Irish Lacrosse Experience

Playing Across the Country

Over the past two-plus decades, the Notre Dame men's lacrosse program has showcased itself all over the United States.

In 1990, Notre Dame and Air Force squared off in the first-ever NCAA Division I men's lacrosse game in the state of California. Notre Dame returned to the Golden State in 2005 to face North Carolina in the First Four Invitational in Carson. In the fall of 2010, the Fighting Irish played Johns Hopkins during the San Francisco Fall Lacrosse Classic.

Notre Dame and Army met in a 2008 fall ball contest in Minnesota.

The Fighting Irish headed to Atlanta, Ga. during the 2008 campaign to face Dartmouth and the Irish returned to the Peach State the following season and took on Loyola in Powder Springs. Both of those contests were part of the Southern Showdown.

The Fighting Irish played in Texas during the 2009 and 2010 seasons. In 2009, Notre Dame and Vermont clashed in the Patriot Cup in Dallas. Notre Dame met Fairfield during the 2010 campaign in Houston. That contest was part of the Beating Cancer With a Stick Lacrosse Classic. The Fighting Irish opened the 2011 season against Duke at the Sunshine Classic in Jacksonville, Florida.

Networking

A fall networking trip to New York City has become a tradition for the Fighting Irish program. During the University's fall break, head coach Kevin Corrigan and members of his staff have taken the team's upperclassmen to The Big Apple for a day of networking. During their trips, the group has met with Notre Dame alumni and others who work at key companies in the city. Stops along the way have included the New York Stock Exchange, BlackRock, MTV and NASDAQ.

When the Notre Dame squad traveled out West in the fall of 2010 to play Johns Hopkins in the San Francisco Fall Lacrosse Classic, the Irish juniors and seniors visited Google and EA Sports for additional networking opportunities.

The coaching staff also has taken members of the team to Chicago to explore even more professional business opportunities.

Foreign Trips

In order to enhance the student-athlete experience, the Notre Dame men's lacrosse program has traveled four times internationally. The team journeyed to Ireland in 1995, England/Ireland/Wales in 2001, the Czech Republic in 2005 and Japan in 2010. The Fighting Irish squad has competed in games and conducted clinics during their time in the foreign lands.

Helping Humanity

The Notre Dame men's lacrosse program is heavily involved in helping the local and international communities.

In December of 2010, the Fighting Irish men's lacrosse and men's basketball teams worked together with Notre Dame student government and a host of departments across the campus to sponsor the Playing for Peace 3v3 Basketball Tournament (bottom). The tournament's purpose was to raise awareness for peace in Sudan. The event also featured a Stand With Sudan peace rally. Later that month, a delegation from the University of Notre Dame that included Kevin Dugan, a former Irish lacrosse player and the team's Operations Assistant at that time, and then junior defenseman Jake Brems spent time in Washington, D.C. (right) and Baltimore, Md. to further the school's commitment to peace in Sudan by advocating for full implementation of the Comprehensive Peace Agreement in Sudan.

The group had meetings with key policymakers and non-governmental organizations. Among the stops on the trip were the White House, the State Department, Senator Richard Lugar's (Ind.) office, Congressman Joe Donnelly's (Ind.) office and Catholic Relief Services (CRS) Headquarters.

The Playing for Peace initiative seeks to use the platform of sport to transcend boundaries and bring people together in the pursuit of peace, justice and human understanding. Along with the work to help Sudan, the Irish program routinely does service work in the South Bend area to promote a more peaceful society.

Arlotta Stadium

Arlotta Stadium is the home for the Notre Dame men's and women's lacrosse programs. Construction of the facility began in August of 2008 and it held its first event on October 16, 2009 as the Notre Dame men's team played the Iroquois National Team in an exhibition contest. The official stadium dedication was held on October 17, 2009.

The stadium features over 2,000 seats, lights, an artificial-turf field, locker rooms, player lounges, restrooms and concession areas.

The state-of-the-art facility is named after Notre Dame graduate John Arlotta, president and chief executive officer of Denver-based Coram Inc. He and his wife Bobbie pledged the lead gift toward the stadium, which was built to the east of the Joyce Center as part of the University's new athletics quadrangle. The Arlotta children - Mindy, Andy and Jon - also pledged an additional gift from The Arlotta Family Foundation toward the project. In addition to their generous donation, alumni and friends of the lacrosse programs donated over two million dollars.

The field is a top-notch artificial surface.

Arlotta Stadium opened its doors in October of 2009. The exterior displays banners of former Irish greats.

Arlotta Stadium features over 2,000 permanent seats. Additional seating is available on a grass berm opposite of the stands.

The men's lacrosse player lounge, which is adjacent to the locker room, has flat-screen televisions along with abundant seating for studying and relaxing.

The press box has over 20 seats for media and support staff along with three broadcast booths.

The official Arlotta Stadium dedication was held on October 17, 2009.

Loftus Sports Center

The Loftus Sports Center, combined with Arlotta Stadium, gives the University of Notre Dame some of the top lacrosse facilities in the country. Constructed in 1988, the Loftus Sports Center is one of just six indoor facilities in the country that plays host to Division I men's lacrosse games.

The Loftus Sports Center provides Notre Dame with one of the top multi-purpose indoor facilities in the nation. The Mayo Field is permanently marked for lacrosse competition and is used as a backup site for games and practice in the event of inclement weather.

The building is named after John R. Loftus of St. Charles, Ill., a 1949 graduate of the University. Loftus is chief executive of JRL, a real estate, investment and construction firm. Loftus is also a member of the Notre Dame Monogram Club, having played on the varsity basketball team in 1944, 1948 and 1949.

The field and surrounding track are named for Ray and Marie Mayo of Brecksville, Ohio. Mayo, who graduated from Notre Dame in 1964, is president and chief executive officer of Telxon Corp. in Akron, Ohio.

In addition to the Mayo Track and Field in the Loftus Center, the Irish lacrosse squad also benefits from the Haggard Fitness Center located in the facility. Equipped with more than 40,000 pounds of free weights, it is considered by national strength coaches to be one of the largest, and finest, college training facilities in the nation.

Loftus Sports Center saw its first intercollegiate lacrosse action on April 27, 1988, when Notre Dame posted a 10-7 victory over Michigan State.

The Isban Auditorium within the Guglielmino Athletics Complex provides an ideal setting for team meetings. The auditorium can seat up to 150 people in large chairback seats.

The Haggard Fitness Center, which is shared by both the Loftus Center and the Guglielmino Athletics Complex, features 25,000 square feet of strength and conditioning space with state-of-the-art weight equipment, a 50-yard Mondo track for speed training, a 45-yard by 18-yard Prestige Turf athletic surface for team workouts and an updated sound and lighting system that features six plasma television screens.

The Loftus Sports Center, one of the six indoor facilities in the country that plays host to Division I men's lacrosse games, is the site of Irish lacrosse games when inclement weather precludes them from being contested outdoors.

IRISH REFLECTIONS

DAVEY LEACH '09

Midfielder • Captain of the 2009 team

"When I first walked onto Notre Dame's campus as a slightly overweight 19 year old I had no idea what to expect from my next four years. From the moment I entered the locker room at the back of the Joyce Center, Notre Dame began to shape me into the person I am today. The tools and contacts I developed during my four years on the lacrosse team will stay with me the rest of my life. Not a day goes by when I do not think back to times I spent with my 40 best friends on and off the field. I loved every minute I was at Notre Dame, and I still love every teammate I had at Notre Dame."

PETER CHRISTMAN '09

Midfielder • Captain of the 2009 team

"The individuals within an undergraduate institution who catalyze the learning process—who teach students how to think critically and act independently—are what differentiates great universities from the rest. Whether it's the teachers, advisors, coaches, administrators, or students themselves, Notre Dame is distinguished by the people within it. This defining characteristic is often described as the Notre Dame family. It's a term that is used quite loosely but, nonetheless, represents both the solidarity of the University's community and, more importantly, the ability of those within the community to influence the decisions and actions of others for the better long after they have departed South Bend. To this day, it is the people of Notre Dame who bring out the best in me—who challenge me to push further and faster. And for that I am, and will forever be, indebted."

DAVE CASHEN '97

Defenseman • Academic All-American

"Nowhere in the country could I have found such a good education and a school surrounded by students who love their school, what it stands for and most of all their classmates. I was able to combine this with four years of competitive lacrosse on a team nationally-ranked, well-coached and most of all, created by 35 teammates devoted to each other on and off the field. It is a great feeling to have 35 friends always to support, encourage and entertain you."

MIKE IORIO '95

Defenseman • Three-time All-American

"Notre Dame lacrosse provided me with four years of fun and excitement, and it continues to be a part of my life. As a freshman in 1992, I was a part of the team that had the program's first top-10 win. By my senior year, we had accomplished what no other NCAA Division I men's lacrosse team had ever done - the No. 12 seed knocked off the No. 5 seed in the first round of the NCAA Tournament. In the four years that came between these two historic Notre Dame lacrosse events, I received a great education, developed the teamwork and time management skills that I utilize every day in the banking world and built friendships that will last me a lifetime."

JIMMY KEENAN '98

Midfielder • Three-time honorable mention All-American

"The decision to attend Notre Dame and play lacrosse there has turned out to be the most gratifying decision of my life thus far. This unique University fulfilled all I could have wished for as a high school senior. As a school, it offers everything from academics to athletics to nightlife and a campus atmosphere that can only be summed up with the cliché 'Notre Dame Family.' The experience, memories and friends that I have accumulated over my four years there have really defined who I am today. Playing lacrosse at Notre Dame, with its tradition and history, was certainly the proudest and most memorable experience for me. The team and the University will always remain a part of my life for it is truly a family."

KEVIN O'CONNOR '89

Midfielder/Defenseman • Captain of the 1989 team

"As a candidate for United States Congress, I was amazed at the amount of attention given by the media and voters to my having served as captain of the lacrosse team at the University of Notre Dame. Indeed, of all the activities in which I have been involved, my experience as a lacrosse player at Notre Dame was the most valuable in the campaign. The traits that make Notre Dame athletics special in the eyes of the public - sportsmanship, integrity and success - are of equal value in the political arena."

Season Preview

Senior Steve Murphy is among a deep group of Fighting Irish midfielders. Murphy has not missed a game during his Notre Dame career and has 20 goals and 12 assists in 47 career outings.

Irish Bring Back Talent, Depth And Experience For 2013 Campaign

Notre Dame returns eight starters, including three All-America honorees, from semifinalist finish.

