NORTH CAROLINA NOTES

Heels vs. Irish

The Tar Heels and Fighting Irish are meeting for the 15th time in a series that dates back to the 1999-2000 season. Notre Dame leads the series 10-4 overall and 8-3 since joining the ACC.

• UNC won last year's matchup, 60-50 on Jan. 8, 2023, in Chapel Hill. The Tar Heels were ranked 22nd coming into the game and knocked off the No. 4 Fighting Irish to earn their second win of the season against a top-5 team. Then-freshman Paulina Paris came off the bench to lead Carolina with 16 points, 11 of which came in the fourth quarter. Deja Kelly added 14 and Alyssa Ustby 12 as the Tar Heels broke a four-game losing streak.

• Notre Dame won the last matchup in South Bend, 70-65 on Jan. 16, 2022. The No. 21 Tar Heels were up by as many as 11 points in the second half before falling to the No. 20 Irish. Deja Kelly led UNC with 22 points and Alyssa Ustby finished with 15. Anya Poole led the rebounding effort with 12 as the Tar Heels outrebounded their hosts 45-37.

• All four of UNC's wins in the series have come in Chapel Hill (three) or at a neutral site (one, an NCAA Tournament second-round game in Pittsburgh, Pa., in 2007). Notre Dame has won all five previous meetings in South Bend.

ACC Action Notables

Two games into the ACC schedule, Tar Heels have put up impressive numbers:

• With a 21 point/11 rebound double-double against Clemson and a 16 point/16 rebound/10 assist triple-double against Syracuse, Alyssa Ustby is averaging 18.5 points, 13.5 rebounds and 6.0 assists in ACC play while shooting 71.7 percent from the field. In ACC games only, she's first in rebounding, tied for first in field goal percentage, tied for third in assists, and tied for ninth in scoring.

• Lexi Donarski, who is averaging 18.5 points in ACC play, leads the league in three-point shooting with 10 makes through two games. She's second in three-point percentage at 47.6 (10-21). Donarski's six makes from long range against Clemson are the single-game high so far in league play - no one else has hit more than four in an ACC game.

• Deja Kelly ranks second in the ACC in assist-turnover ratio at 4.0, with 12 assists to just three turnovers through two games. Her 6.0 assists per game have her tied for third in the league. She matched her career high with eight assists against Clemson.

• Tar Heels hold two of the ACC's top three spots for field goal percentage. After Ustby at 71.4, Maria Gakdeng is shooting 66.7 (10-15). Gakdeng is tied for seventh in blocks per game with 1.5.

Trending

• Following Thursday's win over No. 25 Syracuse, UNC is 1-3 this season against ranked teams. Carolina has losses to No. 1 South Carolina, No. 11 Kansas State and No. 12 UConn, with upcoming games at No. 16 Notre Dame and No. 22 Florida State.

• UNC's 24-point margin of victory against Syracuse was the team's largest against a ranked team since the Tar Heels beat then No. 18-Syracuse by 24 in the 2020-21 season. The last time UNC had a larger margin against a ranked team was a 34-point win over UCLA in 2014-15.

• UNC shot 50 percent from the field against the Orange, marking the fourth time this season the Tar Heels have been at 50.0 or better from the floor. It's the sixth game in a row that Carolina has shot 41 percent or better, dating back to a 31.3 percent shooting night in the loss to No. 1 South Carolina.

• The game against Clemson on Dec. 31 marked the first time this season UNC has won with the opponent shooting over 40 percent. (The Tigers shot 44.1 percent from the field.) Clemson's 76 points marked the highest score by an opponent in a Tar Heel win this season.

• UNC is unranked this week for the first time all season. The Tar Heels were replaced in the poll by Thursday's opponent, Syracuse, which moved into the poll for the first time this year at No. 25. Carolina was No. 16 in the preseason and has been no higher than that during the season.

• Six players on the roster have at least one 20-point game in a Carolina uniform. Deja Kelly has hit 20 points on 24 occasions, Alyssa Ustby seven, and Lexi Donarski and Maria Gakdeng two each. Paulina Paris and Kayla McPherson have reached 20 points once each, both during the 2022-23 season.

• Freshman Reniya Kelly's last two games have been her best of the season. Against UConn on Dec. 10, she scored a season high six points in the first half, but didn't return after halftime after a hard fall late in the second quarter. She missed the next three games and returned against Syracuse, when she went 3-3 from the field for seven points, all in the fourth quarter. Prior to the UConn game, she hadn't scored more than four points in a game and had been scoreless in the previous three.

Stats Notes

• Deja Kelly leads the ACC and ranks 13th in the nation in free throw attempts with 85. With 53 makes, she's third in the ACC and 56th nationally.

• Lexi Donarski is second in the ACC and 33rd nationally with 37 three-pointers. She's hit 10 of those over the past two games. With an average of 5.0 threes per game in conference play, she ranks first in the league.

