting lineup, Notre Dame faced its second Atlantic Coast Conference foe of the season. During the regular season, the Irish dropped a 13-7 decision at Duke.

The Cavaliers opened up the contest by scoring seven straight goals and held a 12-2 lead at the half. After halftime, the Irish scored six unanswered goals, including four straight to end the third quarter.

Attackman Randy Colley finished the game with three goals and two assists, while midfielder Will Sutton added two goals and two assists.

Tim Whitely led the Cavaliers with four goals and three assists.

Notre Dame's final 11-3 record ranked as the best in school history in terms of winning percentage at that time.

1994 NCAA Tournament – First Round

#5 Virginia 23, #14 Notre Dame 4 May 14, 1994/Charlottesville, VA

Notre Dame returned to Charlottesville, Va., for the second straight year to face the Virginia Cavaliers in NCAA tournament action. It marked the third consecutive tournament appearance for the Irish and fourth in the school's history.

The 12th-seeded and 14th-ranked Irish entered the game with a 10-1 record, marking the third straight year that Kevin Corrigan's squad had won 10-plus games. The Cavaliers entered the contest ranked and seeded fifth.

Virginia, which jumped out to an early 4-0 lead in the contest, dominated the Irish to post a 23-4 victory. Notre Dame managed to stay close until midway through the second quarter. The Irish trailed 5-2 before Virginia scored six straight goals for an 11-2 halftime lead. In the second half, the Cavaliers outscored Notre Dame 8-1 in the third quarter and 4-1 in the fourth quarter.

Virginia was led by midfielders Greg Traynor and Drew Fox, who had three goals each. Tim Whitely added two goals and three assists.

Irish leading scorer Randy Colley was held to a goal and an assist. Rob Snyder scored twice for Notre Dame.

NCAA Tournament History

1995 NCAA Tournament – First Round

#15 Notre Dame 12, #5 Duke 10

May 13, 1995/Durham, NC

Notre Dame proved the skeptics wrong as the Irish, making their fourth straight NCAA tournament appearance, stunned the lacrosse world with a come-from-behind 12-10 victory at fifth-seeded Duke. It was the biggest win in Notre Dame lacrosse history to date.

After being outscored 57-20 in its first three tournament appearances, Notre Dame had other ideas against the highly-rated Blue Devils, champions of the Atlantic Coast Conference. The win gave credence to the Irish program, which was one of just six teams making their fourth straight trip to the NAAs, and solidified Notre Dame as a bona fide contender and opened up the eyes of those from the East about the quality of play in the West.

For most of the first two quarters, an Irish upset looked improbable as Notre Dame trailed 7-4 at the half. But Notre Dame came back to net seven unanswered goals as senior attackman Randy Colley scored three of his game-high five goals in the third quarter. The Irish shut out the Blue Devils in the third, 4-0.

Tim Kearney tied the score at 7-7 with 6:33 left in the third before Colley's goal at 5:22 gave Notre Dame a lead it would never relinquish. The Irish increased their lead to 11-7 on two goals by Colley and scores by Kearney and Brian Erickson.

Alex Whitten ended the seven-goal Irish scoring blitz with 8:25 left in the game. It marked Duke's first goal since one with 1:29 left before the half. Kearney countered for Notre Dame with 4:41 left off an assist from Will Sutton, one of four the senior midfielder would have on the day. Scott Harrison scored the final goal of the game for Duke with 2:53 left in the contest.

Freshman Alex Cade made 18 saves in goal, one shy of his career best. The victory moved the Irish into the quarterfinals and a matchup with another ACC foe, Maryland.

1995 NCAA Tournament – Quarterfinals

#15 Maryland 14, #4 Notre Dame 11

May 20, 1995/College Park, MD

Notre Dame nearly pulled off its second straight upset, but this time the bid fell short as Maryland withstood a dramatic Irish rally and escaped with a 14-11 victory.

Trailing 10-2 with 5:59 left in the third quarter, Notre Dame pulled to within 11-10 with 9:48 remaining in the contest on Randy Colley's third goal. The Terrapins responded with three goals over the next four minutes to secure the victory.

Maryland led 4-0 after one quarter. The Irish got on the scoreboard with 10:41 remaining when Brian Erickson tossed in the first of his two goals. Maryland closed out the second quarter by scoring four goals for an 8-1 half-time lead.

Maryland went up 9-1 to start the third quarter before Will Sutton broke the Terrapin string of five unanswered goals with 7:08 left. Matt Bordi gave Maryland a 10-2 advantage with 5:59 remaining in the third quarter.

Todd Bialous started the six-goal Irish blitz that included three tallies in the final 4:07 of the third quarter. Colley scored back-to-back goals just before the end of the period.

The Irish scored three goals in the first 3:50 of the fourth quarter as Tim Kearney, Keenan, and Erickson all tallied in the fourth-quarter spurt. Matt Hahn gave Maryland an 11-8 lead before Kearney and Colley had consecutive scores to cut the deficit to 11-10. Three straight Maryland goals ended the Irish rally, and Burke Hayes netted the game's final score for the 14-11 outcome.

Alex Cade made 15 saves in goal, while Maryland's Brian Dougherty had 16 stops.

Notre Dame finished its dramatic season with a 9-5 record, as the Irish gained the respect of the lacrosse community.

1996 NCAA Tournament – First Round

#9 Johns Hopkins 12, #11 Notre Dame 7 May 12, 1995/Annapolis, MD

Looking to once again pull off a first-round upset in making its fifth straight NCAA tournament appearance, 11th-ranked Notre Dame played ninth-ranked Johns Hopkins for the second time in its seven NCAA contests. Their matchup with the Blue Jays marked the seventh top-20 opponent the Irish faced during the '96 campaign.

After holding a narrow 7-6 advantage after three periods, Johns Hopkins outscored Notre Dame 5-1 in the final 15-minute stanza for the 12-7 victory. Sophomore Jimmy Keenan, Notre Dame's top scorer, led the Irish with a goal and a career-high four assists, while second-leading scorer Chris Dusseau had two goals. He finished with a team-high 29 goals on the year, which established a Notre Dame freshman mark for goals in a season.

Sophomore goalkeeper Alex Cade tied his career high with 21 saves in the game, which marked the third time during the season that he had 20-plus saves in a contest.

Milford Marchant scored a personal-best four goals in the game, while Brian Evans and Dan Denihan each added two for the Blue Jays in the victory.

Evans gave Johns Hopkins an early 1-0 lead with 8:25 remaining in the first quarter, but back-to-back goals by Keenan and Dusseau put the Irish up 2-1 with 2:11 remaining. The first quarter ended with the teams deadlocked at 2-2.

Notre Dame took a 3-2 lead with 14:27 left as Tony Reid scored off a Will DeRiso assist. Johns Hopkins went up 4-3 on goals by Marchant and Matt O'Kelly. Dusseau, off a Keenan feed, tied the score at 4-4, but Marchant netted his second goal of the quarter 34 seconds later to give the Blue Jays a 5-4 lead at the half.

Both teams scored twice in the third quarter as Notre Dame trailed 7-6 after DeRiso's goal with 45 seconds remaining. Johns Hopkins tallied five unanswered goals in the fourth quarter. Burke Hayes had the lone Irish goal of the period with 29 seconds left in the contest.

#6 Loyola 21, #9 Notre Dame 5 May 11, 1997/Towson, MD

Notre Dame's matchup with Loyola in the first round of the 1997 NCAA tournament was the second of the season between the two teams. It was a highly-anticipated meeting between two evenly-matched squads who had played to a one-goal decision early in the year.

The contest provided the Irish, who were making their sixth straight NCAA appearance, an opportunity to avenge a 12-11 loss on March 15. That game, which saw Notre Dame overcome a four-goal first-quarter deficit, saw-sawed back and forth from the second quarter on. The outcome was decided in the final 2:45, when the Greyhounds produced the winning goal.

The second meeting produced a far different result, as Loyola ousted Notre Dame from the tournament with a 21-5 victory. It was the second-worst loss suffered by the Irish in eight tournament games.

After junior Ned Webster tied the game at 1-1 with 13:11 left in the first quarter, Loyola scored six unanswered goals en route to an 11-3 halftime lead.

Webster scored two goals in the contest for the Irish. Also scoring in the game were Stedman Oakey, Adam Sargent, and Brad Owen. For Sargent, it marked the first goal of his collegiate career.

Goalkeeper Alex Cade gave up 20 goals (the most of his career) and made nine saves in the game.

Loyola, which improved to 7-0 against Notre Dame, was led by Gewas Schindler's seven goals and one assist.

1999 NCAA Tournament – First Round

#5 Georgetown 14, #14 Notre Dame 10
May 16, 1999/Towson, MD

After a one-year hiatus, Notre Dame made a return to the NCAA tournament for the seventh time in eight years. The 14th-ranked Irish faced a first-round matchup with fifth-seeded Georgetown in Towson, Md.

Earlier in the season the two teams squared off at Notre Dame, with the Hoyas coming away with a 12-8 victory after the Irish had built an early 4-0 lead. In the NCAAs, the final outcome was nearly identical, as Georgetown earned a 14-10 victory.

The Hoyas, eventual NCAA tournament semifinalists, used three unanswered goals in the third period to break a 7-7 halftime deadlock.

Senior Chris Dusseau, who closed out his Irish career with two goals in the contest, opened by tallying Notre Dame's first two scores. Georgetown jumped out to a 4-2 advantage only to have senior Brad Owen tie the game with the first of his three scores with 14:40 remaining until the break.

The two teams exchanged goals throughout most of the second period with David Ulrich and John Flandina knotting the score at 5-5 and 6-6, respectively. Owen notched his second goal of the game 33 seconds before intermission to tie the score for the sixth and final time.

Georgetown scored the first four goals of the second half and held Notre Dame scoreless for the entire third quarter. Owen's third goal of the game finally put the Irish on the scoreboard for the first time in the second half, with 10:45 remaining in the final quarter. Tom Glatzel scored two of Notre Dame's three fourth-quarter goals.

Goalie Kirk Howell finished with 13 saves in the game. The 14 goals scored by the Hoyas were the most given up by Notre Dame in 1999.

Notre Dame finished the campaign with an 8-6 record.

2000 NCAA Tournament – First Round

#13 Notre Dame 15, #5 Loyola 13
May 14, 2000/Baltimore, MD

The Notre Dame men's lacrosse team returned to the NCAA tournament for the second straight year and eighth time in nine seasons in 2000. And for the second time in school history, the 13th-ranked Irish advanced to the quarterfinals, this time with a first-round upset of fifth-seeded Loyola 15-13.

Notre Dame's victory proved just as stunning as the one five years earlier, when the Irish earned a 12-10 decision over Duke. While the win gave Notre Dame its second NCAA tournament victory, it also avenged the worst loss of the regular season, when the Irish were beaten 12-2 by the Greyhounds during the regular season. In addition, it marked Notre Dame's first-ever win over Loyola in 11 meetings.

Notre Dame jumped out to an early lead just 46 seconds in the game when junior David Ulrich scored his second career NCAA tournament goal to put the Irish in the lead, 1-0. Loyola answered back when Tim Goettelmann scored the first of his seven goals on the day to tie the game 1-1.

The Irish then ripped off four consecutive goals by different players. Junior Chris Young got the Notre Dame run started, with classmate Tom Glatzel, senior Stedman Oakey, and sophomore John Flandina following, to open up the contest as the scoring burst gave Notre Dame a lead it would never relinquish.

Ending the first half with a 10-5 advantage over the Greyhounds, the Irish dominated the play on the field. Loyola would make a run at the end of the game, but the Irish defense and senior goaltender Kirk Howell, who had 13 saves in the game, would enable the Irish to hold their lead.

Loyola's Gunnar Goettelmann, Tim Goettelmann, Bobby Horsey, and Mike Battista combined to score eight goals in the final 20 minutes of the game to close the gap. Loyola took 15 shots in the fourth period, but Howell, who had five saves in the quarter, and the Irish defense kept the Irish lead intact.

Eleven different players scored for the Irish on the day, helping to solve the Greyhound defense that only allowed two goals in the first meeting. The Irish were led by Glatzel's four goals and three assists.

2000 NCAA Tournament – Quarterfinals

#4 Johns Hopkins 15, #13 Notre Dame 11
May 21, 2000/Baltimore, MD

After an upset win over fifth-ranked Loyola, the Irish put their best efforts up against fourth-seeded Johns Hopkins in the quarterfinal round of the NCAA tournament. The Blue Jays, with a strong offensive attack and playing on their home field, proved to be a tough second-round matchup for the Irish, who were bidding for their first appearance in the national semifinals.

Dan Denihan led the Johns Hopkins attack with four goals and four assists, as the fourth-seeded Blue Jays posted a 15-11 victory over the Irish, who closed out the campaign with a 10-4 record. The loss snapped a seven-game winning streak for the Irish, as Notre Dame posted its fourth 10-win season during head coach Kevin Corrigan's tenure.

Leading 7-6 with 5:10 to play in the second quarter, Denihan and Bobby Benson scored three goals each to key an 8-2 run that saw the Blue Jays pull out to an insurmountable 15-8 lead with 3:50 remaining in the third quarter. Todd Ulrich scored two of his team-high three markers in the fourth quarter, as Notre Dame held Hopkins scoreless and provided the final four-goal margin.

ND jumped out to a 3-2 advantage with 1:15 left in the first quarter when Chris Young scored on David Ulrich's second assist of the game. Johns Hopkins responded with a 5-0 run, thanks in part to two goals from Conor Denihan, to take a 7-3 advantage. Jon Harvey, one of four multiple-goal scorers for the Irish, then closed a 3-0 Notre Dame run that reduced the lead to 7-6 midway through the second quarter, setting the stage for the Blue Jays' game-clinching spurt as Johns Hopkins outscored the Irish 7-2 in the decisive third period.

2001 NCAA Tournament – First Round

#4 Notre Dame 12, #10 Bucknell 7
May 13, 2001/West Point, NY

Playing as a seeded team in the NCAA tournament for the first time in the 21-year history of its program, the fifth-seeded Irish beat Bucknell 12-7 in the first-ever meeting between the schools. With the win, Notre Dame advanced to the quarterfinal round of the NCAA championship for the second consecutive season and third time in seven years.

Four players scored multiple goals for the Irish, as Notre Dame added to its record-setting season with its 13th win of the year and eighth straight victory. The eight-game winning streak matched its longest since the 1994 campaign. The contest was close for the first 18 minutes until John Flandina's early second-period goal gave the Irish a 3-2 advantage and began a streak of six consecutive goals by six different players.

After a tightly-played first quarter featuring just one goal by each team, the Irish and Bison traded scores early in the second period before Notre Dame's six-goal run. Leading 8-2 just 39 seconds into the third period, the Irish allowed three Bison goals in the third quarter, as Notre Dame held a 9-5 advantage entering the final stanza.

The Irish opened the fourth quarter by scoring three straight goals, including a pair by senior attackman Jon Harvey.

Eight different players scored for the fourth-ranked Irish, who were led by four seniors notching two goals each. In addition to Harvey scoring a pair, David Ulrich, Chris Young, and Steve Bishko also added two scores each. Tom Glatzel registered a goal and dished off a game-high four assists, while goalie Kirk Howell came up with eight saves in goal.

Wes Fletch scored three goals to lead the Bison in their first-ever NCAA tournament appearance.

NCAA Tournament History

2001 NCAA Tournament – Quarterfinals

#4 Notre Dame 13, #3 Johns Hopkins 9
May 20, 2001/College Park, MD

Notre Dame advanced to its first-ever national semifinal with a 13-9 win over fourth-seeded Johns Hopkins. The Irish scored five straight fourth-period goals in a 5:21 span over the final six-and-a-half minutes of the game to snap an 8-8 tie on the way to the first quarterfinal victory in school history and ninth straight win (tying a school record).

