BIG EAST/ACC CHAMPIONSHIP HISTORY 🏝

Notre Dame ranked first all-time with 11 BIG EAST Championship titles, 13 appearances in the tournament final, 37 tournament victories and a .872 tournament winning percentage. The Fighting Irish also were second only to Connecticut in terms of tournament appearances, having successfully qualified for the BIG EAST Championship in 17 of their 18 seasons as a conference member (all but 2002). Notre Dame debuted in the Atlantic Coast Conference (ACC) in 2013.

The first three teams to win the BIG EAST Championship – Providence, St. John's and Notre Dame – did so in their first appearances in the event. Providence won the first championship in 1993, St. John's in 1994 (after not playing in the '93 event), and Notre Dame won in '95 in its first year in the BIG EAST (the Fighting Irish won seven consecutive titles once they joined the BIG EAST).

SHANNON BOXX

Against all odds, Shannon Boxx enjoyed one of the most remarkable careers in U.S. Women's National Team history.

She earned her first cap at 26, when many of her teammates already had dozens of international appearances under their belts. She then went on to represent the Red, White and Blue 195 times, ranking 12th all time — and the most by an American Black woman.

She was a member of three Olympic gold medal-winning sides and finished third in the 2005 FIFA Women's World Player of the Year voting before capping her career at the age of 38 as a member of the 2015 Women's World Cup championship side.

Boxx also overcame a torn cartilage hip injury and a torn MCL, and she battled two autoimmune diseases during her 12-year USWNT career.

The Fontana, Calif., native forged her reputation as one of the most influential defensive midfielders in USWNT history. She also scored 27 goals.

In recognition of her achievements and her career, Boxx was inducted into the National Soccer Hall of Fame on May 21, 2022

KATE MARKGRAF

The soccer world doesn't have its own version of an EGOT — someone who has won an Emmy, a Grammy, an Oscar and a Tony award. At least not yet. Aside from perhaps Heather O'Reilly, Kate Markgraf probably has come as close as any American soccer player.

She has celebrated:

A high school title.
Three state youth championships.
An NCAA Division I crown.
Several CONCACAF titles.
Two Olympic gold medals.
One World Cup championship.

The former U.S. Women's National Team standout now adds another honor: induction into the National Soccer Hall of Fame. Markgraf, who was elected on the Veteran Ballot, was inducted on May 6, 2023.

Currently the general manager of the USWNT, Markgraf enjoyed a 13-year career as one of the team's best and most important defenders. She made 201 international appearances and started for the 1999 Women's World Cup champions and two Olympic gold medal-winning sides.

NOTRE DAME & THE WOMEN'S WORLD CUP

The success and impact of the Notre Dame women's soccer program has not been limited to the collegiate level. Notre Dame has had at many FIFA Women's World Cups, particularly in the 1999 World Cup won by the homestanding United States. Former three-time All-American Kate (Sobrero) Markgraf played a key role in helping the U.S. claim its second World Cup in '99, as a starting defender and one of the youngest players on the roster. Markgraf started five of six games, missing only the North Korea game when she rested a sore ankle after the U.S. already had clinched the top spot in its pool.

Former high-scoring Notre Dame forward Monica Gerardo and 2002 graduate Monica Gonzalez (a former forward who converted to a defender role) represented Mexico in that country's first appearance in the World Cup in '99. The Irish pair both started Mexico's first World Cup game against Brail, while Gerardo –who wrapped up her career at Notre Dame following the 1998 season – also started against Italy. Fourtime All-America midfielder Holly Manthei's earlier appearance with the U.S. national team in the 1995 World Cup in Stockholm, Sweden, marked the first World Cup duty for a Notre Dame women's soccer player. The second-youngest player on the team following her freshman season at Notre Dame in 1995, Manthei played in two games for the third-place Americans, including a reserve stint in a 3-3 tie with China and a start in the 4-1 win over Australia. Markgraf and former Notre Dame defensive midfielder Shannon Boxx played for the U.S. third-place team at the 2003 World Cup (also played in the U.S.), with Boxx selected to the prestigious All-World Cup team. Another Notre Dame standout Candace Chapman was set to start for Canada at flank midfielder but missed the 2003 World Cup due to injury.