Coming off the program's second NCAA Championship Weekend appearance in three seasons, the Notre Dame men's lacrosse team is primed to make it back to the big stage Memorial Day Weekend thanks to a deep and talented roster. The Fighting Irish welcome back eight starters, including five in the attack and midfield, from last season's squad that went 13-3, won the BIG EAST regular-season title and finished as national semifinalists.

"I like that we have a lot of different elements of what I think you need to be successful," Notre Dame head coach Kevin Corrigan said. "We're athletic, we have a great work ethic and we have experience at every position. We're good where you need to be, in the goal. We have a lot of different guys who can make plays. That's a pretty good place to start when you're putting a team together."

First team All-American and 2012 BIG EAST Goalkeeper of the Year John Kemp is back in the cage for his senior season. Kemp ranked first nationally last season in both goals-against average (.627) and save percentage (.637).

"John Kemp had a terrific year last year," Corrigan said. "He's probably as good as anyone out there, but he has to go back out there and do it again and he knows that. He has unbelievable poise and confidence in the cage and has the perfect mentality for a goalie. He has a short memory. He doesn't linger on the great saves and he doesn't linger on the goals. He just moves on to the next play every time."

Two starters – senior Matt Miller and junior Stephen O'Hara – are back in front of Kemp in the close defensive unit, but the Irish will have a key hole to fill with the loss of first team All-American and '12 BIG EAST Defensive Player of the Year Kevin Randall, who was a three-year starter.

Miller and O'Hara started every game last season and helped the Fighting Irish rank first nationally in scoring defense (.631 gpg) and man-down defense (.892). Notre Dame is the only team to finish in the top five nationally in scoring defense in each of the last six seasons. Miller earned honorable mention All-America accolades last season in addition to being second team all-BIG EAST.

"Defensively, we're still looking for a few answers," Corrigan said. "We lost some guys both up top and on close defense. We're looking for the answers and aren't quite sure yet who exactly will step in there or if it'll be by committee. We feel good that we have the experience of Matt Miller, Stephen O'Hara and (long-stick midfielder) Ty Andersen. So that's not a terrible place to be."

Three starters on attack, including '12 first team all-BIG EAST pick Sean Rogers, are back for the Fighting Irish. Rogers, a fifth-year senior, has posted a team-high goal total in each of the last two seasons, including a 22-goal effort in '12.

"Sean Rogers brings a lot of experience and he has always been a guy that has been poised," Corrigan said. "Sean has a lot of maturity to him beyond the fact that he's a fifth-year senior. He'll be the leader of our offense in a lot of ways."

Junior Westy Hopkins and sophomore Conor Doyle are the other returning starters in the attack. Hopkins registered 18 goals and seven assists last season, while Doyle compiled 13 goals and seven assists. In all, the Irish welcome back 83 percent of their goals scored from last season.

"Westy Hopkins has a knack for scoring big goals," Corrigan said. "We're able to put him in better situations now because of the people we have around him. I think he's getting more of the right kind of opportunities and that's going to be good for him."

The attack will also feature talented freshman Matt Kavanagh, who helped the United States win the Under-19 World Championship this past summer. Kavanagh was named tournament MVP and the most outstanding attackman of the event.

"Matt Kavanagh is terrific," Corrigan said. "He is different than a lot of freshman because he has a lot of skills. He's good inside and he's good outside. He's good with the ball and he's good without the ball. Matt can score and he can distribute."

A key cog in the midfield is junior Jim Marlatt, who made his college debut last season after missing his entire freshman campaign due to injury. Marlatt had an impressive first season with the Irish as he tallied 19 goals and a team-high 12 assists en route to honorable mention All-America accolades. He also was named first team all-BIG EAST.

"Jim Marlatt is probably our best shooter from the midfield," Corrigan said. "He stretches the defense and that puts a lot of pressure on the defense."

The Fighting Irish used three midfield lines last season and eight of those nine players are back. Senior Ryan Foley joins Marlatt as a returnee on the first midfield line. Foley posted 13 goals and eight assists last season.

"I think Ryan Foley is playing the most complete lacrosse of his career," Corrigan said. "He's doing a little bit of everything. He can invert, he can score, he can feed the ball and play off the ball."

Notre Dame also boasts a talented defensive midfield both at the short-stick and long-pole. Headlining the short-stick group is senior Quinn Cully, while fellow senior Tyler Andersen is the top returnee at the long-stick position. Notre Dame also welcomes Maryland transfer David Miller to the short-stick unit. David, the older brother of Matt Miller, graduated from Maryland and will use his final season of eligibility with the Fighting Irish.

"We have a lot of competition for spots in the midfield," Corrigan said. "We have depth and experience. We have to find out what roles we are going to play guys in. The new rules are going to make it a challenge too because we aren't quite sure yet if you can get your d-middies on and off effectively."

The Fighting Irish also welcome back both of their primary faceoff guys in junior Liam O'Connor and sophomore Nick Ossello. O'Connor went 94-for-189 (.497) last season, while Ossello was 53-for-102 (.520).

"Liam O'Connor has become not just our faceoff guy, but he's a better field player now than he's ever been," Corrigan said. "He can stay out there and play offense and defense. He's not a guy we're afraid to have out on the field like a lot of faceoff guys. He has all the skills for the game and that makes him valuable."

"Nick Ossello is another terrific athlete. He's strong, fast and physical. He brings that to the game along with a passion that's valuable to us as well."

Here's a further breakdown of the 2013 Notre Dame squad ...

ATTACK

The trio of Rogers, Hopkins and Doyle has combined for 82 starts during their college careers. They also have teamed up to post 103 goals in six combined seasons.

Along with the veterans, the Fighting Irish will rely on the rookie Kavanagh and juniors Ryan Mix and John Scioscia. Mix scored three goals last season and he gives the Irish a presence in the crease. Scioscia has not played significant minutes yet for the Irish, but the coaching staff thinks he will have an impact on this season's team.

"Each of these guys (Rogers, Hopkins and Doyle) does something different well and that's a good thing," Corrigan said. "Right now we have a bit of a logjam with about six guys that are really competing for the playing time (in the attack). However that plays out, it'll be good for us."

Notre Dame will miss the services of junior Alex Eaton, who is out for the season with an injury. He registered two goals and one assist last season as part of the team's man-up unit.

Sophomores Kyle Runyon and Logan Connolly bring good skills to the offensive end of the field and will provide quality depth. Corrigan also feels there is a chance Runyon could see time in the midfield. Freshman Eddy Lubowicki is another talented attackman that has a bright future at Notre Dame.

MIDFIELD

Just like the attack, Notre Dame's midfield also boasts talent, depth and experience. Last season, the Fighting Irish used three midfield lines, but Corrigan isn't sure if he will go that route this year.

"I don't know (if we'll use three midfield lines)," Corrigan said. "That's something that evolved in the early part of last season. We'll see if that same dynamic is in play. We haven't made a decision about that."

Sophomore Will Corrigan is likely to join Marlatt and Foley on the first midfield. Corrigan, the son of the Irish head coach, was a key factor on Notre Dame's third midfield line last season as he tallied five goals and one assist.

"Will Corrigan brings a variety of skills just like Ryan Foley," the Irish head coach said. "He can do a lot of different things. When you put a scorer like Jim (Marlatt) with two guys who do a lot of things on-ball and off-ball that can be an effective group. He can also go down and play good defense. He's just a good decision maker with the ball and that's always valuable."

Seniors Steve Murphy and Tyler Kimball will be the anchors of Notre Dame's second midfield once again this season. In '12, Murphy registered five goals and seven assists, while Kimball compiled two goals and two assists. Murphy was hurt during the fall season, but is back healthy and ready to go this spring.

"Steve Murphy is poised to have a big year," Corrigan said. "He's worked very hard. He's probably our most dynamic one-on-one dodger. That's a good thing to have because you need to have someone to get buy their guy and Steve is a guy that can consistently do that."

"I'd love to see Ty Kimball have the breakout year that I think he's capable of having. It's just a matter of him finding that poise in the moment and finishing that shot or that play that he puts himself in the position to make. He does a good job of putting himself in a position to make plays now it's just matter of finishing those plays. If he does, he can be a very impactful guy for us."

Fellow senior Pat Cotter will miss the entire '13 campaign due to an injury. Cotter produced six goals and two assists from the third midfield last season.

Jack Near, a sophomore, played in every game during his rookie season as part of Notre Dame's talented defensive midfield. Corrigan will use Near as a two-way midfielder this season and thinks he has a bright future in that role.

"Jack Near is a terrific athlete," Corrigan said. "He's going to play on a regular midfield and get some two-way run. That's going to allow him to expand his game offensively. He's probably our best athlete in the midfield. His speed and athleticism are valuable to us in a lot of ways."

Even with Near moving to a two-way midfielder role, Corrigan really likes what he has at the short-stick defensive midfielder position.

"I don't know if there will be a better group of short-stick d-midgies as those two (Quinn Cully and David Miller)," Corrigan said. "David Miller's attitude and work ethic have been terrific. He is really committed to making this a big year for him and the team."

"Quinn Cully has been a great leader this year. He has been working hard. He has played major minutes for us in that role. We feel really good about where we are there."

Cully, Foley, Rogers and Matt Miller will captain the Irish this season.

Junior Tyler Brenneman has played significant minutes during his first two seasons at Notre Dame. He was on the third line last season and Corrigan likes the way he makes others around him better. Another veteran in the midfield group is senior Andy Will.

Sophomores Connor McCollough and Will Gilmartin figure to be factors in the midfield rotation this season.

Notre Dame features five freshman midfielders. Trevor Brosco brings a variety of skills to the field, including the ability to faceoff. Cole Riccardi is a big, physical athlete that has shown a lot of improvement already in his college career.

Bobby Gray has switched from attack to midfield. Corrigan is not sure if this will be a permanent move or one just for his rookie season, but he feels it will help with Gray's development.

Fellow freshmen Kyle Trolley and Adam Goins have been hampered by injuries, but bring athleticism and skill to the midfield position. Trolley is Notre Dame's first-ever Canadian player.

DEFENSE

The main question for the Fighting Irish defense will be who will occupy the third spot down low. Juniors Brian Buglione, Michael Shephardson and Chris Prevotnik all are candidates for that job.

"Brian Buglione is another big, physical player and he brings an intelligence and a discipline to the field," Corrigan said. "Chris Prevotnik is probably the most dynamic player up for the spot. He flies around the field and looks to make plays. He brings a lot of passion to the game. Michael Shephardson is physically gifted. He is big, strong and fast. He is starting to figure out how we need him to play and work as a unit."