The win also marked Notre Dame's first win over Johns Hopkins in four all-time contests – all in the NCAA tournament – and avenged the 2000 quarterfinal loss.

Senior Tom Glatzel paced the Irish with four goals and an assist, while fellow senior Jon Harvey added three goals and junior midfielder John Flandina collected a pair of goals and an assist in the win.

Flandina scored both of his goals in the five-goal flurry, beginning with the go-ahead goal that gave the Irish a 9-8 advantage with 6:29 remaining in the contest, ending a span of more than 10 minutes without a score. Following Flandina's score, Steve Bishko added his first score of the day to give the Irish a 10-8 advantage with 4:02 to play in the game. Flandina netted his second goal of the day off a feed from Todd Ulrich with 2:54 remaining and then Harvey scored Notre Dame's final goal with 58 seconds left to play. Bobby Benson, who led the Blue Jays with three goals, tallied the game's final score with 11 minutes remaining in the contest for the final four-goal margin.

Johns Hopkins scored on its first three shots of the game to take a 3-1 lead in the game just 5:11 into the contest, but the Irish scored four consecutive goals to take a 5-3 lead with 9:50 left in the second quarter. After David Ulrich scored unassisted to cut the lead to 3-2, sophomore middie Travis Wells scored two of Notre Dame's next three goals, marking the first multiple-goal game of his career.

Notre Dame went ahead 4-3 with 47 seconds left in the first period, and then Wells put the Irish up 5-3 with 9:50 left in the second period. The two teams traded goals for the remainder of the first half, as the Irish led 7-5 at the intermission.

Johns Hopkins tied the game less than four minutes into the second half, and then the two teams traded scores in the final three minutes of the third quarter as the third period ended knotted at 8-8. From there, both defenses took over before Flandina's goal with 6:29 remaining.

2001 NCAA Tournament – Semifinals

#2 Syracuse 12, #4 Notre Dame 5
May 26, 2001/Piscataway, NJ

The most successful season in the history of the Notre Dame men's lacrosse program ended in the semifinals of the NCAA Championship, as the Irish fell victim to defending national champion Syracuse 12-5 at Rutgers Stadium in Piscataway, N.J. Coach Kevin Corrigan's squad ended the campaign with a 14-2 mark and set school records for most wins and single-season winning percentage (.875).

The 12 goals allowed and the seven-goal defeat were the largest of the season, while the loss snapped a nine-game winning streak, as the Irish were held to a season-low five goals in the loss.

Senior David Ulrich concluded his Notre Dame career with a goal and two assists to lead the Irish, while Jon Harvey netted two goals in his final collegiate outing.

Notre Dame trailed just 4-2 after the first period, but was outscored 5-1 in the second stanza, as the defense of the Orangemen kept the Irish in check for most of the contest.

Chris Young tallied his lone goal of the game 2:53 into the contest, as the Irish took a 1-0 lead. Syracuse scored four unanswered goals in just over three minutes to take a 4-1 advantage before Harvey scored the first of his two goals with 5:23 remaining in the quarter.

The Orangemen scored the first five goals of the second quarter before the Irish got on the scoreboard on Kyle Frigon's unassisted goal with 1:45 remaining in the second period, as the Orangemen held a 9-3 halftime advantage.

Michael Springer tallied a career-high six goals for Syracuse in the game, as five different players contributed scores. Mike Powell had four assists and Liam Banks added three to lead the Orangemen in that category.

Kirk Howell stopped 14 of Syracuse's 33 shots in the game.

2006 NCAA Tournament – First Round

#1 Virginia 14, #15 Notre Dame 10

May 13, 2006/Charlottesville, VA

A four-goal effort from Matt Ward propelled No. 1 Virginia to a 14-10 victory over No. 15 Notre Dame in the first round of the NCAA Men's Lacrosse Championship at Klockner Stadium. With the win, the Cavaliers move to the quarterfinals of the tournament, while the Fighting Irish end their season with a 10-5 mark overall.

Freshman Ryan Hoff netted his third hat trick of the season for the Irish, while seniors Brian Hubschmann and Matt Karweck chipped in two goals and one assist apiece. Fellow senior Pat Walsh dished out three assists on the day to end his stellar Notre Dame career just two assists shy from tying the program's career mark in that category. Virginia's Ward also collected two assists to complete a game-high five points as did his teammate Danny Glading on two goals and three assists.

Virginia opened up a 3-0 lead by the 6:40 mark of the first quarter on two goals from Matt Ward along with a Steve Giannone tally. The defense of the Cavaliers also hounded the Irish early on by not allowing many good looks in the opening period.

Notre Dame broke through with under a minute left in the first quarter as Hubschmann netted an unassisted man-up goal to make it a 3-1 game at the end of the first 15 minutes of play. Sophomore goaltender Joey Kemp came up with some huge saves early to keep the Irish in the contest. The sophomore collected a season-high 20 saves on the day.

The Cavaliers regained a three-goal advantage early in the second quarter as Kyle Dixon found the back of the net with just 28 seconds elapsed in the period. When it looked as though Virginia might break the game open, Notre Dame took control of the tempo en route to a 3-0 run to knot the game at 4-4 with 4:18 remaining in the half.

Freshman Peter Christman took a feed from Karweck to slice the deficit to 4-2 with 10:55 left in the second. After a couple unsuccessful attempts to make it a one-goal game, Bill Liva finally capitalized for the Fighting Irish as he controlled a rebound and sent it in with 4:33 left. Notre Dame's Taylor Clagett won the ensuing faceoff and D.J. Driscoll picked up the groundball and found Hubschmann, who sent it in to make it a 4-4 contest.

Virginia soon regained the momentum as the Cavaliers went on a 3-0 run to end the first half and take a 7-4 lead into the locker room. Danny Glading, Garrett Billings and Matt Poskay notched the Virginia goals in that span.

The Cavaliers extended their surge into the second half with scores from Dixon and Ward to up the lead to 9-4 at the 11:36 mark. The Irish kept on fighting with back-to-back goals from Hoff, with Walsh collecting the assist on both tallies.

With the score 9-6 midway through the third period, the Cavaliers rattled off three goals in-a-row in less than five minutes to claim their largest lead of the contest at 12-6. Notre Dame once again struck back with a man-up goal from Karweck on an assist from Walsh to close out the quarter with Virginia leading 12-7.

The Irish would outscore the Cavaliers 3-2 in the fourth quarter yet it would not be enough as Virginia captured the 14-10 win and a berth in the quarterfinals of the NCAA Men's Lacrosse Championship next weekend. Scoring for Notre Dame in the final period was Karweck, Liva and Hoff.

Virginia held a 50-34 advantage in shots, while Notre Dame won the face-off battle as Clagett went 16-28. The Irish also converted on three of five extra-man opportunities. Virginia's Kip Turner made 10 saves on the day.

The final margin was the second-closest for top-ranked Virginia on the season and its closest contest at home.

Byron V. Kanaley

Byron V. Kanaley Award

The Byron V. Kanaley Award is the most prestigious honor awarded to a Notre Dame student-athlete. It has been presented each year since 1927 at commencement exercises and honors senior monogram athletes who have been exemplary as students and leaders. The award is selected by the Faculty Board on Athletics and is named in honor of a 1904 Notre Dame graduate who was a member of the Irish baseball team as an undergraduate. Kanaley went on to a successful banking career in Chicago and served the University in the Alumni Association and as a lay trustee from 1915 until his death in 1960. Robert Williamson was the recipient in 1993 and is the lone Notre Dame lacrosse player to win the Kanaley Award.

After competing in the Midwest Lacrosse Association from 1981-93, specifically in the MLA's Great Lakes Conference from 1985-93, Notre Dame became one of the charter members of the Great Western Lacrosse League in 1994, along with Air Force, Ohio State, and Michigan State. Butler University joined the GWLL in 1995, but the conference lost a member when MSU discontinued its lacrosse program following the '96 season. In 1999, Denver became a league member, with Fairfield joining the following season. The Stags left the league following the 2005 season and were replaced by Quinnipiac. Bellarmine joins the league for the 2007 campaign. Those seven schools – Air Force, Bellarmine, Butler, Denver, Notre Dame, Ohio State, and Quinnipiac – will comprise the 2007 edition of the GWLL, which has seen five different schools claim titles since 1998. Upon reaching six member institutions in 2000, the conference earned an automatic bid to the NCAA Championship, a 12-team event that was expanded to 16 participants in 2003. The Irish claimed that berth in both 2000 and '01.

Notre Dame has experienced a wealth of success in the GWLL. The Irish have compiled a 47-9 (.839) record, highlighted by claiming at least a share of the conference crown in nine of 12 seasons. The only other schools to have won an outright GWLL championship are Ohio State (1998 & 2004) and Denver (2006). The Buckeyes and Denver were tri-champions with the Irish in 2003, while Notre Dame shared first place with Butler in 1999 and Fairfield in 2002. The Stags and Denver were co-champs in '05.

The Irish have compiled a 26-3 (.897) home record in GWLL games, including 17 consecutive victories in Moose Krause Stadium from 1994-2001. Notre Dame has had a pair of impressive overall GWLL winning streaks, winning 16 consecutive conference tilts from 1994-98 and then running off 13 in a row from 2000-02. Notre Dame also has been frequently recognized in the conference awards, with a total of 52 first-team all-league selections, an average of more than four per season. Additionally, Kevin Corrigan was tabbed the GWLL's top coach in 1994, '96, and 2001, and four different Irish players – attackmen Randy Colley (1995) and David Ulrich (2001) and defensemen Mike Iorio (1994) and Todd Rassas (1998) – have been named GWLL Player of the Year. Attackman Pat Walsh was voted the conference's top rookie in 2003. Walsh (2003-06) and Chris Dusseau (1996-99) hold the distinction of being the only Notre Dame players to earn first-team all-GWLL honors four times.

In 2006, five Irish players garnered all-GWLL first-team honors. Seniors D.J. Driscoll (D), Brian Hubschmann (A), Matt Karweck (M) and Walsh along with sophomore Joey Kemp (G) were selected to the league's first team. Driscoll was named the conference's top defensive player in 2005, while Kemp was voted the GWLL Rookie of the Year that same season.

While a member of the Midwest Lacrosse Association, Notre Dame compiled a 68-32 (.680) record, including a 27-7 (.794) mark in the Great Lakes Conference. The Irish finished first in the MLA's University Division in 1982 (just the second year of Notre Dame's varsity program) before winning an overall MLA title in 1984 and following that up with Great Lakes Conference championships in 1985, '88 (co-champs), '90, '92, and '93.

After dropping a 7-5 decision at Ohio State in the final game of the 1989 season, Notre Dame then proceeded to win 19 consecutive conference games (in both the GLC and the GWLL) until losing 6-5 at #15 Butler in 1998. That streak stands as the longest league winning streak by any school in NCAA Division I lacrosse history.

Rob Simpson, who joined the Irish program in its second year on the varsity level (1982), still remains Notre Dame's all-time leader in career saves, with 623.

Lacrosse originally was played on a limited intramural basis on the Notre Dame campus for a brief period in the late 1890s. The modern team from which the varsity squad takes roots was founded in March 1963, by Jack "Boomer" Tate of Allentown, Pa. In the club team's inaugural season, 1964, the squad compiled a 5-6 record. That team won the first lacrosse game Notre Dame ever played in intercollegiate competition, with an 11-6 victory at Colorado State on March 24, 1964, on a snow-covered field in 12-degree weather.

Having been run strictly by students in its early years, the lacrosse club gained a coach in 1971 when Rich O'Leary, now Notre Dame's director of intramural and club sports, began donating his time to instruct the squad. O'Leary tutored the club for nine seasons (compiling a 79-53 club coaching record) and was named the program's first varsity coach when the club achieved varsity status in May of 1980. The club boasted a 111-91-1 record in its 17 years of play.

To foster the continued interest of the University's lacrosse alumni in the undergraduate program, Tate founded in 1969 the Notre Dame Lacrosse Association. This organization provided a wide range of support functions to the team, including a fall alumni game as a focal point of its activities.

Interest in lacrosse at Notre Dame maintained a remarkably consistent level of student participation from its inception, with a roster of new and experienced players hailing from all over the United States. As a result of the transition to varsity status, the Irish encountered an influx of more experienced players and the talent level continued to increase. A significant number of Notre Dame graduates have continued their lacrosse activities after graduation, through participation in club and professional teams nationwide.

April 19 — Junior Jon Harvey tallies a career-high six goals to lead the Irish to a 17-9 victory over Villanova. The six goals match the Notre Dame record for individual goals in a home game.

April 30 — No. 12 Notre Dame rallies from a four-goal, third-quarter deficit and scores seven unanswered goals to defeat Harvard 11-10. With the victory, the Irish finish the regular season with a six-game winning streak.

May 14 — Notre Dame shocks the lacrosse world with a 15-13 upset of fifth-ranked Loyola. The victory marks Notre Dame's second win in nine NCAA tournament appearances and the first in 11 contests with the Greyhounds, who had won 12-2 in the regular-season meeting.

May 21 — The Irish fall just short of a second consecutive upset, as they lose 15-11 to fourth-ranked Johns Hopkins in the NCAA quarterfinals. Notre Dame finishes the season with a 10-4 record.

May 30 — David Ulrich and Tom Glatzel, Notre Dame's top two scorers during the 2000 season, are named to the United States Intercollegiate Lacrosse Association (USILA) honorable-mention All-America team.

June 15 — Captain Steve Fiamingo becomes Notre Dame's second CoSIDA Academic All-American. He earns second-team honors in the men's spring at-large program.

March 9 — Notre Dame, ranked seventh nationally after starting the season 11th in the preseason poll, improves to 3-0 for the first time since the 1993 campaign with a 9-4 win at 18th-ranked Rutgers. Tom Glatzel tied his career-high with five goals in the game, including four in the first half, as the Irish rush to a 6-0 halftime advantage.

March 14 — The sixth-ranked Irish improve to 4-0 for just the second time in the 21-year existence of the program with a come-from-behind victory over Virginia in Charlottesville. John Flandina tallies a career-high four goals. The win marks the first for a Notre Dame team over the Cavaliers. In addition, it is the first win for Irish head coach Kevin Corrigan over his alma mater in his 15-year coaching tenure.

March 18 — Notre Dame records its fourth win over a nationally-ranked opponent and its second straight over a top-10 team, as the Irish defeat fifth-ranked Loyola. Tom Glatzel has a game-high four goals, as Kevin Corrigan's squad posts its second consecutive win over the Greyhounds and first-ever on Loyola's home field.

March 19 — Following its 5-0 start and back-to-back wins over Virginia and Loyola, Notre Dame climbs to an all-time high of #2 in the USILA rankings.

March 24 — Notre Dame loses for the first time in 2001, as the Irish drop an 11-10 overtime decision at Hofstra in what would end up being their only loss during the regular season. Todd Ulrich, who scored three goals in the contest, sent the game into overtime with 10 seconds remaining in regulation, as the Irish fought back from a 9-6 third-quarter deficit.

April 14 — The sixth-ranked Irish score four unanswered goals in the final 5:18 of the contest to defeat Army 17-13, as Notre Dame records its second-best 10-game start in school history with a 9-1 mark. Devin Ryan scored a career-high four goals to lead the Irish to the win and their second-largest goal-scoring output of the season.

April 18 — Notre Dame matches its best 11-game start in school history and improves to 10-1 with a 12-3 win over Butler. David Ulrich becomes the school's career assist leader, as he finishes with three goals and four assists.

April 22 — Notre Dame clinches its third straight Great Western Lacrosse League title with a 12-5 win over Fairfield, as the Irish improve to 11-1 for the best 12-game start in school history.

