Rutgers men's basketball continues its road trip with a three-game tournament held in Las Vegas. This week, RU will face Notre Dame, Alabama, and a third opponent at the Players Era Festival at the MGM Grand Garden Arena.

The Scarlet Knights open play on Tuesday night against Notre Dame, a 10:30 PM Eastern Time tipoff on TBS. Game two is the next night, against Alabama at 10 PM Eastern Time Wednesday on TBS.

About Rutgers

Rutgers enters the tournament at 4-1 overall. The Scarlet Knights were undone in the start to the road trap at Kennesaw State on Sunday afternoon in a homecoming game in Georgia for Ace Bailey and Jamichael Davis. The Scarlet Knights outscored KSU 51-35 in the second half of a comeback bid, but fell short by one possession. Dylan Harper led the way with 21 points along with nine assists and two steals, just the third Big Ten freshman since 2004 to reach that stat line in a game.

RU's top three leading scorers are freshmen. Dylan Harper leads the team at 19,8 points per game on 54.3 percent shooting. He is closely followed by Ace Balley (19.0 ppg), Lathan Sommerville joins the trio in double-digits at 10.0 ppg. RU's top five scorers, including Zach Martini and PJ Hayes, are all shooting 48 percent or better from the field. Harper is currently the second leading scorer among treshmen in the nation, trailing just Texas' Tre Johnson (21.2 ppg). Ace Balley does not meet NCAA minimums to qualify, needing to play in the team's next three games to qualify. If he were qualified, he would be third nationally just behind Harper.

Rutgers last played in Las Vegas in the 2015-16 season under then-head coach Eddie Jordan to play in a Thanksgiving Week event, the Men Who Speak Up Main Event. The Scarlet Knights went 0-2 in the event, falling t Creighton (85-75) and Clemson (76-58) in games held at the MGM Grand Garden Arena. to

This will be the first November non-conference tournament away from home that Rutgers has participated in under head coach Steve Pikiell, previously frequently hosting MTE events around Thanksgiving instead.

The Opponents

Notre Dame will be RU's first opponent on Tuesday night and will enter the matchup with RU with an identical 4-1 record under second-year head coach Micah Shrewsberry. The Fighting Irish just dropped a 84-77 decision to Elon after wins over Stonehill, Buffalo, Georgetown and North Dakota.

Shrewsberry previously was the head coach of Penn State on 2021-22 and 2022-23, during which time he was 1-3 against Rutgers. ND is 51th in the nation in field goal percentage (51.9%) and 27th in free throw percentage (78.8%). Sophomore Markus Burton leads the team at 21.4 points per game, 19th nationally.

Rutgers and Notre Dame were former BIG EAST conference members, playing annually from 1995 to 2013. The Irish lead the series 21-13. The lone meeting since splitting conferences in 2013 came in 2022, when the two teams met in the NCAA fournament, playing in Dayton in the First Four, an 89-87 Notre Dame victory in double overtime.

Alabama, ranked ninth in both polls, enters the tournament at 4-1, with wins over UNC Asheville, Arkansas State, McNeese and Illinois with a loss to then-No. 13, Purdue, Alabama will open tournament play on Tuesday against Houston.

The Crimson Tide boast the No. 14 scoring offense in the nation at 89.6 points per game. Mark Sears, a Second Team All-American last season, feads Alabama at 17.3 points per game. Former Scarlet Knight Clifford Omoruyi averages 9.8 points and a team-best 7.8 rebounds and 10 blocks. The Scarlet Knights and Crimson Tide have met just once previously, an 80-69 win for Alabama on December 27, 1969 at a neutral site.

The Championship Day game matchup will be determined by the results of the first two games. RU will play a team from the opposite side of the bracket, either Oregon, No. 21/19 Creighton, San Diego State or No. 20/20 Texas A&M.

RU and Creighton have only met once previously, the 2015 matchup in Las Vegas. Rutgers and Oregon, who will face off as conference members for the first time this year, have met previously twice, a RU win in 1982 and an Oregon win in 1985. Rutgers has never faced San Diego State of Texas A&M.

