Notre Dame's Joyce Center, the home of Irish volleyball since the establishment of the varsity program in 1980, has become one of the most difficult places in the nation for road teams to win, especially since the arrival of head coach Debbie Brown in 1991.

Over the last 14 years, Notre Dame has posted a 165-28 home record, for an impressive .855 winning percentage, including a perfect 17-0 mark during the 1994 campaign and a 12-0 record in 2001.

The Irish have pieced together a variety of impressive winning streaks on their home floor. Notre Dame has won 14 or more matches in a row at home on five different occasions, highlighted by a streak of 27 straight home wins from 1993-95 and a program-best 36-match winning streak from 2000-02.

The Joyce Center has been a near-impossible venue for conference teams. Notre Dame won 74 consecutive regular-season conference matches in the Joyce Center from Brown's arrival in 1991 through the 2004 campaign. Upon joining the BIG EAST Conference in 1995, the first 61 league teams to play in the Joyce Center were defeated before Pittsburgh upset the Irish in the final of the '03 BIG EAST Championship. Notre Dame stands 60-1 in BIG EAST regular-season tilts at home.

Teams not carrying a national ranking also have found the Joyce Center a house of horrors. During the Brown era, the Irish are 158-9 (.946) against unranked teams at home, including a 52-match winning streak from 1998-2002.

A record crowd of 8,643 witnessed the Irish outlast former league rival Virginia Tech in a five-game marathon on Nov. 7, 2003.

On 13 occasions, Notre Dame has topped ranked teams in the Joyce Center, including four upsets of top-10 opponents. In 1993, the Irish upset national power Nebraska twice at home, first defeating the third-ranked Cornhuskers in four games in the Golden Dome Invitational in September and then winning in three games in the second round of the NCAA Championship against #8 Nebraska. Among the other top wins in the Joyce Center were a four-game triumph over #9 USC in the 1995 Notre Dame Invitational and a five-game marathon victory vs. #10 Pepperdine in the 2002 Golden Dome Invitational.

In 25 seasons of volleyball action, Notre Dame holds a 220-73 (.751) mark in the Joyce Center, which celebrated its 35th year of service to the University in 2003. The facility also serves as a multipurpose sports complex, a theatre and concert hall, a convention center, and an office building.

The building was renamed in 1987 to honor Rev. Edmund P. Joyce, C.S.C., Notre Dame's executive vice president from 1952 until his retirement in 1987. Formerly known as the Athletic and Convocation Center (ACC), the structure is now referred to as the Joyce Center.

Notre Dame volleyball played its matches in "The Pit," an intimate gymnasium in the basement of the Joyce Center, from 1980-83 until increased attendance served as the impetus for a move to the basketball arena. The Irish played in "The Pit" again in 1986 due to renovation, but other than that, have had their home matches in the south arena since '84. In 1999, a new Sport Court volleyball-only playing surface debuted in the Joyce Center, completing the facility's evolution into one of the top volleyball venues in the country.

Interest in the Irish volleyball program has exploded over the past couple of seasons, as crowds of more than 1,000 have taken in Notre Dame matches on 23 occasions since 2000. The four largest – all over 3,000 fans – came for matches immediately preceding football pep rallies, held in the Joyce Center on Fridays before home games. In 2003, the Notre Dame-Virginia Tech volleyball match, which ended with a thrilling five-game Irish victory, was played before a record crowd of 8,643. That season also featured the largest-ever non-pep rally crowd for volleyball, as 2,715 witnessed Notre Dame beat arch-rival Miami in three games in a match televised live by College Sports Television (CSTV).

Designed by Ellerbe Architects of St. Paul, Minn., the Joyce Center was conceived at the outset as a combination athletic-civic center, and $1.8 million alone was contributed by members of the Michiana community. The center's distinctive domes rise just east of Notre Dame's football stadium. The Joyce Center is both wider and longer than the famous stadium and encloses more area than the Houston Astrodome. In all, the $8.6-million structure covers 10 acres of ground. The 464,800 square feet of usable floor area makes the Joyce Center the largest exhibition hall between Detroit and Chicago.

The south arena is capable of doubling as a volleyball/basketball court and an 11,000-seat auditorium. The arena holds 11,418 for athletic events, but the outer bleachers fold in for a more intimate setting.

The north arena is the home of Irish hockey and fencing (a program that has won seven NCAA championships) and can be set up to hold more than 4,000 fans. Virtually every sport at Notre Dame — varsity, club, and intramural — can play or practice in the many areas throughout the spacious facility.

The Rolfs Aquatic Center opened in 1985 on the east side of the Joyce Center. The $4.5-million facility serves as the home of the Notre Dame swimming and diving programs and houses a 50-meter Olympic-size pool (25 yards in width) and spectator seating for more than 400.

The Joyce Center also contains the administrative and business side of the increasingly complex collegiate sports operation. A spacious concourse is contained in this core area, as is a tastefully-appointed Monogram Room, surrounded by small meeting rooms. On the lower level, there are several thousand lockers, a faculty exercise room, a golf driving range, squash, racquetball, and handball courts, and a central kitchen.

The concourse level houses the growing Sports Heritage Hall, which includes the names of every known varsity monogram winner, in addition to trophies and historical photos from throughout Notre Dame's athletic history.

The hall also can be readily converted to host various luncheons and banquets throughout the year. One of the unique features of the Sports Heritage Hall involves a gallery of individual portraits that depicts every Notre Dame All-American and every Academic All-American from all of the University's varsity sports.

Jenny Birkner (1993-96) helped the Irish knock off both USC and Washington during her career.

Winning the Close Ones

A key to Notre Dame's sparkling 528-304 (.635) all-time record has been an ability to come out on top in close games and matches. Throughout the 25-year history of the program, the Irish hold a 69-60 (.535) mark in matches decided by five games, including four times going unbeaten in 3-2 tilts since 1994 and a seven-match winning streak in five-gamers from 1993-95. In games decided by two points, the Irish hold a 240-210 (.533) record, including a 7-3 mark in 1999 and a 12-7 record in 2000. Year-by-year records of the Irish in five-game matches and two-point games are available on page 90.