• Maria Gakdeng is shooting .681 from the field, a percentage that would lead the ACC if she had the required five makes per game. (She has 4.4.)

• Alyssa Ustby is the first player in Division I history to register 15 points, 15 rebounds and 10 assists against an AP-ranked opponent. (ESPN Stats and Info)

Milestone Watch

• Deja Kelly passed the 1,500 career points mark in the Dec. 19 win over Oklahoma on Dec. 19. She's the 25th Tar Heel to reach that milestone and currently has 1,525 career points, 25th in program history. In 24th is Jessica Breland, who scored 1,535 between 2007 and 2011.

• Seniors Alyssa Ustby and Anya Poole are both close to playing in their 100th career games. Poole comes into Sunday's game having played in 97 (70 starts) and Ustby 98 (91 starts). Kelly made her 100th start against Clemson.

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. – On Monday, the UNC women's basketball team fell out of the national rankings for the first time this season. Thursday night, the Tar Heels made their case for getting back in. North Carolina beat No. 25 Syracuse – the team that climbed into the poll in UNC's place – 75-51 at Carmichael Arena to improve to 10-4 overall and 2-0 in Atlantic Coast Conference play.

Senior Alyssa Ustby registered the first triple-double in program history with 16 points, 16 rebounds and 10 assists, becoming the only player in NCAA history with 15+ points, 15+ rebounds and 10 assists against a ranked opponent. "Sixteen rebounds, 16 points, 10 assists ... it's not just a triple-double, she shattered it," UNC coach Courtney Banghart said.

Junior center Maria Gakdeng led UNC in scoring with 22 points, equal to her career high. She was 9-12 from the field, benefitting from many of those Ustby assists, and already had 15 points by halftime.

Graduate student Lexi Donarski also hit double figures with 14 points, including four three-pointers, giving her a total of 10 made threes over the past two games.

The Tar Heels never trailed but led by just two at halftime, 32-30, after the Orange (11-2, 1-1 ACC) closed the second quarter with a 7-0 run. Ustby already had nine assists, six rebounds and five points, but said that her mind wasn't on her own stats.

"We were going into the half up two, so that was our major concern – we want to beat a top 25 team," she said. "That's a spot that we want to be in. We want to be ranked and we know that we deserve to be ranked so we had to prove it."

Carolina rolled out of the locker room and outscored the visitors 25-6 in the third quarter to put the game away. In that same quarter, Ustby reached the historic milestone, getting to 10 points with a free throw with 1:17 to play in the quarter. Her make put the Tar Heels up by 20, 56-36, and Banghart subbed her out to cheers from the Carmichael crowd.

Freshman Reniya Kelly was the team's fourth-quarter star, scoring a game-best seven points on 3-3 shooting in the period. Thursday's game marked her return to play after missing the past three games with an injury.

The 24-point win matched the largest margin against a ranked team in Banghart's five seasons in Chapel Hill. The first time that happened was also against Syracuse, during the 2020-21 season.

Welcome to the Family

In addition to the season-opening win, Nov. 8 was a big day because it marked the signing of two new Tar Heels, Blanca Thomas and Jordan Zubich. They'll arrive on campus next summer, ahead of the 2024-25 season.

"At the University of North Carolina, we want the most talented student-athletes who can make an immediate impact and whose best basketball is still ahead of them," coach Courtney Banghart said. "We recruit great teammates and great people. We want people that want to wear the Carolina uniform and to help us do something special together.

"As a staff, we aim for players that fit our programmatic needs at the right time. Blanca and Jordan are a homerun for all the right reasons. I clearly want to recognize my current players who have attracted such high-quality players, people, and families, and we all can't wait to have both Blanca and Jordan here."

Thomas is from Charlotte, N.C., and attends Charlotte Catholic High School. A 6-5 post, she has led her team to the state's final four in each of the past two seasons after reaching the state quarterfinals in 2021. She was a first-team All-State pick as a junior after earning second-team honors in her freshman and sophomore years. The Charlotte Observer named her its Defensive Player of the Year in 2023.

Zubich is from Mountain Iron, Minn., and attends Mountain Iron-Buhl High School. A 5-11 shooting guard, she helped her team to a state championship in 2023 and has earned all-state honors in each of the past two seasons. A two-year team captain, she has already scored more than 2,000 points in her high school career.

She plays for Minnesota Fury, the same club for which current UNC senior Alyssa Ustby played.

Hull, Toomey to Sit This Season

Coach Courtney Banghart announced on Oct. 10 that two freshmen, Laila Hull and Ciera Toomey, will redshirt in 2023-24 while continuing to rehab injuries from high school. Both players underwent surgery over the summer as part of their continued rehabilitation, and by taking a redshirt year, each will retain four full years of playing time.