With a Win By beating Notre Dame, Rutgers would: Improve to 5-1 for the third straight season Earn the first win over Notre Dame since 2012 and just the third in 12 meetings since 2005 Earn its first win over an ACC team since defeating Clemson on November 30, 2021 (0-3 in last three games vs. ACC teams: Miami, Wake Forest and Notre Dame).

2025 SIGNEES

Gevonte Ware, Lino Mark, Chris Nwuli and Kaden Powers Sign with RU Ahead of the 2025-26 Season

GEVONTE WARE Gevonte Ware is a dynamic forward known for his versatile skillset and explosive athleticism and a highly touted prospect with a reputation for clutch performances and a relentless work ethic

Ware is a 6-foot-9, 235-pound three-star center and landed with the Scarlet Knights after receiving offers from Alabama, Wake Forest, Arizona State, Duquesne and Charleston.

"We are excited to welcome Gevonte Ware to our Rutgers basketball family," head coach Steve Pikiell said. "Gevonte is a big-time athlete with awesome energy from a great family originally from Long Island. Gevonte can shoot the three, put the ball on the deck, and bring unmatched energy."

"It felt good, it felt like the right thing to do." Ware said. "I did what my heart told me to do, and I know I'm going to like whatever my family likes as well. I'm glad I made the decision I made and I'm sticking with that and I'm happy to be a Scarlet Knight."

A top 10 player in North Carolina, Ware is ranked 104th nationally as a four-star recruit by On3.com while 247sports.com has him listed 176th overall and the 39th best center in the nation. ESPN, Rivals.com, and 247sports consider him a consensus three-star. Ware earned MVP of the Larry Hughes Elite Camp in late August.

Ware was born and raised in Roosevelt, New York, before leaving in pursuit of better opportunities. He found that opportunity in Charlotte, North Carolina, playing for head coach and former NBA player Jermainé Jackson at LaMelo Ball 1-of-1 Élite AAU program.

Rutgers assistant Marlon Williamson recruited Ware, and coached Jermaine Jackson Jr., the son of Jermaine, as an assistant coach at Long Island University from 2019-2021.

"Gevonte is a multi-dimensional forward, who is about winning and will do whatever it takes to win," Rutgers assistant coach Marlon Williamson said. "Gevonte is powerful enough to play down low and skilled enough to pop out on the floor. He reminds us of guys like Lathan Sommerville who play on the floor and can play down low and be effective. He is an essential part of our program and front court moving forward."

LINO MARK Angelino "Lino" Mark is a 6-foot-2, 175-pound point guard, known for his speed and explosiveness on the court. Mark brings a winning pedigree to Piscataway next fall. Mark ultimately decided on Rutgers over finalists West Virginia, Seton Hall, and USC.

"Lino comes from a great family and is another high-energy, high-flying guard who knows how to play." Rutgers head coach Steve Piklell said. "Lino competed for a terrific AAU program in the Oakland Soldiers and led Notre Dame High School in California. He sees the floor, can finish at the rim and Rutgers fans are going to love his energy and his toughness."

"It feels amazing to commit to Rutgers," Mark said. "It's always a process to get to this next level and I feel like I'm playing for a great program, a great opportunity, and to fit into a new environment. I have the opportunity to get better and play the game I love, and it's a blessing. It was a no-brainer that Rutgers was the school for me."

Mark played for Notre Dame High School in California and competed for the prestigious Oakland Soldiers AAU program that thrived on the EYBL scene last season. Mark averaged 15.9 points per game, 4.9 rebounds per game, 4.5 assists per game, and 2.0 steals over 33 games his junior year. Mark's AAU squad finished second in their conference with a 14-1 record. NBA stars LeBron James, Kendrick Perkins, Chauncey Billups, and Brandon Jennings played for Oakland Soldiers.

"Lino is an absolute competitor," Rutgers assistant coach Marlon Williamson said. "He plays hard like current Scarlet Knight Jamichael Davis. He can play on the ball, or off the ball and is a complete guard. Lino is a leader, a competitor, and has come from winning programs in high school and on the AAU level."

CHRIS NWULI Chris Nwuli is a 6-foot-8, 215-pound forward, known for his passion and intensity on the court Nwuli brings speed, versatility, and a defensive mindset to Piscataway next fall. Nwuli decided to commit to Rutgers after ne visited campus in October. He chose Rutgers over his other finalists (Louisville, San Diego State, USC, UCLA, Utah, and TCU).