April 28 — The third-ranked Irish cruise to their school-record 12th victory of the season, as Notre Dame concludes the 2001 regular season with a 12-1 record. Seniors Tom Glatzel and Chris Young combine for seven goals and eight assists, as coach Kevin Corrigan's squad records its largest margin of victory on the season, 16-4 vs. Harvard.

May 6 — When the pairings for the NCAA tournament are announced, Notre Dame earns its 10th appearance in the championship and first-ever seed — No. 5.

May 13 — Notre Dame defeats 10th-ranked Bucknell 12-7 in the first round of the NCAA tournament at Michie Stadium in West Point, N.Y. With the win, the Irish advance to the NCAA quarterfinals for the second straight year and third time in school history.

May 20 — Notre Dame reaches the NCAA semifinals for the first time in school history, as the Irish record their first-ever win over fourth-seeded Johns Hopkins at the University of Maryland's Byrd Stadium. Corrigan's squad scored five consecutive fourth-period goals in a span of 5:21 to snap an 8-8 tie on the way to a 13-9 win. Tom Glatzel paces the Irish with four goals and an assist.

May 20 — Notre Dame's most successful campaign in school history comes to a close, as the Irish drop a 12-5 decision to Syracuse in Piscataway, N.J., in their first-ever national semifinal appearance. The game is televised live on ESPN.

May 22 — A record five Notre Dame players earn All-America honors, highlighted by Tom Glatzel's selection to the first team, as he becomes the first Irish player in school history to earn first-team accolades. Goalie Kirk Howell earns second-team honors, while Steve Bishko is named to the third team. David Ulrich and Mike Adams are honorable-mention selections.

May 24 — Tom Glatzel is named a finalist for the first annual Tewaaraton Trophy, awarded to the top collegiate player, after leading the Irish with 40 goals and 27 assists.

June 14 — Mike Adams becomes the program's first first-team CoSIDA Academic All-American and third Academic All-American since 1997.

March 2 — Notre Dame suffers a 7-6 loss at Pennsylvania to begin the season 0-2 for the first time since the 1995 campaign.

March 12 & 16 — Notre Dame plays two top-four teams in the span of four days. The Irish lose a 7-5 heartbreaker at No. 4 Virginia and then drop a 7-6 double-overtime decision vs. #3 Loyola at Moose Krause Stadium.

April 7 — Coach Kevin Corrigan's squad posts its third straight GWLL road win with a 12-8 victory at Butler. Dan Berger tallies three goals in the contest to lead the Irish.

April 21 — The Irish rally for four goals in the final 5:58 of the contest but see their comeback bid fall short in dropping an 11-10 decision to Fairfield in the the GWLL matchup which determined the conference's representative in the 2002 NCAA Tournament.

May 4 — Notre Dame closes out the season with a 7-3 win at home against Ohio State to earn a share of the GWLL championship, its fourth crown in as many seasons.

May 28 — A.J. Wright becomes the fourth Irish defenseman to earn All-America honors, as he is selected USILA/STX honorable-mention Scholar All-Americans.

May 28 — Chad DeBolt and A.J. Wright are named USILA Scholar All-Americans.

2003

March 8 — Notre Dame improves to 3-0 with its third straight win over a ranked opponent, as the 11th-ranked Irish defeat No. 13 North Carolina 10-8 in Chapel Hill, N.C. It is the first win for an Irish team over the Tar Heels in three meetings between the two schools. Matt Howell scores four goals and dishes off an assist in the victory.

March 21 — Despite a five-goal performance from Dan Berger, No. 11 Notre Dame loses a 9-8 heartbreaker to Hofstra in Hempstead, N.Y. The contest marks the sixth consecutive outing for the Irish against a ranked opponent, as Notre Dame falls to 3-3 on the season.

April 10 — Notre Dame holds Butler scoreless until the 1:50 mark of the third quarter in its 9-2 victory.

April 19 — Notre Dame holds an opponent to four goals or fewer for the fourth consecutive game with a 14-4 victory over Fairfield to finish with a 4-1 mark in Great Western Lacrosse League play. The Irish share the conference title with Denver and Ohio State, but the Buckeyes earn the league's automatic berth into the NCAA tournament based on tie-breaker policy.

May 9 — Freshman Pat Walsh is named the Great Western Lacrosse League Newcomer of the Year and earns all-GWLL first-team honors. He is among seven Irish players to garner all-league accolades. Walsh's 52 points (20 G, 32 A) are the most ever by a Notre Dame freshman and are tops among all Division I freshmen in 2003. His 32 assists tie the school's single-season record.

May 26 — Pat Walsh is named to the STX/United States Intercollegiate Lacrosse Association (USILA) honorable-mention All-America and becomes the first Notre Dame player to cop All-America accolades as a freshman.

July 5 — Pat Walsh scores four goals and dishes off three assists in a 19-10 victory over Canada to lead the United States to the 2003 Under-19 Men's Lacrosse World Championship in Towson, Md. He scores 13 goals and dishes off eight assists in six games, as the U.S. squad finishes with a 6-0 mark.

2004

February 29 — Six players score multiple times, and Notre Dame goes 6-7 on extra-man opportunities in opening the season with a 17-7 home win against Penn State. The victory allows the Irish to debut at eighth in the USILA rankings and then move up to fifth after an idle week, becoming just the second Notre Dame team to crack the top five.

In his final season, Kirk Howell went 14-2 with a 7.07 goals-against average (both team records) in 2001 to be named a second-team All-American by the United States Intercollegiate Lacrosse Association. He was one of five Irish players to earn All-America accolades that year.

March 11 — In its first-ever trip to the Carrier Dome, #5 Notre Dame cannot hold on to a 10-7 second-half lead, as #3 Syracuse rallies for a 19-13 victory.

March 31 — The Irish go up 3-0 and then hold a 7-3 advantage late in the third period at Moose Krause Stadium in what would turn out to be the championship game of the Great Western Lacrosse League, but #17 Ohio State used a late surge to claim a 9-8 win. Irish middie Brian Hubschmann scored with 28 seconds remaining to tie the score 8-8, but Ben Wolff netted the game winner with just 12 seconds to go.

April 4 & 9 — Notre Dame posts the top back-to-back defensive performances in school history, with a 10-3 home win vs. Dartmouth (two Big Green goals came in the final 4:00 with Irish second-line goalie in) and a 12-2 road triumph against Air Force.

April 27 — Sophomore attackman Pat Walsh is named one of 15 nominees for the 2004 Tewaaraton Trophy, awarded to the top player in college lacrosse. He joins 2001 graduate Tom Glatzel as the second Irish player ever to be so honored.

May 1 — Notre Dame holds six different leads and gets a goal from Brian Giordano to go up 8-7 with 1:23 remaining, but #3 Maryland strikes back, tying the game with 19 seconds left in regulation. The Terps, who had led just one time for 1:23 up to that point, then got a goal from Brendan Healey 19 seconds into the second overtime to clinch a 9-8 win and deny the Irish a win that would have given them a berth in the NCAA Championship. Nine days later, the NCAA draw is announced, and Notre Dame is left out, despite being ranked 11th by Inside Lacrosse and 12th by the USILA. The Irish finish the season second in the nation in scoring offense (12.50 per game).

June 2 — Pat Walsh becomes just the second attackman in Notre Dame history to be named to one of the STX/United States Intercollegiate Lacrosse Association (USILA) All-America teams, earning third-team honors. It marks the 12th consecutive season an Irish player has earned All-America accolades from the USILA.

February 27 — Notre Dame held #21 Penn State scoreless in the final 25 minutes, tallying six unanswered goals en route to a 14-6 season-opening triumph. The Irish, who got hat tricks from all three of their starting attackmen (Pat Walsh, Matt Karweck, Jim Morrison), turned in their largest margin of victory ever in a road game versus a nationally-ranked opponent and began the season with a win for the fifth time in six years.

March 13 — No. 14 Notre Dame used a dominating first quarter and an outstanding starting debut from freshman goaltender Joey Kemp for a 9-7 victory against #10 North Carolina in front of a crowd of 7,182 in The First 4 invitational at the Home Depot Center in Carson, Calif.

March 19 — Notre Dame scored the game's first 12 goals and went on to a dominating 22-6 victory over Butler in the Loftus Sports Center in front of a crowd of 1,089 in the Great Western Lacrosse League opener for both teams. Among the offensive stars for the Irish were junior attackman Matt Karweck who missed the school record for points in a game by one (5 G, 3 A), junior All-American attackman Pat Walsh, who had three goals and three assists, and senior co-captain attackman Jim Morrison, who became the first Notre Dame player ever to begin a season with four consecutive hat tricks (also one assist).

March 26 — Pat Walsh scored his sixth goal of the game to hand #9 Notre Dame a 9-8 double-overtime victory against #13 Hofstra. The Irish led nearly the entire game - going up by as many as four - but saw the Pride score twice in the final two minutes to force extra sessions.

March 28 — The Irish start the season 5-1 with a road victory over Villanova (11-7) - snapping the Wildcats' 14-game home winning streak - and rise to sixth in the Inside Lacrosse poll and ninth in the USILA rankings.

April 17 — Greg Downing scored with 2.9 seconds remaining to hand 20th-ranked Fairfield a 12-11 victory over #14 Notre Dame. The Irish led by as many as four goals (8-4 and 9-5), but allowed seven scores in the final 16 minutes to drop their penultimate game of the regular season. Fairfield tied its program record with its seventh consecutive victory and went on to win a share of the 2005 GWLL title and make the NCAAAs.

April 25 — For the second year in a row, junior attackman Pat Walsh was listed among the 16 nominees for the Tewaaraton Trophy, which is awarded to the top player in college lacrosse. He is one of six players to be among the nominees for the award in each of the last two seasons.

May 8 — For the third straight year, Notre Dame barely missed receiving an at-large bid to the 16-team NCAA Tournament after being ranked in the top 10 earlier in the season. The Irish finish with a 7-4 record overall and 3-2 in the GWLL, which placed the Irish third. Three of Notre Dame's four losses on the season came by just a single goal against nationally-ranked opponents.

May 24 — Junior D.J. Driscoll was named Defensive Player of the Year and goaltender Joey Kemp was tabbed Rookie of the Year when the Great Western Lacrosse League (GWLL) annual awards, determined by voting of the conference's head coaches were announced. Driscoll was joined on the all-GWLL first team by junior attackman Pat Walsh, while Kemp, senior attackman Jim Morrison, and junior midfielder Matt Karweck earned second-team accolades. Kemp led the nation in save percentage (.652), and ranked 18th nationally in goals-against average (8.36).

June 1 — A pair of Notre Dame juniors - defenseman D.J. Driscoll and attackman Pat Walsh - were both named honorable mention All-America by the United States Intercollegiate Lacrosse Association (USILA). Walsh became the fourth Irish player ever to earn USILA accolades on three occasions, though he was the only one of 16 nominees for the Tewaaraton Trophy (awarded to the nation's top player) who was left off the three All-America teams. It marked the 13th year in a row that at least one Notre Dame competitor was recognized by the USILA.

February 26 — No. 12 Notre Dame opened the season with an 8-4 victory over No. 14 Penn State inside the Loftus Sports Center. It marked the fourth straight season in which the Irish downed the Nittany Lions in the season-opener.

March 4 — Notre Dame and Cornell played in front of 3,523 fans at Benedictine University in Lisle, Ill. It marked the first NCAA Division I men's lacrosse game in the Chicagoland area. The eighth-ranked Big Red prevailed with a 9-6 victory over the 12th-ranked Fighting Irish.

April 3 — The Irish reached as high as No. 8 in the USILA/STX rankings following wins over Brown (11-5) and Dartmouth (8-7). Notre Dame would then match a season-best win streak of three games by downing Butler. The Fighting Irish won three straight contests on three occasions during the season.

May 7 — For the 11th time in the history of the program, Notre Dame earned a berth into the NCAA Tournament. It was the first appearance for the Irish since the 2001 season, when they advanced to the national semifinals. At-large bids for non-east coast teams have been extremely rare in the 36-year history of the NCAA Division I Men's Lacrosse Championship. Only once has a team west of Chapel Hill, N.C. (University of North Carolina) garnered an at-large berth, prior to this year's selection of the Irish. That was in 1971, when undefeated Air Force earned an invitation. Notre Dame's bid is also significant as it marked the first time that the GWLL has ever placed two teams into the NCAA Tournament. Denver was the league's automatic qualifier by winning the conference and the Irish become the first-ever at-large berth from the league, which began in 1994.

May 11 — Notre Dame landed a total of five players on the All-Great Western Lacrosse First Team. Seniors D.J. Driscoll, Brian Hubschmann, Matt Karweck and Pat Walsh along with sophomore Joey Kemp all took home first-team accolades from the conference. The five first-team members were the most of any of the league's six schools, with Denver being second with four. This marked the fourth time that Notre Dame has placed at least five student-athletes on the all-GWLL first team. The Fighting Irish put a school-record seven on the list during the 2001 season in which the team made its first-ever trip to the Final Four. Notre Dame had six on the team in 1997 and five in 1995.

May 13 — Notre Dame fell to eventual NCAA champion Virginia 14-10 in the first round of the NCAA Tournament. The four-goal difference marked the Cavaliers closest margin of victory in the tournament. The final margin was the second closest for Virginia during its undefeated campaign and its closest contest at home.

May 30 — Two Notre Dame student-athletes garnered All-America recognition. Senior defender D.J. Driscoll was named to the United States Intercollegiate Lacrosse Association (USILA) All-America second team and sophomore goaltender Joey Kemp was an honorable mention All-America selection. The Notre Dame men's lacrosse program has now had at least one student-athlete claim All-America honors in every season dating back to 1993, a string of 14 years. This marked the ninth time that two or more Irish players have garnered All-America accolades from the USILA in the same season.

June 1 — Seniors D.J. Driscoll and Pat Walsh were selected in the 2006 Major League Lacrosse Draft. Driscoll, a defenseman, was the first-ever draft pick of the expansion Los Angeles Riptide as he was chosen in the second round with the 11th pick overall. The Long Island Lizards selected Walsh, an attackman, in the fourth round with the 34th pick overall.

In 2006, Notre Dame defenseman D.J. Driscoll earned All-America and all-Great Western Lacrosse League honors along with being selected in June's Major League Lacrosse Draft.

Number in parentheses to the right of opponent indicates its United States Intercollegiate Lacrosse Association national ranking (or Inside Lacrosse, if first USILA poll has not yet been released) at time of game (1992-present) and number to left is Notre Dame's ranking (1996-present).

+ - indicates conference game
- - indicates Midwest Lacrosse Association game, but not Great Lakes Conference game

Series vs. Opponents

Steve Fiamingo, an Academic All-American, helped Notre Dame top #17 Army in 2000 by a 10-5 score.

Note: Rank column has Notre Dame's USILA (or Inside Lacrosse if game was too early in season for first USILA poll to be released) national ranking at time of game followed by opponent's USILA national ranking at time of game.
* indicates NCAA Tournament

IRISH ON NATIONAL TEAMS

Over the past decade, three Notre Dame players – Mike Iorio ('95), Todd Rassas ('98), and Pat Walsh ('06) – have represented their country by playing on their respective national teams. Each helped Team U.S.A. to an International Lacrosse Federation (ILF) world championship, extending the influence of Irish lacrosse far beyond the borders of the United States.

In the summer of 2003, Walsh, the first freshman All-America honoree in Notre Dame history, played a key role in helping the U.S. continue its streak of dominance in the ILF Under-19 World Championship. After making his way through the national team tryouts, which boasted more than 150 of the nation's top young players, Walsh had four goals and three assists to lead Team U.S.A. in its 19-10 triumph over Canada in the championship game. In six games during the tournament, Walsh had 13 goals and eight assists, including at least two points in each contest.