Sophomore Henry Williams will back up Andersen at the long-stick midfielder position. Williams can also shift down to close defense if needed. Juniors Matthew Collins and Ryan Smith also add depth to the long-pole group. However, Collins will most likely see time as a short-stick defensive midfielder this season.

The Fighting Irish welcome four freshmen to the defensive unit. Matt Landis can play either up top or down low and could very well see significant minutes during his rookie campaign. Jack Sheridan, Thomas Stephan and Edwin Glazener are the other newcomers in the defense.

GOALIE

Backing up John Kemp will be sophomore Conor Kelly, who did not play in a game during his rookie season.

"Conor Kelly keeps getting better," Corrigan said. "He's had some absolutely brilliant days in the preseason. We have a lot of confidence in Conor as he backs up John. We know he'll be able to step up whether it's now, if something should happen, or next year."

Freshman Andrew Larabee adds further depth to the goalie position. Corrigan has been very pleased with what he's seen out of Larabee.

"Andrew Larabee has been a pleasant addition to our team," the Notre Dame head coach said. "He can really save the ball and that's the first job for the goalie. He's learning to do everything that it takes to be a goalie. He does the main job very, very well."

Fighting Irish

Coaching Staff

Head coach Kevin Corrigan and his staff have guided the Irish to seven straight NCAA Championship appearances, including trips to Championship Weekend twice in the last three seasons.

KEVIN CORRIGAN

Head Coach

25th Season

Virginia '81

Kevin Corrigan is set to begin his 25th season on the Fighting Irish sideline in 2013. Since his arrival on campus in 1988, Corrigan has built Notre Dame into one of the premier men's lacrosse programs in the country. He boasts a 230-109 (.678) record during his impressive Notre Dame tenure.

Inheriting a program that had never earned a berth in the NCAA Championship, Corrigan has made the Irish a staple in the postseason. His tenure has been highlighted by three trips to Championship Weekend, including two appearances in the last three seasons. Notre Dame made the program's first-ever appearance in the national title game in 2010 and the Irish were national semifinalists in 2001 and 2012. Notre Dame has finished as NCAA quarterfinalists four times under Corrigan (1995, 2000, 2008, 2011).

Notre Dame has garnered 17 invitations to the NCAA Championship since 1990, including a current run of seven straight trips, which is a program-best streak. The Fighting Irish have received a national seed and a first-round home game four times in the past five years.

Corrigan's Irish squads have won 16 conference titles, including the 2012 BIG EAST regular-season championship, and have finished in the top 20 of the national rankings in 19 of the last 20 campaigns. Notre Dame has been adept at winning big games under Corrigan, registering 77 victories over nationally-ranked opponents, including 23 vs. top-10 foes.

At least one Irish player has garnered All-America accolades in each of the last 20 years, with 32 individuals earning a total of 56 All-America honors. A program-record six players received All-America citations in 2011.

The Fighting Irish also have hauled in numerous amounts of all-conference hardware under Corrigan's direction. Notre Dame was a member of the Great Western Lacrosse League (GWLL) from 1994-2009 and during that time, six Irish players were named the GWLL Player of the Year. Notre Dame student-athletes gained all-GWLL accolades on 94 occasions, an average of nearly six per season. Corrigan was named the GWLL coach of the year five times, including in 2009, which was the final season for the conference.

RECORD AT NOTRE DAME:

BIG EAST COACH OF THE YEAR:

2012

GWLL COACH OF THE YEAR:

1994, 1996, 2001, 2007, 2009

In the first three seasons of BIG EAST Conference play, Notre Dame has garnered 17 all-league honors. David Earl became the first Irish player to capture a major postseason award from the conference as he was selected the 2011 BIG EAST Midfielder of the Year. Three such awards came Notre Dame's way in 2012 as John Kemp was named the conference's goalkeeper of the year, Kevin Randall took home the defensive player of the year award and Corrigan was tapped as the BIG EAST coach of the year for the first time. That topped his conference coach of the year award tally to six.

Moving to the BIG EAST was not the only significant change for the Fighting Irish in 2010 as the team began play in its state of the art facility, Arlotta Stadium. Playing in a top-level league and in the multi-million dollar stadium will help Corrigan keep the Notre Dame program among the nation's best for years to come.

The last five seasons have witnessed the Fighting Irish achieve unprecedented success within the program and cement itself as one of the nation's top teams. Since the beginning of the 2008 campaign, the Irish rank fourth nationally in wins (63) and they are fifth in winning percentage (.788).

In 2008, Notre Dame played host to an NCAA tournament game for the first time in program history. The 2009 campaign featured the Irish posting the first undefeated regular season (13-0) in program history before extending their record to a school-best 15-0 in the GWLL tournament. Notre Dame reached the NCAA title game for the first time in school history in '10 and followed that up by achieving the No. 1 national ranking during the '11 regular season.

Notre Dame checked off another program-first in 2012 by winning the BIG EAST regular-season title for the first time. The Irish posted a perfect 6-0 league mark and went 13-3 overall. The Fighting Irish boasted the nation's top defense in '12 by allowing just 6.31 goals per game. That signified the fourth consecutive season that Notre Dame finished first or second nationally in team defense. The Irish also had the nation's top man-down defense in 2012 (.892).

Kemp earned All-America accolades for the second straight season, while Randall joined him on the United States Intercollegiate Lacrosse Association (USILA) first team. Midfielder Jim Marlatt and defenseman Matt Miller received honorable mention All-America citations. Those four student-athletes were among the six from Notre Dame that capped all-BIG EAST accolades for the season.

Kemp's first team All-America nod earned him the Ensign C. Markland Kelly, Jr. Award, which is presented annually to the nation's top goalie. He joined his older brother Joey, the 2008 recipient, as the only other Notre Dame player to cop the award. They are the only brother duo to receive the award, which has been presented since 1949. The Kemp duo is among five Notre Dame goalies that have received All-America honors under Corrigan's tutelage.

Notre Dame garnered the No. 4 seed for the '12 NCAA Championship. That seeding matched a program best that the Irish also earned the previous season. The '12 tournament run began with a 13-7 home victory over Yale and then the Irish knocked off fifth-seeded Virginia, 12-10, in the quarterfinals to advance to the national Corrigan has taken the Fighting Irish program to a level where they are in serious contention for the NCAA crown year in and year out. He has changed the mindset of how Notre Dame is viewed on the national landscape of college lacrosse. Corrigan and his staff have helped grow the sport of lacrosse in the state of Indiana and all over the Midwest by conducting clinics and showcasing a top-10 team that fans in the region are able to come and watch.

The work that Corrigan has done in shaping Notre Dame into one of the top lacrosse programs in the country has not gone unnoticed. In 2009, he was honored with the Frenchy Julien Service Award from the USILA. The award is presented in honor of former Chief Referee, Joseph R. "Frenchy" Julien for outstanding and continuous service to the sport.

Corrigan has continued the tradition of academic success for the Notre Dame men's lacrosse program. Since first competing on the varsity level in 1981, every Irish lacrosse senior has graduated. Three players since 1997 have gained Academic All-America honors. A total of 14 Notre Dame student-athletes have been named Scholar All-Americans by the USILA during Corrigan's tenure.

In 2012, Randall was named a USILA Scholar All-American, a Senior CLASS Award finalist and he received the BIG EAST Scholar-Athlete Sport Excellence Award. In addition, sophomore Tyler Brenneman became the first Irish player to earn the Elite 89 Award, which is presented to the player with the highest grade-point average from all of the teams that advanced to the national semifinals.

Many of the best players in Notre Dame history have played under Corrigan, as his graduates include each of the top five point scorers in the program's history, six of the top seven goal scorers and each of the top six players on the career assist list.

Playing beyond the college level has been a reality for a number of Corrigan's players. Thirty-four have been a member of a professional team in either Major League Lacrosse or the National Lacrosse League.

Six of his Irish players, including current freshman Matt Kavanagh, have earned spots on United States national teams. Five of those players have come away with gold medals, including defenseman D.J. Driscoll at the '10 Federation of International Lacrosse (FIL) World Championship in Manchester, England. Kavanagh helped the U.S. capture the 2012 FIL Under-19 World Championship with a 10-8 victory over Canada, which featured fellow Irish freshman Kyle Trolley. Kavanagh was named tournament MVP and the most outstanding attackman of the event.

It certainly did not take Corrigan long to place Notre Dame on the national lacrosse map. After leading the Irish to a 7-6 record in his first season, 1989, Corrigan's 1990 squad made history by gaining the school's first-ever USILA national ranking (17th in the final poll) and earning Notre Dame's first invitation to the NCAA Championship.

In 1992, Notre Dame went 10-5 and made its second appearance in the NAAs, winning the Great Lakes Conference championship and the West Region bid for the second time in three seasons.

The 1993 campaign saw the Irish make their third trip to the NCAA tournament and finish with a then program-record of 11 victories (11-3). Defenseman Mike Iorio became the first player in Irish history to be named an All-American, copping third-team honors. Corrigan wound up the season with an invitation to coach the North team in the North-South All-Star Game. His North squad took home a 28-16 victory.

In 1994, Corrigan guided the Irish to their third straight conference title – and the first for the newly-formed GWLL – Notre Dame posted a 10-2 overall mark and clinched an NCAA bid. He also was selected GWLL coach of the year for the second time in three seasons.

His '94 team also boasted two All-America honorees in GWLL player of the year Lorio and attackman Randy Colley, marking the first time in the program's history that multiple Irish players were named in the same year. Corrigan helped Notre Dame reach new heights in '95, notching its first-ever NCAA tournament win in a come-from-behind 12-10 victory at Duke, which marked the first time a team from the West had won an NCAA game. Notre Dame's season culminated with an appearance in the NCAA tournament quarterfinals, where the Irish lost to eventual national runner-up Maryland, 14-11. The Irish finished the '95 campaign with a 9-5 record and the Irish won their fourth straight league championship along the way.

Lorio and Colley, the '95 GWLL player of the year, both earned All-America honors again. Lorio was a second-team honoree, as he became Notre Dame's first three-time All-American, while Colley earned honorable-mention accolades for the second consecutive year and finished his career as the school's all-time leading scorer. His 273 points (173 G, 100 A) were 87 better than the previous Irish record.

For the first time in school history, three Notre Dame players earned All-America honors in the same season in '96, as Todd Rassas (D) was a third-team selection and Jimmy Keenan (M) and Alex Cade (G) were tabbed honorable mention. Notre Dame also cracked the national top 10 for the first time ever, climbing to seventh in the USILA poll in mid-April.

Notre Dame concluded the 1997 season ranked ninth, which was the program's highest final ranking at the time. That campaign saw Notre Dame earn its first-ever victory over a top-five opponent as the Irish defeated #4 Hofstra, 10-9, at Moose Krause Stadium en route to a 9-3 overall record.