"Chris is one of the best athletes in the 2025 class," Rutgers head coach Steve Pikiell said. "He's a high-flyer and a terrific defensive player. He comes from a terrific AAU program. the Oakland Soldiers and will be fun to watch at Sierra Canyon High School this season. He may be one of the most versatile defenders, in the class. It's exciting to add another great family to Rutgers Nation."

Nwuli (KNEW-Li) is ranked as the 41st player in the nation by ESPN.com, 129th by 247Sports, and 117th by Rivals. He has traveled throughout high school as he attended Wasatch Academy (Utah), and Bishop Gorman (Las Vegas) and will wrap up his high school career at Sierra Canyon in Los Angeles, California.

"I bring excitement, and I want to make sure everybody knows that our team is the best team on the court, and we will always be having the most fun playing." Nwuli said. "I love having fun playing basketball, it's just what I love to do, so I'm looking forward to bringing it to Rutgers. I love the game."

Nwuli played AAU basketball alongside Lino Mark, a fellow member of the Scarlet Knights 2025 class. Their team went to the title game at EYBL Peach Jam Classic in July, after going 14-1 at the circuit under founder and nead coach. Mark olivier, Nwuli averaged 12.5 points, 4.4 rebounds, and 1.6 assists in the tournament

"Chris is multi-dimensional, high risers, a defender, and a competitor," Rutgers assistant coach Marlon Williamson said. "Chris does all the things it takes to contribute to winning. That's what Rutgers is about and that is what Coach Pikiell has built this program on."

KADEN POWERS

Kaden Powers is a standout guard known for his defensive prowess and versatility on both ends of the court. Powers brings size, athleticism, and a high basketball IQ.

"Kaden Powers is an awesome combo, scoring guard out of Seattle, Washington," Pikiell said. "He comes from a great family and is a worker with great athleticism. Rutgers Nation will be thrilled with his ability to run up and down the court and score buckets. We are thrilled to welcome Kaden to our Rutgers basketball family."

Powers is a 6-foot-5, 185-pound consensus three-star who can stretch the floor and consistently shoot from the outside. A Seattle native, Powers is the No. 2 prospect in all of Washington. He is ranked as the 37th-best shooting guard in the nation and 179th overall by 247sports.

"Kaden Powers is a multi-dimensional scorer that hangs his hat on being able to put the ball in the basket," Rutgers assistant coach Marlon Williamson sald. "We know that Kaden's best basketball is in front of him. Kaden is going to get here and show Rutgers Nation everything he has in his package. He reminds us of a Brandon Roy type of player."

A huge mentor in Powers' journey to Rutgers is three-time NBA Sixth Man of the year and Rainier Beach alum, Jamal Crawford. Powers said he is so thankful to have Crawford in his life and credits the former New York Knick for certain aspects of his game.

"He's unbelievably respectful, he's always trying to learn, always trying to get better, always a "thank you' and 'please" type of kid, that's what's really cool about him," Crawford said. "Then on the court, he's just special. He plays at his own pace, his game is so mature and so polished, and I know Rutgers is going to bring the best out of him."

Crawford described Powers as "fundamentally sound," "so skilled," "a tough shot-maker," and someone who "enjoys making people better," but he chose to become his mentor because "he has an unbelievable work ethic and he's a joy to be around."

Harper's Thoughts: • "I kind of think I do it all. I can play point guard, I can play off the ball, I get my teammates involved first, I can score the ball at a high level. I think my playmaking is underrated, I'm starting to show that more and more everyday. I play both sides of the floor, I play defense, I make the winning plays and do whatever I can, and just help my team win."

High School:

• A consensus five-star prospect ranked among the top 5 players nationally by multiple outlets, including Rivals, ESPN, and 24/7 Sports.

• The highest-ranked player in Georgia and a standout small forward, Ace posted impressive stats during his senior year: 33.4 points, 15.5 rebounds, 3.9 assists, and 2.9 blocks, leading McEachern High School to a 26-6 record and a Class A title.