The Notre Dame women's soccer program once again was well-represented on multiple national teams at the 2007 World Cup in China. Boxx (recovering from an '06 knee injury) and Markgraf ('07 pregnancy) were not at 100 percent entering the tournament, but both started every match except the group-play win over Sweden (Boxx was a halftime substitute) and the third-place win over Norway (neither played), with Boxx scoring in a 3-0 quarterfinal win over England. Chapman, along with fellow former Notre Dame All-America selections Melissa Tancredi (2000-04) and Katie Thorlakson (2002-05) nearly helped Canada get out of group play, but an injury-time goal by Australia in the final group-play game gave it a 2-2 draw and a pass to the quarterfinals. Chapman scored Canada's first goal of the tournament (in a 2-1 loss to Norway), while Tancredi scored 37 seconds into the Australia contest, the second-fastest goal in tournament history

Boxx returned with the United States at the 2011 World Cup in Germany, helping the Americans to the final match, where they fell to Japan on penalties, 3-1, following a 2-2 draw. Boxx started and went the distance in five of six matches for the U.S. (including two double-overtime contests), setting up the first American goal in the quarterfinals against Brazil with a cross that led to an own-goal (the United States won 5-3 on penalties after a 2-2 deadlock). Meanwhile, Chapman and Tancredi played in all three group-stage matches for Canada in 2011, with Chapman starting all three and Tancredi twice for the Maple Leafs, who did not advance to the knockout round.

Boxx was a member of the 2015 Women's Cup gold for the first time since 1999, entering in the 74th minute to close out a 1-0 victory over Nigeria in the final match of Group D on June 16 in Vancouver, Canada. Tancredi capped her third career FIFA World Cup appearance with Canada during her home countrys first time hosting the event. Team Canada reached the knockout stage for just the second time in seven World Cup starts, with Tancredi playing in all five matches while logging 336 total minutes and five shots (two on-goal) during the tournament

Kiki Van Zanten ("23) made a splash with the Reggae Girlz in Qualifying, scoring the game-winning goal to deliver the Concacaf bronze medal to Jamaica. A summer later in 2023, Van Zanten made the National Team roster for the Women's World Cup.

ALBERT SIGNS WITH PSG AFTER SOPHOMORE YEAR

Family environment and genetics supplied a measure of predestination for Korbin Albert.

Notre Dame's precocious All-American midfielder was taking care of the rest in youth soccer — or even beforehand.

And by the time she was growing closer to middle school competition, Albert was flashing her ambidextrous skillset against adult males in her Chicagoland home.

Today, her historic ascent continues. Albert has inked with globally iconic Paris Saint-Germain to embark on her professional soccer career in the renowned Union of European Football Associations (IIFFA)

Fresh off a two-year tour de force at Notre Dame, Albert is headed to a soccer institution where its stars are revered by single names.

"It's not even (just) on the girls' side; the men's side has Mbappe, Messi and Neymar," Albert, a Grayslake, Illinois, native, said. "So that influenced my decision a lot. Messi is an idol; a big person I look up to. Once I heard about PSG, I was like, 'Wow! That's crazy. There's no way this is happening.' But I just saw that opportunity and thought I just need to take it before it's gone.

"The teammates here, my coaches, my friends, everyone that's supported me has really helped me grow in that direction. I would say the coaches challenged me every single practice, every single game, to be the best that I could be. And I think that helped prepare me to be where I am at now."

Her placement is on the precipice of history. Following a meteoric career for the Fighting Irish, during which her superlatives include 28 career goals and 65 points in just 44 career games, as well as a signature hat-trick signature outing against Florida State in the Atlantic Coast Conference Tournament semifinals, Albert is here because of lifelong preparation.

Her mother, Janet, a former track and field All-America selection at the University of Iowa, does not recall a time her daughter hasn't had a ball at foot. And no challenges could thwart Korbin Albert's determination — in a family of athletes that included brothers DJ and Keaton playing collegiate soccer as well as sister, Teagon, being a soccer and swimming athlete at Olivet Nazarene University.

"It's been a journey trying to get her always being challenged," said Janet Albert, who's raised a family of six siblings, four of them collegiate athletes. "I had her playing with boys, Croatian boys, boys that ended up playing pro later on, and then it came to a point where she outgrew that, so I had her playing with men when she was much younger.

"It's been a challenge trying to keep her challenged. Probably in the last two years, she's taken on a lot of development, bringing in different things to her game. Covid was a really good year for us. We worked on angles to goals and everything else we could. I'm just so proud of her."

Irish coach Nate Norman has watched as Albert has become the embodiment of what Norman, who's guided Notre Dame to a No. 1 NCAA Tourney seed and unprecedented success within the ACC, envisioned for the program.

"Obviously, you want to win games and develop people and send them off in the world, but ultimately you want them to achieve their dreams," Norman said. "Just to be able to see her in this process and help to guide her and see her reach this level at such a young age is unbelievable. Just super proud of her and super excited; I just think she's going to have a tremendous career.

"It's a great start to that chapter of her life."

With Olivia Wingate and Brianna Martinez selected in the most recent National Women's Soccer League Draft, plus Albert's international signing, Notre Dame women's soccer has undeniably crested an elevated stature.