Todd Rassas, a three-time All-American at Notre Dame, helped the United States to a victory in the 2002 ILF World Championship in Perth, Australia and a silver medal finish in the 2006 tournament in Canada. The 2002 squad defeated rival Canada 18-15 in the title game to secure Team U.S.A.'s sixth consecutive triumph in the ILF World Championship, which is contested every four years. In 2006, Team U.S.A. fell to Canada 15-10 in the championship game.

Mike Iorio, the first three-time All-American in Irish history, earned all-world honors as a member of the United States under-19 team in 1992. Iorio started for the national team on defense, in helping the Americans to a gold medal in the world championship, held at Hofstra University.

Notre Dame's founding can perhaps best be characterized as an outburst of missionary zeal. How else can one describe the action of Father Edward Sorin, the 28-year-old French priest of the Congregation of Holy Cross who — with $310 cash and three log buildings in various stages of disrepair in the middle of the northern Indiana frontier — had the temerity to christen his enterprise the University of Notre Dame du Lac?

Notre Dame at its founding was a name in search of, or perhaps in anticipation of, a university. The wonder is not so much what the University become more than a century and a half later, but that it survived at all in those early years of beginning almost literally from nothing.

In his book, The University of Notre Dame: A Portrait of Its History and Campus, historian Thomas Schlereth of the American studies department has described the odds the University was up against: "Only nine other Catholic colleges existed when Notre Dame was founded, but that number had grown to 51 by 1861. Presently only seven of these antebellum institutions still exist. One historian estimates a mortality rate of approximately 80 percent among Notre Dame's contemporary secular institutions. Yet Notre Dame survived ..."

The University's survival of those early years is a tribute not only to the faith of Father Sorin, but also to his pragmatism and wit. In the beginning, his institution's only admissions requirement was the ability to pay — some payment, at least, and not necessarily in currency or coin; livestock or the services of a tradesman or some other "in-kind" payment also were cheerfully accepted. Nor were admissions limited by religious preference. Father Sorin's mission and inspiration were thoroughly and indisputably Catholic, but from the beginning he made it clear that would-be students of any religious persuasion were welcome; indeed, the fact that Notre Dame's student body eventually would become overwhelmingly Catholic was more a reflection of American culture than of parochialism on the University's part.

Sorin was equally flexible when it came to his University's academic offerings. While a classical collegiate curriculum was established early on, so too were elementary and preparatory programs as well as a manual-labor school, and for several decades the collegiate program never attracted more than a dozen students in any year. As Notre Dame's chronicler, Father Arthur Hope, C.S.C., has written, "If (Sorin) was to begin at all, the head of this new college had to be mightily concerned about frostbite and empty stomachs. The more elusive problems of intellectual development would have to wait."

If Notre Dame in its infancy was the child of Sorin's vision and will, its subsequent growth and development were the products of large and powerful social and historical forces. Just as the University was being established, the first waves of European immigrants, overwhelmingly Catholic, were reaching America's shores, and Notre Dame's location — though seemingly remote — in fact put it within easy reach of cities like Chicago, Detroit and St. Louis, all of which soon would have large immigrant Catholic populations. The immigrant experience and the growth of the University of Notre Dame would be inextricably linked.

A number of forces were at work in this relationship. The "American Dream" was coming into being, and with it the hope and expectation that, through hard work and education, children would enjoy greater opportunities than their parents. At the same time, anti-immigrant and anti-Catholic sentiments were open and pervasive in American society, creating barriers to immigrant Catholic students. Equally strong sentiments among many Catholics regarded public schools at any level as dangerous places where young people might lose their faith. For all these reasons, education — primary, secondary and higher education — became a centerpiece of American Catholicism.

Though it may not have seemed so at the time, this great historical movement of peoples and the creation of the American melting pot dramatically enhanced the odds of Notre Dame's survival. What still had to be decided, however, was precisely the type of institution Notre Dame would become. How could this small Midwestern school without endowment and without ranks of well-to-do alumni hope to compete with firmly-established private universities and public-supported state institutions? As in Sorin's day, the fact that the University pursued this lofty and ambitious vision of its future was testimony to the faith of its leaders — men such as Father John Zahm, C.S.C.

As Schlereth describes it: "Zahm ... envisioned Notre Dame as potentially 'the intellectual center of the American West'; an institution with large undergraduate, graduate, and professional schools equipped with laboratories, libraries, and research facilities. Notre Dame should strive to become the University that its charter claimed it was."

Zahm was not without evidence to support his faith in Notre Dame's potential. On this campus in 1899, a young Notre Dame scientist by the name of Jerome Green became the first American to transmit a wireless message. At about the same time, Albert Zahm, Father John's younger brother, was designing the first successful helicopter and first wind tunnel while also launching the first man-carrying glider from the roof of a campus building. The University also had established the nation's first architecture, law and engineering schools under Catholic auspices.

The debate over Notre Dame's future effectively was ended in the two decades following the First World War. In 1919, the University installed its first president to have earned a Ph.D., Father James Burns, C.S.C., and the changes he initiated were as dramatic as they were far-reaching. The elementary, preparatory and manual-labor programs were scrapped; the University's first board of lay advisors was established with the goal of creating a $1-million endowment, with a national campaign conducted to achieve that goal; and the first annual giving program for alumni was launched. With this impetus established, the period between 1919 and 1933 would see the University would erect 15 new buildings and triple the numbers of both its students and its faculty.

A new and utterly unanticipated element was added to the ethos of Notre Damed uring this period, and the University forever after would be a national institution. That new element was, of course, the game of football. But for Notre Dame and for its legions of ethnic American loyalists — most, but not all, Catholic — the cliché was true: football was more than a game. Through its academic program, Notre Dame already was part of the striving of ethnic Americans to earn a place in the American mainstream. But in this golden era, even for those who had never and would never attend Notre Dame, the University became a symbol, so much so that its attraction persists literally to this day.

The national recognition that football brought to Notre Dame was a mixed blessing at those times when it tended to overshadow the University's growing academic distinction, but overall it has been an almost incalculable boon to public awareness of, interest in, and support of Notre Dame. It may be amusing to speculate how the University's history might have been different without the phenomenon of football, but the University is happy to accept this legacy as is.

If the post-World War I era saw Notre Dame's first flowering as a true University, the six decades since the Second World War have seen the vision of John Zahm reach full fruition. Father John Cavanaugh, C.S.C., began the process after the war by toughening Notre Dame's entrance requirements, increasing faculty hiring, and establishing the Notre Dame Foundation to expand the University's development capabilities. Then, during the 35-year tenure of Father Theodore Hesburgh, C.S.C., Notre Dame's enrollment, faculty and degrees awarded all doubled; library volumes increased five-fold; endowment catapulted from less than $10 million to more than $400 million; campus physical facilities grew from 48 to 88 buildings; faculty compensation increased ten-fold; and research funding grew more than twenty-fold. In addition, two defining moments occurred during this period: the transference of University governance in 1967 from the Congregation of Holy Cross to a predominantly lay board of trustees and the admission of women to undergraduate studies in 1972.

During the 18-year presidency of Father Edward Malloy, C.S.C., the University continued to grow in stature. Endowed faculty positions rose to more than 190, the student body became — and remains — one of the most selective in the nation (with one-third of entering freshmen ranking among the top five students in their high school graduating classes), and the graduation rate annually in the top five in the nation. The University's endowment of some $4 billion is among the top 20 in American higher education, and campus additions during the Malloy years included new research laboratories, a graduate student housing complex, residence halls for undergraduate women (who now compose 47 percent of the student body), the 84-classroom DeBartolo Hall, the Mendoza College of Business, the DeBartolo Center for the Performing Arts, and the new Jordan Hall of Science.

Father John I. Jenkins, C.S.C., who became Notre Dame's 17th president in July of 2005, has challenged his administration and the faculty, students, alumni and friends of the University to, in words from his inaugural speech, "build a Notre Dame that is bigger and better than ever — a great Catholic university for the 21st century, one of the pre-eminent research institutions in the world, a center for learning whose intellectual and religious traditions converge to make it a healing, unifying, enlightening force for a world deeply in need. This is our goal. let no one ever again say that we dreamed too small."

Some goals are self-evident. The University must strive at all times to bring new vigor to its teaching and to enhance both the breadth and the depth of the education it offers students. At the same time, it must strengthen significantly its graduate programs and faculty research to make ever-greater contributions in the quest for new knowledge.

But the institutional mission of Notre Dame reaches beyond these goals.

The higher aspiration of the University of Notre Dame is to seek out and assume leadership roles through which students and alumni, faculty, interdisciplinary institutes, and professional programs can bring their accomplishments to bear on the most basic and pressing needs of humanity — for peace and social justice, for human rights and dignity, for ethical conduct in business, science and the professions, for a renewal of values in interpersonal and societal relationships, and for a more-enlightened stewardship of the environment, to name but a few of the challenges.

This aspiration is incumbent upon Notre Dame as a Catholic university. Today, as throughout its history, Notre Dame's position in American culture mirrors that of the Catholic Church. The world is very different from the one encountered by Father Sorin on his arrival in this country. The tangible barriers faced then by Catholic students and scholars have largely been removed, and today one may find such students and scholars at Harvard and Stanford and Duke, as well as at Notre Dame. American Catholics are firmly implanted in the American mainstream.

At the same time, the secularization of contemporary American society is an undisputed fact, and with that transformation has come a weakening of common values, an antipathy to belief, and a resistance to the very notion of underlying truths. One expression of this viewpoint is the contention that a Catholic university is a contradiction in terms, that reason and belief are somehow mutually exclusive. The Catholic intellectual tradition and the Western university tradition itself stand in opposition to this contention, as does Notre Dame.

It is a telling act that throughout Notre Dame's history, and increasingly in recent years, many eminent scholars of various faith traditions have made the University their home simply because they have preferred to work in a community of learning where belief is not merely tolerated, but in fact is celebrated.

Father Sorin's dream was predicated on his conviction that a university would be a powerful force for good in this land that he embraced as his own. For the University of Notre Dame, Sorin's conviction remains the inspiration, the mission and the driving force.

Kevin White, one of the most progressive and talented administrators in the intercollegiate athletics ranks, quickly attached his signature as director of athletics at the University of Notre Dame. His initial six years in that position qualify as the most successful across-the-board years in the history of athletics at Notre Dame – and the 2005-06 season included the most impressive list of accomplishments in Irish sports annals.

In addition, he has been cast in a handful of prominent national roles within collegiate athletics – including his ongoing representation with the Bowl Championship Series, his service in 2005-06 as president of the Division I-A Athletic Directors Association, and as first vice president in 2006-07 of NACDA, the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics.

White was named the 2006 GeneralSports TURF Systems Division I-A Central Region Athletic Director of the Year – thanks to Notre Dame's best-ever sixth-place finish in the NACDA Cup competition, its 44 All-Americans, 14 Academic All-Americans, five combination All-American/Academic All-Americans and 13 BIG EAST Conference titles, all Irish records.

Twenty-four (of 26) Notre Dame programs qualified teams or individual for postseason play in 2005-06, 16 teams finished in national top-25 rankings, nine finished in the top 10, six ended up in the top 10 in NCAA competition and four achieved top-four NCAA finishes (men's and women's fencing, women's lacrosse, men's cross country). Three Notre Dame head coaches received national coach-of-the-year recognition in 2005-06 – Charlie Weis in football, Jay Louderback in women's tennis and Tracy Coyne in women's lacrosse.

A career educator and one of the most respected athletic administrators in the nation, White previously had been athletic director at Arizona State University, Tulane University, the University of Maine, and Loras College. He brought a combined 18 years (1982-83 to 1999-2000) of experience in those positions with him to his assignment at Notre Dame.

Appointed on March 13, 2000, White became the first Notre Dame athletic director to report directly to the University's president. After agreeing to an original five-year contract as well as a five-year extension, White in December 2002 saw his commitment extended an additional two years to 2012.

White's first six years at Notre Dame from 2000-01 through 2005-06 saw unprecedented achievement on Irish fields of play:

- Notre Dame finished 11th, 13th, 13th, 19th, 16th, then a program-best sixth (in 2005-06), respectively, in the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) Directors' Cup (formerly sponsored by Sears) all-sports ratings in those six years, accounting for its best-ever six-year run in that competition.
- Irish teams have achieved number-one national rankings 11 times during his years at Notre Dame – women's basketball in 2000-01; baseball in '01; men's fencing in '00, '02 and '03; women's fencing in '04, '05 and '06; and women's soccer in '00, '04 and '05

- The Irish claimed the '01 national championship in women's basketball; the '03 and '05 NCAA titles in fencing (a men's and women's combined championship); the '04 crown in women's soccer; third-place finishes in fencing in '01, '02 and '04, in women's cross country in '03, and in men's cross country in '05; national semifinal appearances in women's soccer in '00 and men's lacrosse in '01, and a College World Series appearance in baseball in 2002.

- Notre Dame has seen its number of athletes earning All-America honors improve annually – to a record 44 in 2005-06, with five of those 44 also earning Academic All-America recognition.

- Notre Dame's record-setting 2005-06 season saw 24 of 26 programs send teams or individuals to postseason play.

Sixteen of a possible 22 teams earned national rankings in 2000-01, including 10 that achieved the highest rating in the history of the program. In 2001-02, 20 of 26 teams qualified for NCAA competition. In 2002-03, 13 sports managed top 25 national finishes – and 17 advanced to postseason competition. In 2003-04, an unprecedented 22 teams qualified for NCAA competition, including two (hockey and women's golf) that accomplished that for the first time and a third (men's golf) that made the field for the first time in 38 years. Twenty Irish squads in 2004-05 advanced teams or individuals to NCAA play.

- Notre Dame in 2002 was the only school in the country to qualify all six of its teams – men's and women's soccer, men's and women's cross country, volleyball and football – for fall NCAA tournament competition (or, in the case of football, a bowl game). Notre Dame and Texas were the only schools in 2002-03 to play in football bowl games and have both their men's and women's basketball squads advance to the NCAA Sweet 16 round. In 2005, Notre Dame was the only school to win at least twice in both NCAA soccer tournaments and in the NCAA volleyball championship (men's soccer and volleyball won twice, women's soccer had three NCAA wins). Notre Dame, Penn State and California were the only schools to win at least once in those three 2005 NCAA tournaments and also play in a Division I football bowl game.
- Notre Dame won the BIG EAST Conference Commissioner's Trophy for overall athletic success in league play in 2001, '02 and '03 for both men and women (the trophy was no longer awarded after 2003) – and the Irish annually lead the league in conference titles, including a record 13 in 2005-06.

His initial six years on the job at Notre Dame featured a handful of other noteworthy accomplishments:

- He helped the Irish athletic program toward its goal of becoming a top-five program in the NACDA Directors' Cup competition by championing the University's plan to add 64 grants-in-aid over a four-year span (that goal was announced in December 2000), in order to give all 26 varsity sports the full NCAA complement of scholarships.
- He emphasized the need to remain competitive on the facilities front by commissioning a facilities master plan that now provides a long-term plan for upgrading Notre Dame's athletic physical plant. The first facility from that plan opened in 2005, with the addition of the Guglielmino Athletics Complex that provides a new day-to-day home for the Irish football program as well as enhanced space for training, sports medicine, equipment, and strength and conditioning for all Notre Dame student-athletes. Slated for completion in fall 2006 is the 10,500-square foot Robert and Marilyn Rolfs Family All-Season Varsity Golf Facility that will serve as the new home of the Notre Dame men's and women's golf teams.
- On the academic front, Irish student-athletes enjoyed their most productive year ever in the classroom in 2005-06 – as for the first time in the 2005 fall semester and the 2006 spring semester, every one of Notre Dame's programs achieved at least a 3.0 grade-point average. A Notre Dame record 14 individuals claimed Academic All-America notice in 2005-06.
- The American Football Coaches Association awarded its Academic Achievement Award for 2001 to Notre Dame based on its 100 percent graduation for entering freshmen from 1995. The University received a 2002 USA Today/NCAA Academic Achievement Award for graduating 90 percent of its student-athletes who enrolled in 1995 – and it also received the 2003 award for highest overall student-athlete graduation rate (92 percent of those who enrolled in 1996). When the NCAA first issued its Academic Performance Rate numbers in 2005, Irish teams excelled, with 13 of them earning a perfect 1,000 score.