"When any player that you are excited to coach redshirts, there is obviously an element of disappointment as their process is a bit delayed," Banghart said. "But this decision also means that they get a year to rehab, build strength, and better prepare for the collegiate game, so in many ways it's a win. I've already been really inspired by the work ethic and dedication of both Ciera and Laila and am thrilled with their decision to get four full years with us on the court. I know we will continue to get their best as they work hard to return even stronger."

Hull, a wing from Zionsville, Ind., was Indiana's Miss Basketball and Gatorade Player of the Year in 2023. She averaged 22.4 points per game as a senior and finished her high school career as Zionsville High's all-time scoring leader.

Toomey, a forward from Dunmore, Pa., was named Pennsylvania's Miss Basketball as a senior, when she helped Dunmore to the 2023 state title. She was ranked as high as No. 3 among the players in this year's freshman class but missed most of her senior year with a torn ACL.

Season Ends for McPherson

UNC announced on Jan. 6 that redshirt sophomore guard Kayla McPherson will miss the rest of the season after sustaining a knee injury requiring surgery. McPherson appeared in seven games this season, starting three, and had been sidelined since the South Carolina game on Nov. 30.

"I continue to be amazed and inspired by Kayla's resilience," UNC coach Courtney Banghart said. "We are all heartbroken on her behalf as she faces more time away from playing the game she loves and excels at, but her mindset remains so positive. While she attacks this setback, she is determined to impact our team in every way she can. We're a better team with Kayla, even when she is on the sidelines. Our entire program is behind her as she faces this new challenge."

McPherson sat out the 2021-22 season, her first in Chapel Hill, while continuing to rehabilitate a high school knee injury. She made her collegiate debut midway through the 2022-23 season, playing in 13 games and earning ACC Freshman of the Week honors.

After dealing with a knee issue in the preseason, she sat out the season-opener against Gardner-Webb then returned to the court against Davidson on Nov. 12. She played in the next seven games but has been on the bench for the past five games.

"While I'm devastated to miss the rest of the season, I know that I can play an important role on the team even when I'm not in uniform," McPherson said. "I'll be cheering for my teammates from the bench and continuing to work hard to get back on the court. I want to thank our sports medicine team, our coaching staff, my teammates, my family and all of our fans for their support."

Story LInes

• The Tar Heels return three starters, five of their top seven scorers, and seven letterwinners from last season's squad. They add eight newcomers, the most of any season during fifth-year coach Courtney Banghart's tenure in Chapel Hill.

• Of the newcomers, five are freshmen and three are transfers – Lexi Donarski (Iowa State), Maria Gakdeng (Boston College) and Indya Nivar (Stanford).

• With eight new faces on the roster, offseason bonding was particularly important. The Tar Heels held a team pickleball tournament, played wiffleball and water polo as part of their conditioning, tried axe throwing, and went whitewater rafting during a day trip to the U.S. National Whitewater Center in Charlotte.

• Over the summer, the entire team and staff read "The Energy Bus," by Jon Gordon. The book emphasizes the importance and impact of a positive attitude in team dynamics.

• Deja Kelly spent part of her summer with Team USA as part of the squad that won silver at the FIBA Women's AmeriCup in Mexico in July. She also interned with SLAM magazine. She is now producing a podcast, NILosophy.

• Alyssa Ustby was selected to serve as the ACC's representative to the NCAA DI Women's Basketball Student-Athlete Engagement Group for 2023-24. She is part of UNC's Student-Athlete Advisory Council (SAAC), in addition to serving as a team captain, along with Deja Kelly.

• In July, coach Courtney Banghart started a two-year term as president of the Women's Basketball Coaches Association (WBCA).

• This year, UNC will celebrate the 30th anniversary of its 1994 NCAA title. The team will be recognized at the home game against Virginia on January 14th.

• Deja Kelly, UNC's No. 25, was named one of the top 25 players in the nation by ESPN.com during the preseason.

• Deja Kelly and Alyssa Ustby were both named to the Naismith Trophy Watch List and the John R. Wooden Award Watch List.

• Three Tar Heels were included on the watch lists for their respective positional awards: Deja Kelly for the Nancy Lieberman Point Guard of the Year Award, Alyssa Ustby for the Cheryl Miller Small Forward of the Year Award and Maria Gakdeng for the Lisa Leslie Center of the Year Award.

• Freshman Reniya Kelly had her No. 10 jersey retired by Hoover High School over the holiday break. Kelly was part of four state championship teams at Hoover and was MVP of three of those championships. As a senior in 2023, she was Alabama's Miss Basketball and Gatorade Player of the Year.

