Camp summary

Sunday Night Football is a prospect evaluation camp that takes place on Notre Dame’s campus. This one-day camp is for high school athlete (9-12 grade) who believe that have what it takes to play football at the next level. (It is never too early or late to get a player’s name and skills in front of the coaches.) This camp will give the player exposure to multiple college coaches, provide the athlete with verified athletic measurements, and increase your fundamental skill set.

Each participant will be evaluated by Notre Dame’s coaching staff and by outside coaches ranging from Div. I to Div. III to NAIA from all around the country. Our sports performance staff will test players in the 40 yard dash, broad jump, and short shuttle. Our football coaching staff will teach techniques to improve position specific ability for the upcoming season and evaluate to see if an athlete has what it takes to be an Irish All-American.

A coach’s ability to meet a player and see him compete in person is integral to the recruiting process. Highlight tapes and game film are important, but nothing is more valuable than a coach seeing how you move and how you respond to coaching.

This camp is also a great opportunity to showcase your skills and compete against some of the country’s top players in a competitive, instructional, and high energy environment.

Come show hundreds of coaches from all around the country you have what it takes to play college football.