- Sixteen of 20 athletics programs at Notre Dame compiled graduation rates of 100 percent, and none were below 90 percent, according to the new Graduation Success Rate measurement developed by the NCAA and announced in December 2005. NCAA figures showed that, among Notre Dame's men's sports, baseball, cross country/track, fencing, ice hockey, soccer, swimming and tennis achieved 100 percent GSR scores. Football scored 96 percent, golf was 92 percent and basketball was 90 percent (lacrosse was not included because the program did not offer grants in aid during the years covered in the survey). Irish women's programs with GSR rates of 100 percent were basketball, cross country/track, fencing, golf, lacrosse, softball, swimming, tennis and volleyball. Soccer scored a 94 percent GSR.
- Among the 119 NCAA Division I-A institutions listed in those December 2005 standings, Notre Dame had the highest percentage of its sports with 100 percent GSR scores, with an .800 figure (16 of 20). In football, Notre Dame achieved a 96 GSR rating, with only the United States Naval Academy (at 98) ranking higher among the Division I-A schools. And, when the final 2005 USA Today football poll of coaches was re-ranked by football GSR score, Notre Dame (11th in the actual poll) finished first in that tabulation at 96, just ahead of Clemson at 94 (21st in actual poll).
- The NCAA Division I-A Athletic Directors' Association gave one of its four 2000 awards of excellence to Notre Dame's CHAMPS/Life Skills Program
- He assured long-term consistency in the Irish coaching ranks by signing Notre Dame head coaches to multi-year contracts – with all assistant coaches and administrators signing contracts for the first time starting in 2001-02.
- He renewed in 2003 Notre Dame's NBC Sports contract for televising of home football games for five more years (2006-10 for that renewal, extending the relationship to 20 years) and its Westwood One contract for football radio broadcasts for five more years beginning in 2003.
- He oversaw the University's NCAA re-certification process in 2004 as Notre Dame went through that self-study and peer review process for the first time since 1997. The University's athletic program was recertified without conditions, with the committee noting that Notre Dame is "committed to academic success of its student-athletes and demonstrates this by requiring three more core courses than what is required by the NCAA," that Notre Dame "student-athletes are quite satisfied with quantity and quality of academic support and attribute much of the success around graduation rates to this service," and that Notre Dame has "affirmed and demonstrated its commitment to fair and equitable treatment" of male, female and minority student-athletes.

In addition to the varsity athletic component, White's assignment at Notre Dame also includes administration of a comprehensive intramural, club sport and campus recreation program, with 94 percent of the student body participating. Sports Illustrated On Campus rated the Irish intramural program tops in the nation in '04.

With a Ph.D. in education, White has taught graduate-level classes beginning in 1982-83 with his tenure at Loras, including currently as a concurrent associate professor in the management department of the Mendoza College of Business as part of Notre Dame's MBA program during spring semesters (he teaches a sports business course).

White has served on numerous NCAA committees, including the NCAA Council, formerly the association's highest governing body. In addition to his current role with the BCS, he previously was a member of the Rose Bowl Management Committee while at Arizona State, was an ex-officio member of the Sugar Bowl Committee during his tenure at Tulane and also worked closely with the Fiesta Bowl during his stay in Tempe.

In December, 2004, White was named the 15th most influential individual in collegiate sports by Street & Smith's SportsBusiness Journal. He has been a member of the NCAA Coalition on Intercollegiate Athletics (COIA) that deals with academics, fiscal reform and student-athlete well-being. He also was an ex-officio member of the NCAA Committee on Academic Performance and a member of its Penalty and Rewards subcommittee.

White has served as mentor for an impressive list of senior level athletic administrators who have worked for him, then gone on to become directors of athletics - including Jim Sterk of Washington State, Tom Boeh of Ohio University and currently Fresno State, Ian McCaw of Northeastern, Massachusetts and currently Baylor, Bruce Van De Velde previously of Iowa State, Herman Frazier of Hawaii, Rudy Keeling of Emerson, Scott Devine of St. Mary's College (Md.), Tim Van Alstine of Western Illinois, Mark Wilson of Tennessee Tech, Bubba Cunningham of Ball State and currently Tulsa, Sandy Barbour (who followed him at Tulane) of California-Berkeley, Jim Phillips of Northern Illinois, Bernard Muir of Georgetown, Sandy Hatfield Clubb of Drake, Vic Cegles of Long Beach State and Norwood Teague of Virginia Commonwealth.

White has his own weekly, hour-long radio show in Chicago – and he has a pre-game segment on Westwood One's radio broadcasts of Notre Dame football games.

During his coaching career, White served as head track and field coach at Southeast Missouri State (1981-82) and assistant cross country and track and field coach at Central Michigan (1976-80). He began his coaching career at Gulf High School in New Port Richey, Fla., coaching cross country and track and assisting in football and wrestling. White also spent a year (1980-81) as district administrator for athletics and special projects for the Mt. Morris Consolidated School District in Mt. Morris, Mich. During his tenure at Loras, he originated the National Catholic Basketball Tournament.

Born Sept. 25, 1950, in Amityville, N.Y., White earned his Ph.D. from Southern Illinois University in 1983 with an emphasis on higher education administration (his dissertation title was An Appraisal of the Women's Intercollegiate Athletic Programs, and the Relationship to Men's Athletics at the Big Ten Conference Institutions Before and After Title IX Implementation). In 1985 he completed postdoctoral work at Harvard University's Institute for Educational Management. He earned his master's degree in athletics administration from Central Michigan University in 1976 and his bachelor's degree in business administration in 1972 from St. Joseph's College in Rensselaer, Ind., where he also competed as a sprinter in track and field. He was awarded St. Joseph's Alumni Achievement Award in 1997, and he's currently a member of the Loras College Board of Regents. He was a 2006 inductee into the Suffolk County (Long Island, N.Y.) Sports Hall of Fame.

White also attended the University of South Florida and St. Leo College in Tampa, Fla., between 1972 and '76 – and he took 60 hours of advanced graduate courses in higher education administration at Michigan State University between 1977 and '80.

White's wife, Jane, earned a bachelor's degree from St. Joseph's in 1973 and a master's degree in physical education from Central Michigan in 1977. She also served as head track and field coach at Central Michigan. White and his wife both received honorary degrees from St. Joseph's in 2001.

The couple have five children – Maureen, who completed a master of fine arts degree at Arizona State in 2000 and currently teaches at Notre Dame Prep School in Scottsdale, Ariz.; Michael, a University of Mississippi graduate and four-year starter at point guard for the Ole Miss basketball team and now an assistant basketball coach at his alma mater (after a stint at Jacksonville State University in Alabama); Daniel, a University of Notre Dame graduate and member of the '01 Irish basketball squad, who was an assistant basketball coach at Ohio University while earning his MBA in sports administration there, and now is assistant athletics director of development and annual fund director at Northern Illinois University; Brian, a 2006 graduate of the University of Notre Dame and now an intern in the Arizona State University athletics department; and Mariah, a high school sophomore who is a standout in swimming.

Rev. John I. Jenkins, C.S.C.
University President

Rev. John I. Jenkins, C.S.C., took office as the 17th president of the University of Notre Dame on July 1, 2005. He was elected by the University's Board of Trustees to a five-year term April 30, 2004.

An associate professor of philosophy and member of Notre Dame's faculty since 1990, Father Jenkins had served from 2000 until becoming president as a vice president and associate provost at the University.

Prior to his service in the provost's office, Father Jenkins had been religious superior of the Holy Cross priests and brothers at Notre Dame for three years. As religious superior, he was a Fellow and Trustee of the University, but he relinquished those posts to assume his duties in the provost's office.

Father Jenkins specializes in the areas of ancient philosophy, medieval philosophy and the philosophy of religion. He is the author of Knowledge and Faith in Thomas Aquinas, published by Cambridge University Press in 1997.

Father Jenkins earned degrees in philosophy from Oxford University in 1987 and 1989. He earned his master of divinity degree and licentiate in sacred theology from the Jesuit School of Theology in Berkeley, Calif., in 1988.

Prior to entering the Congregation of Holy Cross, he earned bachelor's and master's degrees in philosophy from Notre Dame in 1976 and 1978, respectively.

Father Jenkins was ordained a priest in Notre Dame's Basilica of the Sacred Heart in 1983. He served as director of the Old College program for Notre Dame undergraduate candidates for the Congregation of Holy Cross from 1991 to 1993.

A native of Omaha, Neb., Father Jenkins was born Dec. 17, 1953.

Thomas G. Burish, formerly president at Washington and Lee, University in Lexington, Va., and a 1972 Notre Dame alumnus, was elected provost on July 21, 2005. As provost and second-ranking officer of the University, he exercises responsibility for all academic matters. He is the fourth person to hold the office since it was established in 1970. Burish succeeded Nathan O. Hatch, who became president of Wake Forest University. In addition, Burish also was appointed a professor of psychology.

Burish had been president of one of the nation's top liberal-arts colleges since July 2002. Prior to joining Washington and Lee and prior to being named president was the longest-serving provost in the history of Vanderbilt University. He served as provost at the nationally-renowned research university from 1993 to 2002.

Known as a ground-breaking researcher, award-winning teacher and gifted leader, Burish exemplifies the excellence and humanity to which Notre Dame is dedicated. Through his work, he has helped "tens of thousands of cancer patients better cope with the emotional and physical pain of this disease," according to John R. Seffrin, chief executive officer of the American Cancer Society. Burish currently serves as chair of the American Cancer Society's national board of directors.

A native of Peshtigo, Wis., Burish was graduated from Notre Dame, summa cum laude, with a bachelor's degree in psychology in 1972. He earned his master's degree in psychology from the University of Kansas in 1975 and a doctorate in clinical psychology from Kansas a year later.

While at Kansas, Burish received the David Shulman Memorial Award of Excellence in Clinical Psychology. He moved in 1976 to Vanderbilt, becoming a full professor in 1986. He won Vanderbilt's prestigious Madison Sarratt Prize for Excellence in Undergraduate Teaching in 1980 and served as chair of the department of psychology from 1984 to 1986. Burish became Vanderbilt's provost in 1993. He is the co-author or co-editor of four books, and has contributed to more than 16 other books and written more than 60 journal articles.

Dr. John Affleck-Graves
Executive Vice President

John Affleck-Graves was elected the first lay executive vice president of Notre Dame in April 2004. A vice president and associate provost the previous three years, he also holds the Notre Dame Chair in Finance in the Mendoza College of Business.

Dr. Affleck-Graves, the fifth person to serve as executive vice president, administers the University of Notre Dame's annual operating budget of more than $700 million and an endowment of approximately $4 billion. He oversees human-resource activities for a work force of more than 4,000 employees – the largest in St. Joseph County – and directs the University's construction program.

A native of South Africa and a naturalized U.S. citizen, Dr. Affleck-Graves specializes in the study of initial public offerings, valuation and asset pricing models, and shareholder value-added methodology. He is the author of more than 50 refereed publications and the recipient of numerous teaching awards.

Dr. Affleck-Graves joined the Notre Dame faculty in 1986 after teaching and conducting research for 11 years at the University of Cape Town, where he earned bachelor's, master's and doctoral degrees.

Patrick F. McCartan was elected the fifth chair of Notre Dame's Board of Trustees in May 2000. He has been a Notre Dame trustee since 1989 and also is a Fellow of the University.

McCartan served from 1993 through 2002 as managing partner of Jones, Day, Reavis & Pogue, an international law firm headquartered in Cleveland. Cited by The National Law Journal as one of the country's most respected and influential corporate trial lawyers, he currently is Jones Day's senior partner, concentrating on appellate litigation and corporate governance.

A 1956 graduate of Notre Dame, McCartan earned his law degree from the University in 1959. Before joining Jones Day, he served as law clerk to Supreme Court justice Charles Evans Whittaker.

Don Pope-Davis, Dean of The Graduate School and a professor of psychology, was appointed in 2006 as chair of the University's Faculty Board on Athletics and NCAA faculty athletics representative in 2006.

A member of the Notre Dame faculty since 2000, Pope-Davis studies in the areas of multicultural psychology, counseling and education. He is the co-author of three books, "Multicultural Counseling Competencies: Assessment, Education, and Supervision," "The Intersections of Race, Class, and Gender in Multicultural Counseling," and, most recently, "Handbook of Multicultural Competencies in Counseling and Psychology." He has published more than 50 journal articles and book chapters in the field and is a research fellow of the American Psychological Association.

He previously served as a member of the Faculty Board on Athletics and also has served on the Provost Advisory Council, the Diversity Committee and as chair of the NCAA certification sub-committee for equity, gender and sportsmanship.

Pope-Davis earned his doctorate in counseling psychology from Stanford and his bachelor's degree in psychology and theology from Benedictine University in Lisle, Ill.

Academic Services

The Academic Services for Student-Athletes Office is designed to help Notre Dame fulfill its commitment to all student-athletes in their pursuit of a college degree and academic excellence. In order to achieve these goals, Academic Services has four major aims: to maintain academic integrity of the University; to comply with University and NCAA rules and regulations; to maintain the academic good standing of every student-athlete; and to assist every student-athlete to graduate in four years. These objectives work together and are aimed at teaching student-athletes to be responsible for themselves academically.

To this end, Academic Services provides student-athletes many services that begin when freshmen arrive on campus and continue through graduation. The office provides consistent counseling and appropriate interventions regarding academic matters and refers student-athletes to campus offices where they can meet regularly with their professors and use support services provided by the various colleges and departments.

As soon as student-athletes begin classes, Academic Services monitors their progress through professor surveys that ask professors to comment on each student's work level, attendance and any need for tutorial help. If a professor or student-athlete feels there is need for additional help, Academic Services provides tutorial assistance.

In addition to this interaction with the faculty, the members of the Academic Services Office meet with student-athletes to develop a personal relationship. These sessions help develop semester-long and career academic goals. Discussions may include such topics as summer-school attendance, class scheduling and career possibilities.

In 2001, the Academic-Services department received a new home through a generous donation by football alumnus Jim Morse ('57) and his wife, Leah Rae, when the Coleman-Morse Center was completed. A $14-million building, the James and Leah Rae Morse Center for Academic Services houses Notre Dame's First Year of Studies Program and Academic Services for Student-Athletes. It also contains the University Writing Center and a satellite office for the Center for Social Concerns, plus classrooms, staff offices, a tutoring center, a computer cluster, workrooms and a lounge.

Working alongside the athletic department's Student Welfare and Development office, Academic Services helps coordinate numerous workshops and speakers to assist student-athletes with post-graduate planning and transition into professional careers. Offered in conjunction with the University Counseling Center, workshops cover such topics as stress management, socialization to college life, adjusting to physical trauma and conflict management.

At the end of each academic year, the office hosts an Academic Excellence Dinner for student-athletes who have achieved excellence in the classroom. The University president, deans of each college, members of the Faculty Board on Athletics and coaches also attend. Students with 4.0 semester GPAs, the individual student with the highest GPA in each sport, the top senior student-athlete and the team with the highest GPA receive special awards.