The merging of globally iconic brands — that of the Irish and of PSG — ushers in what Norman believes could be an unparalleled partnership.

"I think, to view it from a marketing standpoint, I can't imagine two brands working together that could be more powerful, more influential and just significant than those two," he said. "Those are two of the most iconic brands in the entire world. I'm trying to think of another athlete that could point to being a part of two programs like that who could say, "I'm a part of these two families."

"I actually think this will make waves in terms of a lot people. It will be very eye-opening. To be able to go as a sophomore to the level she's going, you can literally go straight in to play literally at the highest level in the world. I think it shows not only the level of college soccer and the level of our conference, but I think it also shows the level that our team is playing at right now, and I think that's a really important, special thing.

"Now we can point to that and say, 'Hey, you want an opportunity to play at a top-five or top-six club in the world? You can come here and develop and have a chance to go play for their clubs."

Still just 19 years old, Albert has a worldview perspective on the opportunity to be a global ambassador of Notre Dame.

"That was really significant. I mean, I love Notre Dame, so any chance I get to show the world what Notre Dame is and what they are for and what they stand for is really important to me," Albert said, "and this is just another opportunity to do that."

Moreover, Albert explained, Notre Dame soccer now has emerged worldwide.

"I think it just says that just because you're not going to a Horida State-school or UNC, you can go to Notre Dame and be at these big clubs regardless of who you are and what you do," Albert said. "As long as you put the hard work in, it doesn't matter where you are. You can get to that stage."

Not only did Korbin Albert earn First Team All-America honors in her sophomore season in 2022, but she also took the soccer world by storm. A meteoric rise and dubbed a generational talent, Albert was also named a 2022 Mac Hermann Trophy Top-3 Finalist the first Irish National Player of the Year finalist since 2010. She also earned the distinction of Top Drawer Soccer's National Player of the Year. Prior, she was named the ACC's 2022 Midfielder of the Year - the first in program history. With all that said and done, Albert left Notre Dame after two seasons when she signed a three-year contract with global power Paris Saint-Germain, trailblazing a new path for future Irish.

Career-wise, in such a short timeframe, Albert scored 28 career goals over 44 games. She accomplished eight career game-winners. She also dished out nine career assists to finish with 65 career points.

In her breakout 2022 season, Albert poured in 16 goals, which ranked 8th in the country and tops for a midfielder. In fact, she scored 14 of her goals over the last 12 games. Breaking it down even more, she had 3 PK goals, so when looking at the other 13 - 10 came from outside the box - with three coming via direct free kicks. Also get this - nine of her 16 came against top-25 ranked opposition. In one of the best individual performances of her career, she registered an impressive hat trick against Florida State on Nov. 3, 2022. All-in-all, she finished with 37 points for the season, which ranked ninth in the country.

In 2021, she was named to the All-ACC Third Team, the ACC All-Freshman Team and the Top Drawer Soccer Freshman Best XI Team. She finished with the second most goals on the team with 12, which also ranked fourth in the ACC and 29th in the country.

Much like Albert, Gaetino put the collegiate soccer landscape on notice with a stellar defensive performance in 2022. She started in all 23 matches and was the anchor of the three-woman backline. The defensive trio only allowed 16 goals on the year. Furthermore, they only allowed 70 shots on goal, which equated to a stout 3.0 SOG per game. With Gaetino leading the charge, Notre Dame posted 14 shutouts in 2022, their most since 2016. Their shutout percentage ranked 8th iin the country and 1st in the ACC. Before the Irish fell to UNC in the Elite Eight, they were the only team up to that point who had not surrendered a goal in the NCAA Tournament. Offensively, Gaetino registered one goal, via a header against Ohio on Sept. 11. For her efforts, Gaetino picked up many accolades, including the program's first ACC Defender of the Year.

Other major awards include: Mac Hermann Trophy Semifinalist (Top-15), First Team All-American, Top Drawer Soccer Best XI Third Team, All-ACC First Team

In 2021 she started all 22 games, helping the Irish reach the Sweet 16. She scored her first career goal in a double-OT win over Clemson. Defensively, the Irish allowed 22 goals with a 0.96 GAA.

And how about this stat: Gaetino has started in every game she's played: 58 for 58.

Lastly, Gaetino has now caught the eye for Team USA - she was twice invited to play with the US U23 squad in 2023, including the Thorns Preseason Tournament.

A new era in Notre Dame soccer began in 2009, when the Fighting Irish women's and men's soccer teams took the pitch for the first time at the brand-new $5.7 million Alumni Stadium.

Located just east of Purcell Pavilion at the Joyce Center and approximately 500 yards west of its predecessor, the new stadium sits side-by-side with Notre Dame's new lacrosse facility, Arlotta Stadium, which made its debut in the spring of 2010 (the soccer facility is situated further west, the lacrosse stadium further east).