In 1998, Rassas was named the GWLL player of the year and became the school's second three-time All-American when he earned third-team honors. Keenan was an honorable-mention selection that same season for the third consecutive year.

A year later, attackman Chris Dusseau finished his career as Notre Dame's second all-time leading goal scorer (113), while being named honorable mention All-American.

Corrigan and the Irish upset fifth-ranked Loyola, 15-13, in the first round of the 2000 NCAA tournament to advance to the quarterfinals for the second time in program history where they fell to fourth-ranked Johns Hopkins, 15-11. Notre Dame finished the season 10-4 and undefeated in the GWLL.

In 2001, Notre Dame beat perennial powers Virginia (11-8) and Loyola (10-7) on the road as the Irish started the season 5-0. The only blemish on their regular-season schedule was an 11-10 overtime loss at Hofstra. After concluding the regular season with a 12-1 mark, Notre Dame was awarded the fifth seed in the 12-team championship field, marking the first NCAA seeding in Irish history. A 12-7 first-round victory over Bucknell and a triumph against fourth-seeded Johns Hopkins (13-9) sent the Fighting Irish to Championship Weekend for the first time in program history. Notre Dame's journey ended with a 12-5 loss to Syracuse in the semifinals in Piscataway, N.J. The Irish concluded the campaign with a 14-2 record and ranked fourth nationally, which was the highest final ranking for the Irish at that time. The 14 victories established a program record.

A then program-record five players earned USILA All-America honors in '01, with attackman Tom Glatzel becoming the school's first-ever first-team selection, as well as one of five finalists for the Tewaaraton Trophy, given to the nation's top player. Goalie Kirk Howell capped second team All-America accolades while mid-fielder Steve Bishko was a third-team selection. In addition, attackman David Ulrich, the GWLL player of the year, and defenseman Mike Adams were named to the honorable mention list.

Adams also became the program's third CoSIDA Academic All-American, when he garnered first-team honors in the '01 men's spring at-large program.

The accomplishments of the '01 team were even more impressive considering they came when the Irish program lacked any grant-in-aid scholarships. Shortly thereafter, it was announced by then athletics director Kevin White that all Notre Dame programs would begin a process of offering the maximum number of grants-in-aid allowed by the NCAA, making future trips to the final four by the Irish lacrosse team a greater possibility.

Notre Dame went 5-8 in 2002, but bounced back with a 9-5 mark in 2003 and won a share of a fifth consecutive GWLL title, but just missed an at-large bid to the NCAA tournament. Attackman Pat Walsh became the first player in school history to earn All-America honors as a freshman as he was an honorable mention pick in '03.

The Fighting Irish posted a 7-5 mark in 2004 and then went 7-4 in 2005. Walsh capped All-America honors for the third straight season in '05, as he was an honorable mention selection along with Driscoll, who also was named the GWLL defensive player of the year. Freshman goalie Joey Kemp led the nation with a 0.652 save percentage.

In 2006, the Fighting Irish returned to the NCAA tournament for the first time since their trek to the semifinals in '01. The Irish fell to top-ranked, eventual national champion Virginia, 14-10 in the first round. The four-point margin was the closest outcome for the Cavaliers during their four-game run to the title and the second-closest margin over the course of their undefeated campaign. Notre Dame finished with a 10-5 overall record and the Irish were second in the GWLL with a 3-2 league mark.

Driscoll was named to the USILA All-America second team and Kemp was an honorable mention pick. The duo also was among the five Irish players named to the all-GWLL first team. That marked the fourth time that Notre Dame had placed at least five student-athletes on the all-GWLL first team. The Fighting Irish put a school-record seven on the list in '01 and '09.

The 2007 season saw the Fighting Irish notch an 11-4 record, including a perfect 5-0 mark in the league to win their 10th GWLL title and their first outright championship since '01. Notre Dame made its second straight trip to the NCAA Championship, yet history repeated itself as the Irish fell to eventual national champion Johns Hopkins, 11-10, in an overtime thriller.

Accolades were abundant for the '07 Irish as they boasted five All-America honorees in Kemp, Will Yeatman (A), Brian Hubschmann (A/M), Sean Dougherty (D) and Michael Podgajny (M). A total of eight Notre Dame student-athletes earned all-GWLL recognition. The Fighting Irish swept all of the major GWLL postseason awards for the '07 season. Corrigan was tabbed the GWLL coach of the year for the fourth time, while Kemp was named the GWLL player of the year and Yeatman was selected as the newcomer of the year. Following a 12-6 win at Ohio State that clinched the '07 GWLL title for the Irish, Corrigan was named the US Lacrosse national coach of the week.

A significant accomplishment for Corrigan and the Notre Dame program occurred in 2008 when the Irish earned the No. 6 seed for the NCAA Championship and were able to host an NCAA tournament game for the first time ever. The Fighting Irish made the most of their home-field advantage by topping Colgate 8-7 in overtime. Syracuse, the eventual national champion, upended the Irish, 11-9, in the quarterfinals in Ithaca, N.Y. Notre Dame went 14-3 overall and finished the season ranked fifth in the final USILA poll.

The Fighting Irish captured their second straight GWLL regular-season title in '08 as they were among a three-way tie atop the league standings with a 4-1 mark. Notre Dame garnered the top seed for the inaugural GWLL postseason tournament and the Irish took home the hardware with victories over Quinnipiac and Ohio State in Birmingham, Mich.

Four Irish players - Kemp, Dougherty, Podgajny and Ryan Hoff (A) - were tabbed as All-Americans in '08. Kemp became the first goalie in program history to be named a first team All-American and he received the Kelly Award for Outstanding Goalie in Division I from the USILA. Those four Fighting Irish players were among six that received all-GWLL honors that season.

The Irish ranked fifth nationally in '08 in both goals scored per game (12.09) and goals allowed per game (7.04). Hoff became just the second player in program history to notch back-to-back 40-goal seasons. He tallied 40 as a sophomore and followed it with 41 during his junior campaign. Hoff concluded his career in '09 second on Notre Dame's all-time goals scored list with 134 tallies.

With Kevin Corrigan entering his 25th season as head coach of the Fighting Irish men's lacrosse program in 2013, he is the 12th coach in Notre Dame history to guide a team for at least 25 seasons. Here is a breakdown of the longest coaching tenures in Notre Dame history ...

11t.	Tim Connelly	Women's Cross Country	25 (1988-present)
11t.	Kevin Corrigan	Men's Lacrosse	25 (1989-present)

The '09 campaign was a record-setting one for Corrigan and the Fighting Irish. Along with establishing program records for wins (15) and winning percentage (.938), Notre Dame ranked first among all NCAA Division I teams in goals-against average (.619) and winning percentage. Goalie Scott Rodgers was first nationally in goals-against average (.614) and save percentage (.663).

In addition to being named the '09 GULL player of the year, Rodgers was one of five Irish players to garner All-America honors. Joining him on the USILA third team were Hoff and Regis McDermott (D), Sam Barnes (D) and Grant Krebs (M) were honorable mention picks. Those five student-athletes were among seven to receive first-team all-league accolades.

After completing a 13-0 regular season in '09, the Irish defeated Quinnipiac and Ohio State to capture their second straight GWLL tournament title. That was the 15th conference title for Corrigan during his Notre Dame tenure. The Irish received the No. 7 seed for the '09 NCAA Championship and hosted a postseason game for the second straight season, yet fell to Maryland, 7-3, in the first round.

The Irish began play in the BIG EAST Conference in '10. After posting a 7-6 regular-season record (2-4 BIG EAST), Notre Dame made the most of its NCAA tournament at-large berth.

The Fighting Irish knocked off three straight top-10 foes en route to the national title game. The journey began at sixth-ranked Princeton in the first round. After downing the Tigers 8-5, Notre Dame defeated No. 3 Maryland, 7-5, to advance to the national semifinals at M&T Bank Stadium in Baltimore, Md.

The sensational run continued as the Irish bested seventh-ranked Cornell, 12-7, to set up a clash with Duke in the final. Notre Dame opened the '10 season with an 11-7 win at then #2 Duke, yet the Blue Devils prevailed in the second meeting by taking the back-and-forth contest 6-5 in overtime.

Rodgers was named the Most Outstanding Player of the NCAA Championship, becoming just the fifth player to earn that honor from a team that did not win the title. Rodgers and the Notre Dame defense allowed just 23 goals (5.75 per game) in four tournament contests. For the season, the Irish ranked second nationally in team defense by surrendering just 7.53 goals per game.

Rodgers and Krebs both earned their second All-America citation, while Zach Brenneman (M), Earl and Kevin Ridgway (D) were first-time honorees.

In 2011, the Fighting Irish defense finished second nationally for the second consecutive season by allowing just 6.57 goals per game. Notre Dame is the only school in NCAA Division I to finish in the top-five nationally in scoring defense in each of the last six seasons.

Notre Dame's 9-0 start in '11 helped the team earn the No. 1 national ranking in both the Nike/Inside Lacrosse media poll and the USILA coaches' poll on April 18. The Irish would improve to 10-0 before suffering their first loss of the campaign.

For the fourth time in program history, Notre Dame garnered a national seed for the NCAA Championship. The Irish were seeded fourth, which signified the highest seed in school history, and they played host to Penn in the first round. The Fighting Irish topped the Quakers, 13-6. The seven-goal margin of victory was the largest ever for the Irish in an NCAA tournament contest, while the 13 goals are tied for the most scored by Notre Dame in an NCAA game.

The win over Penn propelled Corrigan and the Fighting Irish into the quarterfinals of the NCAA Championship for the sixth time in program history. Unfortunately for Notre Dame, it would be déjà vu as Duke avenged a 12-7 season-opening loss to the Irish by capturing a 7-5 quarterfinal victory. The Irish finished the '11 season with an 11-3 mark.

Earl and Ridgway both were first team All-Americans in '11, while Brenneman, Barnes, Kemp and Andrew Irving (LSM) rounded out the program-record total of honorees. Earl, the midfielder of the year, headlined a group of six all-BIG EAST performers for the Fighting Irish.

Corrigan not only has seen his teams excel on the field but also in the community. Another piece of hardware that the '08 Irish squad received was the Trophy Award at Notre Dame's seventh annual O.S.C.A.R.S. (Outstanding Student-Athletes Celebrating Achievements and Recognition Showcase). Established by the Office of Student Welfare and Development at Notre Dame, The Trophy Award annually recognizes an athletic team that has demonstrated its commitment and dedication to the community through unparalleled community service to Notre Dame and South Bend. The Irish have been very active in the South Bend area, including mentorship programs at various local schools.