Thank you for your tremendous support of our entire athletics program. Our student-athletes, coaches and administrative staff are very appreciative of your spirit and affinity for Notre Dame, in particular its intercollegiate athletics.

Your adherence to all applicable NCAA rules and regulations is essential as we strive to maintain and enhance our national athletic prominence while protecting the University's tradition of integrity and values.

Our Compliance Office staff stands prepared to assist you with your questions and concerns regarding NCAA regulations. Please contact us immediately should you have concern regarding any situation. Your attention to these matters will ensure that the eligibility of both prospective student-athletes ("recruits") and enrolled student-athletes is protected and maintained. Again, many thanks for your cooperation in this matter and your ongoing support.

Who is a Representative of Notre Dame's Athletics Interests?

(The following lists of examples are not all-inclusive. As always, ask before you act!)

You are if:

- you are an enrolled student or graduate of the University.
- you ever have participated in or are a member of any organization promoting Notre Dame's athletics program (the former Quarterback Club, the 3-Point Club, the Fast-Break Club, etc.).
- you ever have made financial contributions to the University of Notre Dame athletics department.
- you ever have helped to arrange employment of or provided any benefits to prospective or enrolled student-athletes.
- you ever have been a season ticket holder in any sport.
- you ever have promoted the athletics programs at the University of Notre Dame.

According to NCAA rules, once an individual has been identified as an institutional "representative of athletics interests" the individual retains that title for life. The University of Notre Dame ultimately is responsible for the behavior of all its athletics representatives in relation to NCAA rules and regulations. Violations of NCAA regulations by an athletics representative could result in the loss of eligibility for involved student-athletes (e.g. no participation in competitions) and/or severe sanctions against the University (e.g. loss of scholarships, television and post-season bans).

Current Student-Athlete

A student-athlete is any Notre Dame student who is a member of a varsity athletics team.

NCAA regulations apply to all student-athletes, not just those student-athletes who were recruited or who receive an athletics scholarship.

*Note: NCAA regulations concerning enrolled student-athletes remain in effect throughout the entire year (including summer break). If a student-athlete has completed his/her final season of eligibility, all NCAA regulations must be adhered to until he/she graduates or leaves school.

Do's and Don'ts for representatives in regards to a current student-athlete:

(The following lists of examples are not all-inclusive. As always, ask before you act!)

Do's

You may:

- contact a current student-athlete regarding employment opportunities. However, no contact may be made without approval from the Compliance Office.
- provide a student-athlete, not his/her family and friends, an occasional (once a semester) meal at your home.

Don'ts

You may not:

- provide a currently-enrolled student-athlete, his/her parents or friends any benefit or special arrangement without prior approval from the Compliance Office.
- pay for or arrange for payment of room, board or any type of transportation for a student-athlete or his/her family or friends.
- entertain student-athletes or their family and friends. (Exception: NCAA rules do permit institutional staff members and athletics representatives to provide student-athletes [not including their family and friends] with an occasional meal [defined as once a semester] provided the meal is at the staff member's or athletic representative's home and not at a restaurant.)
- use the name, picture or appearance of an enrolled student-athlete to advertise, recommend or promote sales or use of a commercial product or service of any kind; any use of a student-athlete's name, picture or appearance must receive authorization from the Compliance Office.
- provide any payment of expense or loan of an automobile for a student-athlete to return home or to travel to any other location.
- provide awards or gifts to a student-athlete for any reason; all awards provided to student-athletes must first be approved by the Compliance Office and meet all NCAA regulations.
- provide an honorarium to a student-athlete for a speaking engagement; all speaking engagements must be approved in advance by the Compliance Office.
- allow a student-athlete or his/her relatives or friends to use your telephone to make free calls.
- provide free or reduced-cost lodging in your home to a student-athlete or a student-athlete's family or friends.

Prospective Student-Athlete

A prospective student-athlete is any student who has started classes for ninth grade. Any student younger who receives any benefits from an institution or athletics representative would become a prospect. In addition, student-athletes enrolled in preparatory school or two-year colleges are considered prospective student-athletes.

* Note: An individual is considered a prospect (whether or not they have signed a National Letter of Intent) until the first day of initial collegiate enrollment or the first day they report for practice, whichever is earliest. Therefore, all NCAA regulations concerning contact with a prospective student-athlete are applicable until that time.

Do's and Don'ts for representatives in regards to a prospective student-athlete:

(The following lists of examples are not all-inclusive. As always, ask before you act!)

Do's

You may:

- forward information about prospective student-athletes to the appropriate coaching staff.
- have telephone contact with a prospect regarding permissible pre-enrollment activities such as summer employment, provided the prospect has graduated from high school and signed a National Letter of Intent; you must contact the Compliance Office to make them aware that you are making these employment arrangements.
- have a telephone conversation with a prospect only if the prospect initiates the call; such a call may not be prearranged by an institutional staff member, and you are not permitted to have a recruiting conversation, but may exhibit normal civility; you must refer any questions about our athletics programs to an athletics-department staff member/coach.
- view a prospect's athletic contest at your own initiative provided you do not contact the prospect or his/her parents; you may not contact a coach, principal, or counselor in an attempt to evaluate the prospect.
- continue established family relationships with friends and neighbors; contact with sons and daughters of these families is permitted so long as it is not made for recruiting purposes or encouraged by Notre Dame coaches.

Don'ts

You may not:

- write, e-mail or telephone a prospective student-athlete or his/her parents in an effort to recruit them to Notre Dame.
- become involved in making arrangements to provide money, financial aid or a benefit of any kind to a prospect or the prospect's family and friends.
- make contact with a prospective student-athlete or his/her parents when the prospect is on-campus for an official or unofficial recruiting visit.
- contact a prospect to congratulate him/her on signing a National Letter of Intent to attend the University.
- transport, pay or arrange for payment of transportation costs for a prospect or his/her relatives or friends to visit campus (or elsewhere).
- pay or arrange for payment of summer-camp registration fees for a prospect.
- provide ANYTHING to a prospect, the prospect's family or friends without prior approval from the Compliance Office.

Support of alumni and friends is welcomed and appreciated. We ask, however, that you help to keep Notre Dame's tradition of athletics integrity intact by following NCAA regulations. Your assistance will help ensure that the eligibility of prospective and currently-enrolled student-athletes is protected and preserved. Your efforts to know and follow the NCAA legislation are greatly appreciated because violations could affect the eligibility of involved prospects or student-athletes and/or result in NCAA penalties being imposed on the University.

To that end, it should be our goal, as the best alumni and fans in the country, to preserve and protect each and every student-athlete's eligibility. All NCAA legislation cannot be covered in a limited space such as this page. Therefore, any additional questions should be forwarded to the Compliance Office in the department of athletics. Please remember to ask before you act!

Student Development

The Student Welfare and Development Program is committed to the total development of Notre Dame student-athletes, by fostering the cultivation of skills that encourage student-athletes to reach their full potential.

Designed to work in conjunction with existing on-campus student services, the program acknowledges the unique needs and demands of student-athletes. The Notre Dame Student Welfare and Development program continues to receive national recognition for its student-athlete participation and has been named to the NCAS Outreach and Community Service Honor Roll three times in the past four years.

The Student Welfare and Development Program implements events and activities that are designed to facilitate learning within five key areas: academic excellence, athletic success, career preparation,

• An orientation program for freshman student-athletes to familiarize and identify the challenges and opportunities that are unique to them as both students and athletes.

Nearly every Notre Dame varsity sports team (24 of 26) participated in community service activities during the 2005-06 academic year, with the student-athletes completing more than 2,300 hours of community service (an increase of approximately 340 hours from the previous year) while reaching over 3,000 people in the community and assisting some 40 non-profit organizations and schools.

Student Development also is responsible for: managing the scholarship textbook process; designing and producing the annual Student-Athlete Handbook/Planner; facilitating "An Evening at Shamrock Hills" team dinners; serving as the primary advisors to the Student Athlete Advisory Council (SAAC); coordinating the Student-Athlete Leadership Institute; and facilitating the athletic department's annual year-end celebration, the O.S.C.A.R.S. – Outstanding Students Celebrating Achievements & Recognition Showcase.

The Positive Transition Seminar (PTS) remains the cornerstone of the Student Welfare and Development component. Issues that headline the annual half-day symposium include body image and healthy eating, business and dining etiquette, media relations, career and financial planning, and life after college. In addition to attending the PTS, all juniors were required to meet with a career counselor to learn how to access career planning resources, schedule interviews, update resumes, and apply for internships and jobs.

The Student-Athlete Advisory Council helped bring about noteworthy enhancements within the athletic department in 2005-06, including: improvements to locker rooms; the hiring of a chiropractor; leading a student-athlete discussion at the Freshmen Student-Athlete and Parent Orientation; developing a SAAC service project (Shoebox Drive for the homeless); providing a team community service award; having better access to a sports psychologist; and adding a member to SAAC who represents international student-athletes. SAAC's monthly meetings also include discussions on important issues such as NCAA legislation, career opportunities, eating disorders, alcohol and supplement usage, and technological issues involving sites such as Facebook and Myspace.

The Student Welfare and Development Program, in existence since 1996, continuously seeks to develop programs that educate student-athletes on current issues – so as to ensure that when they graduate from the University, they are prepared to successfully meet the challenges of life.

community involvement and personal development.

The program has three components: elective services (community service, leadership, social events); complementary services (encourages administrators and coaches to request coordination of workshops, events and activities); and essential services (student-athletes participate in a series of required skill-building and developmental workshops and activities).

The many services offered by the Student Development Program include the following:

- Academic support by working in coordination with the Office of Academic Services for Student-Athletes.
- Athletic success support with discussion topics on performance enhancement, leadership, nutrition, agents and amateurism, and sports conduct.
- Preparing for post-graduate life by working closely with the Notre Dame Career Center.
- Bringing Notre Dame and the community together through specific relationships with local area hospitals, community centers and outreach agencies to provide ongoing and reliable volunteer opportunities.

Statement of Principles

Throughout its long and proud history, the University of Notre Dame has embraced the philosophy that a well-rounded athletics program — including club, intramural and intercollegiate competition — comprises an integral part of Notre Dame's educational mission.

This philosophy reflects the importance of operating an intercollegiate athletics program that fully comports with the University's aspirations as a Catholic institution. Notre Dame therefore dedicates itself to the pursuit of excellence in intercollegiate athletics within the framework of an academic community committed to the University's educational and religious objectives.

Notre Dame also commits itself to the unquestioned integrity of its athletics programs. All individuals involved, directly or indirectly, in the athletics enterprise must maintain and foster the values and goals associated with the University's mission as a Catholic institution of higher education.

As a Catholic university, Notre Dame espouses Christian values and principles. These include the development of the human person — spirit as well as body — in addition to the pursuit of excellence in all endeavors, the nurturing of Christian character, and the call to personal integrity and responsibility. By providing a general description of the structures that support these endeavors, this document articulates the central values and expectations that guide the University of Notre Dame's participation in intercollegiate athletics.

PRESIDENTIAL CONTROL

Notre Dame adheres to the principle of presidential control over intercollegiate athletics. The director of athletics reports to the president, who exercises ultimate responsibility for the conduct of the University's intercollegiate athletics program. The Faculty Board on Athletics serves as the principal advisory group to the president on educational issues related to intercollegiate athletics. The chair of the Faculty Board on Athletics also serves as the NCAA-mandated faculty athletics representative.

Basic Principles

1. The Faculty Board on Athletics nurtures Notre Dame's commitment to academic integrity within the athletics program, strives to ensure that the University's athletics program operates in consonance with Notre Dame's educational mission, and actively promotes the welfare and educational success of the University's student-athletes. The Board also functions as a formal liaison between the faculty and the athletics department.

In carrying out its charge, the Board reviews policies, procedures and practices that affect the educational experience of student-athletes and advises the president of its findings and deliberations. The Board systematically ascertains the views and concerns of student-athletes. The Board reviews data on admissions of student-athletes and on their academic performance, progress towards degrees, and graduation rates. The Board assesses the effectiveness of institutional support for student-athletes. In addition, the Board sets guidelines for the approval of all student petitions for a fifth year of eligibility for athletics and votes on each such petition. The Board establishes guidelines for all intercollegiate athletics schedules and qualifications for captaincy of all University teams, and it votes on all proposed schedules and captaincy nominations. The Board also assesses and revises procedures for resolving prospective conflicts between final examinations and post-season championship events.

In its role as a liaison to the broader faculty, the Faculty Board disseminates appropriate, non-confidential information and initiates discussions on educational issues regarding intercollegiate athletics and the related concerns of the faculty and administration.

2. The faculty athletics representative champions academic integrity, promotes the welfare of student-athletes, and helps ensure institutional control of intercollegiate athletics. More specifically, the faculty athletics representative works with the president and the director of athletics to maintain appropriate University oversight of intercollegiate athletics; assists the president and director of athletics in determining institutional positions on proposed NCAA and conference legislation; serves on search committees for senior athletics administrators and head coaches; oversees decisions regarding eligibility of student-athletes; remains visible and available to student-athletes; and actively participates in all investigations and reports of possible NCAA violations.

ACADEMICS

Notre Dame dedicates itself to providing to all of its students an outstanding education. The University commits itself to developing in its students those disciplined habits of mind, body and spirit that characterize educated, skilled and free human beings. Notre Dame calls its students to pursue the wisdom of our culture and religious heritage and to experience the human family's diversity and interdependence. To accomplish these objectives, the University provides to its students, on an equitable basis, ongoing opportunities to cultivate their moral, intellectual and physical well-being.

Basic Principles

1. Any student hoping to succeed at the University needs a significant level of ability and preparation. Therefore, the Office of Undergraduate Admissions will accept into the University only those student-athletes who demonstrate, on the basis of the best available academic and character-based information, the capacity to complete a degree at Notre Dame.

2. Even for individuals manifestly well suited for Notre Dame, the adjustments to the rigors of academic and athletic life in a highly-competitive university present difficulties. The University recognizes its responsibility to provide appropriate assistance to enable student-athletes to meet the demands of both academic and athletic competition. To this end, the University affords its student-athletes suitable academic counsel and support, primarily under the auspices of the provost's office. Other sources of support, both academic and personal, include the faculty, academic advisors, the residence-hall staff, coaches, athletics administrators and the Student Development Program.

3. The University strives to schedule practices and competitions so as to minimize conflicts with class periods and other academic assignments of student-athletes. In this regard, the rhythm of the academic year and the particular importance of final examinations warrant special attention. All playing schedules remain subject to the approval of the Faculty Board on Athletics.

4. Notre Dame expects its student-athletes to maintain the appropriate sequence and number of courses and the grade-point-average necessary to complete a degree within the usual time (normally four years), including summer classes when appropriate. Any exception to this policy remains subject to the approval of the Faculty Board on Athletics.

STUDENT LIFE

Like other students, student-athletes should have the opportunity to pursue fully the University's academic, cultural and spiritual resources. The University holds student-athletes not only to the same standard of conduct that applies to other students, but also to that higher level of behavior appropriate to their visibility.

Basic Principles

1. Student-athletes must comply with all University rules and guidelines, including those set out in both the student handbook, du Lac, and in the Student-Athlete Handbook. The Office of Residence Life and Housing enforces the University-wide rules according to procedures applicable to all student disciplinary matters.

2. The University strives to integrate student-athletes into the student body so that all students may take full advantage of the educational and other opportunities afforded by campus and hall life. Given the centrality of residential life to the University's mission, student-athletes normally live in residence halls; exceptions to this policy remain subject to the approval of the Faculty Board on Athletics. Moreover, Notre Dame provides no separate residence halls or sections of residence halls for student-athletes.