By the Numbers: Why the Tar Heels wear the jersey numbers they do

#0: ALEXANDRA ZELAYA
Zelaya wore No. 3 in middle and high school, but it wasn't available at UNC. Within the family, her older sister (Adriana) had claimed No. 1 and her younger sister (Avalyn) had No. 5. "I brought up zero and at first my family didn't really like it – you think, 'Is zero even a number?'" she said. "It's just really different. And I want to be different so that kind of highlighted everything I wanted it to be. So I picked zero and it's really grown on me."

#1: ALYSSA USTBY
Ustby wore No. 21 in high school but it was already taken at UNC so she picked No. 1. It had extra significance because it had recently been vacated by Taylor Koenen, a 2020 graduate who, like Ustby, is from Minnesota. "I'm keeping the Minnesota legacy going," Ustby said.

#2: PAULINA PARIS
Paris wore No. 23 growing up but it's retired at UNC – for Charlotte Smith, who hit the three-pointer to win the 1994 NCAA Championship – so she went with the first digit and decided to wear No. 2. (She writes "23" on her shoes to keep that number as part of her uniform.)

#4: LAILA HULL
Has worn 4 throughout her basketball career (since age 7) and says its her favorite number.

#5: MARIA GAKDENG
Wore 5 throughout middle school and high school and also through her two years at Boston College. She says it represents stability to her, even through a lot of change.

#10: RENIYA KELLY
Wears 10 because her birthday is in October, the 10th month.

#11: KAYLA MCPHERSON
Switched to back to 11, the number she wore throughout high school, this season after two years of wearing 14. (The number was worn by Ariel Young when McPherson arrived at UNC.)

#13: TEONNI KEY
Key has worn No. 13 since she started playing basketball and says it's her favorite number.

#15: SYDNEY BARKER
Is repping a new number this year because none of the others she'd worn were available.

#20: LEXI DONARSKI
She's always worn 21 but since it wasn't available she went with 20 as a fresh start in a new place.

#21: CIERA TOOMEY
The number was passed down to her from a family friend at the beginning of high school and she's worn it ever since.

#22: RYLEE GRAYS
Her father wore 23 in college and her mother wore 21, so she picked the number in between. Also, she's the second child in her family and the second girl.

#24: INDYA NIVAR
Chose it as a new number because her traditional number, 12, is retired at UNC for Ivory Latta.

#25: DEJA KELLY
Kelly wears the number in honor of her father, Darren, who played at the University of Texas and overseas. "Growing up watching him play inspired me," she said. "I decided to pick his number at a young age and it stuck."

#31: ANYA POOLE
The number was handed to her as a seventh grader and she's stuck with it ever since.

COURTNEY BANGHART
Head Coach · Fifth season at UNC, 17th season as a head coach

The 2023-24 season is the fifth at UNC for head coach Courtney Banghart, who has transformed the Tar Heel roster and led the team to NCAA Tournament appearances in each of the past three seasons and a Sweet 16 spot in 2022.

Banghart was announced on April 30, 2019 as North Carolina's head coach, the first new face in the position since 1986. She came to Chapel Hill after 12 years as the head coach at Princeton, where her teams won seven Ivy League crowns and made eight NCAA Tournament appearances. (Before her arrival, Princeton hadn't reached the tournament even once.)

A New Hampshire native, Banghart was a three-year starter at Dartmouth, where she twice earned All-Ivy honors. She still holds the Ivy League record for career three-pointers (273) and as a senior competed in the three-point shooting contest at Butler's Hinkle Fieldhouse during the men's Final Four in Indianapolis.

Including a WNIT appearance at Princeton, Banghart has led her teams to 12 postseason appearances in 16 seasons as a head coach.

More on Banghart:

• In July she began a two-year term as president of the Women's Basketball Coaches Association (WBCA).

• She was the 2015 Naismith National Coach of the Year and is the only current ACC coach to have won that honor.

• A player she coached was picked in the top 10 in back-to-back WNBA Drafts (Stephanie Watts from UNC 10th in 2021, Bella Alarie from Princeton 5th in 2020)

• In 2015 she was named to Fortune's list of the World's 50 Greatest Leaders. Also on the list that year: Pope Francis, Bill and Melinda Gates, Chief Justice John Roberts Jr., LeBron James, Elon Musk and Taylor Swift.

• She holds a bachelor's degree in neuroscience and a master's degree in writing and leadership, both from Dartmouth. Her graduate thesis was on sport leadership.

• She hitchhiked through Alaska after college (after ditching the outdoor leadership course in which she was enrolled) and has bungeed off a jump in Switzerland that was then the highest in the world.

• Right around the time she got the Princeton job, she and her brother were finalists to appear on "The Amazing Race."

• A four-time soccer state champion in high school, she planned to play that sport at Dartmouth until a coaching change made her rethink her path and talk the women's basketball coach into giving her a spot. (She also won two high school state titles in basketball and three in tennis.)

• She's a mom to three kids under the age of 10.