Corrigan has made the student-athlete experience special for the players that have competed for him at Notre Dame. The program has embarked on four foreign trips since '95. The treks have been to such countries as Ireland, England, Wales, Czech Republic and - most recently - Japan in the summer of 2010.

Another special experience for the student-athletes are the networking trips to New York City. In the fall, Corrigan takes team members from the junior and senior classes to the Big Apple to explore networking opportunities with Notre Dame alumni. The group has visited such places as the New York Stock Exchange, BlackRock and NASDAQ. Corrigan also has taken similar trips to San Francisco and Chicago. The San Francisco trip occurred in the fall of 2010 as the Irish were on the West Coast to play Johns Hopkins.

Part of the student-athlete experience that Corrigan likes to provide his players is the opportunity to compete in different areas of the United States. In recent seasons

Notre Dame has played in California, Georgia, Texas, Florida and Minnesota.

Corrigan was acknowledged for his contributions to the Irish lacrosse program when Notre Dame's Monogram Club awarded him an honorary monogram in 2000.

An assistant at Virginia for two years, Corrigan became just the second head coach in Notre Dame's history on Aug. 23, 1988.

A graduate of the University of Virginia, Corrigan assisted the Cavaliers during both the 1987 and '88 seasons under head coach Jim "Ace" Adams.

During a three-year playing career at Virginia, Corrigan scored five goals and registered six assists. He played in 20 games as a midfielder. In his sophomore season in 1979, the Cavaliers reached the NCAA final before losing to Johns Hopkins in overtime.

This is Corrigan's second stint as a head coach. He directed Randolph-Macon College (Va.), a Division III program, for two seasons, compiling a 10-15 record in 1985 and 1986. He previously served as an assistant at Randolph-Macon during the 1984 campaign.

Corrigan also served as an assistant at Notre Dame during the 1983 season and at Western Albemarle (Va.) High School in 1982. He is the son of former Notre Dame athletic director Gene Corrigan, who retired in '97 as the commissioner of the Atlantic Coast Conference. The elder Corrigan played collegiate lacrosse at Duke and guided the Virginia and Washington & Lee lacrosse programs. He was inducted into the Lacrosse Hall of Fame in February of 1994.

Kevin's brother Tim was a three-time monogram winner as a midfielder at Notre Dame from 1984-86. Two of Kevin's other brothers, David and Brian, also served as assistants under former Irish head lacrosse coach Rich O'Leary. Another brother, Eugene "Boo", was Notre Dame's associate athletics director for corporate relations and marketing from 2004-08. Boo now is the Director of Athletics at the United States Military Academy.

When not coaching, Corrigan still remains active by participating in various lacrosse clinics and camps and is a member of the South Bend Regional Sports Commission. He and his wife, Lis, reside in South Bend with their three children - Will, Sidney and Natale. Will is a sophomore on the Fighting Irish men's lacrosse squad.

Assistant Coach

Seventh Season

Massachusetts-Amherst '86

Gerry Byrne enters the seventh season of his second stint as an assistant coach for the Notre Dame men's lacrosse team in 2013. In 2007, Byrne returned to the Fighting Irish program, where he served as an assistant from 1989-91. Prior to his return to Notre Dame, he was the head coach at Saint Anselm College in Manchester, N.H. from 2003-06.

The Fighting Irish have enjoyed tremendous success since Byrne rejoined the staff. Notre Dame has posted a 74-21 record (.779) and the Irish have earned an NCAA tournament berth all six seasons. The Fighting Irish have advanced to Championship Weekend twice in the past three seasons, including the program's first national title game appearance in 2010.

Notre Dame is coming off a national semifinalist finish in 2012. Byrne also helped the Irish reach the quarterfinals in 2008 and 2011. Notre Dame received one of the eight national seeds and a first-round home game during the '08, '09, '11 and '12 tournaments.

Byrne's work has not gone unnoticed as he was named the 2011 Intercollegiate Men's Lacrosse Coaches Association (IMLCA) National Assistant Coach of the Year for NCAA Division I.

During Byrne's most recent stint on campus, Notre Dame captured three Great Western Lacrosse League (GWLL) regular-season titles and two GWLL tournament championships before the Fighting Irish moved to the BIG EAST in 2010 and won that league's regular-season crown in 2012.

Notre Dame head coach Kevin Corrigan along with Byrne and fellow assistant coach Brian Fisher received the GWLL coaching staff of the year award in 2007 and 2009 and the BIG EAST award in 2012.

Notre Dame has produced 29 All-America and 39 all-conference selections along with 21 Major League Lacrosse (MLL) draft picks over the past six seasons.

The Fighting Irish have reaped the benefits of Byrne's defensive knowledge. Over the last six seasons under Byrne's direction, the Notre Dame defense has been one of the best in the nation. The Irish are the only team in NCAA Division I to finish in the top five nationally in scoring defense in each of those six campaigns.

Notre Dame produced the nation's top defense in 2009 by allowing a program-record 6.19 goals per game. In 2012, the Fighting Irish boasted the NCAA's top overall defense (6.31 gpg) and man-down defense (.892). The Irish were second in team defense in '11 (6.57) and '10 (7.53), fourth in '07 (6.66) and fifth in '08 (7.04).

Since the beginning of the '07 season (a span of 95 games), the Irish have limited opponents to seven goals or fewer 66 times. Notre Dame has limited foes to four goals or fewer 16 times during that stretch.

The last five seasons have witnessed the Fighting Irish achieve unprecedented success within the program and cement itself as one of the nation's top teams. Since the beginning of the '08 campaign, the Irish rank fourth nationally in wins (63) and they are fifth in winning percentage (.788).

In '08, Notre Dame played host to an NCAA tournament game for the first time in program history. The '09 campaign featured the Irish posting the first undefeated regular season (13-0) in program history before extending their record to a school-best 15-0 in the GWLL tournament. Notre Dame reached the NCAA title game for the first time in school history in '10 and followed that up by achieving the No. 1 national ranking during the '11 regular season.

Notre Dame checked off another program-first in 2012 by winning the BIG EAST regular-season title for the first time. The Irish finished the season with a 13-3 overall record and a perfect 6-0 mark in league play.

Notre Dame garnered the No. 4 seed for the '12 NCAA Championship. That seeding matched a program best that the Irish also earned the previous season. The

'12 tournament run began with a 13-7 home victory over Yale and then the Irish knocked off fifth-seeded Virginia, 12-10, in the quarterfinals to advance to the national semifinals for the third time in school history. A 7-5 setback to Loyola, the eventual champion, ended Notre Dame's bid for its first national title.

Junior goalie John Kemp and senior defenseman Kevin Randall earned first team All-America honors from the United States Intercollegiate Lacrosse Association (USILA) in '12. That duo also took home BIG EAST awards as Kemp was named the conference's goalkeeper of the year and Randall was tapped as the defensive player of the year. They were among six Irish student-athletes that capped all-BIG EAST accolades. Also in that group were midfielder Jim Marlett and defenseman Matt Miller, who were honorable mention All-America honorees in '12.

Randall, who was picked by the Charlotte Hounds in the '12 MLL Draft, also was a finalist for the Lowe's Senior CLASS Award, a USILA Scholar All-American and received the BIG EAST Scholar-Athlete Sport Excellence Award.

Kemp's first team All-America citation earned him the Ensign C. Markland Kelly, Jr. Award, which is presented annually to the nation's top goalie. He joined his older brother Joey, the 2008 recipient, as the only other Notre Dame player to cop the award. They are the only brother duo to receive the award, which has been presented since 1949.

The No. 1 ranking was not the only program standard established during the '11 season. Notre Dame also produced a program-record six USILA All-America honorees. Midfielder David Earl and defenseman Kevin Ridgway both were first team All-Americans, making it the first time Notre Dame ever had two first team All-Americans in the same season. Zach Brennenman (IM), Sam Barnes (D), Andrew Irving (LSM) and John Kemp (G) rounded out the honorees. Earl, the league's midfielder of the year, headlined a group of six all-BIG EAST performers for the Fighting Irish. Barnes, Brennenman, Earl, Irving and Ridgway also were selected in the '11 MLL Draft.

Notre Dame's 9-0 start in '11 helped the team earn the No. 1 national ranking in both the Nike/Inside Lacrosse media poll and the USILA coaches' poll on April 18. The Irish would improve to 10-0 before suffering their first loss of the campaign.

The Irish were seeded fourth for the '11 NCAA Championship and they played host to Penn in the first round. The Fighting Irish topped the Quakers, 13-6. The seven-goal margin of victory was the largest ever for the Irish in an NCAA tournament contest.

The win over Penn set up a quarterfinal showdown with Duke. The Blue Devils avenged a 12-7 season-opening loss to the Irish with a 7-5 victory. The Irish finished the '11 campaign with an 11-3 mark and ranked eighth in the final Nike/Inside Lacrosse poll.

Stout defense was a key reason why the Fighting Irish had unprecedented success in the '10 NCAA Championship. Notre Dame took down five top-10 foes during the '10 campaign, including three straight during the run to the national title game. After a 7-6 regular season, the Fighting Irish earned an at-large berth to the NAAs and a trip to sixth-ranked Princeton in the first round. After downing the Tigers, 8-5, Notre Dame defeated No. 3 Maryland, 7-5, to advance to the national semifinals at M&T Bank Stadium in Baltimore, Md.

The sensational run continued as the Irish bested seventh-ranked Cornell 12-7 to set up a showdown with Duke in the final. Notre Dame opened the '10 season with an 11-7 win at then No. 2 Duke, yet the Blue Devils prevailed in the second meeting by taking the back-and-forth contest 6-5 in overtime.

Senior goalie Scott Rodgers was named the Most Outstanding Player of the '10 NCAA Championship, becoming just the fifth player to earn that honor from a team that did not win the title. Rodgers and the Notre Dame defense allowed just 23 goals (5.75 per game) during the four games of the tournament. For the season, Rodgers ranked first nationally in save percentage (.605) and was third in goals-against average (.756).

Ridgway and Breneman joined Rodgers on the NCAA Championship all-tournament team and they were three of the five Fighting Irish players to earn both honorable mention All-America honors from the USILA and all-conference accolades during the first season of BIG EAST lacrosse. Earl and Grant Krebs (M) joined the trio by receiving both national and league recognition.

The '09 Irish squad posted the first undefeated regular season in program history and finished with an overall record of 15-1. The win total and winning percentage (.938) from that campaign are program records. Notre Dame received the '09 GWLL coaching staff of the year award, making it the second time in three seasons that the Irish staff garnered the accolade.