3. The University lists among its primary concerns the physical and mental health of all members of the Notre Dame community. Because of the dangers inherent in athletic competition, the prevention of injuries and the provision of medical care for student-athletes demand particular concern and deserve constant attention. The appropriate sports-medicine and athletics-training personnel alone determine whether injury or illness precludes a student-athlete from practicing or competing.

4. Because of the harm that illicit drug use causes and the pressure on student-athletes to use performance-enhancing drugs, drug-related education and counseling require particular emphasis. As a preventive measure, all student-athletes remain subject to regular, random, and unannounced drug testing according to the University's established drug-testing protocol. University Health Services decides the timing of drug tests, determines whom to test and administers the tests. The drug-testing protocol prescribes the treatment of test results and the consequences of a positive test.

5. Notre Dame regularly provides chaplains for athletics teams. Chaplains' duties include pastoral care and liturgical services for student-athletes, coaches and staff.

COACHING STAFFS

The University strives to maintain a staff of coaches who represent the best in athletic instruction, who possess the ability to motivate and inspire, and who take responsibility for the full development of the student-athletes within their charge as students, athletes and persons. Coaches, who after all are primarily teachers, share with members of the faculty and other University personnel the obligation to educate, train and otherwise assist in the formation of students entrusted to them. Furthermore, Notre Dame recognizes the important role each coach plays in the University's overall educational mission and makes this aspect an important part of both the coach's position description and periodic evaluation. Because of the public nature of their work, coaches represent Notre Dame in a highly-visible manner. Their words and actions should therefore reflect the University's values and principles.

Basic Principles

1. Notre Dame expects the personal and professional lives of its coaches to reflect highest standards of behavior. Coaches' actions must demonstrate that athletic success may not jeopardize institutional or personal integrity or student-athlete welfare.

2. Notre Dame expects its coaches to appreciate the primacy of academic life at Notre Dame and to emphasize that primacy during the recruitment and education of student-athletes and their participation in intercollegiate athletics.

3. Notre Dame requires its coaches to adhere to the policies and procedures of the University, its conferences and the NCAA. To that end, Notre Dame provides a comprehensive orientation to new coaches and suitable continuing education to other coaches. The University treats seriously all violations of University, conference or NCAA standards and reports such violations according to the applicable conference or NCAA procedures.

ADMINISTRATION OF THE DEPARTMENT OF ATHLETICS

The Director of Athletics and the other administrators in the department of athletics supervise all activities of the athletics program at the University. All aspects of the program must accord with the principles of justice and fairness. In addition, Notre Dame expects the personal and professional lives of its athletics administrators to reflect the highest standards of behavior. Athletics administrators also must adhere to the policies and procedures of the University, its conferences and the NCAA. The University treats all violations of such policies and procedures seriously.

Basic Principles

1. The University maintains full and direct control of the financial operations of the athletics department, including all revenues. The operating budget and the ongoing financial activities of the athletics department remain subject to the same approval process as all other units of the University.

2. Historically, Notre Dame's athletics program has generated funds sufficient to cover its expenses, as well as to provide funds for the University's general operating budget. The generation of revenue must always take into consideration Notre Dame's integrity and priorities.

3. The University commits itself to the principle of racial, ethnic and gender diversity in the composition of its coaching and administrative staffs. Notre Dame will make every reasonable effort to promote this commitment as positions are created or vacated.

4. Consistent with its overall academic mission and program, its financial resources and the athletic interests of its student body, the University will provide a full and stable athletics program for

5. In considering conference affiliations, the University will assess the extent to which the other institutions involved share Notre Dame's educational philosophies and goals, as well as its commitment to integrity in intercollegiate athletics.

CONCLUSION

Notre Dame endeavors to maintain a highly-competitive athletics program consistent with its tradition, heritage and overall mission as a Catholic university. It will attempt to excel in intercollegiate athletics, but always in conformity with its primary role as an educator and moral guide. Notre Dame will conduct its intercollegiate athletics program so as to support the University's commitment to education, as well as the letter and spirit of the policies and procedures of the University, its conferences and the NCAA.

Many observers often are surprised to discover that Notre Dame's total enrollment encompasses fewer than 12,000 students per year. That surprise is due in part to the University's national appeal, but it also is due to the many noteworthy Notre Dame alumni who have gone on to distinguish themselves in a wide variety of fields.

Listings on this page are simply a sampling of the many noteworthy individuals who have spent their formative years in academia at Notre Dame. A more detailed list can be found at www.nd.edu (follow the alumni link), and some additional noteworthy alums are included on the athletic heritage page later in this section.

Alumni Organizations

The Notre Dame Alumni Association was established in 1868, some 26 years after the University's founding. Father Neal Gillespie, C.S.C., was elected the first president of the Notre Dame Alumni Association, then comprised of just a few hundred graduates — while the current membership reaches nearly 110,000.

Leadership — Several Alumni Association staff are former Notre Dame student-athletes, led by executive director Chuck Lennon (a catcher with the Irish baseball team in the early 1960s) and another former Irish baseball player, Scott Siler ('82), who serves as the Association's director of information technology.

Membership — Any person who holds a Notre Dame undergraduate or graduate degree and any who has matriculated at the University and is approved for membership by the Alumni Board shall be a regular member of the Alumni Association.

Alumni Clubs — An alumni club is one of the most viable channels through which the University is perceived by local communities. The Alumni Association helps coordinate activities of 215 domestic alumni clubs and 63 international chapters.

Reunion Weekend — Traditionally held the first weekend in June, Alumni Reunion is the largest campus program sponsored by the Alumni Association. Each five-year class is invited to participate. The program offers exciting and rewarding events for some 3,000 alumni and their spouses.

Notre Dame Magazine — This quarterly publication is sent to all alumni as well as parents of current students. News contributed by class officers is featured in the section entitled, "The Classes."

The Alumni Newsletter — This publication is distributed three times a year and highlights people, programs and events that are related to the Alumni Association, including local alumni activities.

Visitors Center — The Eck Visitors Center, located on the south end of campus (next to the Hammes Bookstore), offers a meeting and resting place for visitors, in addition to providing a summary of the University's history. Display cases line the walls, featuring University information and artifacts. A lighted aerial map gives a visual overview of campus and interactive kiosks allow visitors to take a virtual tour of the campus. A number of sculptures are on display, including the work of the late world-renowned artist and Notre Dame professor Ivan Mestrovic. An auditorium offers a DVD movie that chronicles Notre Dame's tradition and excellence in academics and athletics and its commitment to spirituality.

Notre Dame Monogram Club: "Bridging the Gap Between Legend and Legacy"

The Notre Dame Monogram Club is comprised of some 6,500 individuals who have earned the University's varsity athletic insignia for their athletic or team-support endeavors or who have been honorary-monogram recipients. The club supports the primary goal of the University: the spiritual, intellectual and physical development of its students and alumni. By providing its members the opportunity to foster and maintain relationships across different sports, generations and geographical locations, the Monogram Club aspires to contribute — through the common bond of sport — to the social and professional enrichment of its members while providing a means for ongoing association with the University. As an integral part of the Notre Dame family, the Monogram Club endeavors to uphold and enrich the great tradition of Notre Dame athletics.

One of the organization's primary functions continues to be providing aid to children of Monogram Club members to attend Notre Dame, through the Brennan-Boland-Riehle ("BBR") Scholarship Fund. The fund is named in honor of Joe Boland, Rev. Thomas Brennan, C.S.C., and Rev. James Riehle, C.S.C. Monogram Club members donate to the fund, and the University handles the principal funds, with interest providing scholarship money. The fund has grown to approximately $5.0 million, making it one of Notre Dame's largest endowments.

Since the fund's inception in 1980, there have been 146 BBR Scholarship recipients — including 46 sons and daughters of Monogram Club members who attended Notre Dame in 2005-06 — whose combined scholarship allocations are more than $2 million.

In 1976, at a meeting called by 1949 Heisman Trophy winner Leon Hart, the Monogram Club developed its bylaws, recommending that its purpose was to foster all the principles of the University in its academic, athletic, religious and social endeavors along with promoting camaraderie between former athletes and alumni.

During the Monogram Club presidency of Harvey Foster in 1981, he recommended that an endowment fund be started for the express purpose of aiding the University in continuing non-revenue sports. During the next 15 months, nearly $8 million was pledged and paid into the endowment fund. Endowment contributions still are accepted but more recently the Monogram Club's efforts have been directed to increasing the Brennan-Boland-Riehle Fund.

In 1984, during the presidency of Jim Lynch, the club received permission to construct a Sports Heritage Hall in the concourse of the Joyce Center. The first phase was to provide a ring of gold which names each monogram winner, alphabetically by decade, with those plans reaching fruition in 1987 when some 4,300 names were placed in gold letters on the oak panels. Nearly 1,700 names later were added in 2001, honoring monogram winners from the 1990s.

The second phase of the Heritage Hall involved building display cases showing various pieces of memorabilia, pictures of individuals and teams, trophies of various awards and other interesting objects detailing the history of Notre Dame athletics.

The Monogram Club's ever-growing list of events and projects included the following activities during 2005-06:

- A full allocation of $1 million towards the Notre Dame Stadium enhancement project — featuring an elaborate series of banners that commemorate Notre Dame's rich tradition in college football
- Introduction of the Sports Liaison Program, which pairs board members with current Irish teams to foster a beneficial two-way relationship
- Establishing a Catastrophic Relief Fund to help former Notre Dame monogram winners faced with catastrophic problems of health and/or financial hardship
- Pledged support for the 35th anniversary of women's athletics at Notre Dame, to be celebrated in 2006-07
- Sponsorship of student-athletes who participated in various domestic and international summer-service projects, as coordinated by Notre Dame's Center for Social Concerns. Former Irish hockey player and recent Monogram Club board member Dave Bossy has made a 10-year commitment ($10,000 per year) to help fund sponsorship of student-athletes who participate in the Summer Service Program
- Funding aid for 2005-06 foreign trips by the Notre Dame men's lacrosse team (Czech Republic), the men's soccer team (Brazil), the women's lacrosse team and the men's tennis team (Germany)
- Continuing financial assistance ($110,000 in '05-'06) to programs benefiting current student-athletes, via the student welfare initiative (in conjunction with the athletic department's student welfare/life skills programs)
- An expanded student-athlete outreach and education program that includes continued sponsorship of the "OSCARS" all-sports banquet (with specific funding for the popular all-sports highlight video), an informative brochure targeted to student-athletes and continued sponsorship of the varsity monogram awards program (letter jackets, blazers, blankets, rings, and watches)
- The continuing program of providing laptop computers to the Academic Services for Student-Athletes, with student-athletes able to check out these computers during official team travel.
- Ongoing funding and presentation of BIG EAST-championship rings and NCAA-participation awards for Notre Dame teams and individuals

Other recent Monogram Club projects have included:

- A joint effort with the network of local Notre Dame alumni clubs, providing various team hosting events (such as receptions and cultural events) for Notre Dame teams as they travel throughout the country
- A series of football-weekend receptions for Monogram Club members and their guests, typically held in the Joyce Center prior to each home football game (the final home game also traditionally includes a unique thrill for all former monogram winners in attendance, who form the pregame tunnel as the Irish team takes the field)

Monogram Club dues-paying members annually greet the Notre Dame football team as it takes the field prior to the final home game.

- Continuing an expanded sponsorship of the annual Blue-Gold Football Alumni Weekend that includes the alumni flag-football game and an interactive Friday-night dinner (attended by 700-plus) with the program's current players and coaches
- The organization of several popular events, including the fourth annual Football Fantasy Camp, the annual Monogram Club golf outing (held during reunion weekend) and V.I.P. football weekend auctions
- Expanded offerings and unique website content at www.ndmonogramclub.com (also linked via und.com), as part of an ever-increasing list of member benefits
- And the traditional awarding of honorary monograms — presented to those who have demonstrated exceptional service to Notre Dame — in conjunction with the announcement of the Moose Krause Distinguished Service Award

The Monogram Club of today is comprised of some 4,100 dues-paying members who are awarded the block ND. Yearly dues entitle members to a variety of benefits: annual golf outing and dinner; membership card; the Inside Irish publication, with first-class mailing (plus e-mail and web options); members' children eligible for Brennan-Boland-Riehle scholarship at Notre Dame; and ticket applications for home football games. The Club's annual golf outing, mass for deceased members, dinner and meeting is held in early June prior to the Notre Dame Alumni Reunion Weekend.

Assistant athletic director Jim Fraleigh has served as the Monogram Club's executive director since the fall of 2004 while the current president is former volleyball player Julie Pierson Doyle (the first female president in the history of the Monogram Club). The first vice-president is former basketball player Marc Kelly, with former Academic All-America football player Joe Restic joining the officer rotation as second vice-president.

Irish athletics receive the finest in sports medicine care from the team of athletic trainers and physicians.

From the days of Knute Rockne, when Eugene "Scrap Iron" Young first began providing care to student-athletes, the Notre Dame athletic training department has evolved into a fully-staffed sports medicine team with three state-of-the-art facilities. The 2005-06 academic year was a time of key growth and expansion for Notre Dame's athletic training operation, in keeping up with the changing demands of college athletics. The sports medicine department added two new full-time staff positions while moving into its new primary locale at the Guglielmino Sports Complex.

Head athletic trainer and physical therapist Jim Russ now oversees a staff of three associate and eight assistant athletic trainers, plus two physical therapist/athletic trainers. The staff of 13 is responsible for the care and treatment of more than 750 Notre Dame student-athletes. The entire sports medicine staff is certified by the National Athletic Trainers Association and boasts nearly 200 years of collective experience.

Each staff member is responsible for the health care of at least two of Notre Dame's varsity athletic teams. Duties in that role include evaluating and assessing athletic injuries, administering first-aid, making medical referrals, establishing treatment and rehabilitation of athletic injuries and educating student-athletes on nutrition and injury prevention.

The foundation of the Notre Dame Sports Medicine Department falls under the direct supervision of several sports medicine physicians. This group now includes three university primary-care doctors – Notre Dame directors of sports medicine Dr. Willard Yergler and Dr. Jim Moriarty, plus Dr. Rich Jacobs – along with six orthopaedic surgeons: Dr. Becky Moskwinski, Dr. David Bankoff, Dr. Fred Ferlic, Dr. Robert Clemency, Dr. Michael Yergler and Dr. Chris Balint. A variety of medical consultants are available for specific needs, ranging from cardiology to dermatology, while the sports medicine department also is supplemented by 17 undergraduate student athletic trainers.

Notre Dame student-athletes have access to three state-of-the-art sports medicine facilities, in addition to the 24-hour University Health Center. The original athletic training room is located in the Joyce Center and Notre Dame Stadium is home to the 3,300 square-foot athletic training room – while the newest sports area is located in the new Guglielmino Athletics Center. This sports medicine area opened in the fall of 2005 and encompasses more than 8,500 square-feet of cutting-edge sports medicine technology.

Through these facilities, all student-athletes have access to the most modern sports medicine, providing the latest in diagnostic procedures, treatment and rehabilitation of athletic injuries. The various athletic training facilities include the latest in physical therapy modalities and rehabilitation equipment, with two 3,500-gallon therapy pools, a full x-ray unit and an MRI machine making up the majority of the department's diagnostic equipment.

The sports medicine team of athletic trainers and team physicians is committed to providing the most comprehensive and safest health care possible. Evaluations, treatments and rehabilitation are established for each individual, with the goal of returning the student-athletes to competitive status in the safest and quickest manner possible.

The Notre Dame strength and conditioning program is designed to provide each student-athlete with the most productive, effective and efficient means of sport-specific physical training. Led by director of strength and conditioning Ruben Mendoza, the Irish strength and conditioning staff has a simple philosophy that combines a "no nonsense" approach with an "old school" attitude.