Alumni Stadium opened its doors for women's soccer action on Sept. 4, 2009, to a sellout crowd of 3,007 for its debut match against top-ranked North Carolina (the Notre Dame men played three nights earlier, blanking Michigan, 5-0).

Alumni Stadium has a permanent seating capacity of approximately 2,500 in the west grandstand, including VIP boxes flanking the main team entrance, as well as overflow seating on the north, south and east ends of the pitch.

The stadium also offers upgraded and expanded restroom and concession areas, elevator access and handicapped reserved seating on the main concourse level, as well as numerous amenities for both Fighting Irish soccer programs (expansive locker rooms with custom-made wood lockers, spacious team lounges with flat-screen plasma TVs and high-speed Internet access, and a fully-equipped athletic training center).

What's more, Alumni Stadium features an top-of-the-line sod for the pitch cultivated in Fort Morgan, Colo, at Graff's Turf Farms (which also provided the turf for some of the nation's finest sports facilities including Notre Dame Stadium, Wrigley Field, Busch Stadium and two of the newest MLS grounds — Dick's Sporting Goods Park in Commerce City, Colo., outside Denver, and Rio Tinto Stadium in Sandy, Utah, a suburb of Salt Lake City).

Media members enjoy a climate-controlled press box, three individually-wired broadcast booths and an expansive, unblocked and elevated midfield vantage point, all of which make Alumni Stadium unlike any other on-campus facility in college soccer.

The construction of Alumni Stadium was made possible because of numerous generous donations, including those by lead benefactors Tom Crotty and Rob Snyder, both former Fighting Irish men's soccer players.

Originally from Darien, Conn., Crotty starred for the Irish from 1977-79, playing midfield and fullback in 60 matches, earning three monograms and finishing with 23 career points (eight goals, seven assists). He played in Notre Dame's first three seasons of varsity soccer (under coach Rich Hunter), serving as one of the team captains as a senior in '79. He was voted MVP of the '79 Notre Dame team and led the Fighting Irish to a combined 57-14-3 record in those three years.

A 1980 Notre Dame graduate with a degree in finance, Crotty is currently a general partner with Battery Ventures LP in Wellesley, Mass. He and his wife, Shari live in Southborough, Mass.

Hailing from Dallas, Texas, Snyder earned two monograms while playing forward, participating in 51 matches in 1980-81-83 and accounting for 68 points (23 goals and 22 assists that rank him seventh on Notre Dame's care that). He tied for the team lead in goals in 1981 with 12. Snyder played on Hunter-coached teams that finished a combined 54-14-3 in his three seasons (including 35-3-1 at home).

Snyder is a 1984 Notre Dame graduate with a degree in government. He is the founder and CEO of Stream Energy in Dallas.

The gifts by Crotty and Snyder were components of the $1.5 billion "Spirit of Notre Dame" capital campaign, the largest such endeavor in the history of Catholic higher education.

Alumni Stadium officially was dedicated on April 24, 2010, almost exactly two years to the day after ground was broken on the facility. Among those present were lead benefactors Crotty and Snyder and their families, along with members of the Notre Dame administration including University President Rev. John I. Jenkins, C.S.C., University Executive Vice-President John Affleck-Graves and vice president/director of athletics Jack Swarbrick, as well as women's coach Randy Waldrum, men's soccer coach Bobby Clark and players from both the Fighting Irish women's and men's soccer

Prior to its 2009 debut at Alumni Stadium, the Notre Dame women's soccer team competed at similarly-named Alumni Field for 19-plus seasons from 1990-2009, registering a superb 222-16-4 (.926) record at the "grand old palace" of Notre Dame soccer.

The Fighting Irish also compiled a record of 199-12-4 (.935) in their final 215 matches at the facility – including home winning streaks of 27, 28, 29 and 32 matches (four of the longest in NCAA history). Notre Dame also had a 43-match home unbeaten streak (41-0-2) from 2004-07, with that run standing third in the NCAA record book. The Fighting Irish lost more than one home contest in a season just four times in 19 full seasons at Alumni Field, with nine unbeaten seasons in its final 16 campaigns at its east campus home.

The Fighting Irish have played host to NCAA Championship matches in 22 of the past 23 seasons (the first 15 at old Alumni Field before hosting their first NCAA tourney action at Alumni Stadium in 2009). Notre Dame has compiled a 49-40 record in NCAA play on its home pitch with a 173-26 scoring edge in those 53 matches.

Old Alumni Field also played host to the BIG EAST Conference Championship three times in its history, with Notre Dame winning the conference title each time (1996, 2000 and 2008).