The Fighting Irish had five players receive All-America honors in '09. Among the All-America selections were Rodgers, who also was named the GWLL Player of the Year, and defensemen Barnes and Regis McDermott. Those three were among a group of eight Irish players that topped all-GWLL accolades during the season. The Long Island Lizards selected McDermott in the third round of the '09 MLL Draft.

After completing a 13-0 regular season, the Irish defeated Quinnipiac and Ohio State to capture their second consecutive GWLL tournament. The Irish received the No. 7 seed for the 2009 NCAA Championship, yet fell to Maryland, 7-3, in the first round.

In '08, Notre Dame compiled a 14-3 record, including a 4-1 GWLL mark to tie for first. The sixth-seeded Fighting Irish made the most of their first-ever NCAA tournament home game by defeating Colgate 8-7 in overtime to advance to the quarterfinals, where they were topped by eventual national champion Syracuse, 11-9. Notre Dame concluded the season ranked fifth in the final USILA poll.

The Irish defense came through when it counted most during the '08 campaign. In the title game of the inaugural GWLL tournament, Notre Dame, behind a stellar effort from senior goalie Joey Kemp, shut down #10 Ohio State in a 9-2 triumph to give the Irish the title. On the season, Notre Dame held its competition to six goals or fewer eight times.

Four Irish players, including Kemp and defenseman Sean Dougherty, were tabbed as All-Americans in '08. Kemp became the first goalie in Irish history to be named a first-teamer and Dougherty was a third-team pick. Fellow defenseman Ross Zimmerman received first team all-GWLL honors as he helped the Irish to a three-way tie for the league's regular-season title. In all, six Irish players garnered all-league accolades in '08. Following the season, Dougherty, Kemp and Zimmerman all were drafted into the MLL.

Another piece of hardware that the '08 Irish squad received was the Trophy Award at Notre Dame's seventh annual O.S.C.A.R.S. (Outstanding Student-Athletes Celebrating Achievements and Recognition Showcase). Established by the Office of Student Welfare and Development at Notre Dame, The Trophy Award annually recognizes an athletic team that has demonstrated its commitment and dedication to the community through unparalleled community service to Notre Dame and South Bend. The Irish have been very active in the South Bend area, including a mentorship programs at various schools in the area.

In his first season back with the Irish in '07, Byrne helped guide a Notre Dame defensive unit that held opponents to a then program-record 6.66 goals per game, which ranked fourth nationally. The defense played a large role in the Irish posting an 11-4 record overall, including a perfect 5-0 conference mark to win its first outright GWLL title since 2001.

The '07 season saw five Fighting Irish players earn All-America honors. Juniors Dougherty and Kemp were two of those honorees that helped to bolster the stingy Notre Dame defense. Kemp also was named the GWLL Player of the Year and was selected to the all-league first team along with Dougherty, while Zimmerman was tabbed as a second-team all-GWLL performer. The Irish coaching staff also was recognized as the GWLL's staff of the year.

Byrne graduated cum laude from UMass Amherst in 1986 with a degree in economics. He was a two-year starter and a three-year letterman in addition to being an All-New England defenseman for the Minutemen in 1986. He was a starter in two NCAA tournament games, including the '86 quarterfinals versus Johns Hopkins.

He earned his MBA from Notre Dame, where he also worked as defensive coordinator for the Fighting Irish. Byrne helped Notre Dame earn its first NCAA tournament berth during the 1990 campaign as the Irish posted a 9-7 record, including a perfect 3-0 mark in the MLL's Great Lakes Conference, which gave them the league title.

Byrne was a four-time All-United States Club Lacrosse Association member with the Brine Lacrosse Club. He was also invited to tryout with the U.S. National Team on three occasions (1989, 1997, 2001), which placed him among the top-30 defensemen in the nation. Other playing accolades for Byrne include being named an All-Lake Placid Classic performer on 11 occasions and an All-Vail Shootout competitor nine times.

One of his signature years as a player came in '97. That season he was named a Vail Shootout All-Star in the Elite Division along with coping Vail Shootout MVP honors in the Masters Division. Byrne also was named the Lake Placid Tournament Defensive MVP in the Elite Division and was chosen as the Masters Division MVP. Finally, he was invited to the National Team Selection Camp and was the USCLA/Empire League Player of the Year for the Syracuse Lacrosse Club.

Byrne was inducted into the U.S. Lacrosse Hall of Fame — New England Chapter — in 1999 and was the 2001 New Hampshire High School Coach of the Year while at Souhegan High School. He was drafted by the New York Saints of the National Lacrosse League (NLL) in 1991 and played for them in 1992. Byrne also was drafted by the Rochester Knighthawks of the NLL as a defensive forward and went on to win a World Championship with them in 1997.

He continued his professional career following a three-year retirement when the Boston Cannons of the MLL drafted him in 2000. Byrne played for the Cannons from 2000-02, while having the distinction of being the oldest active player in the league at that time. He played in the inaugural MLL Final Four in '01 and made another appearance there the following season.

In addition to his duties at Saint Anselm, Byrne stayed active in the sporting world in several other ways. He served as managing director at Kitegan Marketing Group, which is an integrated sports marketing services company with clients such as Reebok and the MLL. Byrne also has spent time as the director of marketing for Cybex International and Brine, a major manufacturer of lacrosse equipment. He also owns the Premier Players Lacrosse Camps and is the founder of the Texas Top-99.

Byrne is a native of Levittown, N.Y., where he was an All-Long Island Catholic League lacrosse player at Chaminade High School before his graduation in 1982. He and his wife, Dr. Tracy Byrne, a practicing OB/GYN and a 1990 graduate of Notre Dame, are the parents of three children, Rory, Pierre and Brandon.

Assistant Coach

MATT KARWECK

Assistant Coach

First Season

Notre Dame '06

Matt Karweck, a 2006 Notre Dame graduate, was named assistant coach for the Fighting Irish men's lacrosse team in August of 2012. Karweck played for the Irish from 2003-06 and brings six years of coaching experience with him to his alma mater.

Karweck comes to Notre Dame from Merrimack College, where he spent one season as an assistant coach/offensive coordinator at the NCAA Division II school located in North Andover, Mass. The Warriors posted a 13-3 record in '12 and reached the title game of the Northeast-10 Conference tournament. The Warriors, who were ranked fifth nationally during the season, produced three All-Americans, including the player of the year. Karweck also taught an exercise science lab during the fall semester at Merrimack.

"I'm really excited about Matt coming back," Notre Dame head coach Kevin Corrigan said. "It's great to have one of our former players coming back into the program. As a player, Matt always brought great enthusiasm and a contagious work ethic. He's a guy that really loves Notre Dame and our program. Matt also loves to get on the field and work with the players. He's going to be a tremendous asset to us, especially in working with our younger players."

Prior to his stint at Merrimack, Karweck was an assistant coach at the University of Detroit-Mercy for one season. He was the offensive coordinator for the Titans during the 2011 campaign and helped the second-year program to a 6-10 mark after it went 3-12 in its first season of NCAA Division I play. Detroit also earned its first-ever berth in the Metro Atlantic Athletic Conference (MAAC) tournament and advanced to the title game.

Karweck was the head coach of Indiana University's club lacrosse program from 2007-10. The squad competed in the Men's Collegiate Lacrosse Association (MCLA). He led Indiana to 25 wins in three seasons and was named the 2009 Great Rivers Lacrosse Conference Coach of the Year. While at Indiana, he earned a Master of Science degree in kinesiology and owned and ran Overtime Lacrosse, a summer camp program.

Karweck earned four monograms and tallied 60 goals and 30 assists in 52 games during his playing career at Notre Dame. He received first team all-Great Western Lacrosse League honors as a senior after copping second-team accolades during his junior campaign. Karweck served as one of the senior captains during his final season. He graduated with a degree in psychology from Notre Dame's College of Arts and Letters.

After graduating from Notre Dame, Karweck competed professionally in England for one season with the Sheffield Steelers in the English Lacrosse Premiership. The Steelers captured the 2006 Bath Eights Tournament Championship. While in England, he also served as a men's lacrosse coach at Sheffield University, and taught lacrosse in the surrounding area for the English Lacrosse Association.

He returned to the United States and played two seasons for the Chicago Machine in Major League Lacrosse.

"It is a dream come true for me to be coaching at Notre Dame," Karweck said. "Not only am I returning to my alma mater, but I also have the privilege to learn from two of the best coaches in the game today, coach Corrigan and coach (Gerry) Byrne. I look forward to contributing to the continued success of the men's lacrosse program. I am extremely honored and proud to again be a part of the Fighting Irish family."

Karweck, a native of Penn Yan, N.Y., attended Penn Yan Academy. He led the team to the Section V Class C High School title all four seasons, as well as the state title in 2001. His wife, Dr. Andrea Karweck, a 2005 graduate of Notre Dame, is currently completing her fellowship in child clinical psychology at Boston Children's Hospital in Boston, Mass.

JASON
LAMB

Operations
Second Season
BYU '94

Jason Lamb joined the University of Notre Dame men's lacrosse operations staff in February of 2012. Lamb came to Notre Dame from Adams State College in Colorado.

Lamb was hired as the Director of Lacrosse at Adams State College (ASC) in February of 2010 to oversee the start-up of the ASC men's and women's lacrosse programs. In 2011, the Grizzly men and women opened their inaugural season as members of the newly formed Western Intercollegiate Lacrosse Association (WILA).

During the summer of '11, Lamb was invited to join the Denver Outlaws of Major League Lacrosse as a summer assistant coach. His connection with the Outlaws helped lead to an opportunity for the Grizzlies to play WILA rival Colorado Mesa at Mile High Stadium during the spring of '11.

Prior to his stint at ASC, Lamb was the head coach of the Brigham Young University men's lacrosse team from 1995-2009. At BYU, he posted a 213-69 (.755) record and guided the club program to three Men's Collegiate Lacrosse Association (MCLA) championships and claimed seven Rocky Mountain Lacrosse Conference titles. Lamb was named the 2006 MCLA Coach of the Year and he served as the president of that organization from 1997-2003.

In his position at Notre Dame, Lamb is in charge of the logistics surrounding the team's travel, film, equipment, scheduling, sponsorship, camps/clinics and will also help with improving the experience of the players.

Lamb and his wife, Megan, have five children, Emily, Derek, Devan, Jacob and Shawn.

Fighting Irish

History & Records

A unique tradition to the Notre Dame men's lacrosse program is the playing of the bagpipes. Prior to each game, the Fighting Irish take the field as one of their teammates plays the instrument. The tradition was started by Sean Meehan in the late 1990's and has been passed down ever since.