The staff offers a well-balanced, well-rounded program by incorporating a variety of training methods from conjugate training to Olympic style movements. Everything the staff does is geared toward developing speed, power and strength.

The staff wants to teach Notre Dame student-athletes work ethic, discipline and pride with a relentless attitude to strive for, and win, championships.

When entering the 25,000-square foot Haggar Fitness Complex (shared by the Loftus Sports Center and the Guglielmino Athletics Complex), student-athletes are quickly reminded of the "roll up your sleeves" and "get to work" mentality that Mendoza and his staff inspires.

The Haggar Fitness Complex features 25,000 square feet of workout space with a three-lane speed development track (40 yards in length), a state-of-the-art sound system with 28 speakers and four sub woofers, six giant plasma screen televisions, a 45 x 18 yard Prestige Turf plyometric agility area and a Gatorade hydration station.

The Notre Dame strength and conditioning staff – seven full-time coaches and two intern coaches – includes: director of strength and conditioning Ruben Mendoza, senior assistant Tony Rolinski, assistants Mike Joseph, Brian Herzog, Rick Perry, Sarah Kearney and Chris Sandeen, nutritionist Abby Richey, and speed/skill development coach Shawn Gaunt. The staff provides a large enough group to meet the student-athlete needs while developing an environment where student-athletes want to come in order to get better and achieve athletic success.

One of the eye-catching features of the Haggar Fitness Complex, a 25,000 square-foot facility shared by the Guglielmino Athletics Complex and the Loftus Center, are two variable weight sleds installed in the summer of 2005.

NACDA Directors' Cup

DIRECTORS' CUP STANDINGS

A best-ever sixth-place finish in the 2005-06 United States Sports Academy Division I Directors' Cup all-sports competition sponsored by the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (formerly known as Sears Directors' Cup) added an exclamation point to the most successful across-the-board year in the history of Notre Dame athletics.

Notre Dame is among 11 schools to earn a top-20 finish in each of the past six years, as Irish programs finished 11th in 2001, 13th in '02 and '03, 19th in '04 and 16th in '05. The other schools with that distinction include five from the Pacific-10 Conference (Stanford, UCLA, California, Arizona State and Arizona) and two from the Southeastern Conference (Florida and Georgia), plus Ohio State (Big Ten), Texas (Big-12) and North Carolina (Atlantic Coast Conference).

Notre Dame made one of the most noteworthy single-year improvements, rising 10 spots from its 16th-place finish in 2004-05.

FALL

Fall NCAA competition earned the Irish 412 points based on their third-place NCAA finish in men's cross country (85 points), seventh-place in women's cross country (69 points), a quarterfinalist appearance in women's soccer (73 points) third-round appearances in both men's soccer and volleyball (64 points each) and a final ranking of 11th in the USA Today football poll (57 points).

Notre Dame finished the fall seasons in first place for the second straight year, with the 412 points representing the most ever by Notre Dame during the fall season.

WINTER

Winter competition netted Notre Dame 125.5 points – based on its fourth-place finish in the NCAA men's and women's combined fencing championship (40 points), a 33rd-place finish in men's indoor track and field (32.5 points), a 41st-place finish in women's swimming and diving (21 points) and a first-round NCAA appearance in women's basketball (25 points).

SPRING

Spring sports play netted 368 points – a boost of 120 points from the 2005 spring – thanks to NCAA participation in women's tennis (quarterfinals; 73 points), men's tennis (round-of-16; 64 points), women's outdoor track and field (32nd; 42 points), women's lacrosse (semifinalist; 41.5 points), rowing (9th; 37 points), softball (regional finalist; 50 points), baseball (regional participant; 25), men's golf (50th; 23 points) and men's lacrosse (1st round; 12.5 points). Per the Directors Cup scoring format, the women's track outdoor points displaced the points from the indoor.

HISTORICAL PERFORMANCE

In previous years in which the Directors' Cup competition has been held, Notre Dame has finished 11th in 1993-94, 30th in '95, 11th in '96, 14th in '97, 31st in '98, 25th in '99, 21st in 2000, 11th in '01, 13th in '02 and again in '03, 19th in '04 and most recently 16th for 2004-05.

All but one of Notre Dame's 26 varsity sports have scored points for the Irish in the NACDA Cup. Leading the way are the men's and women's fencing programs, which have used 12 consecutive top-four finishes at the NAAs to contribute 806 points since fencing was added to the NACDA Cup in 1995-96. Women's soccer has contributed 815.5 points, highlighted by seven national-semifinal appearances and a pair of titles ('95, '04). It also stands as one of two teams – along with women's volleyball – to have scored points in the NACDA Cup all 13 years. Eleven of Notre Dame's sports have contributed points on 10 or more occasions while 17 have scored in at least half (7) of the NACDA Cup competitions.

The Directors' Cup competition honors institutions for maintaining athletic programs that seek to achieve success in many sports, both men's and women's. Begun in 1993-94 for Division I by NACDA and USA Today, the program was expanded in 1995-96 to include Divisions II, III, and the NAIA. Each institution is awarded points in a pre-determined number of sports for men and women (10 each in Division I). The overall champion is the institution that records the highest number of points in their division's Directors Cup standings.

Notre Dame placed sixth in the 2005-06 NACDA Directors' Cup competition, its highest finish in the 13-year history of the Directors' Cup.

2005-06 Final NACDA Directors' Cup Standings

1.	Stanford	1,197.375
2.	UCLA	1,071.375
3.	Texas	966
4.	North Carolina	952.75
5.	Florida	913
6.	Notre Dame	905.5
7.	California	865.5
8.	Duke	851.25
9.	Georgia	850.75
10.	Southern California	840
11.	Arizona	831.625
12.	Ohio State	799.25
13.	Arizona State	784.625
14.	Tennessee	748.25
15.	Penn State	727.875
16.	Minnesota	725.875
17.	Florida State	713
18.	Washington	692.25
19.	Nebraska	685.5
20.	LSU	675.125

The Notre Dame athletic department's sixth-place finish in the annual Directors' Cup standings included a historic finish by the women's lacrosse team, which reached the NCAA semifinals for the first time in the program's history.

BEST OF BOTH WORLDS – The Notre Dame athletic department continues to emerge as one of the highest-rated in the nation ... a 2005 report by the National Collegiate Scouting Association listed Notre Dame third (behind Stanford and Duke) in Division I-A rankings for schools with the top combination of academics and athletics, based on student-athlete graduation rates, the U.S. News and World Report rankings (academic) and the annual Directors' Cup all-sports standings.

A SPORT-MINDED CAMPUS – A Sports Illustrated feature on "America's Top Jock Schools" crowned UCLA No. 1, with Notre Dame a close runner-up ... the profile cited the Bengal Bouts campus-wide boxing tournament that benefits the Holy Cross Mission, Bookstore Basketball (the world's largest five-on-five basketball tournament) and intramural football in full pads (with the title game in Notre Dame Stadium) – plus the fact that 75 percent of Notre Dame undergrads lettered in high-school sports.

ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE – The success of Notre Dame athletics extends to the classroom:

- All 26 athletics programs at Notre Dame in 2004-05 and '05-'06 exceeded the NCAA's new academic performance standard introduced in 2005, with 14 Irish teams in '05-'06 scoring a perfect 1,000 (most from any Division I-A school) ... the Academic Progress Rate (APR) uses a series of formulas related to student-athlete retention and eligibility.

- In the traditional federal-mandated format of the NCAA graduation-rate report, Notre Dame ranked first nationally in the survey covering student-athletes who enrolled between '95-'98, based on the raw percentage of those who entered and graduated within six years (those who left or transferred were considered non-graduates) ... ND's 90.4% graduation rate in that study ranked first among all of Division I-A schools (also first with 87% grad. rate for male student-athletes and first with 96% for female student-athletes).

- Among 626 student-athletes who completed all four years of athletic eligibility at Notre Dame from among those entering over a 10-year period from 1989-90 through 1998-99, virtually 100 percent (623 of 626; 99.52%) earned their degrees.

- Another new graduation-rate survey – the GSR (Graduation Success Rate) – ranks Notre Dame second among Division I-A schools with a 98% GSR score (Navy is first on that list). The GSR was created to more accurately reflect graduation rates by factoring in transfer data. Notre Dame also was second in the latest male GSR rankings (98%, behind Navy) and fifth for female student-athletes (99%, behind Duke, Northwestern, Rice and Navy).

- Notre Dame student-athletes combined to post a 4.0 semester GPA 31 times in the 2005 spring and fall semesters ... those of note who posted 4.0s in 2005 included: soccer players Mary Boland, Erika Bohn, Ashley Jones, Susan Pinnick and John Stephens, swimmers Kelli Barton and Patrick Davis, sprinter Maryann Erigha, golfer K.C. Wiseman, lacrosse player Mary Carpenter, distance runners Sunni Olding, Elizabeth Webster, Mike Popejoy and Todd Ptacek, and track-and-field performer Petra Dankova.

SPANNING THE GLOBE – Similar to the composition of the Notre Dame student body, the 26 current varsity teams include student-athletes from nearly every state ... Notre Dame's 2004-05 varsity rosters included some 700 student-athletes who hailed from 44 states (all but Hawaii, Maine, Mississippi, Utah, West Virginia and Wyoming), plus six Canadian provinces and 19 other foreign countries: Austria, Cayman Islands, Colombia, Czech Republic, El Salvador, England, Finland, Germany, Guatemala, Hong Kong, Iceland, Ireland, Jamaica, Korea, Luxembourg, Mexico, Poland, Singapore and South Africa.

A TRADITION OF SUCCESS

- Notre Dame has claimed 25 NCAA team titles: 11 in football ('24, '29, '30, '43, '46, '47, '49, '66, '73, '77, '88),

* Individuals noted by asterisks were Notre Dame student-athletes, primarily in the same sport with which they now are affiliated (Hawkins played basketball; Golic, Smith, Orsini and Williams were football players.; Karr played hockey; Bobinski and Chryst were baseball players).

seven in fencing (men in '77, '78 and '86, women in '87, combined in '94, '03, '05), two in women's soccer ('95, '04) and men's tennis ('44, '59), and one each in men's golf ('44), men's cross country ('57) and women's basketball ('01) ... the 2004-05 academic year saw Notre Dame win two NCAA titles (women's soccer and combined fencing) for the third time in the athletic department's history (also men's golf/men's tennis in '43-'44; football/men's fencing in '77-'78).

- Notre Dame's 11-year domination as a member of the BIG EAST Conference includes winning an unprecedented 13 official BIG EAST championships (based on tournament finish or regular-season standings) in 2005-06, besting the 10 titles won by the Irish in '04-'05 as the most ever by one school in a single academic year ... Notre Dame's BIG EAST titles in '05-'06 included five men's sports (cross country, swimming and diving, golf, outdoor track and field, and baseball) plus women's soccer, volleyball, cross country, swimming and diving, indoor track and field, softball, rowing and tennis. A total of 16 Notre Dame teams (out of 21) finished first or second in 2004-05 BIG EAST play – with men's tennis, women's lacrosse and women's outdoor track and field nearly winning BIG EAST titles before finishing in second place.

- Notre Dame's total of nearly 900 All-Americans includes 24 who have been four-year All-Americans and 49 who have coupled All-America and Academic All-America honors in the same season. The 2005-06 year saw an all-time high of five different Notre Dame student-athletes earn both All-America and Academic All-America honors.

BIG EAST Conference

The BIG EAST Conference in 2006-07 enters its second year as the nation's largest Division I-A conference. The first year with 16 members produced plenty of curiosity among those in the world of collegiate athletics and in the media, but the league thrived in its new alignment while enjoying significant success in the athletic arenas, on the playing fields and in the classroom.

The goals of the BIG EAST have remained constant throughout its history – to compete at the highest level and to do so with integrity and sportsmanship.

BIG EAST squads secured a league-record eight bids to the 2005-06 NCAA Tournament while seven BIG EAST women's basketball teams earned NCAA berths. In football, West Virginia garnered the attention of the college football world with its victory over Georgia in the Nokia Sugar Bowl, as the BIG EAST's representative in the Bowl Championship Series.

The BIG EAST welcomed five new members in 2005-06, increasing its membership to 16 with the addition of the University of Cincinnati, DePaul University, the University of Louisville, Marquette University and the University of South Florida. Some were ready to call the new BIG EAST alignment too unwieldy but the league showed that there can be strength in numbers even when that number is a large one.

BIG EAST institutions reside in nine of the nation's 34 largest media markets, including New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Washington, D.C., Tampa, Pittsburgh, Hartford, Milwaukee and Cincinnati. With its newest members, BIG EAST markets will contain almost one fourth of all television households in the U.S.

Since opening its doors in 1979, the league has seen its teams win 25 national championships in six different sports while 123 student-athletes from BIG EAST schools have won individual national titles.

The Villanova women's cross country team recently was named the NCAA's Silver Anniversary Cross Country Program, with that 2005 honors recognizing seven NCAA team titles by the Wildcats since 1981. Former Villanova standout Carole Zajac was named the top individual performer of the NCAA women's cross country era.

The BIG EAST always has been able to boast that some of its best students are also some of its best athletes. More than 350 BIG EAST student-athletes have earned Academic All-America honors – including West Virginia's Joe Herber, who was named by the College Sports Information Directors of America as its ESPN The Magazine

Academic All-American of the Year in men's basketball for the 2005-06 season.

The BIG EAST has continued its basketball success in the 21st century. Connecticut became the first school in NCAA history to win the men's and women's NCAA titles in the same season (in 2003-04). With the Syracuse men and the UConn grabbing NCAA crowns the previous year, the BIG EAST became the first conference in NCAA history to win the men's and women's titles in consecutive seasons. In fact, the BIG EAST has won five of the past seven women's basketball crowns and three of the past eight men's titles.

Moving proactively has been a consistent strategy for the conference, as the BIG EAST continually has turned challenges into opportunities to become stronger. The BIG EAST added women's lacrosse and rowing to its growing list of sports in the spring of 2001 while the inaugural women's golf championship was held in the spring of 2003.

The BIG EAST became a reality on May 31, 1979, following a meeting of athletic directors from Providence, St. John's, Georgetown and Syracuse. Seton Hall, Connecticut and Boston College completed the original seven-school alliance.

While the membership has increased and changed, the focus of the BIG EAST has not wavered. The conference reflects a tradition of broadbased programs, led by administrators and coaches who place a constant emphasis on academic integrity. The BIG EAST Conference has enjoyed a leadership role nationally. Its student-athletes own significantly high graduation rates and their record of scholastic achievement notably shows a balance between intercollegiate athletics and academics.

Any successful organization needs outstanding leadership. Michael Tranghese – the league's first full-time employee and, for 11 years, the associate to Dave Gavitt – moved into the BIG EAST commissioner's chair in 1990. In his first year, Tranghese administered the formation of the BIG EAST Football Conference.

The league has long been considered a leader in innovative concepts in promotion and publicity, particularly regarding television. Those efforts have resulted in unparalleled visibility for BIG EAST student-athletes. The conference has enjoyed long-standing relationships with CBS, ESPN and ABC.

While BIG EAST basketball games are regular sellouts at campus and major public arenas, including the annual men's BIG EAST Championship in Madison Square Garden, attendance figures also are significant at BIG EAST soccer, women's basketball and baseball games.

More than 550 BIG EAST athletes have earned All America recognition and dozens have won individual NCAA national championships. The BIG EAST has been well represented in U.S. or foreign national and Olympic teams. Several athletes earned gold medals in each of the past five summer Olympiads.

The BIG EAST has its headquarters in Providence, where the conference administers to more than 5,500 athletes in 23 sports.