- Participated in prestigious events such as Team USA U17, the Nike Hoop Summit, and the Jordan Brand Classic.

Personal:

• Comes from a family with a rich basketball legacy; his mother, Ramika McGee, played at West Virginia, and his father, Richard Bailey, played at Houston. His aunt, Venus, was a member of Team USA's 1996 Olympic team that won a gold medal and played in the WNBA.

• Decision to join Rutgers came after considering a top-12 list that included powerhouse programs such as Tennessee, Kentucky, and Kansas.

But he's an emergency defensive guy, and can really block shots from the weak side. He makes guys around him better, which I think the great ones do."

Bailey's Thoughts:

• "We have great rim defenders, great cutters, great everything. We have an all-around team. And the thing about this team, we all know our roles. We all know our roles and we're just going to keep getting better at it, which is going to get us better as a team because we connect as a unit."

Coach Pikiell's Remarks: • "We are excited to officially welcome P.J. Hayes to The Knighthood. We are adding another great student-athlete, from a great family, who can shoot the basketball. P.J. is a player who has shown the ability to hit nine three-pointers in a game and he can pass it as well. I love the basketball journey that he's taken, and I am proud to add another elite student-athlete to our program." • "He's got as quick of a release as any player that we've had here. And he makes shots. We've had shot-takers in the past; he's a shot maker."

Hayes' Thoughts:

"[Rutgers nation] might've gotten a little taste of my antics from celebrating at the scrimmage, so I'm hyped up, I like to throw up the three-point sign, hype the crowd up, my teammates and stuff, so I'm definitely going to bring the energy and I'm excited for Rutgers fans to throw it right back at me."

Jeremiah Williams returns to the Scarlet Knights for the 2024-25 season. Entering his fifth collegiate year, Williams has a wealth of experience, having played at Rutgers, Temple, and Iowa State. He joins Zach Martini as a captain for this season.

2023-24 Season:

- Played in 12 games, starting 11, and led the team with an average of 12.2 points per game. Contributed 34 assists and 14 steals throughout the season. Made his Rutgers debut on February 3 against Michigan, scoring 10 points and adding six rebounds, two assists, and a block in 30 minutes of action.
- Posted 14 points and five rebounds in a win at Maryland.

Led the team with 18 points, seven assists, and five rebounds in a victory over No. 9/11 Wisconsin. Named Big Ten Player of the Week on February 12, becoming the third Scarlet Knight to earn the honor since joining the conference.

Prior to Rutgers:

At Iowa State:

Transferred ahead of the 2022-23 season but did not appear in games due to a left Achilles injury, which sidelined him for the entire season.

At Temple:

- In his sophomore season (2021-22), started 21 of 22 games, averaging 9.5 points and 4.3 assists per game. As a freshman (2020-21), averaged 9.3 points, 4.1 assists, and ranked fifth in the AAC in assists per game.

High School:

Earned second-team all-city honors as a senior at Simeon (III.), averaging 16.8 points, 8.9 rebounds, and 3.7 assists, leading the Wolverines to a 24-9 record.

As a junior at St. Laurence (III.) High, averaged 18.3 points, 9.8 rebounds, and 3.5 assists per game.

Personal:

Aims to make a significant impact this season, contributing as a leader both on and off the court.

• Outside of basketball, he enjoys hanging out with close friends and family, trying different restaurants, and watching Chi-cago sports. Being a hard worker, a good teammate, and always keeping a smile on his face are the most important impressions he hopes to leave on others.

Majoring in Labor and Employment Relations.

Coach Pikiell's Remarks:

"Chicago's finest. We're home here for him. He's been an unbelievable leader. You know the impact he made on our team, our leading returning scorer, but he's our captain along with Zach Martini. Two good captains with great leadership skills and very unselfish. And so I'm looking for him to continue off his great season last year, he's going to have a greater one this year."

Williams' Thoughts

 "I stayed [in Piscataway in the offseason] because Jersey is home for me now and I wanted to continue to show up every day and continue to get better, stay healthy. I spent a lot of time just shooting, putting up reps, and getting a lot of mixes in with different coaches on the coaching staff when they went on their recruiting trips, so I just wanted to stay here and continue to hone in on my skills and just show up every day."