A Remembrance Of Former Irish Coach Rich O'Leary

Names like Ara Parseghian, Digger Phelps, Dan Devine, and Lou Holtz dot the list of those who numbered as University of Notre Dame athletic department colleagues and associates of long-time athletics staffer Rich O'Leary.

While those more high-profile varsity coaches found their names in headlines, O'Leary – who lost his battle with cancer July 17, 2009 – quietly went about impacting day-to-day athletic lives all over campus for 37 years.

Hired by Moose Krause and Dominic "Nappy" Napolitano back when the department was known as Non-Varsity Athletics, O'Leary served as director of intramurals and club sports for the Office of Recreational Sports (commonly known as RecSports).

For nearly four decades he played a major role in defining athletic opportunities for, literally, thousands of Notre Dame students, faculty and staff members.

Many of those who participated in the programs he helped shape probably never knew him. Those who did worked hand in hand with a self-effacing administrator who was more than comfortable in his behind-the-scenes role.

After Napolitano died in 1986, O'Leary became the key organizer for the famed Bengal Bouts, the signature event for Notre Dame's college boxing club. After a brief lull in popularity, the Bengals have drawn more participants in recent years than ever before – even leading to a women's version known as the Baraka Bouts.

Like Ara, Digger, Dan and Lou, Rich had his own seat in the varsity coaches' locker room in the bowels of the Athletic and Convocation Center. A standout lacrosse player in his college days, he first took over the Notre Dame men's club program then continued as head coach for eight more years (only one season losing more than they won) after the team achieved varsity status in 1981.

The new Arlotta Lacrosse Stadium that opened its doors in October '09 has the O'Leary name attached to the men's team room that sits adjacent to the locker area. That's because O'Leary's former players thought so much of their mentor that their financial contributions – unbeknownst to O'Leary -- made that possible.

Current Irish lacrosse coach Kevin Corrigan, who took over O'Leary's position in 1989, took his predecessor on a golf-cart tour of that area just weeks before his death.

Even more telling are the e-mail tributes that came from O'Leary's former players, many from the far more casual and informal club sport days. Way back when in a different culture for club-level athletics, O'Leary wasn't too far removed from his charges to understand they shared adult beverages on occasion. Yet it's obvious more than a few of his players cast him as something of a father figure during their on-campus growing years.

Their tributes make you laugh and cry at the same time:

From Jim Scarola '78 – "I learned from Rich that great leaders are not defined by titles or positions they have held, but rather by the impact they have had on the people around them."

From John McLachlan '87 – "Rich would tell us, 'If you play your best game and they play their worst game, you're still going to lose.' It wasn't an overly inspirational pep talk, but unfortunately it was accurate once or twice a year."

From Brian McKeon '85: "Rich was a decent and humble soul who rarely raised his voice in anger and quietly nudged his players to meet their full potential. That is the mark of a leader."

And, from Mike Lynch '82 "Rich is what my dad used to call a gentleman's gentleman. A guy you look up to. A guy you want to have a beer with and tell a joke to. A guy with a huge heart, a pure sense of humor and a ton of class. Quite simply, I love the guy."

The O'Learys (including wife Linda) have been friends to dozens of athletic department staffers over the years – offering access to everything from the backyard pool of their Cedar Street home (facetiously known as the "Cedar Club"), to home-cooked meals for the young, old and in between, to large social extravaganzas such as the Home Olympics.

Rich lost a kidney some years ago, and he quietly reached out to others on campus and in the community fighting kidney disease – including former Notre Dame athletic director Mike Wadsworth – to share his experiences.

He possessed a dry, low-key wit. Yet, as unassuming as he could be, he'd also be the one to do cannonballs into the pool and drive his beloved little MG (with the top down) around South Bend.

When you left the O'Leary home, even when disease was getting the best of him, Rich always walked you to your car and thanked you for coming, as if it was his privilege to have spent time with you.

Little did we realize we were the lucky ones.

2012

The Byron V. Kanaley Award is the most prestigious honor awarded to a Notre Dame student-athlete. It has been presented each year since 1927 at commencement exercises and honors senior monogram athletes who have been exemplary as students and leaders. The award is selected by the Faculty Board on Athletics and is named in honor of a 1904 Notre Dame graduate who was a member of the Irish baseball team as an undergraduate. Kanaley went on to a successful banking career in Chicago and served the University in the Alumni Association and as a lay trustee from 1915 until his death in 1960. Notre Dame men's lacrosse boasts three recipients of the Kanaley Award (Robert Williamson 1993, Peter Christman 2009, Kevin Randall 2012).

Chris Zorich

Dan Scolaro
2008

The Christopher Zorich Award

This award recognizes the contributions of Notre Dame student-athletes to the University community and the community at-large. The award, which is presented annually each spring, bears the name of Christopher Zorich, two-time football All-American and 1991 graduate of the University of Notre Dame. Dan Scolaro became the first men's lacrosse recipient of the award when he garnered the honor in 2008. Scolaro was instrumental to the men's lacrosse team's mentorship program at middle schools in the South Bend area. The team's involvement with mentoring local youth and participating in other community service projects was recognized by the Notre Dame Athletic Department with the presentation of the 2008 Trophy Award (see below).

While the support of the South Bend/Michiana community has been a key ingredient to the success of the Fighting Irish at home over the years, the Notre Dame players have routinely given back to the local community. In 2008, the Fighting Irish men's lacrosse team was recognized with The Trophy Award at Notre Dame's seventh annual O.S.C.A.R.S (Outstanding Student-Athletes Celebrating Achievements and Recognition Showcase). Established by the Office of Student Welfare and Development at Notre Dame, The Trophy Award annually recognizes an athletic team that has demonstrated its commitment and dedication to the community through unparalleled community service to Notre Dame and South Bend. The team is seen here receiving the Trophy Award in '08.

GIVE A GIFT and LEAVE A LEGACY

Over 700 student-athletes on 26 varsity teams excelling in academics, spirituality, community service and athletics - all made possible courtesy of the generous alumni, parents and friends who support Notre Dame's first athletics annual fund - the Rockne Heritage Fund.

The culmination of these gifts assists the University in underwriting athletics scholarships that are the lifeblood of every program that wants to recruit the best and the brightest and compete for national championships.

Our work has just begun. Scholarships are one of the largest line items in the athletic department's operating budget, accounting for roughly $18 million annually.

Levels of Giving

No minimum donation is required to join the Rockne Heritage Fund. Every gift matters and is impactful. All donors receive a quarterly e-newsletter, an invitation to the RHF Blue/Gold Tailgate and 2 tickets to the spring football game.

Donors contributing at the recognition society levels - the Director's Circle Traditional level ($1,500) or Irish Legends level ($5,000, $10,000 or more) - receive a corresponding benefits package. More information on the privileges of membership can be found at our website: und.com/rockneheritagefund.

The BIG EAST Conference

The 2012-13 academic year is the 34th in the history of The BIG EAST Conference as the unique consortium marches on competing at the highest level with integrity and sportsmanship.

The BIG EAST has gone through membership changes since its birth and continues to make strides in improving the quality and depth of the storied league.

The BIG EAST Conference has been always been driven by lofty goals. The outstanding performances of the student-athletes at BIG EAST schools are evidence of the league's proud tradition of success. The league has always been able to boast that many of its best students are also its best athletes. The 2011-12 year was no different.

In the athletic arena, BIG EAST student-athletes again enjoyed success on the national stage. The Georgetown women's cross country team captured its first NCAA Championship. The win by the Hoyas marked the third-straight year a BIG EAST team has won the women's cross country championship, with Villanova winning the past two. The Louisville men's basketball team advanced to the Final Four in New Orleans. Connecticut field hockey reached the NCAA semifinals, as did the Notre Dame men's lacrosse team. The Irish women's basketball team and Syracuse women's lacrosse team each reached the NCAA finals. USF softball reached the Women's College World Series in Oklahoma City, Okla., for the first time in program history.

The BIG EAST placed two teams in the NCAA Women's Final Four for the third time in the last four years as Connecticut joined Notre Dame in Denver, with the Fighting Irish advancing to the national title game for the second-straight year.

BIG EAST student-athletes won five NCAA championships. Sheila Reid won her second-straight NCAA Women's Cross Country title. Syracuse hurdler Jarret Eaton won the 60-meter hurdle championship in the NCAA Indoor Track and Field Championship. Notre Dame won the distance medley relay at the same championship. Georgetown's Emily Infeld won the 3,000-meter run. Carlos Almeida of Louisville won the 200-yard breaststroke at the NCAA Swimming & Diving Championships.

BIG EAST football maintained its national profile as a competitively balanced group. Three BIG EAST teams won bowl games, while the BIG EAST representative in the Bowl Championship Series won its bowl game for the fourth time in the last seven years- a streak that includes wins against the ACC, Big 12 and SEC champions.

The BIG EAST became the nation's largest Division I-A conference in 2005-06 when five new members began competing - the University of Cincinnati, DePaul University, the University of Louisville, Marquette University and the University of South Florida.

BIG EAST institutions reside in 18 of the nation's top 50 largest media markets, including New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Washington, D.C., Tampa, Pittsburgh, Hartford, Cincinnati and Milwaukee. With its newest members, BIG EAST markets contain more than one-fourth of all television households in the U.S. The BIG EAST will welcome UCF, Houston, Memphis, SMU and Temple in all sports in 2013-14. Temple football will join the league in 2012, with Boise State and San Diego State joining the following year and Navy in 2015.

Since opening its doors in 1979, the league has won 32 national championships in six different sports and 137 student-athletes have won individual national titles through 2011-12.

BIG EAST basketball squads have captured 11 titles in the last 13 years. In 2003-04, Connecticut became the first school in NCAA history to win the men's and women's NCAA basketball titles in the same season. In '02-03, the BIG EAST became the first conference in NCAA history to win the men's and women's titles in the same year when the Syracuse men and the Connecticut women captured their respective national championships. The BIG EAST placed three men's basketball teams in the Final Four in 1985, the only time this has occurred in NCAA history.

Proactive movement has been a signature strategy for the conference that was born in 1979. The BIG EAST continually turns challenges into opportunities to become stronger. The conference currently crowns champions in 24 sports.

The BIG EAST became a reality on May 31, 1979, following a meeting of athletic directors from Providence College, St. John's, Georgetown and Syracuse universities. Seton Hall, Connecticut and Boston College completed the original seven school alliance.

While the membership has both increased and changed, the focus of the BIG EAST has not wavered. The conference reflects a tradition of broad based programs, led by administrators and coaches who place a constant emphasis on academic integrity. Its student athletes own significantly high graduation rates and their record of scholastic achievement notably show a balance between intercollegiate athletics and academics.

Any successful organization has had the good fortune to have outstanding leadership. The BIG EAST primarily was the brainchild of Dave Gavitt, who was the conference's first Commissioner. Michael Tranghese, the league's first full-time employee, and for 11 years the associate to Gavitt, became Commissioner in 1990. In his first year, he administered the formation of The BIG EAST Football Conference. John Marinatto was the third commissioner of the BIG EAST, serving from 2009-2012, after seven years as the conference's senior associate commissioner.

The league has long been considered a leader in innovative concepts in promotion and publicity, particularly regarding television. Those efforts have resulted in unparalleled visibility for BIG EAST student athletes. The conference has enjoyed longstanding relationships with CBS, ESPN, Inc. and ABC.

BIG EAST men's basketball games are regular sellouts at campus and major public arenas, including the annual men's BIG EAST Championship in Madison Square Garden. The women's basketball championship has led all conferences in attendance for the past nine years. Attendance figures also are significant in soccer and baseball.

The BIG EAST has its headquarters in Providence where the conference administrators to more than 5,500 student-athletes.

When Father Edward F. Sorin started his school in the northern Indiana wilderness, he had only $300, three log buildings badly in need of repair and a far-sighted vision of establishing a liberal arts school to meet the growing educational needs of the frontier. He dreamed of building a great university, and in 1842, he founded the University of Notre Dame du Lac.

Over the years, the University of Notre Dame du Lac would evolve into a preeminent place for Catholic thought. While becoming one of the top undergraduate institutions in the country, Notre Dame has also been at the cutting edge of research, including such innovations as the transmission of wireless messages and the development of synthetic rubber. Today researchers are achieving breakthroughs in astrophysics, radiation chemistry, environmental sciences, tropical disease transmission, cancer, robotics, and nanoelectronics.

The University has also stressed residential life, with four-of-five students living on campus in the school's 29 residence halls that serve as the focal point of social, spiritual and athletic activities. Notre Dame is one of a handful of universities with a truly international student body, coming from over 100 nations and all 50 states. Students come to Notre Dame not only to learn how to think, but to learn how to live, keeping faith with the vision of Fr. Sorin.

Notre Dame is one of the few universities to regularly rank in the top 25 in the U.S. News & World Report survey of America's best colleges and the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics Directors' Cup standings of the best overall athletics programs. The University ranks first among all Catholic universities worldwide, according to the 2011 Times Higher Education survey and the Mendoza College of Business at Notre Dame boasts the No. 1 undergraduate business program in the nation according to BusinessWeek magazine.

Rev. John I. Jenkins, C.S.C. President

Rev. John I. Jenkins, C.S.C., is in his second five-year term as the 17th president of the University of Notre Dame. His vision is for Notre Dame to be the Catholic research university for our time — an institution that unifies, enlightens and heals by engaging in scholarship of the first rank while maintaining its distinctive Catholic character and long-time excellence in undergraduate education.

During his tenure, Notre Dame has made significant progress toward its research goal, including selection as the lead partner in the Midwest Institute for Nanoelectronics Discovery, the creation of the Innovation Park research facility, and the construction of Stinson Remick Hall of Engineering.

His commitment to undergraduate education has been marked by the Notre Dame Forums, yearlong initiatives that have examined important issues such as religion and world conflict, global health, immigration and energy.

The University's Catholic identity has been strengthened during Father Jenkins' tenure in multiple ways, including the appointment of a coordinator for University life initiatives and the construction of multimillion-dollar facilities for the Institute for Church Life, including the Center for Social Concerns, and the Institute for Educational Initiatives, which includes the Alliance for Catholic Education.

Father Jenkins earned bachelor's and master's degrees in philosophy from Notre Dame in 1976 and 1978, respectively, and was ordained a priest of the Congregation of Holy Cross in 1983. He holds advanced degrees from Oxford and the Jesuit School of Theology. He is a professor of philosophy and the author of Knowledge and Faith in Thomas Aquinas.

A native of Omaha, Neb., Father Jenkins was born Dec. 17, 1953.

Vice President • Director of Athletics

John B. "Jack" Swarbrick Jr., a University of Notre Dame graduate who rose to national prominence as a lawyer, consultant and executive in the collegiate and Olympic sports industries, is in his fifth year in 2012-13 as vice president and director of athletics at his alma mater.

During his time at Notre Dame Swarbrick has attached his signature to a variety of new initiatives:

- Launching Fighting Irish Digital Media—a major initiative that will deliver better information about and access to Notre Dame and its athletic programs via expanded production and distribution of programming.
- Creation of new community outreach and youth programming functions through student-athlete welfare and development office.
- Building of student-athlete programs and services that expand recognition of high academic achievement—and mentor and facilitate career development.
- Meeting the performance needs of Notre Dame student-athletes through establishment of a new sports performance division.
- Reaching out to more former Irish student-athletes, via the Notre Dame Monogram Club and other programs.

The past four years combined have featured a variety of on-and off-the-field Notre Dame athletics successes:

- Number-one rankings for Notre Dame (among Football Bowl Subdivision schools) in the four most recent Graduation Success Rate (GSR) surveys—in 2008 with a 98 for all student-athletes, in 2009 with a 99 (including a 97 score in football that also ranked number one), in 2010 at 99 (including football number one at 96) and again in 2011 at 99 (including football number one at 97).

— 124 All-Americans, 21 Academic All-America selections and five NCAA Post-Graduate Scholarship winners.

— Record involvement in community service hours by Irish student-athletes.

— NCAA championships in 2011 in fencing (a men's and women's combined championship) and 2010 in women's soccer.

— NCAA runner-up team finishes in 2012 and 2011 in women's basketball, 2010 in men's lacrosse, 2009 in fencing and 2008 in women's soccer.

— NCAA semifinal appearances in men's lacrosse in 2012, hockey in 2011, women's tennis in both 2009 and 2010 and women's soccer in 2009, plus 2010 and 2012 third-place fencing finishes.

— National coach-of-the-year honors for Randy Waldrum in women's soccer in both 2010 and 2009 and for Mike Brey in men's basketball in 2010-11—to go with a 2011 Hall of Fame induction for women's basketball coach Muffet McGraw and a Hermann Trophy for women's soccer national player of the year Kerri Hanks in 2008.

— Construction of the 5,022-seat Compton Family Ice Arena that opened for the 2011-12 season and features two sheets of ice (one Olympic sized). The 2009-10 school year also featured dedications of new facilities for soccer and lacrosse—as well as opening of the new Purcell Pavilion within the south dome of the Joyce Center.

Born in Yonkers, N.Y., and raised in Yonkers and Bloomington, Ind., Swarbrick is a 1976 magna cum laude graduate of Notre Dame with a bachelor's degree in economics. Upon graduating from Stanford University Law School in 1980, he returned to Indiana to accept a position as an associate in the Indianapolis law firm Baker & Daniels, one of the largest in the state. He was made partner in 1987 and spent 28 years with the firm.

As a member of the Indiana Sports Corporation, including the chairmanship from 1992 to 2001, Swarbrick led many of Indianapolis' successful proposals to a wide array of athletics organizations—from the National Football League (NFL) to the United States Olympic Committee (USOC) to the Big Ten Conference. His leadership efforts resulted in the city:

- Earning the right to play host to the 2012 Super Bowl in Indianapolis at Lucas Oil Stadium.
- Becoming the home of the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) national headquarters in 1999.
- Hosting the 1987 Pan American Games, where Swarbrick served as the director of competition.
- Hosting the 1991 World Gymnastics Championships.
- Hosting NCAA Men's Basketball Final Fours and other college championship competitions and a wide array of national and world championships in the Olympic sports.
- Securing rights to host the Big Ten Conference men's and women's basketball tournaments at Consco Fieldhouse for five consecutive years beginning in 2008.

At Baker & Daniels Swarbrick served as general counsel for numerous national governing bodies of Olympic sports, including USA Gymnastics, and as a consultant to various bid cities and host committees for Olympic Games and world championships.

In his work as an advisor to the NCAA, Swarbrick coordinated the men's College Basketball Partnership, an NCAA-led group that addresses the opportunities and challenges in the sport; developed the business plan for the new NBA/NCAA youth basketball enterprise, iHoops; served as a member of the NCAA Division I

Women's Basketball Discussion Group, and chaired the NCAA/USOC task force dedicated to developing proposals to expand sponsorship of Olympic sports among NCAA member institutions.

In 2000 Swarbrick received one of the NCAA's highest honors, The Flying Wedge Award, for his work in establishing Indianapolis as the new home of the NCAA. In 2001 he was honored by the State of Indiana with the Sagamore of the Wabash Award. In 2002 he received the Pathfinder Award from Youthlinks Indiana for his service to youth in the state of Indiana.

Born March 19, 1954, Swarbrick was named Notre Dame's 12th athletics director on July 16, 2008. He and his wife, Kimberly, are the parents of four children: Kate, a 2010 graduate of St. Louis University; Connor, a 2011 graduate of Wake Forest University; Cal, a junior at TCU; and Christopher, a University of Notre Dame sophomore.

NCSA 2012 Power Rankings Study Helps Prospective Student-Athletes Evaluate Strengths of Top College Institutions Around the Country

NCSA Athletic Recruiting's Collegiate 2012 Power Rankings assess the academic and athletics standards of all NCAA athletic programs across the country. The Power Rankings were developed to help prospective student athletes and their families evaluate the particular strengths of the top colleges and universities at the Division I, II and III levels. Fewer than 6% of colleges and universities earn a spot in NCSA Athletic Recruiting's Top 100 for 2012, and the University of Notre Dame is in this elite class.

"The Power Rankings are an objective tool to empower student athletes to find the right fit in a college or university, not only for its athletics, but academics as well," says Strasman, COO and President of NCSA Athletic Recruiting. "Our hope is to educate these student athletes and their parents on the importance of evaluating schools that will provide the education for an enriched, successful career after college, in addition to athletic success," says Strasman.

The Collegiate Power Rankings from NCSA Athletic Recruiting are calculated for each Division I, II and III college and university by averaging student-athlete graduation rates, academic rankings provided by U.S. News & World Report, and the strength of athletic departments as determined by the Learfield Sports Directors' Cup.

These Power Rankings are only one example of NCSA Athletic Recruiting's commitment to redefining collegiate recruiting. As the leading athletic recruiting network, NCSA connects more than 42,000 college coaches with student-athletes who hope to pursue both higher education and the chance to compete in athletics at the college level.
